

FANS SWARMS AT FIGHT CAMPS

Training Quarters of Jeffries and Johnson at Reno Look Like Picnic Grounds.

ARENA ALREADY LOOMS UP

Corners Are Nasty With Arguments of War Correspondents and Others of Advance Guard on Question: Who Will Win?

RENO, Nev., June 25.—Quiet, steady progress, in striking opposition to the mad whirl of events which have marked preceding days, characterized the first Sunday in Reno since the Nevada metropolis became the mecca of the sporting world as the theater of the complex pugilistic drama, the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

With his arena springing into being like some strange, brooding, mushroom, his gigantic fighters devoting themselves to earnest preparations for the meeting, and every hour bringing him assurances of fan-laden Pullmans starting from all points of the compass to reach the ring-side, Tex Rickard, nerve center of it all, knew the first day of the week had experienced since Governor Gillett of California issued his "stop the fight" orders.

Camps Like Picnic Grounds. Around the fighters' camps it looked as if Sunday picnics had taken possession. At Mesena Springs every type of vehicle known to this region was in evidence. There was a continuous procession of automobiles, carriages, motorcycles and pedestrians winding along the road all day.

Jim Corbett was master of ceremonies at the quarters and spent most of the day as the center of a group of which gathered around him. Jeffries was not to be seen. He began the day with a fishing excursion which led him to the Truckee River, and the restless, shifting crowd at the springs heard little of his plans. That peculiarity of the back-from-the-pugilist, his utter disregard for anybody else's views as to what he should or should not do, is an noticeable here in Nevada as it was at Reno.

Johnson in Affable Mood. Jack Johnson was his own master of ceremonies. The big negro was in his most affable humor, which is saying a good deal. The day was bright and brisk eight-mile walk, then postponing his ring work until the cool of evening, spent much of the day entertaining the visitors who thronged the camp.

Johnson likes to see everybody happy. He was keeping things going most of the time today, urging fighters in the cafe to greater efforts, calling this or that bystander into the fun and occasionally assisting the general merriment with solo or obligate selections on his violin. Johnson is passionately fond of music.

Everyone Visits Camps. Nearly everybody in Reno visited one or the other of the camps today. Most of the women in the city, and many of the men, were seen at the camps. Summer finery lent a festive appearance to the assemblage at each camp.

About the streets of the city and in front of the hotels, every place where protection from the sun's ardor was to be found, roamed men from all parts of the country, war correspondents of the combat, and the rest of the world, arriving by every train and the history of the contest will be handed down with more elaborate detail than has ever been given to a ring encounter.

With little in the way of stirring events to distract their attention, the street gatherings drifted back to the big question—who will win?

Corners Are Nasty. The corners were noisy with arguing authorities on fight matters. Opinions voiced by men whose words are taken as sporting law in various sections of the country, were heard in every place.

The rank and file of the Fourth of July audience has not put in its appearance as yet. When they come they will come with a rush and the railroad of the greatest traffic congestion the city has ever known.

When darkness fell tonight on the site upon which the two heavyweights will meet, the entire framework of the arena had been set in place. At noon yesterday there was not a scintilla on the ground.

The remarkable speed with which the contractors have completed the erection of the amphitheater has greatly pleased promoter Rickard, and it was announced today the open-air pavilion would be completed by Saturday.

When the turnstiles are ready for the ticket-holders there will be room for 17,000 people inside the Inclosure.

Tom Corbett Due Wednesday. Tom Corbett, of San Francisco, who has been appointed official betting commissioner for the Jeffries-Johnson contest by Tex Rickard, is expected to arrive Wednesday morning to handle the wagers that will be made. His interest is displayed on the streets and in the hotels as to the probable prices that will rule when the local betting is under way.

John L. Sullivan was the visitor of the day at Jeffries' camp. He met his old-time rival, James J. Corbett, and was led by him into conference with Jeffries and Joe Choyanski.

Gathered in the shade of a cottonwood tree, the four heavyweights who have contributed more, perhaps, to the ring history than any other four men, enjoyed a pleasant chat, at the conclusion of which Jeffries reached for his rod and reel and was off for a mass of bars.

After the afternoon siesta, Johnson won four rounds with Al Kaufman and a like number with Walter Johnson. Bag-punching concluded the afternoon's performance. Johnson again declared that he felt absolutely, no ill effects from the altitude.

Fight for Trophy Waxen Warm. That the Meier & Frank team has an excellent chance to capture the handsome Columbia Hardware Company trophy was demonstrated yesterday on the Buckman field, when it defeated the fast Newboys team by the score of 15 to 1. The Meier & Frank team won two trophies, one of which was a forfeited game with the Sellwood team. The game with the Newboys was scheduled for July 4, but was played yesterday instead. Meier & Frank's team now have the championship of section two of the league assured, for only two more games are to be played. It will meet the winner of section one for the championship of the city and the trophy. Calif Brothers forfeited to the Popcorn Kings. Albina beat the Robinson team, and the Gill Butchers defeated the Peninsula squad by the score of 29 to 6.

peculiar quality that Battling Nelson possessed to such an extraordinary degree, Jimmy Britt did not possess it. He could outpace and outpunch, but he could not keep on sparring and punching as long as Nelson could. At the Colma fight he was not knocked out by Nelson. He was merely exhausted. He had reached his limit. He could not move any more. He lost the fight because he knocked himself out by his own over-exertion.

