Ed Hyde Gives Elsie Schroeder 20 Cents to Accompany Him, but Heads for Home After Long Tramp and Ride.

TACOMA, June 16.—(Special.)—Elsie Schroeder, aged 9 years, whose home is at South G and Thirty-third streets, was kidnaped this morning by Ed Hyde, an ex-convict who has spent most of his time since 1889 in prison and is a pal of "Young" Hildebrand, now doing life in Walia Walla for complicity in the White murder in Seattle in 1889.

Within an hour after the kidnaping the child was restored to her parents and Hyde was in the county jail. With and Hyde was in the county jail. With a companion Elsie was picking black-berries in the South End when Hyde approached them. He gave Elsie 20 cents and promised to take her where there were plenty of berries, and gave the other child 10 cents to go home with what berries the children had and to "say nothing" about where Elsie had gone.

Hyde boarded a Spanaway car with Hyde boarded a Spanaway car with Elsie and got off at Alki station and started to walk toward Bismarck. They met a number of people on the way, however, and Hyde soon returned with the child to Alki, boarded an inbound car and rode with her to Thirty-fourth and G and told her to get off. Just as she was doing so the officers happened along and took both.

"I didn't intend to burt the kid."

"I didn't intend to hurt the kid," said Hyde. "She wanted some black-berries, and I told her I would take her where there was plenty. You can't put any charge against me for that."

Hyde denied he gave Elsie 20 cents or her companion 10 cents, although the children had the money. Sheriff Morris believes Hyde intended to steal the girl but met so many present and the girl bu Morris believes Hyde intended to steal the Bismarck road he got "cold feet."

A formal charge of attempted kidnaping will be placed against him. He is 31 years of age and has the reputation of being a desperate character.

GRANGE SEEKS CHANGES

Pleasant Valley Gathering in Favor of More Representation.

GRESHAM, Or., June 16.—(Special.)—Yesterday's session of Multinomah County Pomona Grange was held at Pleasant Valley, with a large attendance, intent almost wholly on having a good social time.

The resolutions adopted affected only.

The resolutions adopted affected only the interests of the order, the most important of which dealt with the representation of subordinate granges in the State Grange. It is proposed to raise the monthly dues and increase the representation so that each subordinate grange may have two delegates instead of two for each four granges, as at present. Also that each grange pay the expenses of its own delegates within a radius of 100 miles of the meeting place of the State Grange, which body is to pay mileage only beyond that another resolution a committee, By another resolution a committee, consisting of the 10 grange masters of the county, was appointed to arrange for a rotation of granges to entertain Pomona for the next 10 meetings.

A large class was initiated in the fifth degree and was followed by a musical and literary programme.

The September session will be held with Multnomah Grange at Pleasant Home.

INVITATION IS DECLINED

Debs Not Able to Attend Big Klamath Socialist Encampment.

KLAMATH FALLS, June 16.—Word has just reached the men here at the head of arrangements for the Socialist encampment to be held in this city from June 27 to July 5, that Eugene V. Debs, once Presidential candidate on the Socialist ticket, will not be able to attend this encampment.

Many other noted speakers of the Socialist faith will be here to take part in the meetings, however.

the meetings, however.

The paraphernalia for the camp grounds arrived today. Included is one large tent for the open meetings during the encampment which will seat more than 5000 people. With this are 500 smaller tents to be used for those who wish to camp out. A large amount of decorative stuff has arrived, including numerous multi-colored lights which are to be used for decorating the grounds. Harry Perkins, who had charge of the decorations for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, is coming with $4000 cific Exposition, is coming with $4000 worth of decorative material to be used in the city during the two days' celebration of the Fourth and some of this is also to be used on the grounds of the big white tent city of the Socialists.

WATERWORKS OFFER TASK

Soldiers to Install System for Maneuvering Grounds.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS. Wash June 16.—(Special.)—To pitch camp and install three boilers and three pumps, the waterworks system for the soldiers at maneuver camp at Amer-ican Lake, F Corps of Engineers, about 75 men, have been ordered to go to the ground Jupe 20. The maneuver camp is 16 miles from Tacoma and contains 30,000 acres.

During August, as many troops as can be spared from the Department of the Columbia and all of the state militias will be assembled at American Lake for instruction and field practice.

To furnish water for these thousands of soldiers, a plant large enough to supply a good-sized city will be required.

