

TAFT TRIUMPHS IN POSTAL BANK BILL

Measure Passes Senate Unamended.

THREE INSURGENTS HOLD OUT

Bristow, Cummins and La Follette Vote With Democrats.

DEPOSIT LIMIT IS $500

Owing to Time Required to Formulate Regulations, Prediction Is Not Made When System Will Be in Real Operation.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—After voting down several amendments, the Senate today decided, 44 to 26, to concur in the House amendments to the postal savings bank bill and thus took the last legislative step necessary to the establishment of a postal savings bank in the United States.

The measure was included in the Administration's schedule and its passage marks another triumph for President Taft.

In accordance with the programme agreed on yesterday, voting began at 5 o'clock and the bill was passed 15 minutes later. Most of the insurgent Republicans joined the regulars in supporting the measure, but the three holdouts, Senators Bristow, Cummins and La Follette refused to yield and cast their ballots with the Democrats.

Senator Chamberlain cast the only Democratic vote for the bill.

Bristow Calls It Pipe Line.

Before the vote there was much discussion of the bills. The first speaker was Senator Bristow, of Kansas, who said that he would stay in Washington no longer than necessary to accept it. He asserted that a majority of the voters for the House bill would be cast by Senators who wanted no postal savings legislation. Concluding, he said:

"The bill creates a pipe line to the speculative centers for the money from all over the country." "The bill is an object and humiliating surrender to the banks," and predicted that before the end of the next campaign the bill would be the most unpopular law ever passed by the Republican party, "not excepting the spurious, reckless and trampled-upon Payne-Aldrich tariff law."

Pork Barrel Attacked.

Declaring the House has rejected every feature for which the Senate had made special endeavor, Hughes read articles from newspapers declaring that the President had threatened to veto the river and harbors and public buildings bills if the House postal savings bill should fall of acceptance by the Senate. He demanded to know whether the contents of the pork barrel should be more potent in influencing Senators than the requirements of the Constitution.

Carter defended the bill. Meeting the contention that the bill was an entirely new measure, he declared its provisions were among the lines marked out by many bills presented at the beginning of the agitation for the postal savings bank. He said that though the bill differed somewhat from the Senate bill, it was the result of compromise, and while not representing the view of any one Senator or a number of Senators, was still an expression of the "level" sentiment of all.

Measure Is Blessing.

Carter admitted his desire to have the bill amended in some particulars, but found such a course impracticable so late in the session. He expressed confidence that the measure would prove an unmitigated blessing "to struggling men, women and children."

The postal bank bill as it goes to the President provides for the designation of Postoffices as postal saving depository offices. The opening of such depositories is left to the discretion of a board of three trustees, consisting of the Postmaster-General, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney-General. This board has complete control of the depositories and of their funds.

As it would require considerable time for the board to formulate its regulations it is impossible to predict when the postal banking system will be in operation.

Small Deposits Allowed.

At these depositories any person over 16 years old may deposit funds amounting to $1 or multiples of that amount. Passbooks will be issued to depositors and interest allowed at the rate of 2 per cent. No person is to be allowed to deposit more than $100 in any month or to be allowed to have exceeding $500 to his credit at any time. The withdrawal of funds is to be permitted at any time.

The postal savings thus accumulated are to be placed in state and National banks in the communities in which the deposits are made and the banks are to pay therefor 2 1/2 per cent interest. Five per cent of the total deposits are to be held by the Treasurer of the United States as a reserve to guarantee the payment of depositors.

Banks are required to deposit public

T. R. JR., AND BRIDE TRAVEL INCOGNITO

EX-PRESIDENT'S SON IS NOW "WILLIAM THROOP ROGERS."

Identity Revealed When Couple Register at Chicago Hotel; Iowa Admirer Gives Them Away.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and bride registered at the Congress Hotel here today as "William Throop Rogers and wife, Philadelphia," but the newly-wedded husband eventually admitted his identity.

A tall Iowan, who came on the same train with the bride and groom, was responsible for the discovery of the identity of the pair.

"Know who that couple is?" he remarked to the clerk as Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Jr., were moving away.

"Sure, William Throop Rogers and wife, Philadelphia, suite B 12."

