PEACE STILL FAR FROM CHURCH ROW

Methodist Conference Rejects Both Reports Regarding Pastor Euster.

SERVICE LASTS ALL NIGHT

Superintendent Holingshead Pleads Vain for Forgiveness by Preachers and Building Com-

The quarterly conference of Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal Church last night rejected majority and minority reports of a special investigating com-mittee on differences that existed between Rev. W. T. Euster, the pastor, and the members of the building comand the members of the building committee. The majority report was signed by Charles E. Lenon, H. U.
Welch and C. A. Gatzga, completely exonerating the pastor and denouncing in no uncertain terms the members of the building committee. The minority report was signed by Q. W. Hungate, denounced the pastor and exonerated
the building committee. J. R. Pearl, one of the members of the investigation board, has been ill for months and signed neither report.

tion board, has been ill for months and signed neither report.

District Superintendent Hollingshead presided. He pleaded in a dramatic manner throughout the session, which began shortly after 8 o'clock last night and continued until this morning, for harmony and begged the members of the quarterly conference to forgive the pastor, if he has done anything wrong, and for the pastor to do likewise as to the building committee, and to build the new stone church that is about half finished. It appeared, however, that the breach between pastor and committee was too large to be hasled in such manner, and the meeting continued, at times in more or less confusion and uproar. The situation appeared very The situation appeared very dark.

The official board, of which the members of the building committee are also a part, has voted to cut off the pastor's salary tomerrow. This has been declared by District Superintendent ciolingshead and Resident Bishop Smith as illegal, but the treasurer has been instructed to stop the payments June 15.

Members of the building committee

Members of the building committee unqualifiedly termed the majority re-port submitted last night as false in many particulars, and charged Chair-man Lenon with trickery and chicanery in its compilation, but he apparently did not care much what they charged.

Scathing Rebuke Given.

The report of the special investigating committee is a scathing rebuke of the attitude and actions of the building committee, of which Herbert Gordon is chairman, and which caused to be passed a resolution a few days ago, calling for a resolution a few days ago, calling for a thange of pastors, and is a complete exongration of the present pastor.

The official board of the church sanctioned and authorized the appointment of the investigating committee. Dr. Euster chose two, Chairman Gordon, for the building committee, chose two, and the four chose the fifth member.—The committee was appointed March 7 and in the committee was appointed March 7 and in four chose the fifth member.—The com-mittee was appointed March 7, and im-mediately organized, with Charles E. Lenon as chairman and Q. W. Hungate as secretary. The others are C. A. Gatz-ka, J. R. Pearl and H. U. Welch.

The report of the committee was signed by all of the members but Mr. Hungate, and of him the report says: "We regret the fact that one of the members of the committee, Brother Hungate, from the beginning of the investigation and before any evidence was taken, stated that he was with the building committee, first, last and all the time,' and that he did last and all the time,' and that he did not care to receive any evidence, but would report solely upon statements made by the building committee." Immediately after organizing, the investigating requested building committee and the pastor to sub mit in writing their grievances each against the other, making statements of the matters in dispute between them. Both sides of the controversy did so. After a careful study of these, the committee requested of the pastor and mem-bers of the building committee that each case to discuss or act upon any differ-ences existing between them, but to submit to the constituted authorities of the church all of these things for adjust-

The committee tried to arbitrate the differences between paster and building com-mittee for the best interests of the church, and would have been able to do so had the building committee compiled with their promise and brought such differences as they had to us, as they had agreed to do, and before the property-constituted authorities of the church."

One of the chief complaints of the building committee, the report states, was that Dr. Euster had caused to be published exaggerated statements in the newspapers of the proposed cost of the new stone church and of its financial connew stone church and of its mancial con-nition, but the building committee did not submit these charges, merely stating them verbally. The report states, however, that the investigating committee is of the opinion that Dr. Euster did not initiate lhese articles, or the most of them, and that he did not make any exaggerated statement of the situation and that he fild not hinder the church building in Charges Are Placed.

The investigating committee reports tha the building committee "has not complied with the contract of the Cooper Sandstone Company and has not employed an archi-tect, with powers as required by said con-tract, and that the committee promised this committee that it would comply with said contract and employ Mr. Black, who had drawn the plans and specifications, and who had acted in a general advisory capacity, to inspect the building within a few days after March 27, 1910," but that six weeks have elapsed since this prom-ise was made, and that the architect has never been asked by the building commit-tee to make the inspection.

