

YOUNG ROOSEVELT CLAIMS HIS BRIDE

Typical Youthful American Couple Is Married in Bower of Roses.

CHURCH BEAUTIFUL SCENE

Wealth, Fashion, Patriotism, Beauty All Help to Make Joyous Wedding of Son of Most Famous American and His Bride.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander were married at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Fifth-Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Bride and bridegroom knelt on white satin cushions for their responses. The bride's voice was inaudible, but young Roosevelt said "I do" with an emphasis that brought many smiles among the guests.

Long before the hour set for the wedding, the neighborhood of the church was packed with crowds of curious ones. A special detail of 500 policemen held them in check to prevent their fingerings the texture of the guests' dresses. Over the shoulders of the officers peeped milliners and dressmakers, notebooks in hand.

Cavalryman Escorts Bride.

Miss Alexander was escorted to the church by the same mounted officer, an old cavalryman of Spanish War days, who rode at the elbow of Theodore Roosevelt last Saturday in the parade from the Battery to Central Park, and when she came out as Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., he saw her safely to the reception given after the ceremony at the home of Mrs. B. Alexander, an aunt of the bride.

Conspicuous among the guests were 42 Rough Riders in full uniform.

Colonel Roosevelt decided this morning that it would never do to leave his old comrades out in the cold at his oldest son's wedding. Accordingly, he sent out a hurried call at the 11th hour to as many as were still in town or could be found. The troopers sat in the gallery. When the Colonel had taken his place, with his usual dignity, he turned to look for them and, when they waved at him, he waved back again with boyish freedom.

More beautiful floral decorations than those in the church today are not remembered at any of the brilliant weddings to which a sophisticated city has grown accustomed. The bride walked to the altar down a lane walled with white roses and lilies of the valley. Each pew was outlined with roses on a background of feathery ferns.

Roses Cover Furniture.

Pink rambler roses hid the pulpit, and the organ was covered with roses. Roses also framed the windows.

Colonel Roosevelt sat with his wife and their children, Quentin and Archie. Behind them sat Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

Mrs. Longworth wore a white chiffon gown, trimmed with black and pale yellow, with a big black and yellow hat and a pair of white shoes. The bride wore a high-necked gown of soft white satin and tulle, richly trimmed with black and pale yellow, with a big black and yellow hat and a pair of white shoes.

Bride's Mother Gives Her Away.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Henry Alexander, gave her away. She wore a pale yellow chiffon gown, with a Louis XV train of blue and gold brocade. Her hat was black, trimmed with a single large ostrich plume.

Kermit Attends Brother.

Kermit Roosevelt was the best man and the ushers were George Emlet Roosevelt and Monroe Douglas Robinson, cousins of the bridegroom, and George F. B. Roche, Hamilton Fish, Jr., Fulton Cutting, John Cutter, Grafton Chapman, Elliot Cutter and E. Morgan Gilbert.

Distinguished Guests Present.

Among the guests were: Mrs. Russell Sage, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Alexander, John Burroughs, the naturalist; Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alsop, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. E. Hartwell, Miss Jennie Crocker, of San Francisco; Dr. Samuel Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bertram; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Roosevelt, Secretary Meyer, of the Navy Department, and Mrs. Meyer; Brayton Ives, Miss Martha McCook; Mayor Gaynor and Mrs. Gaynor; Governor Hughes sent his regrets.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—On almost the last leg of their homeward voyage for the Far East, the cruisers Cleveland and Chattanooga have met with bad luck.

If all went well, it is learned, they would arrive in Honolulu Wednesday.

STATE TO BE AFFECTED

MACHINISTS' STRIKE IN LOS ANGELES MAY SPREAD.

Injunction Prohibits Picketing and No Connection Exists With Local Situation.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 20.—(Special.)—George Gurney, official financial secretary, appointed by the American Federation of Labor, to distribute funds to the striking metal trades workers, said today that with Los Angeles as the storm center of the strike, every city in this state with the exception of San Francisco promises to be affected.

The $4 wage scale and eight-hour rule went into effect in San Francisco June 1, and it is the determination of the labor leaders to make every other city in the state follow suit.

The leaders assert that not only in Los Angeles proper, but in the county and elsewhere the tie-up is acute.

The strike of the machinists is particularly unfortunate at this time," said W. H. Corbett, president of the Williamette Iron & Steel Works, "as we have thousands of dollars of work that should be turned out. From appearance, the financial market is tightening and it looks as though a period of depression is about to strike the country. If this should occur, the work we have on hand will be called off, throwing hundreds of men out of employment as well as causing the shop owners to lose a large amount of money."

NOT TO AFFECT PORTLAND

Machinists' Strike in California Separate From Local Trouble.

The strike of the metal trades workers in California will not seriously affect the machinists' strike in Portland, it is believed. Portland shopowners are importing all the men they can secure, but it is proving a difficult matter to replace the striking machinists and the local employers freely admit they are compelled to pass up thousands of dollars' worth of work because of a scarcity of skilled labor.

