

COUNCIL UPHOLDS
MAYOR SIMON'S VETO

Mayor Simon's Action on Ordinance Approved by 8 to 6 Vote.

EXPENSE NOT WARRANTED

Business Men Oppose Expenditure of $500,000 of Public Funds at Present-South Portland Bridge Supported.

Mayor Simon's veto of the dock bond ordinance was sustained by the City Council yesterday, the vote being 8 to 6. There was no comment, except by Baker, who said that he had discussed the subject with a group of business men and had come to the conclusion that the plan is not sufficiently well in hand to warrant the expenditure of $500,000 of public funds, as called for in the ordinance.

Railway Franchise Revoked.

The Council revoked the franchise of the United Railway Company on Seventh, Hall, Sixth and Sherman streets, and on Taylor, from Front to Sixth streets, and an application was filed by the company's representatives, seeking a new franchise on Taylor, from Front to Seventh, and on Seventh to Stack streets. This was referred to the committee on streets, and will be considered next week.

Judge Morrow, presiding judge of the Circuit Court, granted the writ of habeas corpus to the Council Chamber when the same is not in use for city purposes, as he said that the room is needed, the Courtroom being overcrowded at the present time the new building is being constructed.

Authorization to place on the ballot at the November election a proposed $1,500,000 bond issue question for a bridge from Division street to Sherman street was given, upon motion of Councilman Watkins. The State Board of Finance are booming this project and will make of it a great campaign issue.

The Nelson automatic air fender for streets was ordered placed on the part of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for a practical test of 30 days' duration, and afterwards the same action was taken in regard to the Kelpies, the Kemp and the Kelpur devices.

State Law Defines Fender.

While the fender subject was under discussion, Councilman DeWitt declared himself as willing to allow the tests, but said that, in his opinion, the Council has nothing whatever to do with the question as the state law defines a fender and carries all of the necessary provisions.

Councilman Baker endeavored to secure for Ernest Traxler a special dispensation to sell a song entitled "Multnomah," during the Rose Festival, but failed.

"It's just a little song, dedicated to the Rose Festival, and the man wants to peddle it through the season—wants all there is of it," said Councilman Baker. "There's a pretty picture of an Indian girl on the cover and it's a clever little song."

"Can the girl sing?" asked Councilman Wallace.

"No, I can't sing it, but I will send for some one who can sing it," said Councilman Baker.

The Council refused to give the author the privilege of securing a license without payment of a license, notwithstanding Mr. Baker's statements.

OBJECTS TO STONE QUARRY

Court Hears Prisoner's Plea That Application Was Irregular.

John McDonald is attempting to secure the freedom of a writ of habeas corpus. Hearing was had before Presiding Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday afternoon, but Attorney W. H. Fowler asked time in which to file an answer to the return of the City Attorney's office to his petition, so the case was continued until Saturday.

ABANDONED TRIP SUIT BASIS

Owner of Auto Wants $100 Though Passengers Failed to Go.

A. L. White, a motorist, planned to take an automobile trip to Central Oregon to look at some land near the proposed Hill Railroad a year ago, but when the time came found the streetcar company would not release him. A result he was sued in the Circuit Court by Alvin S. Hawk, the suit coming to trial before Judge Cleland yesterday morning. It was taken under advisement.

Hawk agreed, he alleged, to transport White and his party to the Dalles to the northern part of Lake County and return at $50 each. White telephoned he was unable to go, but Hawk charged him $100 for the transportation.

DR. PATTON SEEKS COMMISSION

Suit Brought for $11,275 for Exploiting Patent Garments.

B. R. Charles, who lost $7500 from a safety deposit vault in the German-American Bank at the hands of a mysterious small man who could not be found, is being sued before Judge Cleland in the Circuit Court by Dr. H. M. Patton, who demands $11,275 as commission. The case went to trial yesterday afternoon. Patton alleges that a year ago last January he agreed with Charles to exploit Charles' electro-thermal garments, said to be good for rheumatism. Patton assisted in the organization of the United Electric Garment Company; interested Arthur C. Stubling in the project and disposed of some stock. He declares $11275 is still owing. Dan J. Malarky, associated with E. D.

Seabrook and E. P. Stott as counsel for Charles, succeeded in confusing Patton in his testimony yesterday afternoon. It was necessary for the attorney to ask Patton three times when the agreement, by which Charles was to pay commission, was entered into before a satisfactory answer could be obtained. Even then Patton could not fix the date, although he said there was a verbal agreement that he "was to be well paid."

It is Charles' contention that while Stubling and his brother were engaged in the liquor business at The Dalles they became interested through Stubling's use of the garment, and were induced to purchase stock in the corporation. Carter and Dufur are Dr. Patton's attorneys.

Court Notes.

Eva C. Rosebrook filed a divorce suit against Sherrick Rosebrook in the Oregon City Circuit Court yesterday. Attorney McMahon representing her.

The proceedings on an indictment against 22-year-old Edgar Wilson were continued at Wilson's request by Presiding Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday morning, the young man being allowed to go on parole on condition that he take passage on an ocean-going steamer. Wilson's father and sister asked the Judge to give him another chance, saying that his downfall was the result of association with bad companions. He was indicted by the April grand jury for stealing a $5 watch from Roy W. Gowlin.

Thomas Golemis has applied to the County Court to be appointed guardian for John Chouris, a boy alleged to have been injured while claiming a ballast car at Spokane belonging to the O. R. & N. Company. Golemis desires to bring suit against the company for damages. A runaway box car struck the ballast car in which Chouris was working, knocking him into the pit, and fracturing his leg. The accident occurred December 16, last year.

