

'GAG RULE' CHARGE CAUSES DISCORD

Democrats and Republicans Hurl Verbal Brickbats in Congress.

POSTAL BANK BILL WINS

Special Rule Adopted Limiting Debate to Eight Hours and Cutting Off Possibility of Amendment. House in Uproar.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—With the Democrats attacking the Republicans, denouncing the insurgents for alleged insincerity and assailing the "regulars" for bringing in "gag rule" to further a party measure, and the Republican leaders retaliating by charging the Democrats with similar performance when they were in power, a special rule was adopted in the House yesterday which placed the postal savings bank bill on its way to final passage with the debate limited to eight hours and all possibility of amendment cut off.

The rule was brought in by Representative Dalsell, chairman of the rules committee, immediately after the railroad bill had been sent to conference. The debate on the question was limited to one hour and each side occupied its full share by heaving verbal brickbats at the other. The vote was 160 to 135, all but 10 "insurgents" having voted with their party for the adoption of the rule.

Insurgents Vote "No."

The 10 insurgents who voted against the rule were Cary, Cooper, Nelson and Lenroot, of Wisconsin; Davis and Lidberg, of Minnesota; Gronna of North Dakota; Hubbard, of Iowa; Norris, of Nebraska; and Poindexter, of Washington.

The rule provided for the immediate consideration of the bill, the limiting of the debate to eight hours, the prohibition of all amendments and the allowance of the offering of one substitute and a motion to recommit.

The denunciation of "insurgents" was particularly vigorous on the part of Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, who charged them with insincerity in regard to reformation of the House rules.

Amid Democratic applause he cried: "It seems now that the real protest of the insurgents was against 'gag rule' in their caucus and having obtained greater liberality there they are perfectly willing to apply the 'gag rule' in this House."

Minority Leader Attacks.

Representative Clark, the minority leader, also vigorously attacked the special rule.

Representative Dalsell defended the rule. He explained that the special bill was a Republican measure that had been carefully considered in a caucus where there was free and full expression of opinion by its colleagues and opportunity to amend and for that reason it was not deemed proper to subject it to Democratic amendments.

The Democrats, he said, under its terms, were given an opportunity to offer a Democratic postal savings bank bill as a substitute.

Representative Boutelle, of Illinois, replied to the Democratic criticism of the course taken by reminding the minority of the tactics they had employed in passing the Wilson tariff bill in 1914.

"Then," he said, waving his hands towards the minority side, "you came in here dragging 600 amendments to the tariff bill and proceeded to pass them all in two hours without even reading a single amendment."

The bill will be taken up again at 11 A. M., Thursday, in order that the House may vote on the measure at 6 o'clock on the evening of that day.

CHARGES MADE IN SENATE

Cullom Resents Voters Memorial Against Lorimer.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Formal charges against Senator William Lorimer of Illinois were laid before the Senate this afternoon by his colleague, Senator Cullom. The proceeding was the presentation of a memorial by Clifford W. Harnes, of Chicago, president of the Illinois Legislative Voters League, embodying the charges of bribery of members of the Illinois Legislature. The memorial was read only in part and was referred without comment to the committee on privileges and elections.

Many members of the Senate say that even with the submission of the confession of White and the indictments against Brown the Senate still lacks definite charges connecting Lorimer with the paying of bribes.

It is generally believed, however, that the papers filed will cause the Senate committee on privileges and elections to take the steps looking to a thorough investigation.

MRS. J. S. COOPER IS HURT

In Anxiety to See Parade, She Pitches Into Elevator Shaft.

In her eagerness to see the passing parade, Mrs. J. S. Cooper, of Independence, Or., fell down an elevator shaft at the Imperial Hotel Sunday night, and sustained serious if not fatal injuries.

Both arms were broken and she is believed to be suffering from internal injuries and a fracture at the base of the skull. The injured woman was removed to Good Samaritan Hospital. She is 60 years old.

Mrs. Cooper, with her husband and son, were in the lobby of the hotel at the time the parade was approaching on Seventh street. In her anxiety to obtain a good view of the pageant she hurried to the nearest elevator. The operator of the car had just started up the shaft with a load. Mrs. Cooper, in her haste, pulled the guard doors open just at the moment the car had reached the height of her head. Before any effort could be made to prevent, she tumbled headlong to the bottom of the pit shaft a distance of 14 feet below.

COUNTRESS IS SENSATION

American Woman to Gamble With Life as Aviator.

LONDON, June 8.—(Special).—It has come as a shock to a number of society people here who have grown accustomed to regard the Countess of Donoughmore as one of the most matronly women among them, to find that she has suddenly developed a taste for aviation.

The success of her cousin, Cecil Grace, son of the late J. W. Grace, of New York, who made a daring flight over the warships at Sheerness a day or two ago, has fired the Countess with an ambition to become a flier and against her father's and her husband's protestations she has expressed her determination to accompany her cousin on his next aerial voyage.

Hitherto the Countess's activities have consisted in opening bazaars organized in the interests of philanthropy and distributing charity privately in her own quiet way. She has carefully avoided anything that would have a tendency to identify her with any of the vices of the smart set, with the result that she is looked upon more as a prude than a woman of fashion.

