

ASSEMBLYMEN HOT
BOUND BY PLEDGES

Difference of Modern Methods With Old Convention Days Is Shown.

CONFERENCE NOW KEYNOTE

Few County Delegations to State Republican Meeting Will Be Bound Down to Promises for Any One Candidate.

That few, if any, county delegations will come to the Republican State Assembly in Portland, July 21, specifically instructed by county assemblies to work for the endorsement of any particular candidate for state office, is the opinion expressed by some of the leaders in the assembly movement.

In the old convention days, the candidate for state office generally first sought the endorsement of his county, which took the form of a resolution instructing the county delegation to use all honorable means to secure that candidate's nomination by the state convention. Often the candidate was permitted to select all the delegates from his own county.

Assembly Idea Different.

The assembly idea seems to be against such tactics. It is pointed out that the assembly is not a nominating convention but a gathering intended to be a conference of men selected by the party members to determine the worth of available men, ascertain if the men desired will enter the primary campaign and, if so, recommend them to the voters at the primaries.

The primaries constitute the real nominating convention. For one gathering to recommend a man for the recommendation by another gathering is looked upon as a rather too complicated a proceeding.
Qualifications Lost to Sight.

It is predicted that a marked difference will be noticed between the methods of selecting candidates by the convention method and those adopted in recommending candidates by the assembly plan. In the convention days, the qualifications of lost sight of the qualifications of the men under consideration. The convention had the last voice in the nomination of candidates for office and in the party that had a strong majority at the polls this majority was counted on to pull through candidates who had been more or less doubt as to their success would not have been selected.

The real selection of candidates now, however, rests with the voters at the primary election and it is up to the Assembly to recommend men who will please those voters.

Approval Is Sought.

"There is something in the breast of nearly every man," said one assembly advocate yesterday, "that impels him, if called upon to recommend another for any public or private position when his judgment is later to be put to the test of public opinion, to desire that his recommendations shall be approved. I believe this feeling will govern the state assembly and that the strong questions of the men recommended will govern their choice rather than political manipulations."

The Multnomah County assembly, which will convene in Portland on July 16, and not July 19 as has been published several times, will choose its delegates. The state assembly which will meet in Portland on July 21. In the state assembly, there will be 126 delegates apportioned by counties as follows:

Table with 2 columns: County Name and Number of Delegates. Includes Baker, Benton, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Curry, Douglas, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Hood River, Jackson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Marion, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Washington, Wheeler, Yamhill, and Total.

PRESS BUREAU NOW PLANNED

Editors of State to Organize to Disseminate Assembly Literature.

That there should be an organization in Oregon of Republican newspapers favoring the holding of an assembly is the belief of G. A. Hurley, of Vale, editor of the Oregon Oriole. In a letter to Secretary Littlefield, of the Republican state committee, Mr. Hurley urges that a meeting of publishers be called and such an organization perfected.

J. S. Dellinger, editor of the Morning Astorian, of Astoria, is also of this belief. It is probable that a call will be issued within the next week asking editors of pro-assembly newspapers to meet here and organize.

Mr. Dellinger was in Portland last week and visited the Republican headquarters. He strongly urged the necessity of organizing in every respect with a view of eradicating the mistaken impression prevalent in some sections of what is meant by the assembly.

COLONEL HOFER CHANGES MIND

Salem Candidate for Governor Now Asking Friends for Aid.

SALEM, Or., June 27.—(Special).— Colonel Hofer, in a recent speech in this county, announcing his candidacy for Governor, declared that "I shall not hire men to go around with petitions to make myself a candidate, but if the petitions come from the people voluntarily, I will accept them and make a campaign and put my newspaper into the fight for reform principles."

Recent developments indicate that Colonel Hofer has changed his mind.
He is now sending out to his personal friends in various parts of the state letters and blank petitions asking that his friends circulate the petitions requesting him to be a candidate for Governor.

MAYOR IS HOPEFUL

Simon Thinks People Will Buy
All Broadway Bonds Today.

CANVASS IS TO BE MADE

Block of $250,000 Expected to Be Entirely Disposed of by Nightfall—Woodmen May Invest in Issue for Bridge.

