

WOMEN ROWERS AN ATTRACTION

Portland Rowing Club Starts Innovation in Decoration Day Regatta.

AFTERNOON'S SPORT GOOD

Rowing, Canoeing and Swimming Races Make Up Programme, but Mixed Crews Feature of Day. Girls Furnish Pretty Race.

For the first time in the athletic history of Portland women were entered yesterday in rowing races and pulled in the same shells with men, apparently none the worse for the hot pace of a grueling contest.

In the annual Decoration day regatta of the Portland Rowing Club the first water sports of the year were held yesterday afternoon. These consisted of rowing, canoeing and swimming races, and in spite of other attractions in the river, a good-sized crowd followed the exciting races and enjoyed the sport. The events were held over the club's regular course.

The feature of the afternoon's sport was the race in which mixed crews were entered. After pulling over the three-fourths mile course of the race, the two girls who accompanied the two men in each shell seemingly were as fresh as when they started. It was a close race, too, and not over a length separated the shells at the finish line. As a result of this innovation a woman's annex will likely be made a permanent addition to the club and rowing by women become a regular part of the programme on regatta days.

Club Has Two Women's Crews.

The club now has two women's crews and another is being organized. The winning crew in yesterday's mixed race consisted of Miss Nellie Dorney, Miss Stella Berger, C. S. Tuck, stroke, and A. Fraender, bow. The other crew was made up of Miss Kit Dorney, Miss Nettie Bukowsky, I. F. Watt and Captain Arthur Allen.

The swimming races, under the direction of Arthur Cavill, swimming instructor of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, proved a strong part of the afternoon's events. There were two of these, a 50-yard race for junior boys and a 100-yard dash for seniors. The junior race was won by Arthur Cavill, with Alfred Krohn second and William McIndoe third. The time was 42 seconds.

The 100-yard dash was a handicap race, with Phil Patterson starting at scratch. Patterson won out over the other boys by swimming harder than he has ever before swum in any Portland race. The time for the distance was 1 minute and 3 seconds. Patterson holds the Pacific Coast championship in the 100-yard swim. He was coached by Arthur Cavill.

Junior Four Wins in Fast Time.

The four-oared race between the senior and junior crews was the feature of the day in fast time over a one-mile course. The senior crew is composed of strong young fellows who haven't had much experience, Captain Allen being the only experienced man in the shell. On the other hand, the junior crew has been together for two years and has had considerable racing experience. The senior crew is: Spooner, stroke; Hulin, No. 2; Phillippar, No. 3; and Allen, bow. Watt, stroke; Helwig, No. 2; Tuck, No. 3; Fraender, bow, are the members of the junior crew.

The doubles race was won by E. Gloss and Moore over J. Gloss and Ball. The lapstroke contest was won by the crew composed of Wait, Helwig, F. Moore and McCabe over the four composed of E. Gloss, Wait, Tuck and Allen. The canoe races were exciting, but one capsized before much of the course had been traversed. Ed Gloss and Wait won the race by beating Mankurtz and Havelly by less than a half length. In the mixed doubles race two crews entered. Miss Hazel Henry and Mendenhall defeated Miss Nettie Bukowsky and Spooner by a few feet.

Trophy Race Is Best.

The race for the H. E. Judge club challenge trophy for the junior singles was one of the best races of the day. A. Fraender won the cup, J. Gloss was second and W. Ball third. The winner becomes possessor of the cup for one year. To the winning crews will be given pins bearing the official club colors.

The last event of the programme was the duck hunt for the swimmers, in which a duck with its wings clipped was turned loose in the river and chased by the swimmers. The duck finally got away.

OLD GRADS DEFEAT GOLFERS

Hans Wagner Would Not Envy Playing, but Game Is Enjoyed.

Old grads walloped the golfers out at the links yesterday afternoon when the nine from the University Club defeated the Waverly Golf Club team to the tune of 9 to 4. Men who had not donned suits for years frolicked around in the hot sun and imagined they were having a good time, while a generous crowd of rooters for the two teams sat about on the turf and consumed lemonade.