Corbett Is Lacking.

Corbett lacked this abnormal brutality to any considerable degree. Choyanski had far more of it. So had Sharkey and Fitzsimmons. But when it comes to Jeffries and Johnson, there is no line on them at all. They have never been called upon to demonstrate it. Neither knows that he possesses it. Neither has ever engaged in a long, hard, grueling fight, round after round, striking and being struck, consuming energy at an enormous rate and still going on fighting furiously, on and on, endlessly.

Of the two men, Jeffries has thought more about himself, studied himself more, and he has hinted that he believes he possesses it. "He has called into reserve power a sort of second wind that does not depend on the lungs, but that resides in the muscles themselves. But seeing and believing are different, and he has yet to show it to the world. Nevertheless, I venture a shrewd guess that he has it. Also he may be called upon to show it on July 4.

Nor does the world know that Johnson possesses this abnormal brutality or lacks it. Johnson does not know himself. He has never had a chance to find out. And in this connection it is not a question of yellow streak or will-power. No matter to what superlative degree Johnson possesses this protoplasmic vigor, it will go for naught if he proves yellow.

Johnson Never Yellow. On the other hand, he has never shown any hints of yellowness and, if it may be added, he has never been in a fight that forced a test of this particular quality.

There is one quality in which Johnson has the advantage over Jeffries, and that is in relaxation. Jeffries, while cool and keen, is always more tense. The sending of a muscle into energy. Boxing calls upon the use of all the muscles in the body and five minutes unnecessary tension out of 30 minutes of fighting, of all these muscles, means a serious consumption of energy.

This is one of Johnson's great assets. His fiercest rallies are always followed by intervals of repose. In a clinch, except when he is punishing, he invariably rests.

Black Known as Loafer.

It is because of this relaxing so conditionally that he is notorious with the sporting public as a loafing fighter. And he seems to relax in mind as well as in body. He seems to stop thinking and perceiving even, and in a clinch he goes into a sort of resting trance. His very flat-footed way of fighting, takes off from the tension of the legs. It is far less tiring to shuffle about flat-footedly than to spring and pounce with the muscles tensed from the tips down to the feet. One thing is certain. A week from to-

FIGHTER WOULD RIVAL ROOSEVELT IF HE WINS.

If Victorious, Big Fellow Will Tour World With Corbett and Gotch, Tarrying in Africa.

RENO, Nev., June 26.—(Special.)—Jim Jeffries plans to rival Teddy Roosevelt and his big game hunting in Africa in case he is returned winner over Jack Johnson on the Fourth of July.

The big fellow has mapped out his plan already in case of his victory, and he intends to have a month's pleasure of his favorite pastime with the gun, if victorious. Jeffries will leave Reno on the night of the fight, whether he wins or loses, and will rest for a whole month at his home in Los Angeles.

The tour around the world with the Jeffries-Corbett-Gotch athletic troupe will then begin, conceding that Jeffries wins and the big fellow has made such arrangements that he will take off three weeks in Africa when he passes through that country, and a week off in India.

ADMEN WARMLY RECEIVED

Hospitable San Franciscans Made Them Feel Right at Home.

Portland admen who attended the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association in San Francisco will not soon forget the warm welcome they received in the southern city, according to David N. Moeselein, who left George T. Atchley, returned yesterday in advance of the main delegation. The hospitable San Franciscans never let them feel that they were away from home.

Much of the success of the excursion, Mr. Moeselein said, is due to C. C. Chapman, manager-elect of the Portland Commercial Club. Chapman lost no opportunity to say a good word for Portland. He was elected secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Coast organization.

The Portlanders reached San Francisco Tuesday night and the convention opened next day. At noon the delegates were guests of the San Francisco Admen's Association at lunch, and following the afternoon session, the advertising exhibit of the San Franciscans was inspected. Thursday the Portland men were taken on a trip around San Francisco, including a visit to Golden Gate Park, and winding up with lunch at the Cliff House. The Rotary Club had them as guests at an elaborate dinner in the evening. Friday the visitors were taken up to Tamalpais. In the evening was held the concluding banquet, a sumptuous affair given by the San Francisco Admen.

At a night session Friday "Advertising Agency Commissioners" was the subject discussed. When a resolution condemning them was moved by Dr. Hibbard, of Los Angeles, and Mr. Longhurst, of San Francisco, Mr. Moeselein led the forces in rebuttal and the motion was tabled by unanimous vote. Mr. Chapman closed the discussion.

Spokane was selected as the place of the next convention. There were nine delegates from Spokane, 15 from Sacramento and 18 from Los Angeles. Seven delegates had credentials from Portland. Joseph Eliethen was the only adman from Seattle.

The primaries for electing delegates to the county convention will be held on July 9, and the county convention will be held on July 15. There will be 202 delegates at the county convention, which will recommend a full set of county officers.

They Grow Hair

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined, Stimulate Human Hair Growth

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Betanaphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Resall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Resall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Resall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it on our entire stock. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in Portland only at our store. The Resall Store, The Owl Drug Co., Inc., corner 7th and Washington Streets.