"William Throop your grandmother; that's T. R. Jr., and better half. I came on the same train with 'em and she didn't call him 'Bill'—she called him Theodore."

Reporters could not at first obtain an answer from B 12, but after repeated rappings, a young face, lit up by a prodigious grin, projected itself through the slightly open door.

"I'm Roosevelt all right," he said, "but I can't talk to you now."

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Jr., are on their way to San Francisco, their future home.

Later young Roosevelt greeted the newspapermen more formally.

"Really," he said, "we had hoped to avoid recognition. I know that any interest taken in me is purely reflected. I can't say just when we will leave Chicago, but we will be in San Francisco by August 1. I go to work there as assistant to the sales manager of the carpet house."

Mr. Roosevelt does not say he had received the Governor's acceptance and he refused to give any intimation of what subjects will come up in the conference.

If Champion Escapes With Fine Today, He Will Be Able to Start for His New Training Quarters This Evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—For a time late today it appeared that one of the principals in the Fourth of July battle at Reno would be missing, because Jack Johnson refused to be arrested for exceeding the speed limit in his racing automobile.

Johnson told Mounted Patrolman Lewis he could only arrest his dead body, but when Lewis, with the assistance of two other patrolmen, battered down the door of the room in which the champion had locked himself the fighter surrendered as meekly as any ordinary violator of the speed regulations.

Fighter Laughs at Law.

Johnson had been down town securing transportation for the members of his camp and was speeding for his quarters at what Lewis asserted was a 60-mile clip when Lewis attempted to halt him. Johnson laughed derisively at Lewis and, shouting "on your way, kid," was lost in a cloud of dust.

Following as fast as his horse could carry him, Lewis arrived a few minutes after the champion at the training camp, where he told Johnson that he must be more careful of the speed laws. Johnson then dramatically declared that an arrest could only be made over his dead body and locked himself in his room.

Police Batter Down Door.

Summoning two other patrolmen, Lewis shoved aside some of the camp followers, who attempted to interfere, and kicked in the door. The champion submitted to arrest and accompanied the officers to the office of Chief of Police Martin, who persuaded Lewis to reduce the charge of resisting an officer to that of speeding. No charge was placed against Sig Hart, who was arrested with Johnson.

Producing $50 cash bail, Johnson was released and instructed to appear for a hearing in the Police Court tomorrow morning. If the champion escapes with a fine he will be able to start for Reno according to schedule tomorrow night.

Party Ready to Move.

After his visit to police headquarters, Johnson returned to the Seal Rock House this afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock and boxed nine fast rounds with Al Kaufman and George Cotton.

Johnson leaves tomorrow night on the 9 o'clock train for Reno. He will be accompanied by the full quota of training partners, which includes Sig Hart, George Cotton, Al Kaufman, Doc Purey, George Sutton, Al Burns and two or three others. Reservations were made for the party today. Johnson will arrive in the Sagebrush State the first thing Friday morning, where he will proceed to Rick De Bernardi's training resort.

A larger sized audience greeted the champion in his gymnasium when he returned from police headquarters today. After punching the bag viciously fully 15 minutes, Al Kaufman was taken on for four rounds. Cotton then donned the gloves with the champion and received

BOSTON GIRL DOES NOT MARRY PRINCE

WEDDING OF DOROTHY DEACON TO RUSSIAN IS POSTPONED.

Objections of Nobleman's Government and Family Said to Have Brought About Delay.

LONDON, June 22.—The wedding of Prince Antoine Albert Radziwill of Russia and Miss Dorothy Deacon, of Boston, which was set for today, has been postponed.

An authorized statement issued says no date has yet been fixed for the ceremony, the postponement of which, it was first announced, was due to the non-arrival here of certain necessary papers.

Prince Radziwill, who has just returned from a hurried visit to Paris, declined to discuss the matter, but, according to reports, the Russian authorities have shown great displeasure at the union and have consequently been dilatory in forwarding the documents, without which the marriage will be impossible.

The Prince's mother recently demanded that her son postpone his marriage for at least two years.

MINER'S HOUSE BLOWN UP

Man and Woman Have Narrow Escape From Death—Suspect Taken.

