Library Binnert a Success.—The outdoor carnival on the Base Line goad for the benefit of the Montavilla readingroom closed at a late hour Saturday night and was a complete success financially and otherwise. While the returns are not all in it is known that enough money was rajsed to carry the finances of the reading-room for the ensuing year. At the wind-up everything on the ground was sold out including the Rose Festival float, built by the Montavilla Rose Association, which went to Wade Osborne, who will use it as a Summér house. From sociation, which went to Wade Osborne, who will use it as a Summér house. From the early part of the evening to, the close, the grounds were brilliantly illuminated and with the decorated booths presented an attractive appearance. Evening Star and Russellville granges served luncheons. Assisting in the affair were the Catholic, Methodist, Baptist and Prasbyterian churches and the United Artisans. Behekahs and Woodmen of Artisans, Rebekahs and Woodmen of Woodcraft, all of which had booths on BROTHER YOAKUM has arrived and set-tled at the Hill, 255 Fourteenth street, where he will be able to see those who cannot attend the meetings which are now being held at the Christian Alliance now being held at the Christian Alliance Tabernacle, between the hours of 8 and 10 A. M. A wonderful meeting today at 2 o'clock. Many confessed their backsildings and sins and were healed of their diseases without money and without price. An eye witness Sunday morning described as follows: Many rushed to the altar for the healing of their bodies of all manner of sicknesses and to get of all manner of sicknesses and to get their sins forgiven. The pathetic sight of a crippled woman, bent in years and with rheumatism, hobbling on her crutch nade her way to the aftar weeping. collowing her was her drunken husband crying out for God to save him from whisky and tobacco, and she arose throw-ing away her crutch rejoicing and he arose throwing away his tobacco and whisky and shouting. Brother Yoakum threw his arms around them and gave him a kiss of love, asking God to unite him a kiss of love, asking God to unite them in holy love forever. A scene that will never be forgotten by the house full of people present. Brother Yoakum will visit the sick who cannot attend the meetings if automobiles are fur-nished at 4 o'clock from the tabernacle each afternoon.

OADES PREACHED AT CALUMET.—Using the parlor of the Calumet Hotel to declare his religious principles, Henry C. Oades, supposed to be demented, held forth at length Saturday night until a policeman was called to eject him. The man was not staying at the house, but entered the parlor and began to preach queer theology. Women occupants of the parlor first stared, then laughed, and finally fled in alarm. Oades ignored requests to vacate and the proprietor of the hotel telephoned to the police. Patrolman Humphrles went to the hotel Patroiman Humphries went to the hotel and arrested Oades on a charge of tres-

"Mrs. Wiggs" Read at Y. M. C. A.—A reading from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" was given by Mrs. Laiu Drury Scott, at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. She remarked that Mrs. Wiggs is a real character, living in Kentucky today. "The author's mother was known as the chief angel of the Cabbage Patch," she said, "and her daughter Alice caught the spirit of Mrs. Wiggs and through the gift of the pen gave the story to us. The sum and substance of Mrs. Wiggs philosophy lay in keeping the dust off her spectacles."

Home Made Under Dock.—"All the comferts of home" were enjoyed by three vagrants discovered early yesterday morning, snugly enscended underneath the Oak-street dock. From near and far the men had gathered boards, bedding and other accessories, and had fitted up an attractive room for "three single gentlemen." They were peacefully fitted up an attractive room for "three single gentlemen." They were peacefully snoring in their improvised quarters when their stertorous breathing reached the ears of a policeman. A brisk "fanning" upon the soles of their shoes aroused them and they were taken fto the station. They gave the names Milton Vader, John Harrington and Ed Lee and were booked for vagrancy. Vader had been given a "floater" by Judge Bennett a few days before and had promised to leave the city.

Saturday night, they purchased a large quantity of red wine and yesterday afternoon each of them drank to his full capacity The coming Jeffries-Liveson contest was coming Jeffries-Johnson contest waxed so warm that Rundal called his fellow countryman, Joe, a "Dago." Punch Is Planted.

Joe squared away and after feinting with his left, planted a hard right punch on Rundal's nose. Rundal retaliated in kind and soon the two were rolling over kind and soon the two were rolling over and over on the floor using their hands, feet and teeth in the fight. At this stage of the fight, Tony Alf undertook to sep-erate the fighters and for his pains one of the bystanders hit him on the side of the head. Failing to settle the matter by arbitration, Alf grabbed a stick of wood and knocked down every one who came in range of him.

Frank Sack, the proprietor of the

In range of him.

Frank Sack, the proprietor of the boarding-house, rushed in and attempted to quell the riot, but he was grasped around the neck by Pasqual Derenzo, who punched hour sacks of teeth out, in addition to battering his face. Julia Dommick, another boarder, sacting his landlessed worsted grades. seeing his landloard worsted, rushed in and knocked Derenzo down by a blow in the face.

Eight Men Mix.

When Derenzo got to his feet, the enght men mixed it freely and no one seems to know just who secured the hatchet. At any rate, the wielder of the weapon struck both Rundal and Joe with the blade, inflicting dangerout cuts and rendering them both unconscious. Aif hit the man who was using the hatchet over the head with the club, laying him out, and he, in turn, was hit over the head with a chair, putting him out of the combat along with the other injured men.

The shouts and curses of the men, mingled with the screams of Mrs. Sack, attracted the attention of aPtrolman J. J. Murphy, who was passing by, and he and aPtrolman Adams rushed in t ston the fight.

TWO POLICEMEN TRIUMPH
The Italians refused to coase hostilities when ordered to do so and a second fight took place in which Mur-phy and Adams had all the best of the argument. The eight men were brought to the Police Station in the patrol wagon and City Physician Zieg-ler summoned to dress the wounds of the inured ones.

the injured ones.

The bonds of Rundal and Joe were fixed at $250, while Alf was held under $150 bail. The others were releared under $50 bail to appear in court this morning, when they will be defended by A. Walter Wolf.

MAN ASKS TO BE ARRESTED

Harry L. Ferguson Says He Forged Check at Aberdeen.

Saying that he was a forger and that he wished to give himself up, Harry La Ferguson appeared at the deak at the police station at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. After hearing the man's story, Patrolman Robson, who was at the deak, granted his request.

Ferguson was intoxicated and was upon the verge of delirium tremens. He said that he had passed a bad check for $47.25 ten days ago, at Aberdeen, Wash. He used the name of L. D. Russel, a prominent citizen of that place. The authorities at Aberdeen will be communicated with, to learn if the man is wanted there. This was the second time within 24 hours that an incident of the kind occurred at the police station. Saturday morning, Ralph McMillan, son of a wealthy man of Grand Rapids, Mich., preferred a similar request, saying that he had been paroled for forgery in Michigan and that he wished to go back and serve his time because he could not stay away from the saloons. from the saloons.
