

IMPETUS IS GIVEN TO GOOD ROADS HERE

Professor Maurice E. Eldridge, Government Expert, Talks at Masonic Temple.

ADVICE OF EXPERT HEARD

Supervisors Criticised for Starting Work Too Late in Spring and Working in Different Ways. Judge Webster Speaks.

Good roads in Oregon received an impetus Saturday night when Professor Maurice E. Eldridge, the Government's good roads expert, delivered a stereopticon lecture at the Masonic Temple.

Professor Eldridge has been in every part of the United States in the interest of good roads and has a fine collection of slides which he uses in his demonstrations.

Highways Great Problem. Professor Eldridge said in part: "Improvement of our public highways is one of the great problems before the American people today."

Supervisors Are Criticised. "One of the greatest handicaps to road-building in Oregon, however, is that the supervisors do not begin work early enough in the Spring and then there are seldom two of them who use the same methods."