The machinists, on the other hand, take a hopeful view, and say that they have the strike already won. They are prepared to prolong the strike indefinitely unless their demands are granted.

"The strike of the machinists is particularly unfortunate at this time," said W. H. Corbett, president of the Williamette Iron & Steel Works, "as we have thousands of dollars of work that should be turned out. From appearance, the financial market is tightening and it looks as though a period of depression is about to strike the country. If this should occur, the work we have on hand will be called off, throwing hundreds of men out of employment as well as causing the shop owners to lose a large amount of money."

BOURNE'S OUTSIDERS WIN

President Appoints Pennsylvania Register Vale Land Office.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 20.—President Taft today nominated Bruce R. Kester, of Pennsylvania, as register, and Henry G. Guild, of Newport, Or., as receiver at the new Land Office to be opened at Vale July 1.

After examining the records of both men, the President was satisfied as to their qualifications, and as Secretary Ballinger was anxious to have the office opened July 1, it was decided to name Bourne's candidates. Land Offices are conceded to be Senatorial patronage and while consideration was given the protests of Representative Ellis against the appointment of men not residing in the Vale district, the protest was set aside in order that the contest might be terminated and the office opened without further delay.

MONAHAN WINS ST. JOHNS JOB

Ellis Decides on Appointee for Postmaster—Fight Spirited.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 20.—Representative Ellis has decided to recommend for appointment Thomas J. Monahan as Postmaster at St. Johns, to succeed Postmaster Valentine, whose services have been unsatisfactory to the department.

There were half a dozen candidates and there was a spirited fight for this office, but Monahan had more and stronger endorsements than his rivals and was selected on that account.

T. R. TOILS IN HIS NEW YORK OFFICE

Colonel Stops Work Only in Afternoon to Attend His Son's Wedding.

CROWD SEES HIM BUY HAT

Business Headquarters of Editor Roosevelt Comprise Suite of Three Rooms Where ex-President Wades into Letters.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Theodore Roosevelt began today the life he has chosen for himself as a private citizen. He has his own ideas of what the country shall do with its ex-President and, after a single day of rest at Sagamore Hill, took up his work today as contributing editor of The Outlook.

Not even his son's marriage detained him from his desk. The dispatch boat Dolph, on which Mr. Roosevelt left Oyster Bay late last night, with Secretary Meyer as his host, brought him into New York early this morning.

He went direct to his office and immediately plunged into the mountain of correspondence accumulated. Two hours later he appeared on the street and was immediately recognized by the crowds. Before he had walked half a block toward Fifth avenue, he was followed by a throng that blocked the sidewalk.

Colonel Seeks Hatter.

The sun was beating down with an intensity that made a top hat unendurable. The Colonel plunged for a hatter's at a moment when the crowd behind him run to keep up.

As he passed the offices of the publishing house that will bring out his forthcoming book on his hunting trip he spied a tall portrait of himself, framed in red, white and blue.

"That's dandy, isn't it?" was his comment.

A hatter was close by. It took the Colonel just two minutes to buy a wide brimmed straw hat with a black band. Then he footed it at the same amazing speed to his office again.

Editor Has Suite.

Editor Roosevelt's business headquarters hereafter will be on the seventh floor of the United Charities building, at Fourth avenue and Twenty-second street, where a suite of three rooms has been specially engaged for him.

On the entrance door appears the legend in his gilt letters, "Office of Theodore Roosevelt." The rooms themselves, although businesslike in appearance, are furnished with a magnificence unusual for an office building.

The suite comprises a room for Mr. Roosevelt's secretary, a room in which visitors will wait and Mr. Roosevelt's own room, large and airy, fronting on Fourth avenue. The walls are newly covered with bronze burlap.

The furniture is of mahogany and the desk is a reproduction of George Washington's desk at Mount Vernon. A rich rug of tan, green and dull pink covers the polished floor. Pictures of Washington, Lincoln and a copy of the Declaration of Independence written in large old English characters hang on the bronze burlap.

If it should prove that visitors are too insistent there is an auxiliary exit by which Editor Roosevelt may escape by a hidden hall to the street.

After his morning's work in his new offices Mr. Roosevelt went to luncheon to the home of his cousin, Frank J. Roosevelt. There he took an automobile to the church where his son was married. From the church the Roosevelt party rode to the wedding reception at the home of Mrs. B. Alexander, the bride's aunt.

ROOSEVELTS PAY $500 DUTY

Colonel Refuses to Take Advantage of Free Entry as Ambassador.

NEW YORK, June 20.—All baggage of the Roosevelt family has been sent to Oyster Bay. Collector Loeb would not give out today the amount of duty paid by Colonel Roosevelt on his personal belongings. According to one of the customs officials, the amount was about $500. A check for $1000 was sent to the collector by a representative of the ex-President before Colonel Roosevelt arrived, with directions that the duty be paid from the amount.