HELENA, Mont., June 22.—(Special.)—A dastardly attempt on the lives of Leslie Williams, foreman of the Elkhorn mine, and his wife, by the blowing up of the nine-room house which they occupy near the mine, was made last night.

Only meager details of the incident were received, but from the information obtained, 25 pounds of dynamite was placed under the house and at 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who were asleep in the house, were awakened by a loud noise and a severe jolt. The explosion did little damage, however, and the house can easily be repaired.

The Sheriff's office, of Boulder, was notified of the occurrence and made a thorough investigation which resulted yesterday in the arrest of a foreign laborer, who recently had been discharged by Foreman Williams. That he sought revenge for being discharged is thought to have been the motive for the act. He is under arrest.

The factory was located at an old temple in the hills in Shinshui.

PIONEERS ELECT OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the annual business meeting of the Oregon Pioneers' Association last night:

President—Hon. P. H. D'Arcy, of Salem.

Vice-president—Colonel Robert A. Miller, of Portland.

Secretary—H. H. Himes (re-elected), of Portland.

Treasurer—Charles E. Ladd, of Portland.

Directors—Joseph Buchtel, of Portland; N. H. Birt, of Portland; and Cyrus Walker, of Albany.

Beginning with a grand assembly in the Masonic Temple, at which the annual address was delivered, following which came an automobile ride throughout the city and thence to the Armory, where a banquet was served, and ending with the annual business meeting and "campfire" gathering of the Oregon Pioneers Association, Portland yesterday paid honor to the early settlers of Oregon.

It is estimated that there were fully 1500 people gathered together for the occasion, coming from all over the West. Men and women, gray-haired and bent with age, who blazed the trail and brought the first civilization to this then wild country, were the guests of Portland, and right royally were they received and entertained.

It was the crowning event of the year for the "hoys" of the early days in Oregon. The Masonic Temple was crowded to overflowing, and the Armory was filled with hungry visitors who were given a repast such as will be a cherished memory to all those who attended.

Auto Ride Big Surprise.

To every man must come the time when he feels that one of the turnstiles of life has been passed, when, by something accomplished or by the occurrence of some circumstance, the time will always remain in his memory. To hundreds of Oregon's pioneers such a time came yesterday, when, at the close of the programme, the visitors were met at the door of the Masonic Temple by automobiles, in which they were transported about the city.

Gray-haired women and men trembled with suppressed excitement when they were told that the big touring cars were there for their particular use.

"Yes, I'm a-go'n' to ride in one of them pesky things all right," said one of the "hoys." "It's the first time in my life, but I've fit Indians and I guess I can stand the excitement of riding in this thing."

That was the way with the most of those brave old men and women. It was all new to them, their first automobile experience.

All of those grand old men and women were given "a ride," and such great joy as they felt was expressed in their faces, which literally shone with happiness, notwithstanding the wrinkles of age.

Wemme and Dickinson There.

To E. Henry Wemme and members of the Portland Automobile Club must be given a great deal of credit. Mr. Wemme was right on the spot, here and everywhere, helping the old people into the cars and sending them off on the greatest "joy-ride" of their lives. President M. C. Dickinson, of the automobile club, personally drove his machine, carrying loads of pioneers back and forth.

"Well, if we'd had one of these things to cross the plains in the early days, it wouldn't have been quite so hard," was a sentence heard from the lips of many of the old-timers.

The annual reunion began at 2 o'clock, when the aged pioneers assembled at the Masonic Temple. They were welcomed at the door by Grand Marshal Joseph Buchtel and a large corps of distinguished aides, and shown the way to the auditorium above.

Long before the hour set the big hall was filled with people, and promptly on time the exercises were begun. Frederick V. Holman, president of the Oregon Pioneers' Association, called the assembly to order in a few words, after which Rev. D. B. Gray delivered the invocation, asking a blessing on those gray heads gathered from far and near.

Mayor Gives Welcome.

Joseph Simon, Mayor of Portland, was introduced by President Holman to give the address of welcome to the visiting pioneers. The Mayor spoke in happy vein, as follows:

"I congratulate you on the auspicious circumstances that attend the opening