The investigating committee finds that the investigating committee linds that the building committee has departed from the original purpose of its appointment, of building a church in Sunnyside, "and has gone into matters entirely beyond its jurisdiction and has interfered with the relationship existing between the former pastor of the charge, Dr. T. The investigating committee finds that "the building committee scattered rumors throughout the community against Dr. Easter and against District Superintendent Hollingshead," thereby destroying confidence in both to such an extent that it was impossible to secure funds from the

it was impossible to secure funds from the general public for the building. Dr. Bus-ter, the report reads, has made some mis-takes, but principally in matters of judg-ment, "not involving his honesty or in-tegrity, and that said mistakes are only such as men in active employment, with large enterprises on hand, are apt to make, but which the building committee should not have taken seriously or which should not have interfered with the build-ing of the church."

The investigating committee finds that Dr. Buster has at all times been conscientious and consistent in his efforts to build at as little cost as possible the church in Sunnyside, "but that he has been seriously handicapped by interference from outside sources and by statements made by the building committee.

"We find," continued the report, "that the building committee has disregarded specific instructions from the authorities of the church and has rebelled against instructions from District Superintendent Hollingshead and the pastor, and that it has gone so far as to ask the removal of Foreigners Crowd Around ex-President and Try to Kiss Him-Address Made to Catholics.

ON BOARD KAISERIN AUGUSTE VICTORIA, June 12 .- (Via Wireless to Crookhaven, Ireland, June 13.)-Theodore Roosevelt was the chief figure when he attended a gathering of Catholics on board. The emigrants surrounded an al-ter draped with the American flag, chant-ed a litany, and then Mr. Roosevelt spoke

Mr. Roosevelt welcomed his hearers to America and gave them advice on the necessity of avoiding mixing with strangers on landing. He told them to be mindful of the duties of citizenship and to protect the rights of women. At the end of his remarks the emigrants crowded about him trying to kiss him.

Later at a service in the second cabin at which a German priest officiated, Mr. Roosevelt spoke in similar vein to a gathering of Germans who cheered his remarks. The ex-President, accom-panied by the steamer's captain, in-spected the third cabin and compli-mented the captain on its comfort and condition. He said it was to be hoped that the steerage might eventually be abolished and its place be taken by third-class cabins.

This morning Mr. Roosevelt attended a Protestant service in the saloon. On Monday he will address the grew and stokers and on Tuesday, with French, German and Pollsh priests and Protest-ant clergymen, he will give a reception to the first and second cabin passengers. The weather has been perfect since the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria left port.

Asserting it was his desire to learn the public mind, Dolliver suggested he would hold an inquisition into the motives of those in both branches of Con-gress, whose views the President seemed to be following in the delusion that he is their leader.

Duties Raised by Subterfuge.

Dolliver said it was true the Republican platform did not promise to revise the tariff downward and, if that promise had been made it would have been easy to comply with it by reducing the duties on articles protected by patents or con-trolled by international trusts. Then it would have been defended by stump speakers, he said. Dolliver referred to Major Lord, who assisted the Senate committee on finance in drafting its bill, and then undertook to show that rates had been raised— most of them, he said, by subterfuge. He said in this list were the iron and steel, the sugar and the woolen schedules. Many of the estimates given out were intended to deceive, he declared.

intended to deceive, he declared.

Dolliver asserted it was a strategic mistake to circulate the President's Winona speech with his Lincoln day address, as they were contradictory in terms. The President had given entirely different reasons in the two speeches for considering the Payne law "the best ever enacted," said the Iowa Senator. He declared the tariff was being bolstered up by booms figures. gus figures.

1909 Had Two Great Hoaxes. "Last year witnessed two important heakes," continued Dolliver, "the discov-ery of the North Pole by Dr. Cook and the revision of the tariff downward by Contending the principle of allowing interested men to revise the tariff was wrong. Dolliver asserted that, while the President understood the principle, his ideas of it were "forgy." After quoting that part of the speech in which the President upheld Messrs. Aldrich and Payne, he said: "Those who stood for individual and class interests were being sustained. and class interests were being sustained, while the little group of men who have stood for the rights of the public are to be kicked out."
