EFFECT ON CONGRESS FEARED

Washington Believes Exposition Prospects Stirred Governor.

WASHINGTON, June 16 .- The mov of the state authorities of California t top the Jeffries-Johnson prizefight is believed in Washington to have its origin in a telegram Representative Bennet, Republican, of New York, sent William Wheeler, of San Francisco,

The telegram was to the effect that the moral sentiment of the country was so opposed to the fight that, unless it was prevented, there was grave danger that Congress would take unfavorable action on the resolution now before it naming San Francisco as the place for holding the international celebration of the opening of the Panama Canal. Mr. Bennet is a member of the foreign affairs committee of the House that has the exposition resolution under consideration

He recently received a telegram from San Francisco asking his support of the resolution for the San Francisco fair. He replied as stated. When informed today that Governor Gillett had moved to call off the fight Mr. Bennet was much gratified. He said:

"Prizefighting is prohibited by law in my state and in most states. The sentiment of the country is, I believe, strongly opposed to such exhibitions." In response to his telegram, Mr. Ban-net received one from Mr. Wheeler which said:

"Please urge on your committee that the public-spirited citizens promoting the San Francisco exposition and peo-ple generally interested therein are not favorable to the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Undoubtedly the majority of our people are opposed to the fight. It would be decidedly unjust to consider the latter proposition in connection with the The foreign affairs committee will consider tomorrow the resolutions of San Francisco and New Orleans asking for recognition for their proposed expositions.

In view of the action of the California authorities on the proposed prize-fight, it is understood that Mr. Bennet will favor San Francisco as against New Orleans for the Panama Canal celebration.

ACTION NOT UNEXPECTED

Belief Prevails Governor Will Not Resume His Office.

The action of Governor Benson in di-recting Jay Bowerman, of Condon, to go to Salem and take up the official duties of Governor of Oregon, he being next in line of succession by reason of being president of the state senate, is not surpresident of the state senate, is not sur-prising here. There are those intimately acquainted with the situation who pre-dicted it many weeks ago and who assert that Governor Benson will not again as-sume the duties of his office.

For some time there has been an ap-parently authoritative rumor in circula-tion that Governor Benson will not be a tion that Governor Benson will not be a candidate to succeed himself as Secretary of State and that he intended retiring actively from politics at the expiration of his term. This has been repeatedly denied, however.

Benson has been suffering has been very acute of late.

Governor Benson much trouble.

About a month ago he went with his wife to San Francisco and took up residence at the Alexander Hotel, where he could be near the offices of his physicians, who are specialists in the malady with which he is afflicted. At that time, it was said, an operation was contemit was said, an operation was contemit with the country of the church, and sought refuge under the church sheds. The clergyman, thinking them residents of Lima, loaned them an umbrella and a raincoat.

Since then Dr. Kruse has heard nother than the country of the church and sought refuge under the church sheds. The clergyman thinking them residents of Lima, loaned them an umbrella and a raincoat. It was said, an operation was contem-plated. Rumors that he would not be a candidate for Secretary of State and the probability of his resignation as Governor became more pronounced when Dr. Rob-ert E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the State Asylum for the Insane, Governor Benson's private physician and one of his closest political and personal friends, vis-ited him in San Francisco.

At that time the rumor said that Judge Henry L. Benson, of Klamath Falls, would be a candidate for Governor and that his brother would retire. This was strenuously denied from San Francisco,

It was also dealed from San Francisco. It was also dealed by Judge Benson.

Under the Oregon constitution, there being no Lieutenant-Governor, the Secretary of State Eucceeds to the Governor-ship in the event of that office becoming vacant for any reason. He is Governor in fact and not merely acting. With the resignation of Senator Chamberlain, then Governor, Mr. Benson, then Secretary of State, succeeded to the chief executive-ship. This condition made him the incumbent of two state offices. The double work, coupled with his physical debility, worked to an almost complete breakdown, it is said, several weeks ago.