It is the plan of the Quartermaster's department to have all of the main roads through and surrounding the maneuver camp oiled this season to lay the dust.

RAINIER'S FIRST CATHOLIC CHURCH DEDICATED.

RAINIER, Or., June 15 .- (Special.) - The new Catholic Church of Rainier was dedicated Sunday before a large congregation by Archbishop Christie, of Portland. This is the first church building that the Catholics have owned in Rainier. A handsome, well-furnished parsonage stands on the church grounds. Severai little girls took their first communion. Services are held regularly by Father Bruenagel.

post in building roads and erecting buildings. It is likely that much more will be spent next year. This will be especially true if the appropriation for a new department headquarters for the officers and clerks of the Department of the Columbia is made.

Reserve street is being graded and macadamized at a cost of $50,000. The work is being done by Rector & Daly, contractors, and is nearly completed. This thoroughfare is one of the most important streets in the city and is the main traveled road into Vancouver from the north and east. It divides the military reservation from the city of Vancouver and is 40 feet wide.

reservation from the city of Vancouver and is 40 feet wide.

The quartermaster's storehouse, a building 26 by 240 feet, is in process of building and the contract price is $6200.

The artillery stables, being built to accommodate troops from the Islands in August, are rapidly nearing completion and the contractor will receive $22,000 for building them. The stables are 67 by 235 feet in dimensions, and will be far sufeet in dimensions, and will be far su-perior to the building in which the offi-cers of the Department of the Columbia do their work. These stables are known as the "palaces for the mules," among the soldiers.

Plumbing in 12 buildings will cost the Government $8000. The work is now

SUPREME COURT DECISION SUS-TAINS OLD STATUTE.

Governor Hay's Veto Ineffective Because Act of Legislature Was Unconstitutional.

OLYMPIA. Wash., June 16 .- The Supreme Court today knocked out the attempted repeal by the act passed at the special session of the Legislature, of the act passed at the regular session of the 1909 Legislature amending the material men's lien laws, when it was discovered that the act of the regular session laws of 1909, page 71, was in a somewhat hazy condition.

A law purporting to amend the regu-lar session act was passed by the Legislature, but when it came before Governor Hay, he vetoed the first four sections of the bill and approved the last two, which simply provided for the repeal of the law passed at the regular session.

The Supreme Court does not pass directly on the right of the Governor to repeal a portion of a law and approve the rest, practically changing the leg-islative intent, but it holds that the re-mainder of the bill as approved by the Governor, had it originally been passed in that shape by the Legislature, would have been unconstitutional because it attempted to repeal an act without set-ting forth its title in full as required by the constitution, and as the Gover-nor could have no greater power than the Executive and Legislature combined, the law was unconstitutional for the same reason.

The decision was handed down in the The decision was handed down in the case of Spokane Grain & Fuel Company et al., appellants, vs. E. V. Lyttaker et al., respondents, from King County. The trial court sustained a demurrer because as required by the law of the 1909 regular session, notice was not given the owner of the property of the delivery of the material at the time as a necessary proceeding to establish a material man's lien.

Homesteader Plunges Into Gully on Vicious Animal.

MYRTLE POINT, Or., June 16 .- Walter C. Mecum of this place, met a tragic death between Myrtle Point and his homestead a few days ago. He left his father's home here, riding a frisky horse, with a promise that he would return the same evening. His failure to come back caused uneasiness and to come back caused uneasiness and his brother went to search for him the next morning and found that the missing man had been at his homestead and had ridden away from the cabin. The tracks-showed on the edge of a canyon that the horse had reared and pitched, and a search of the gully below disclosed the mutilated bodies of the missing man and his horse, the animal having evidently slipped and fallen over ing evidently slipped and fallen over the brink of the canyon, carrying the rider with him to instant death. General Precipitation Makes Farmers Rejoice.

PLOWING UP HAD BEGUN

Long Spell of Dry Weather Had Caused Abandonment of Hope for Yield, but Amount of Moisture Now Allays Fear.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 16 .-(Special.)-The crisis of the critical stage in the progress of the growing crops was turned in favor of the farmtoday when, according to reports from Franklin, Umatilla, Columbia and Garfield counties, a rain general throughout this section fell.

In Walla Walla County .52 of an inch was the amount recorded.

Several wheatgrowers of this county were contemplating plowing up their fields, believing the crop ruined, while some had already started when the rain