"I believe the people of Portland will help to build the Broadway bridge by buying some of the bonds tomorrow.
My only expectation is that by night the entire $250,000 block will be disposed of," said Mayor Simon at the close of business yesterday.

This is "Solicitation day," when committees of prominent men and women will make a systematic canvass of the city in an effort to sell all of the first block of $250,000 bridge bonds at par.
They are to run for 30 years and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent.
Mayor Simon declares they are a sound investment and he has subscribed for $2500 worth himself.

W. K. Smith is the largest individual subscriber, he having taken $25,000 worth of the bonds. Several individuals have subscribed for $5000 each, and there has been response enough to aggregate $73,000. Yesterday, Mrs.
Maria C. Smith subscribed for $1000 and George W. Kleiser $500.

Mayor Simon contends that the only way to build the Broadway bridge, which is to be a high span, to cost approximately $1,500,000, is to secure the funds for the first installment of the bonds. This will enable immediate construction work to proceed, as it is the belief of the Mayor that the courts will not enjoin him, in view of all the facts. The litigation now pending is trivial in nature, he declares, and designed only to defeat the project.

A. L. Barber, City Auditor, yesterday telegraphed to Denver, to the head camp officers of the Woodmen of the World, recommending that an investment of $25,000 be made on these bonds.

BRIDGE WATCHMAN GONE

William Howard If Is Feared Fell Into River.

William Howard, night watchman on the Madison street bridge, has been missing since Saturday night and it is feared that he has fallen into the river and been drowned.

He was last seen Saturday about midnight near the end of the bridge on the East Side of the river and was said to be badly intoxicated. When asked the time of night he did not reply and it was noticed that he staggered as he walked.

Howard lived at the Baltimore Hotel, 201 1/2 Hawthorne avenue, and the people there say he was apparently in the best of spirits Saturday afternoon and no reason can be given for his strange disappearance unless he has met with an accident.

All of his belongings were left in his room and he had on his working clothes at the time of his disappearance. Seven dollars was due him in wages and it is thought that if he had intended to leave suddenly this money would have been called for.

He was about 25 years old but further than this little is known concerning the man. It is not known whether he has any relatives in this section of the country.

WOULD-BE VOTER LOST

COUNTY OFFICIAL DIDN'T EVEN KNOW WHERE HE LIVED.

Comedy Enters Into Day's Registration, Oregonian of 3 Years' Residence Not Knowing Address.

Two voters, who didn't know where they lived, applied at the registration booth of County Clerk Fields' office yesterday to register. As one of them was Deputy Clerk Allen's co-worker he regarded the little affair as a good joke.
One of the men who didn't know was none other than Carl Christensen, deputy clerk. He knew the street address all right, but when it came to the precinct he was a little mixed. But he looked up 1540 Stanton street on the map, and made out his own card, marking it "Precinct 99."

Now, Precinct 99 is a little nearer town than Precinct 96, which should have appeared on the card, so when Mr. Christensen complained that he had not been registered correctly, and that Deputy Allen had no right to change him to Precinct 96, he was accused at once of desiring to make it appear that he lives "in town."

He was at last convinced, however, that he should be registered in Precinct 96, and the correction was made.

James H. Ewing was noticed pacing meditatively up and down the registration booth.

"Want to register?" queried Deputy Allen.

150 less than the number registering on the same day two years ago.

Smoke Changes Plea.
John H. Smoke, acquitted last week of dynamiting his mother-in-law Agnes L.

Piper changed his plea of not guilty in the Circuit Court yesterday to a plea of "former acquittal," and will attempt to escape trial on a charge of dynamiting his wife, Margaret Smoke, on the ground that he has already been placed in jeopardy for this offense. Both women were in the Piper house at Arleta at the time of the explosion, but the grand jury brought two indictments against Smoke.

His case comes to trial today.

Five Years Ago
We believed that the keeping qualities of beer sealed with corks was superior to that sealed with crown caps.
To-day we positively know that Budweiser retains its brilliancy, effervescence and flavor better when sealed with crown caps. We know this because we have tested thousands of bottles both ways, and these tests compel us to render a verdict in favor of crown caps. Besides, the crowns are infinitely more convenient to both the consumer and the trade.
Budweiser is always the same in quality no matter whether sealed with corks or crowns and is bottled only at our home plant in St. Louis.
