LOCAL MARKET IS STRONG

Eighty-Four Cents Is Bid for Bluestem, but Holders Have Withdrawn From the Market Higher Prices Check Trade.

Confident that wheat prices are now firm by established on an upward swing, a con-siderable speculative demand has developed on the part of dealers in this market and on the Sound. They are having no success the Sound. They are having no success getting wheat, however, for the same speculative spirit prevails in the country, and holders have withdrawn offerings. There were bids yesterday of $4 cents for bluestem, but even a figure higher by sev-eral cents would probably have failed to bring out supplies, so bullish is the feeling on the part of farmers and other holders.

The California buying has been checked by the advance in the market, but the local dealers expect it to be resumed soon, as they do not see much chance of the market receding and the millers of the South are supposed still to require a considerable amount of bluestem wheat. Their purchases throughout the month, in the aggregate, have been heavy as its shown by the large throughout the month, in the aggregate, have been heavy, as is shown by the large amount of wheat going down by steamer.

In other respects, the local cereal market shows no changes. Interest in barley and oats is at a minimum and prices are almost wholly nominal. Flour is quoted firm in view of the advance in wheat.

Movement of Deciduous Varieties In the Past

The movement of deciduous fruit is reported by the California Fruit Distributor shipped last week and there will be less this week. In fact, the heavy ement of this fruit is entirely done and movement of this fruit is entirely done and there will be only scattering shipments from this time forward. The quality of fruit during the past few days has been very much letter than earlier in the season.

Peaches—As will be noted, there is a heavy gain in shipment of this variety, but the following week will show a material decrease. Hales and Triumphs are now nearly done and St. Johns will not be in liberal supply for another week. There will, however, be a fair quantity available for shipment during the next fow days.

Plums—The plum movement is now at its height and the varieties going forward are of the best produced in California. We will have available for shipment next week. Purple, Duane, Diamond, Tragedy, California Red, Simoni, Chaloo, Sugar, Burbank, Penach, Norman, Washington and Mystery, with limited quantities of Climax. Fruit is of satisfactory quality and will meet the most exacting conditions.

Pears—Bartletts have begun to make their pearance in a small way, but there will none worth mentioning for another week, he movement from the river will probably gin about July 1.

The demand for city creamery was greater than the supply and the result was an exceedingly firm market. Cheese also cleaned up well.

SEATTLE DEALERS LOOK FOR A SMALLER SUPPLY.

Hens Are Now Abundant in the Sound Market-Butter Is Quoted Firm.

SEATTLE, Wash, June 28—(Special.)—
Fruit receipts were light and with brisk trading on the street, prices remained generally stationary. Cantaloupes fell off a quarter for choice grades, and cherries took another tumble of a quarter. Lemons and oranges advanced and Clark seedling strawberries shared in the rise. All other fruits were steady. With the exception of onions, there was no change in the vegetable market. A car of St John peaches and plums and 4000 sacks of new potatoes came in, which sold at 1½ to 1½ cents. Other receipts were one car of oranges. 2549 crates of strawburries and 3554 miscellaneous packages.

of strawberries and show miscensideous packages.

There was no change in the firm tone of local butter and eggs, but the large shipment of hens presages another upshoot of erg prices. Dealers predict that Spring chickens will be selling at less values than hens within a few days. High cost of feeding has resulted in early shipments of Springs to this market and a consequent undersiged product.

Firmness was the dominating feature of grain today. The scarcity of oats was commonly remarked, the heavy buyers being unable, through telegraphic inquiries throughout the state, to fill out the demand. The market showed an advance of a quarter.

Grain receipts were 17 cars.

dence today of a realizing movement in th no material change in the conditions which prompted the movement. The large influence in the course of the prompied the movement.

The large influence in the course of the market played by the crop situation in the Northwest does not admit of doubt. The immediate relief to the most severe weather conditions there was proved by the official terms of the weekly bulletin of the Weather Bureau, which reported improvement due to thmely rains in the more southern portion of the Spring wheat region. There was, however, the qualifying statement that rain in abundance is needed in nearly all portions of the district. There was much attention paid to the constant estimates of the amount of damage already done to Spring wheat and the consequences to be expected to railroad traffic and business activity in the sections affected.

Of the more abtruse causes of the break in the market, there continued to be much contused conjecture. The force of events gives warrant to the supposition that the adjournment of Congress and the return to New York of J. P. Morgan had failed to bring out a demand for stocks which had been counted on by a party in the specularitien. The paucity of the demand was a fact beyond dispute.

The representations of opposition from misceilancous shippers to the agreement overrates between mean packers and the railroads were cited as calculated to invite renewed agitation against the proposed alvances in freight raies. The complaints of this agreement take the form of accusations of a community of interest by mutual ewnership in the railroad companies and the centralized industries, whose assent is being sought to higher freight raies. A common profit at the expense of smaller shippers is slieged as a ground for proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission to interfere with the programme. Rates for money showed little change, but the tone was somewhat firmer.

The day's small net changes are due to the covering movement among the bears and supporting orders. The early downward plunge established new low records for the year in some of the market leaders. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, 11

Crop News From the Spring-Grain States Still the Deciding Factor. Russian Cholera Report Has Small Effect.

CHICAGO. June 28.—Rumors were heard today that stock jobbing interests have been influencing the wheat market for effect on securities. As a result, grain prices were extremely nervous and investors sold during all bulges. Nevertheless, but, dry weather in the Northwest caused further advances. The close, too, was firm. I to 1%c net higher. All other staples headed in the opposite direction, corn finishing unchanged to ½c lower, corn finishing unchanged to ½c lower, cais unchanged to %c lower and hog products 5 to 25c.

Crop experts in the Spring wheat district added to calamity talk as a rule, but a few made more temperate assertions that foruserly Northwestern exchanges led the advances. Winnipeg in particular. It was noticed that the firm which has bought wheat here the most freely in the last three or four days was a heavy seller throughout the session. European markets were mainly higher, but showed no indications of excitement concerning a Russian cholera report that caught the attention of the crowd in the final hour and was an element in shringing about the top quantitions of the day. Traders gutckly changed their minds as to tip importance of the new from Russia, prices receding an average of %c, but closing from because of high temperatures and reported still worse conditions in North Dakota. September ranged from $1.00% to $1.01%. Chesing it to 1½c up at $1.01% to $1.01%.

There was a great deal of country selling of small lots in corn. September fluctuations were between $29%c and 60%c, with the close kg of at $25%c. The cash market was weak.
