SPAN TEST TUESDAY

"Solicitation Day" for Sale of Bonds Appointed.

PAPER SOUND, SAYS MAYOR

Issue Is Guaranteed by City and No Matter What Is Outcome of Litigation Now in Progress, Investors Will Not Lose.
Mayor Simon has designated next Tuesday as "Solicitation day" for the sale of the Broadway bridge 30-year 4 per cent bonds. He expressed himself yesterday to the effect that that occasion will be the crucial test for the span project. It is the plan to collect at that time sufficient pledges for these bonds to dispose of the first block of $250,000.
"The Broadway bridge bonds are a sound investment," said the Mayor, "and, while the bond market is now sluggish and the demand for all kinds of bonds is slow, it is certain that in due time this condition will be cleared up and those who invest in the Broadway bonds will be at least fully repaid, and I do not know but there may be a slight premium in time."
City Guarantees Bonds.
"There is one thing," continued the Mayor, "which I wish to make clear. While there is litigation by certain persons who desire to test the legality of these bonds, I assure the public that in no case will the city allow any one to lose anything on the bonds, even though the courts should decide the issue to be illegal; the paper is backed by the city and would be redeemed at par."
"I think," concluded the Mayor, "that friends of the Broadway bridge, and particularly people living in the north East Side district, will do an excellent thing by subscribing to these bonds. If the block is disposed of, and the funds become available, I will proceed with the construction work without regard to the litigation."
Mayor Simon has headed a list of those friendly to the Broadway bridge project, in the effort to sell the bonds.

TEN ACRES CLEARS $1000

Willamette Valley Man Shows What Any Farmer Can Do.
On 10 acres of land, 14 miles due west from Portland, Gus Stevens has been averaging $1000 a year clear gain for the past two years. Gus Stevens is a practical farmer, and his little plot of ground is situated near East Hillsboro.
Yesterday he came to the Oregonian office with a small bunch of timothy, in which there were 42 stems, 67 inches high, grown from one head. He exhibited the bunch simply to show what can be done in his section of the country. He has faith in farming as a livelihood, and is also consumed with the belief that there is no place in the world like Oregon, and particularly that section of the state in which he lives, for intensified agriculture.
"I have been there for only two years," said Mr. Stevens yesterday, "and I haven't got the thing worked out to a science as yet. As a matter of fact, I can do much better than I am now doing. If a man attends to his business in the right manner, he will have little trouble in figuring a net profit of $1000 a year from ten acres of ground in our section of the country."
"Not all of my land is planted in timothy, for I have oats, corn and potatoes also in the ground. But the timothy alone will cut three tons to the acre, and sells at $20 a ton. The crops are healthy. Farming is a lucrative profession in Oregon if the farmer knows and studies his business."
"I have seen the reports of home-seekers coming to Oregon, and I want you to know that they had found the right place."
"It cured me," or "it saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The success of the success of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

GOOD ROADS ASKED

Rural Carriers Lend Aid to Popular Movement.
Association Opposes Official Pro-motion of Life and Horse Insurance—Officers to Be Chosen at Today's Session.
"Good Roads" was the slogan of the Oregon State Rural Letter Carriers' Association, which met in annual convention in the Commercial Club yesterday. The convention was called to order at 9 o'clock by President H. N. Cummings, of Corvallis.
An address by ex-County Judge Webster on the subject of good roads and the consideration of resolutions and communications, brought up by Secretary J. H. Goings, comprised the principal transactions of the convention yesterday. Most of the resolutions were referred to committees, to be acted upon at today's session, which will conclude the convention.
Unusual interest was shown in Judge Webster's remarks on the subject of improved highways in Oregon. This was a subject, it was agreed, in which all rural mail-carriers should be deeply interested.
Bonding Plan Advocated.
Judge Webster urged the adoption of the "county bonding plan" of securing good roads, which will be crystallized into law if the initiative constitutional amendment, which is being submitted by the Oregon Good Roads Association, is adopted in the Fall election. The same resolution on the subject, passed by the Oregon State Grange at Oregon City last month, on the subject, was passed without change. It follows:
Whereas, The most important question of interest to farmers under consideration today is the building of permanent public highways in order to lessen the cost of transportation of farm produce to the nearest market. Therefore, be it
Resolved, That we heartily endorse any proposal to remove any constitutional restrictions on the people's power to obtain and pay for good roads.
Today's programme will begin at 8

