

SULLIVAN BARRED FROM JEFF'S CAMP

Corbett Turns Man He Wrestled Championship From Away From Quarters.

JOHN L. HELD "KNOCKER"

Incident Causes Big Stir at Reno. Boltermaker Does First Stunts Since Reaching Nevada-Langford-Ketchel Plans Drop.

RENO, Nev., June 23.—Ex-Champion John L. Sullivan was told by ex-Champion James J. Corbett today that his presence was not desired at the camp of ex-Champion James J. Jeffries.

"Why?" asked Sullivan, as he stood at the gate that had been closed to bar him from Jeffries' cottage at Moana Springs.

"Because," replied Corbett, "you have knocked the big fight and called it a fake. Jeffries wants me to say that he will not shake hands with you."

"That's a mistake. I've been misquoted," protested the veteran John L. Corbett is firm.

"I don't believe you were misquoted," calmly answered Corbett, and after a brief colloquy Sullivan moved away and returned with his manager, Frank Hall, to Reno. The incident, which was witnessed by a number of Jeffries' trainers and newspaper men, and created a profound sensation, tonight is the talk of the town.

The outcome is a matter of conjecture. Speaking for Sullivan, Manager Hall declares that John L. refuses to regard Corbett as Jeffries' spokesman, and that he will return to Moana Springs and make another effort to see Jeffries personally.

Sam Berger Speaks.

Speaking for Jeffries, who at the time of Sullivan's "call" was lounging in his cottage, Manager Berger asserts that Corbett was fully empowered to speak for Jeffries, and that if Sullivan makes another effort to seek him out he will be accorded the same reception he received today.

"Of course," said Berger, as the public is given access to our camp, Sullivan has as much right as anybody else to come and watch Jeffries work, but Corbett quoted Jeffries correctly in telling Sullivan that he would have nothing to do with him."

Sullivan, in a statement to the Associated Press, said he was totally unprepared for the treatment given him and that he has no intention of forcing himself on Jeffries if Jeffries does not care to receive him. He declared there was no foundation for the belief of Jeffries' trainers that he had "roasted" Jeffries and termed the coming fight a "frame-up."

Rickard Would Have Truce.

It is understood that Tex Rickard will endeavor to effect a reconciliation between Sullivan and Jeffries. Jeffries did his first public work in Nevada at Moana Springs this afternoon, in the presence of over 400 spectators. The ex-champion, after a morning's session of ballplaying, began his real exercises with bag-punching. This was followed by a brief invasion of the pulley-weight department, a long rope-skipping session, shadow boxing, three rounds of rough-and-tumble wrestling with Farmer Burns, and abdominal exercise of Jeffries' own creation. In all, Jeffries' exercise occupied one hour and ten minutes.

When asked if the altitude had any effect on his preparation, the ex-champion said: "I am convinced that within a few days I shall become thoroughly acclimated." Jeffries says he will resume boxing tomorrow.

Incident Is Discussed.

Referring to the Sullivan incident of this morning, Jim Corbett said he was glad he made Sullivan retract or deny statements alleged to have been spoken or published by the latter.

"Really," said Corbett, "I am sorry for the old chap. He is getting along in years and is becoming a bit childish. However, his room is better than his company, in so far as this camp is concerned."

Setting on the big event is extremely slow. The announcement from Tom O'Day at San Francisco that the Langford-Ketchel contest planned to be held here on the morning of the big fight had been called off was not entirely unexpected in Reno.

Sid Hester Explains.

Hester, in commenting upon O'Day's action, said they were unwilling, in view of reports that Ketchel could not be in condition for the match, to impose upon the fight fans with a one-sided contest.

Tom Flanagan received a telegram from Jack Johnson this afternoon, stating that the negro champion would arrive in Reno tomorrow morning. The message was addressed to Flanagan as "Manager, Jack Johnson." Just what Johnson meant by that wording, after his reported repudiation of Flanagan as little as his manager, is a question of general interest to sportmen here and of particular interest to one Tom Flanagan.

All is in readiness for the champion's arrival at the roadhouse secured for his training quarters.

JOHNSON IS OFF FOR RENO

Negro Concludes Stay at San Francisco Chatting With Undertaker.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Jack Johnson concluded his stay at the Ocean Beach today with a 15-minute interview with an undertaker, Dan Jackson, of Chicago.

No one at the training camp appreciated the somber humor of the situation more than Johnson did. Jackson is a friend of Johnson and will be at the ringside in Reno.

Ten miles on the road with Al Kaufman in the morning constituted the day's work.

The champion did not appear in the Police Court during the morning to answer to charges of fast automobile driving, upon which he was arrested yesterday. He allowed the case to go by default.

One of the most important details of the champion's last day here was his final agreement with George Little, under which all old accounts were settled and under which Johnson gets an assurance that Little will cast no more shadows across his path.

Little accepted $15,500 for his services as Johnson's manager and immediately refunded $1000 to Johnson, to get his diamond pin out of pawn. Then Little left, declaring that Johnson was still his friend. On this point, Johnson expressed serious doubts. In the Johnson party that left for Reno on the 2 o'clock train will be Rawhide Kelly, George Cotton, Harry Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Hart, J. Loftus, Doc Furey, Walter Monahan, R. J. Cumiskey, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Sergeant of Police Magee, Johnson's special guest.

LANGFORD-KETCHEL BOUT OFF

Promoter's Efforts to Stage Another Fight at Reno Fail.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The Langford-Ketchel fight was declared off today by Promoter Tom O'Day, of Hester and O'Day, who hoped to stage the battle at Reno, July 4. O'Day, on behalf of the promoters, announced that the failure of Ketchel and his manager to post their forfeit at noon today, and the fact that he had learned that Ketchel could not hope to condition himself for a fight on July 4, had led him to declare the bout off.