Because a United Railway right-of-way agent secured several property leases in his own name instead of the corporation, the company has brought six suits against him in the Washington County Circuit Court, to recover damages or to compel a change in the leases. The leases cover sard and gravel deposits. Lee Lawson, Lawson & McCoy, Lawson & Heister and Lawson & DeMoss are named as defendants.

HEAVY HITS WIN GAME

WASHINGTON HIGH DEFEATS COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY.

Battling Strength Suddenly Developed by Unbeaten Team—Final Score Stands 6 to 2.

By showing unexpected battling strength, the Washington High baseball team defeated the Columbia University nine yesterday afternoon on the Multnomah Field by the score of 6 to 2. Until yesterday's game Washington was looked upon as one of the weakest hitting teams in the league, but yesterday it changed this by hammering Kirk for a total of 12 hits, including three home runs.

Washington has gone through two successive seasons in the Interscholastic League without meeting defeat on the field. Yesterday's victory was the last in the league for Houck, the Washington High twirler, and he pitched a good ball. Columbia got only four hits off his delivery.

Heywood, the Columbia University's scrappy shortstop, after making a great three-bagger to center field, yesterday failed to leave the game by being injured at the plate while sliding home after Davis had hit a long fly to center field. George Cornell, who had been in the waiting hands of Wilson, who tagged Heywood. Wilson blocked Heywood and the ball passed him and he was out. Heywood was injured.

The defeat yesterday put Columbia out of the running for second place in the league. It is the worst record it would have been tied with Jefferson and Lincoln high schools for second place.

Washington started the run-getting in the first inning. Cornell, the first man up, after waiting until he had three strikes and two outs, caught the ball squarely on his bat and sent it into the tennis court for a two-bagger. Cobb struck out. Wilson scored Cornell with his overhand delivery and advanced to the middle station on the throw to the plate. He reached third on a passed ball and Anson worked the squeeze play, on which he went out and Wilson scored. Houck got a two-bagger, but Moreland grounded out on the first and the inning ended.

V. Perkins, the first man up for Columbia in the first inning, hit a hot pop to Anson, but the latter muffed it. Heywood struck out, but Wilson dropped the ball and Perkins advanced to second, from whence he scored on a two-bagger into the grandstand by Davis. F. Perkins hit to right, sending Davis to third, but both were left at the base, because Wilson overhanded C. Perkins grounded out, Cobb to Moreland.

Columbia got the other tally in the sixth inning. Davis hit to center field for a single, went to second on an out by F. Perkins, went to third on an error by Moreland, scored on an infield out by Cliff Perkins. Harris ended the inning by fanning.

The eighth inning was the scene of a slaughter of six slants, when five hits and an error led in four runs. Cornell got on and went to second on an error by Finnigan and Anson. Moreland came through with a long hit to right and Cobb and Wilson scored. Anson took third and Moreland went to second on the error in. Jones hit to right field and scored Anson. George walked, but Word flew out to center field and the side was retired.

Columbia University was represented in the field by the Perkins family, three of them. Vaughn, Cliff and Floyd, playing left, center and right respectively. The players: Washington, Position. Columbia. Wilson..... Malarky. Moreland..... Harris. Cobb..... DeWitt. Cornell..... Finnigan. Anson or Jones..... Perkins. Ball of the game..... F. Perkins. Word..... Tompkins-Irwin.

RECORD TRIP IS MADE

Prineville Man Hastens to Injured Father in Portland.

All records for rapid travel over the dusty trail from Prineville to Portland were broken by G. R. Ray, a rancher from the former place, who came to Portland to attend to the affairs of his father, who is the victim of an accident in this city. Upon hearing that his father was hurt in Portland, Ray hired an automobile, paying $40 for the trip to Shaniko, and made the trip in quick time.

The father, J. L. Ray, who is 75 years old, still lies unconscious at the hospital, three weeks after his accident. On May 4 he fell from a window in a rooming-house at sixth and Hoyt streets, sustaining a fractured skull and a broken leg.

TIMBER THEFTS, CHARGE

PROTEST MADE AGAINST CUTTING IN RAINIER PARK.

Seattle Men Complain to Secretary Ballinger, Saying Shingle Company Oversteps Rights.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 25.—Letters sent to Secretary of the Interior relative to the cutting down of the finest cedar trees in Mount Rainier National Park by a shingle company demand an investigation of the responsibility of Park Superintendent Edward S. Hall in the matter. It is alleged by the Mountaineers' Society that under a contract to remove dead and down timber, the shingle company is cutting huge green trees and that this is being done under the direction of Superintendent Hall. Photographs of the depredations have been sent to Secretary Ballinger and letters from prominent men have gone to him personally. Superintendent Hall denies that he is financially interested in

AVIATOR SUES FOR PAY

Sutherland Will Contest, Alleging Flights Were Failures.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 25.—An aftermath of the carnival held at Sutherland last week is an action filed in the Circuit Court here against the promoters of the carnival by the Portland Aeroplane Co., E. B. Ely vice-president and manager. For making, or rather attempting to make, flights in a biplane on the three days of the carnival, Ely alleges that $480 is due him on an agreement that he was to receive one-half of the gate and grandstand receipts.

The Sutherland promoters will fight the suit, declaring that Ely's flights were failures. On the first day of the carnival the biplane barely cleared an ordinary fence; on the second day it could not go over the fence and on the third, after rising to a
