OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washgton, June 7.—Representative Ellis

today called on the President and filed a vigorous protest against the appointment of men recommended by Senator Bourne for Register and Receiver of the new Vale Land Office.

Last week Bourne recommended Bruce R. Kester, special agent of the Land Office, for Register, and today he recommended Henry F. Gulid, editor of the Newport Mail, for Receiver. Ellis objected to both men because neither resides in the Vale land district, and he especially objected to trict, and he especially objected to Kester because he is not a resident of Ellis is asking merely that residents of the state and, preferably, of the land district, be appointed and is not seeking the right to select the new officials. His protest is made solely in the interest of residents of the Vale land district, he said.

BRANDED SALMON FOUND

Fish With Peculiar Design on Head Taken in Fishwheel.

Salmon apparently branded have Saimon apparently branded have been caught in the fishwheel of Joseph Paquet, in the Columbia River near the Warren cannery. The mark consists of little punctures in the form of a circle, half an inch in diameter, with two dots in the center. The marks are alike on all the fish caught. Mr. Paquet, receiving word from his man in charge yesterday morning that marked fish were being taken, went to investigate. While he was there one of the saimon, bearing the marks on the hard, smooth surface of its head, was caught. All the fish caught in the wheel are strung in a line, and the marks can be plainly seen. At another wheel nearby many fish marked the same way have been taken. These marked fish weigh from 35 to These marked fish weigh from 35 to

It is the opinion of Mr. Paquet that the fish have been marked in some hatchery after reaching full growth and not when small fry. He does not think young fish could be marked as these are. If the marks were placed on female fish after being caught at some hatchery. Mr. Paquet thinks the filed today with County Clerk Post and County Auditor Ausman an instrument entitled the Northwest Railroad Company against the Clearwater Railroad Company, the Lewiston-Clarkston Company, the Union Trust Company of Spokane, the Lewiston Water & Power Company, and the Clearwater Short Line Railroad. The instrument was filed by the Portland representative of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, Attorney Harold W. Strong.

The description of the land to be condemned shows it to be a part of the line of the O. R. & N. extending from Huntington, Or., to Lewiston, Idaho, over the line surveyed. It also-embraces part of ington, Or., to Lewiston, Idaho, over the line surveyed. It also embraces part of what is known as the Northern Pacific survey and it appears that the action is a fight between the railroads entering Lewiston and Clarkston. The action comes before the Asotin County Superior Court October 5, when the damages will be prescribed. No notice has yet been served upon the new Lewiston-Clarkston Improvement Company.

The land sought to be condemned lies

The land sought to be condemned lies for the most part on the Snake River and will be used for tracks, sidetracks, station and water station. The line from Huntington is now in progress of con-struction and information shows that the Northwestern line will connect with the Oregon Short Line Company between Lewiston and Huntington.

SAN PRANCISCO, June 7.—(Special.)
—The Carson incident was finally closed this evening by a long telegram from August Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, to President Graham, of the Pacific Coast League in which he states that he can see no necessity for the conflicting resolution of the Caast League and reliterates his former statement that Carson is eligible to play with Vernor.

As the National Commission is the court of final appeal in such matters, President Graham this evening wired Hogan that Carson belongs to him and may be used tomorrow if he so desires. In his telegram Herrmann states that Portland, according to the evidence

The statehood bill probably will be delayed until near the close of the session, when there may be slight chance for it to emerge from conference.

The Democrats led in the movement to have the statehood measure substituted for the conservation bill.

The general understanding is that the rivers and harbors conference report will be taken up tomorrow. Opposition to that bill and public building bill has been used effectively by the Democrats to compel the majority party to act on legislation which the minority favored. But now, if they take that course, the effect will be to delay action on the statehood measure. Aption on the statehood measure. Ap-propriation bills will be used to dis-place other business.

There appears to be, therefore, strong probability that the statehood bill will be the last of all the important measures before Congress to come up for consideration. The indications are that final action cannot be taken before next session at least.

players must be protected, as well as those organizations from which players are drafted. The text of the telegram follows:

"In my judgment there was no necessity for adoption of the Pacific Coast League resolution to which you call attention. Clubs from which players are drafted are fully protected by the commission rules. Rule 42 provides that a drafted player cannot be sent to a club, a member of the same classification from whom the player was secured, without giving the club from which he was drafted an opportunity to again secure the player at the draft price.

"Portland, from the evidence submitted, had this opportunity, but did not take advantage of it. The sale by Chicago to Vernon is therefore legal and the player is eligible. Clubs drafting players must be protected, as well as those from which the player is secured. The Chicago club has a right to repurchase this player from Vernon at the draft price on August 30. This could not be done if your rule was in operation and the player was turned over to Portland. Will submit telegraphic correspondence to my colleagues.

FIREWORKS START WEEK

to 15,000 People Witness Display-Battle Falls to Materi-

The Caks held the boards on last night's Rose Festival programme and to say it "made good," is putting it mildly. The character of the entertainment given at the famous playgrounds, was of a nature, however, to incite ecstasy and there were hundreds present who forgot themselves as they witnessed the brilliant pyrotechnic display on the Willamette River.

Last night's display bore the stamp of genuiness. Every exclamatory expression in our tongue, and some not in it, was exhausted by the great throng, estimated to number 15,000 persons. Particularly were women enthralled as the magnificent bursts of fire followed each other in rapid succession. Following and when it was finished one was almost exhausted, so intense was the individual interest. It was shortly after 9 o'clock when those already in the long grand-stand and those strolling along the boule-vards and through the parkings, heave the report as of a cannon. That was the the report as of a cannon. That was the signal for the commencement and the crowds rushed for the waterfront. Soon balls of red, white and blue fire were placed in the water, surrounding the temporary raft-stage erected in the water directly in front of the grandstand. These flared up beautifully, illuminating the water for hundreds of feet around. The great crowd holds its breath while an unconscious sense vainly gropes for some adequate expression of feeling, ending in well-nigh inarticulate and meaningless, save for the intonation, exclamations of delight.

Now is the climax of the display. There is a great mass of fire on the stage. Now the outline of a fire rose comes into view through the glimmering mass. Now it is brighter and more distinct and constantly changes its color, while the spectators clap their hands in meritorious applause.

It is not often that so large an assemblage pays such tribute to any kind of performance, but it assuredly did last night. Another opportunity will be given Wednesd w night and again Friday night.
