BURNS TO SEE PORTLAND

"Larry" Reating Back: Brings News of Pugilist's Coming.

L. C. Keating, who left Portland about a year and a half ago to visit Australia, has returned bringing the news that Tommy Burns will shortly return to America and visit Portland en route to San Francisco to be present at the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

While in Australia, Keating met with a painful accident which came near crippling him for life, but has recovered. The accident occurred when in the company of Tommy Burns, he visited a Turkish bath establishment, and in a friendly scuffle Keating was pushed through a plate glass window. According to Keating, Burns is now on his way across the Pacific, for he "Collie" Druhot, the little left-handed pitcher from Portland, officiated on the slab for Tillamook, and he not only pitched an elegant game for the home club, but he distinguished himself by rapping out a two-base hit, with the bases full, in the eighth inning, which virtually won the game for the "Clam Diggers."

According to Keating, Burns is now on his way across the Pacific, for he was to have left Australia last Saturday, and should reach Vancouver, B. C., about June 18. Burns is coming to America for the purpose of seeing the Jeffries-Johnson fight, and to secure a match with Sam Langford, and also a return match with Johnson.

and he held his head back and tensed the muscles as the trap was sprung. Attendants were startled a moment latter, when Quinn's legs began to twitch, and then horrified by his groans.

Quinn was one of the nerviest men who ever went on the scaffold here. He refused spiritual advice, saying the preachers could him no good. He spent the night writing letters, ate a hearty breakfast, and just as they came to lead him away, he asked for a smoke. This being denied, he ran up the stairs as gayly as though death was not abead.

From the scaffold he said he was innocent, as the shooting of his wife was an accident.

Quinn was the 13th man to be hanged were starting in search for him a relative turned him over to the authorities.
