

ROOSEVELT'S BRIDE IS REAL AMERICAN

Miss Alexander Has Wedding Gown Made in New York Shop.

OLD-FASHIONED IDEAS WIN

Attendants, Too, Decide to Have Dresses Made in United States. Ceremony Followed by Big Reception on 58th Street.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Special.)—True Miss Alexander, who, on June 29, becomes the bride of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is having her wedding gown made in New York, not many miles from the Waldorf-Astoria, by one of our most fashionable modistes. Her entire trousseau is being prepared in this country, although many ideas have, of course, been procured abroad and her bridesmaids' frocks were painted in Paris.

Miss Alexander's wedding dress naturally is of white satin of the softest variety, not the old-fashioned kind which once affected, but more like what the French now call satin simple.

The dress is to be very simple and girlish, and will depend on its long, graceful lines for much of its charm, although some wonderful old family point lace which her mother, Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander, treasures highly because of associations and traditions, will adorn it. The lace will be used on the bodice and sleeves.

Following the fashion of English brides, Miss Alexander will wear a tall veil which will be fastened with the usual orange blossoms, but nothing stiff or conventional will be attempted with the flowers—just a few sprays will be used in the most artless and natural manner.

Her attendants will be Mrs. Snowden A. Fahnestock, who will be her matron of honor, and Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt, the Misses Harriet and Janet Alexander, the bride's cousins, Miss Jessie Millington Drake and Miss Jean Waters Delano will serve as bridesmaids. Their gowns are being made in the same establishment on Thirty-fourth street, where the bride's gown is being built.

Has Old-Fashioned Ideas. Miss Alexander has some of the old-fashioned ideas regarding her corset and does not use French corsets, but wears herself one which has a more generous supply than she has.

The wedding will take place at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church on June 29 at 10 o'clock and will be followed by reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, No. 4 West Fifty-eighth street.

GROCERIES WILL CLOSE

Association to Follow General Example and Asks Outsiders to Join.

Following the example set by the banks, the members of the Portland Association of Retail Grocers have agreed to "close shop" Thursday at noon.

As there are a number of grocers in Portland who are not members of the association, it is trusted by the members that, in order to make the closing movement unanimous, all merchants close their doors at noon Thursday. It is felt by those interested that if the Retail Merchants' Association takes action in the matter, early closing will practically be realized.

JEFF THIRK, BUT HAS FISH

Fighter Will Resume Hard Work in Boxing With Corbett.

BEN LOMOND, CAL., June 6.—Fighting after a lengthy trip that commenced at 4 o'clock this morning and wound up at 6 o'clock this evening, Jim Jeffries, with the rest of his fighting party, returned to camp at 9 o'clock.

As far as the day's catch was concerned the trip was a success, for the party brought home enough fish to supply the entire camp for two or three days.

Hard work will be resumed tomorrow morning when the Jeffries-Corbett bout is slated. In all probability Jeffries and the veteran will box in private. Corbett is now well and is physically to travel a pretty speedy three rounds.

Corbett, who has been living in Santa Cruz, returned with Jeffries tonight to remain here permanently.

New Bills Open at the Vaudeville Houses

EXCELLENT and quiet to one's liking is the list of delights on the Orpheum bill this week. It is what may easily be called an all-star programme, for there's not one number that doesn't win a blue ribbon.

There are a trio of headline acts, each so good in itself that it might grace the top of any bill. First there's the Orpheum—two beautiful young women, who are "champeen" swimmers, and whose offering consists of a most pretentious exhibition of diving, swimming and spectacular feats under water.

TRY A HOME TREATMENT

When Doctors Say That Nothing But Change of Climate Will Help.

Renew the Blood Supply by the Tonic Treatment and See if You Are Not Saved Money, Time and Suffering.

If you are suffering from a run-down condition where ordinary remedies seem to have no effect and your friends and advisors are recommending a change of air or climate, it is worth while to consider trying the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills before taking their advice.

Mrs. William Patterson, whose address is Box 35, R. F. D. No. 4, Snohomish, Wash., failed to regain her strength until she tried this tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "When I was fifteen years old I had an attack of the measles and was sick for over a year. I was very weak and could not get my strength back. I was so short of breath that I couldn't walk any distance at all without fainting. I had awful headaches a greater part of the time. I was nervous and run down in flesh and strength. Friends, who saw me, thought I would never get well."

Whenever a tonic is needed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be given an immediate trial. They quickly enrich the blood and give strength and health to every part of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

The best thing in it is the fine collection of pennants displayed. The pictures show the making of beer.

Lyric. TWO big audiences paid democratic tribute to the musical comedy play "The Sole Kiss," with which the Armstrong Company begins its second week at the Lyric.

As is the rule with musical comedies, the title has little to do with the general plot, but in this instance there is an introduction of a clever travesty on that other sensational "Soul Kiss"; only in this instance the comedy element is decidedly apparent and provokes a riot of mirth. The rest of the play is a recital in song and dialogue, of a man named Brown, who goes for a brief breathing spell to Coney Island and in his return tells the wife the usual fairy tale of a hunting trip in the mountains.

Of course Brown is aided and abetted by his friend Hogan, and in order to keep their own "skirts clear" the precious pair drag in the village curate and make him a party to their scheme. For a while it works, then when a Coney Island acquaintance in the person of one Floxie, an actress, calls at the home of Brown, the complications begin in earnest, and the action, and incidentally the fun, while ancient in spots, is of the Gaiety variety, and is especially good.

Gus Leonard is positively ludicrous in the role of Brown, and speaks with a Teutonic accent that even a native of Milwaukee might envy. His costume, too, is a remarkable thing in itself, and wondrous if he dons his trousers with a shoo-born. Will Armstrong is imitatively funny, and elicits much laughter by his

A SUGGESTION ON ECZEMA

It is suggested that eczema sufferers ask Woodard, Clarke & Co., Skidmore Drug Co., druggists of this city, what reports they are getting from patients who have used the oil of wintergreen liquid compound, B. D. D. Prescription. Ask some of the cured patients what happened the very minute they washed the skin with this soothing oil.