The playing was not calculated to make Hans Wagner green with envy, but everybody seemed to be enjoying the sport. The lineup:

University	Position	Golf
Stott	Captain	Jim Alexander
Stott	...	Barnett
Dolph	...	(Capt.) Webster
Wilson	...	Dunn

Albina Colts 11; Cascade Locks 4.

The Albina Colts visited Cascade Locks Sunday and added another victory to their list by the score of 11 to 4. The features of the game were the heavy hitting of the Colts and the pitching of Krause, who struck out nine men and allowed two hits. This makes six games won out of eight played, the six victories being won with Krause pitching.

Hubbard 5; Portland O. K. Team 1.

HUBBARD, Or., May 30.—(Special)—Hubbard defeated the O. K. team of Portland in a rattling game here Sunday, 5 to 1. Errors by the Portland team were principally responsible for the defeat of that team, for Hubbard made only three hits. Batteries: Hubbard, Jones and Whitney; O. K., Williamson and White.

NEGRO CHAMPION IN LITERAL DEMONSTRATION OF SAWING WOOD.

FIGHTER REDUCES WEIGHT

Champion Glad to Hear That Jeffries Is Showing in Fine Form, and Remarks He Does Not Want to Whip Cripple.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Decorations day was a big event at the Johnson camp. The champion played to a capacity house in the afternoon when he went through his usual boxing stunts. For all that, Johnson kept his audience waiting three-quarters of an hour, which occasioned much hooting and hissing. It was a good-natured crowd that greeted him when he finally made his appearance, and good judges declare it was one of the most satisfactory workouts since he has gone into training.

Johnson weighed less today than since his arrival here. Before he stepped on the scales he said he thought he was down pretty light, and this was proved when he registered at 215 pounds.

Glad Jeffries Is in Shape.

"That's a little too light for me," he said. "I am to fight Jeffries at from 208 to 210 pounds, and I will have to put on a little weight in the next few days. I am glad to hear that Jeffries is in good condition," he declared. "That's the way that I want him to be, for when I beat him I don't care to have the excuse made that I have beaten a cripple or a fellow not in the best of condition. People who saw him in the ring the other night say he is in great shape, and that pleases me."

Road Work to Be Resumed.

Johnson's work consisted of eight rounds of boxing. His best performance was four rounds with George Cotton. He followed that up with three rounds with Marty Cutler, who begged off from further exerting, and then finished up with one round with Dave Mills.

Tomorrow Johnson will return to his road work, but on Wednesday he will be back in the ring again.

It was announced at the Johnson camp today that Al Kaufman will join the crowd of workers at the beach in another week, and that Billy Delaney had finally consented to supervise the training of the champion.

CORBETT ARRIVES AT CAMP

Ex-Champion Starts to "Limber Up" Despite Terrific Heat.

BEN LOMOND, Cal., May 30.—Jim Jeffries spent Decoration day casting for trout some miles above his camp. Some visitors came to the fighter's camp early to seek cool recreation and, accompanied by Tex Rickard and Jack Woolley, went on a fishing expedition.

The camp, however, was aroused to life by the appearance of James J. Corbett, champion heavyweight, who is to assist in getting Jeffries into proper form to meet Johnson. Corbett slipped into the camp unannounced and immediately went to work in the gymnasium to "limber up" and try himself out on some preliminary stunts, despite the heat.

The ex-champion elicited much favorable comment from the trainers who watched him at work for his strength, agility, endurance and wind. During the scorching noon hours virtually the entire camp drifted down the river to seek cool, shady spots, but about 3 o'clock returned, and Corbett at once donned his working togs.

Ministers Protest to Gillett.

COLUMBUS, O., May 30.—Protesting against the Jeffries-Johnson prize-fight, the Columbus Presbyterian Ministers' Association today addressed a letter to Governor Gillett, of California. It is cited that San Francisco was given material aid at the time of the earthquake and now proposes to give poor return for the kindness.