LAWYERS LED ASTRAY

"Non-Partisan" Judges Dodge of Chamberlain Workers, Shown.
MEMPHISVILLE, Or., June 23.—(To the Editor.)—I have been much interested in the action of the Multnomah Bar Association relative to non-partisan judiciary. If I thought that the courts of Oregon had become so thoroughly imbued with the spirit of politics as is being now manifested by the above bar association, I would gladly sanction its movement, but I fail to see the need of all this clamor at the present time. I have always believed that our courts have kept free from politics. Why spend all this energy to eradicate an evil that we do not know exists? The bar association will do an everlasting good, if it will devise some method of legal procedure whereby a person can begin an action at law and see its termination before it is time for him to pass to the "gates beyond." All of this non-partisanism is a mere cloak for the fact that, in fact, there is strong indication that the Multnomah lawyers are being led astray by a few "Chamberlain Republicans," and that the real purpose back of this movement is to keep King and Slater where Chamberlain put them. However, there are those of the opinion that the voter will have some say, when it comes to the matter of selecting judges. It seems to me that the common people ought to be as much interested in this matter as any select body of lawyers. Who is the most vitally interested? In view of the fact that some of the very best judges on the bench now are not popular with the majority of lawyers, I doubt whether the average lawyer is any better qualified to make the selection than the average citizen. As The Oregonian has often said, "great is humbug."
CITIZEN.
Copenhagen is plagued with rats, and it has been made a criminal offense to breed rodents for the purpose of securing the bounty offered for rat tails.

STUDENTS FINISH WORK

GRADUATING EXERCISES HELD AT CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.
Archbishop Christie Presides Over Commencement Ceremonies. Many Get Medals.
The twenty-fourth commencement exercises of the Christian Brothers' College were held last night in Alumni Hall, Grand avenue and Clackamas streets. Principal V. Andrews was in charge, and Archbishop Christie presided. The hall was well filled with friends of the college. A musical and athletic programme was rendered. The overture was by the Christian Brothers' College orchestra, followed by a chorus, "The Handicap," by the College Glee Club. Physical culture drill by members of the gymnasium class and pyramid building were pleasing features. The tumbling sketch by Coach Shockley and Professor Wodage called out much applause, and Frank J. Fehrenbacher then gave a cornet solo, "Miserere." Following the programme students of the business department presented a musical comedy of two scenes, entitled "The Doctor's Triumph."
Robert Bruce Driscoll, John Joseph McGreal and Francis Edward Gaynor, having completed the three years' course of study, were given certificates of graduation. Certificates of promotion for all departments of the college were issued to a large number of students.
Honor gold medals were awarded to the following pupils:
Alumni gold medal for general excellence in the business department—Ferdinand E. Brown; premium, Albert H. Neib; next in merit, Chester A. Hughes.
Dominican Fathers' gold medal for general excellence in the commercial class—John Danaher.
Archbishop Christie's gold medal for general excellence in the first grammar class—Edward A. Boyd's premium, James McDevitt; next in merit, James Sheehy.
Knights of Columbus gold medal by Portland Council for general excellence in the second grammar class—Earl L. Williams; premium, Bernard E. Neldermeyer; next in merit, Paul Sabel.
Gold medal from a friend, for general excellence in first intermediate class—Francis Gansmeyer; premium, T. Duffy; next in merit, George Muller.
Gold medal for general excellence in second intermediate class—George R. Schafer; premium, George Goehardt; next in merit, George P. Mayo.
