

CHARLTON ALIVE, BUT NOT BEING

New Turn Taken in Mysterious Death of American Woman.

LEISHMAN TAKES HAND

American Ambassador Acting on Theory That Husband is Dead, Arranges to Drag Lake Como for Body--Suspect Bravado.

COMO, Italy, June 15.—The police are convinced that Porter Charlton is alive. They say they have indisputable evidence that he was seen on the evening of the day the body of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton was found in Lake Como.

The American Ambassador, Mr. Leishman, however, is determined to give the missing man the benefit of the doubt and has arranged with the Italian authorities to have the bottom of the lake thoroughly explored.

Count Gullotta, the crown prosecutor, has taken upon himself the whole investigation of the case.

Russian Suspect Holds Own.

Constantine Isopoltoff, the Russian suspect who is now under arrest, has borne himself with considerable bravado in the face of the severe examination and his answers to the various questions have either been in the form of a denial or an evasive explanation.

On the lines of inquiry today led to the question of the disappearance of a set of brass knuckles known to be the property of Isopoltoff. The Russian could not account for the disappearance of the weapon, but it was developed that Mrs. Charlton had once asked him for the knuckles, which he refused to give her. The police believe that this weapon played a part in the murder.

Nor has Isopoltoff been able to explain successfully how or where he spent June 4, 3 and 5. His examination is not completed, as the authorities are certain he has not yet told all he knows about the domestic life of the Charltons and the murder.

Investigation Still On.

The villa on the lake shore occupied by Porter Charlton and his wife up to the time of the latter's death was again visited this morning and examined with the most careful attention. The theory is that there was a dinner in the villa, during which much wine was drunk and the atmosphere became heated.

As a result, it is believed that Mrs. Charlton was attacked while in an upper chamber and that the first blow was struck with a terra cotta statue, which the artist had named "Covey." The theory is that there was a dinner in the villa, during which much wine was drunk and the atmosphere became heated.

Mrs. Charlton appeared to have fled to the chamber, sealing the door with her body where the sheets were saturated with her blood.

The stairs and the walls adjoining are stained, indicating, the inquirers say, that after having been rendered unconscious, Mrs. Charlton was dragged through the hall and down to the ground floor and there placed in the trunk, which was later weighted and sunk in Lake Como.

The books found in the villa were novels, the authors including De Maupassant, Prevost and Oscar Wilde. The single exception was a book on the life of a little volume, at first overlooked, but which, on examination, proved to be a hymnal presented, so the inscription shows, to Porter Charlton on his birthday by his mother.

Isopoltoff is credited with being, or has been, in the employ of the Russian government in a confidential capacity.

Police in Doubt. While every day turns up some new feature adding interest to the Lake Como mystery, it is evident that the police are still in doubt as to the identity of the person or persons, who, after beating Mrs. Charlton into insensibility, crowded her into a trunk, there to die of suffocation. They are still making every effort to locate Charlton and today received word from the police that a young man, believed to be the husband, was seen last Friday on Saturday, the day after the trunk containing Mrs. Charlton's body was fished out of the lake.

At the same time they are following up the theory that both Charlton and his wife were murdered, and Lake Como was again being dragged today for the body of the husband.

United States Interested. The authorities are spurred on by the interest taken in the case by the State Department at Washington, as shown through the activities of American Ambassador Leishman and the American Consul at Milan, Charles M. Caughy.

Mr. Leishman is stopping at Castle Utrion, the home of Mrs. MacCreery, on the shore of Lake Como. He is keeping in touch with the Consul at Milan and with the American Embassy at Rome, and conferring frequently with the officials of the Italian government.

Mr. Caughy has been in interview with the authorities at Milan today regarding the further search of the lake. The Consul holds to his original belief that Charlton was murdered and his body disposed of in a manner similar to that employed in the concealment of the body of his wife.

CHARLTON IN LONDON, REPORT London Express, However, Does Not Find Missing Man.

LONDON, June 15.—The Express this morning makes the assertion that Porter Charlton, whose wife's body was found in a trunk on Saturday last, Friday and for whom the Italian authorities are making a vigorous search, is in London.

The newspaper, however, does not tell his whereabouts.

Wolgast appeared loath to put in a finishing punch. He jabbed incessantly at the fighter's anatomy, and again the blood flowed from the nose. Wolgast almost sent Nelson to the floor, landing blow after blow on the forehead.

mighty hard to believe. You must admit that Gillett does not seem to be the sort of a man who would let the promoters go to all the expense they have and then throw them down. Then look at us fellows, who have traveled all the way across the Continent, spending our time and money. It seems more like cruelty to me than justice.

It is safe to say that Jeffries is the least perturbed man in camp as the result of the latest crash in the plans for the fight. The entire camp, including fighter and trainers, stood around in little groups discussing what they consider a calamity of the first magnitude. A moment's thought can understand why the Governor took steps toward the suppression of this fight after permitting the plans for it to proceed so far. It is estimated here that 20,000 visitors will be kept away if the fight is not held in San Francisco.

OBSTACLES IN UTAH SERIOUS

Governor and Salt Lake Prosecutor Both Opposed to Fight.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 15.—A considerable element of the population would welcome the Jeffries-Johnson fight to this city, but the obstacles are believed to be insurmountable.

Story declared repeatedly when Rickard was seeking to stage the contest in Utah that the laws of the state distinctly prohibited such a meeting as that proposed and that he would use his authority to enforce the laws.

RENO IS AETER BIG FIGHT

Business Men Offer to Erect Arena and Pay License.

RENO, Nev., June 15.—Reno made the first bid for the fight this afternoon. Tex Rickard was sent a telegram signed by J. J. Hayden, manager of the state theater and representing prominent business men, saying that this city would erect a suitable arena and furnish the state license required by the state law if the promoters will bring the contest here.

The Business Men's Association will hold a meeting and discuss the advisability of making an effort to bring the fight here.

NEVADA'S LAW IS PRECISE

Prizefights, Permitted on Payment of $1000 License Fee.

RENO, Nev., June 15.—Governor Dickerson, of Nevada, is out of the state.

As the Nevada law is plain and precise, in that it permits fist fights when a license fee of $1000 is paid by the promoter, it is not probable that any adverse action will be taken in case it is proposed to bring the Johnson-Jeffries contest to Nevada.