JAP TO MEET TWO MEN

JIU JITSU EXPERT WILL VIE WITH BOXER AND WRESTLER.

Jockey Bennett and Fred Abernathy Will Line Up Against Young Togo Tonight.

Merrill's Hall tonight will be the scene of a unique physical encounter, for Young Togo, a Japanese jiu jitsu grappler, has agreed to dispose of a boxer and a catch-as-catch-can wrestler on the same mat and floor.

In order to clearly demonstrate the art of jiu jitsu, for he says is superior to any other method of self-defense, Young Togo, through his manager, Eddie Robinson, selected Jockey Bennett, one of the cleverest little boxers in the business, to oppose the jiu jitsu science by use of the padded mits and the blows a la Queensbury rules.

According to the Oriental, the science of jiu jitsu is much superior to ordinary wrestling and fisticuffs, but in this guess Jockey Bennett does not agree. The boxer will be equipped with the regular jiu jitsu jacket, in order to afford the Oriental grappler a chance to secure a hold. Bennett will also wear regulation six-ounce boxing gloves, and is in the shape to put up a speedy exhibition.

Young Togo is said to be in the pink of condition and has been training faithfully for this bout for several weeks. He is rated as one of the best jiu jitsu experts in professional ranks.

Fred Abernathy, the young catch-as-catch-can wrestler, who is anxious to pit his science against the Oriental art, is in prime condition to give a first-class exhibition.

A rattling jiu jitsu contest between two Japanese grapplers will serve as a curtain-raiser.

BOXING PLANS PROGRESSING

Oregon Athletic Club Hopes to Stage 20-Round Bout July 4.

On the night of July 4 the Oregon Athletic Club proposes to stage a scientific boxing exhibition between two bantam-weights in a 20-round set-to. Negotiations are in progress between the management of the club and several high-class little mitt-wielders, and the names of the two lads finally selected will be announced soon.

Among the boxers under consideration are Jockey Bennett, Helmy Ritter, Eddie Keogh and Young Roche, the latter being in San Francisco at present. Bennett is justly popular here, and it is practically certain that he will be one of the principals, which leaves the other to be selected from the other three named.

Helmy Ritter is the diminutive Spokane scrapper who appeared here several times when representing the Spokane Amateur Athletic Club in the inter-club contests with Multnomah, and has since turned professional. Ritter has figured in some good matches in California, and is looked upon as a first-class little boxer.

Eddie Keogh is another lad being figured on prominently as Bennett's possible opponent, and Young Roche, the San Francisco boy, may be tendered the chance to meet the former jockey.

money in it. An apt answer, but it will not apply to the following question: Why do men go to witness fights? Certainly not to spend money. There are easier ways of spending money than by traveling all the way to Nevada. They want to see fights because of the old red blood of Adam in them that will not down.

It is a bit of profoundly significant human phenomena. No sociologist or ethnologist, who leaves this fact out can cast a true horoscope of humanity. There is another way of looking at it. The newspaper editors are skilled purveyors to the public of information the public wants.

Did a few men only desire this particular information, the editors would be guilty of gross stupidity in sending to the front so large and expensive an aggregation of star sporting writers. But the editors are making no mistake. The point is that the public wants this information. The conclusion is that the public, despite countless asseverations to the contrary, is interested in prizefighting.

Certainly Reno is interested. Reno is also proud. She considers herself fortunate. Once again, in a more modern way, will she put herself and the State of Nevada on the map. No masterpiece of prose, poetry, painting or sculpture could achieve this distinction for Reno.

Reno Won by Fluke.

Well, it is a fact of life and as a fact of life it is worthy of contemplation. And Reno got the big fight by a fluke. She got it because of a foul blow, such as would not be countenanced in any prizefight. A Governor of a state whose function is to execute the law, arrogated to himself the function of interpreting the law—a function that peculiarly and specifically belongs to the courts.

Falling in getting an injunction from the courts, the Governor enforced his decree by calling in the troops. Every man who applauded this action, applauded consciously or unconsciously a foul blow. Had such persons had a training in the brutal fairplay of the ring they would have been more fair-minded than to applaud the consummation they devoutly wished, a consummation achieved in any way except devoutly. But Reno got the fight and is putting forth a great effort to make good in the matter of housing and feeding and entertaining the army of guests that is descending upon her confines.

Jack Johnson has not yet arrived, but it seems as if all the rest of the world were already here.

Jeffries is comfortably installed at beautiful Moana Springs. Today, in an old-fashioned game of two-nine out, he sweated and batted and pitched and ran bases like a juvenile cyclops. He was good to look upon. To such degree did the massive bulk of him loom up that other old-time heavies in the game with him, such as Corbett and Chynoweth, looked like middleweights of entirely different build and texture.

Jeff One of Generation.

Jeffries is a big bear, heavy and rugged, and he is physically a man that one may well say occurs no oftener than once in a generation.

Jeffries was examined today by Mike Murphy, than whom there is no other who can better judge to the finest hair of a man's condition. Murphy's report was unequivocally favorable. More than that, it was enthusiastic and yet a year ago Jeffries was reckoned a "has-been."

He has certainly devoted himself seriously and faithfully to the preparation for this fight. To demonstrate that human nature is human nature the world over, whether in ships' forecastles, sewing circles, or training camps, Sullivan and Corbett celebrated their meeting today by indulging in a tit of neither mean nor dire proportions. Nobody was hurt and the militia was not called out.