She discourages late hours, the playing of bridge for high stakes, the tendency towards masculinity in woman's dress, the patronage of women's clubs and above all gambling and horse racing. Now that she proposes to have a gamble on her own life society folk are amused.

NICARAGUA IS WARNED

COMMANDER OF GUNBOAT ANSWERS DEFTY IN KIND.

American Warship's Guns Will Be Levelled If Single Shot Is Fired at Stars and Stripes.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, June 8.—"At the first shot fired against the American flag or an American vessel I will level the bluff."

This is the reply made yesterday by Commander Harold Hines, commanding the American gunboat Dubuque, to a threat made by General Rivus of the Madriz forces holding Bluefields bluff, to stop any vessel entering the harbor.

General Rivus practically defied the United States, declaring that he would disregard the proclamation issued from Washington on May 21 to the effect that the United States Government would defend the right of either faction to seize American-owned vessels or property without consent of any recompense to the owners.

He warned Commander Hines that he would prevent by force, regardless of flag, any vessels from entering the harbor in the future. In response to this, the American Commander immediately sent to him the above message, which would mean the annihilation of the handful of Madriz troops now remaining in this neighborhood.

A critical situation has thus arisen which may involve the United States, but the American Government is of the opinion that General Rivus will not attempt to make good his threat in an effort to collect custom duties.

There are constant rumors of threats against the life of Thomas P. Moffatt, the American consul here.

ROBBERS MAKE RICH HAULS

Four Residences on West Side Are Raided—$1100 in Valuables Gone.

Burglars were rampant in the north-western section of the city last night. Four robberies were reported to the police at midnight by victims who had spent the evening viewing the parade. The total loot amounted to $1100.

The home of A. Friedman, at 733 Kearney street, was entered and $600 worth of jewelry and watches and wearing apparel were carried away by the marauders. Entrance was gained through a rear door. The home of the Rosenthal Sisters at 629 1/2 Irving street was also burglarized. Diamonds and other valuables to the extent of $300 were taken.

Apparently the same thieves entered the home of F. H. Fogarty at 148 North Twenty-fourth street and looted the house of valuables appraised at $200.

Fred Nolter, residing at 701 Lovejoy street, complained to the police that his home was entered and articles valued at $100 taken.

ANGRY HUSBAND SHOTS

Finding Wife in Man's Arms, He Draws His Revolver.

Residents in the vicinity of 112 Knott street reported to the police at midnight of hearing three shots, fired in rapid succession, in the home of Joseph Sanduski, whose home is at the above number. A subsequent investigation by the police brought out the fact that Sanduski returned home a few moments before the shooting only to find his wife in the arms of another man, whom he had previously forbidden on his premises. In order to invoke his authority about the place and at the same time scare the uninvited guest, the husband shot three shots from his revolver at the fleeing form of the unwelcome guest. No arrests were made.

LEAVITT'S SPEED RAPID

Witness Testifies Auto Went "Like Lightning" When It Killed Man.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—Witnesses for the state today testified that the automobile in which Ralph J. Leavitt, of Los Angeles, now on trial on a manslaughter charge was riding, was going at an excessive rate of speed when it ran down and killed a street sweeper here two years ago. Different witnesses estimated the speed at from 40 to 50 miles an hour, and one said the automobile was going "like lightning."

The state has only one more witness to examine, and it is believed that both sides will have completed the introduction of testimony by tomorrow evening.

PIONEERS ELECT OFFICERS

Washington State Association Has Meeting at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—At the annual meeting of the Association of Washington Pioneers today the following officers were elected:

President, F. H. Winslow; vice-president, Edwin Bells; secretary, Edgar Bryan; treasurer, William Calhoun; trustees, T. H. Cann, W. V. Rinehart, George P. Frye, M. R. Maddox and Leander Miller. All are residents of Seattle except Vice-President Bells, whose home is in Tacoma.

"Georg Schock" Is Revealed.

Harper's Magazine.

Heretofore no announcement has been made as to the name "Georg Schock," author of the new novel "Hearts Contending," save that it was the name of a plume of a feminine writer.

The name of the author is now revealed in reality Miss Katherine Loose and her home is Reading. She has written short stories which have attracted attention, but this is her first novel. Her like her stories, "Hearts Contending" is not written in dialect, although its characters are the same sturdy Berks County Germans.

LEAVITT GOES TO TRIAL

MANY TALESMEN PREJUDICED IN AUTO-SPEED CASES.

Defendant Asks for More Time, but Judge Insists State Has Waited Long Enough.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7.—(Special).—Ralph J. Leavitt, of Los Angeles, lost his final plea for a continuance of the trial on the information charging him with manslaughter, before Judge Mitchell Gilliam in the Superior Court this morning, and the case was sent to trial.

Public prejudice against automobile scorches interfered greatly in the selection of the jury, and almost the entire day was consumed. One talesman, E. S. Keene, was excused when he said in reply to a question of his prejudice against scorches: "It certainly is. I am prejudiced. I've had to jump like a yellow dog at cross-roads for years. I could not serve in this case."