Of the score or more of boards and commissions in Oregon the Governor is a member of nearly all. Other state officers, in some instances, are members of these boards and commissions. In several instances where there are only three members of these, the Governor and Secretary of State constitute two members. In his dual capacity as Governor and Secretary of State, Governor Benson constitutes a majority of these boards and without his presence business could not be transacted. In consequence of his absence state business has been practically at a standstill. It has piled up in some sence state business has been practically at a standstill. It has piled up in some of the departments to a point where action is now needed imperatively. For instance, negotiations that have been pending for loans with the school land board, on which Governor Benson constitutes a majority, are held up.

Though more than a month ago J. P. Kayanaugh, city attorney of Portland, was informed that he would be appointed circuit index of the Fourth Judicial Dis-circuit judge of the Fourth Judicial Dis-trict to succeed Judge Bronaugh, his commission has not been signed and can not be until the Governor returns to the state. In the meantime Judge Bronaugh's resignation is pending.

C. N. McArthur, the Governor's private secretary, has been trying as best he could to take care of the office and succeeded in the form of the office and succeeded in the secretary. ceeded in so far as his authority ex-

Much significance is attached to the visit of Dr. Steiner to San Francisco. He is well acquainted with the situation and being a physician knows the physical condition of Governor Benson. By rea-son of this and the positive rumor that Governor Benson's condition is really alarming, it is believed he advised that Mr. Bowerman be called on to take charge of the office. Little doubt is expressed here that Mr. Bowerman will remain in charge until the expiration of the

Mr. Bowerman has an ambition to be Governor and some time ago announced he would be a candidate before the Republican State Assembly, July 21. That his succession to the Governor's chair will give him material political prestige is regarded as true.

Mr. Bowerman will succeed to the Governorship only and will have the appoint.

ernorship only and will have the appointment of a Secretary of State in the event that Governor Benson resigns that place also. This, however, is improbable, it is thought, as there is no great necessity for his presence, there being no reason why the business cannot be transacted by a denuty.

Already there are half a dozen candidates for Governor. Thus far Governor Benson has been the only candidate, other than State Senator John B. Coffey, of Portland, for Secretary of State. This would leave the field for that office practically open to Coffey, though others might enter the race in the event developments confirm conclusions already drawn.

The possibility of Judge Benson's being a candidate for Governor also if his brother does retire is strong. It is said that in fact such aiready has been agreed upon between them.

RETAIL GROCERS CRY AGAINST ILLEGITIMATE COMPETITION.

Merchants Want Manufacturers, Not Large Competitors, to Fix the Charges for Goods.

"The Right of the Manufacturer to Name the Minimum Selling Price" was the cheef topic of discussion at a meeting of the local retail grocers held Wednes-day night at the Commercial Club.

Frank B. Connolly, president of Con-nolly Bros., of San Francisco, and one of the delegates to the 13th annual convention of the retail grocers, which was recently held in Springfield, Ill., in May; Joseph A. Stuiz, a prominent groceryman of San Francisco and also a delegate, and N. A. Perry, delegate from Oregon to the

the evening.

Mr. Connolly and Mr. Stulz have traveled over 10,000 miles since leaving the East and have held meetings in 25 of the largest cities in the United States. To have the manufacturers, rather than illegitimate competition, fix the prices of their merchandise is the point to which the retail grocers are working and the help of the manufacturers will be asked to establish this custom. It is pointed out that under the present system the largest firms can held a special sale and cut prices for a few days and that the smaller dealers are compelled to meet smaller dealers are compelled to meet the cut. After a cut in prices is once made it is almost impossible to resestabilish the old price and the result has been that 60 per cent of all the goods sold by retail grocers are handled at an absolute loss. Should the manufacturers fix prices and maintain them by law, it is said by the grocers that illegitimate competition will be largely done away with and the retail grocers would no longer be at the mercy of the large department stores.

A number of Portland manufacturers spoke at the meeting and the prevailing sentiment was in favor of the plan advocated by the grocers. Among those who spoke were: J. C. Luckel, of Luckel, King and Cake; Frank Kerr, of Wadhams & Kerr Bros.; J. R. Greer, of Allen & Lewis; A. Vonderwerth, of A. Schilling

Speaking or the National convention,
Mr. Connoily said: "All who attended realize the importance and necessity of the National convention as never before.

We are a power in the world of trade, second to none, and all we have to do is to extend that power and increase our influence is to be ever watchful for ourselves and be careful of the welfare of others in the great trade of which we others in the great trade of which are so prominent a part."