A Book for NERVOUS PEOPLE Free on Request

It Has Shown Many Sufferers the Way to Health and Happiness

Nervous breakdown may be the first sign of paralysis or some other severe nervous disorder. A tonic for the nerves is the one remedy for neurasthenic conditions and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic as well as a specific for conditions that lead to several forms of paralysis.

They are, therefore, of unusual value in cases of extreme nervousness in which there is reason to believe that the trouble may progress until a disease develops that is generally regarded as incurable.

It is not necessary to accept as final the statement of anyone that a case of locomotor ataxia or partial paralysis is hopeless. The progress of ataxia has been arrested in hundreds of cases and the patient given many years of useful activity. Paralysis may be entirely of a functional character and there are many well authenticated cures failure of the nerves to do their work properly or to some temporary or permanent damage to their structure. As the nerves receive from the blood all of their nourishment to keep up their energy and to repair their waste or damage, the importance of pure, red blood to the health of the nerves is seen at once. The nerves, like all other tissues of the body, use their stored up energy when at work and become exhausted if overworked. The blood, when healthy, replaces these wastes and keeps the nerves strong and well. If, however, the blood is impure, as it frequently becomes through overwork, worry, poor digestion and many other causes, the nerves fail to receive their full supply of nourishment and breakdown or disease results. This, briefly stated, is the cause of most nervous disorders.

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills marks a distinct advance in the treatment of nervous disorders. It succeeds where others fail because it is based on the sound medical principle that the health of the nerves depends upon pure, red blood. By building up and purifying the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the nerves with the vital elements they need. The remedy has performed so many remarkable cures that no nervous sufferer can neglect its use with justice to himself.

Locomotor Ataxia.

This is a disease of the spinal cord and first shows itself in an inability to walk or even to stand erect when the eyes are closed, or in the dark. It is characterized by peculiar disturbances of gait and difficulty in governing the motions of the legs. Pain is generally the first symptom to be noticed and may be present for months before the disease is recognized. The pains are sharp and shooting, lightning-like, and while they may be frequent for a period of several days, do not last for any length of time. Patients are much affected by the condition of the atmosphere for the pains are generally worse during cold weather, before electrical storms or when the humidity is high. It is better, therefore, for the patient to live in a warm, dry climate than a cold, damp one. One of the commonest and early signs is a tired feeling, particularly noted in the knees and ankles. This sensation is provoked by slight exertion, and is not remedied by rest. Often a numb feeling is associated with it, and these two symptoms are always present in the early stages. Later developments are the increase in duration and extent of the numb feelings, covering at times the foot alone, then extending up the leg. As the disease is of slow growth, some cases covering a period of ten years, the increase in the intensity of the symptoms is not noticed, but its progress is constant and gradually approaches a total lack of feeling in the legs, causing a wobbling in the gait and the entire inability to govern the steps. As it grows the patient loses all control over the bowels and water. A further symptom is the sensation of the pressure like a cord

Thought She Would Never Get Well

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of severe nervous trouble is convincingly shown by the cure of Mrs. H. Gaudreau, of No. 857 West Thirty-sixth Place, Los Angeles, Cal. She says:

"When I was fourteen years old, I had a severe attack of diphtheria which left me weak and numb all over. I was perfectly helpless in bed for three months. I couldn't use my arms or legs. I was numb all over and had no feeling at all.

"The doctors told my mother that I was suffering from paralysis and that they thought I would never get well. They did not help me, and as my mother had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she decided to have me buy them. I hadn't taken many boxes before I could see that the pills were helping me a lot. In six or eight weeks' time I could sit up in bed and could use my arms a little. I used them all I could and as I grew stronger all of the time, I got full use of them. I was longer in learning to walk, but finally was able to do this too. I use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until completely cured and have had no signs of the trouble returning."

Attending Physician Feared Paralysis

Mrs. W. H. Gorlach, of University Place, Station No. 5, Tacoma, Wash., says:

"I became greatly run down through worry and overwork in caring for my husband, who had been very seriously injured in an accident and soon I began to notice a numb, creeping-like sensation in my hands and feet. These spells lasted for about five minutes or so at first, but gradually lasted longer until I would feel them for a whole day. My hands and feet became colorless and dead like. There was no feeling in them and I could hardly write or do any work with them. The numbness was worse during damp weather or when I was extra tired.

"I was under a doctor's care for over a year, and when the numbness began, he said I was in danger of paralysis. He treated me with electricity for several weeks, but he did not help me. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I happened to read of a case like mine, which they had cured. I gave them a thorough trial and found they were helping me, for I grew stronger in every way. The numbness finally left me and I was entirely cured. I have been strong and well since and am able to do my work."

Drinking Causes Man's Death.

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 8.—(Special).—Lars Stam, aged 55, who came here from South Bend, Wash., was found dying in the Central Hotel today and died soon after a physician was called. Heart disease, due to excessive drinking, was the immediate cause. It is said that Stam has considerable money from the sale of a homestead in Washington.
