

ROOSEVELT JOINS HIS CLASSMATES

Ex-President at Dinner With Chums of Harvard, '80, Alumni, in Boston.

COLONEL TO HEAD PARADE

Leader of Rough Riders Pays Tribute to Student Soldiers Who Fought and Died in Battles of Spanish-American War.

BOSTON, June 28.—Theodore Roosevelt, Harvard '80, was invited to come to Boston in time to participate in the coming of his class today, but joined his old college friends tonight, when the class held its reunion at the Algonquin Club in this city.

Although the time of his arrival had not been widely heralded, a small crowd was at the Back Bay Station when Colonel Roosevelt stepped off his train from New York and gave him a hearty cheer.

Colonel Lowell's Guest.
The ex-President was driven in an automobile to the home of President Lowell, of Harvard University, in Cambridge. He soon crossed the street to speak to the Harvard Law School Alumni, who were holding their annual meeting in the Harvard Union, and was greeted with applause as he entered.

He expressed his gratification at being at Harvard again and referred to the memorabilia to the Harvard soldiers who fell in the Spanish-American war. It was pleasant to know, he said, that Harvard always was ready when the country called for men for civic or military service.

After a short walk about the "yard" Mr. Roosevelt visited the Porcellian and other clubs. Mr. Roosevelt will head the alumni parade into alumni hall and will speak briefly tomorrow at the commencement dinner. He will not have any part in the commencement exercises, although he probably will attend. When Colonel Roosevelt was informed of the result of the Harvard-Yale game, his face fell, but a moment later he laughed and said: "Why did you tell me anything like that?"

Ex-President Joins Classmates.
Shortly before 6 o'clock the ex-President returned to President Lowell's house and soon afterward he was brought back to Boston in a motor car and joined his classmates at the Algonquin Club.

The class dinner was private. At its conclusion, Colonel Roosevelt returned to Cambridge, where he spent the night as the guest of President Lowell. He will return to New York Friday.

Seven classes lunched and dined at the Country club at Brookline and later in the day many of the officials of the university were busy welcoming candidates for honorary degrees to be conferred at commencement tomorrow.

BROTHERS WELL KNOWN

Last of Seven Lieutants Passes Away in Missouri.

MOSECO, Idaho, June 28.—(Special.)—A message announcing the death of J. W. Llewellyn, Sr., of Preston, Mo., was received by his son, J. W. Llewellyn, Jr., of Moscow.

Mr. Llewellyn died at the age of 84 and was the last of seven brothers, six of whom crossed the plains with ox teams in 1862, settling at Walla Walla. The town of Walla Walla, Or., was later established by Thomas T. Llewellyn, near where his brothers, William and Joseph, settled, lived and died. Moscow, Idaho, was founded by Asbury W. Llewellyn with a small store in 1872, the west half of the city being on his old homestead. Two brothers, John and Joseph, the latter the first Baptist preacher of this section, were early pioneers engaged in the cattle business and were among the first to be buried in the Moscow cemetery.

J. T. Llewellyn, of Adams, Or., a nephew, was the president of the Pioneer Association of Umatilla County.

Taft Will Hasten Work

ton prior to his departure for Beverly was a busy one up to the hour of his leaving for the Summer capital late this afternoon. Many Congressional callers and conferences occupied the time before the assembling of the Cabinet for the last regular meeting in this city until Fall.

So far as the reclamation funds are concerned Oregon appears to be in a wise position, for the bond issue, which the state will be compelled to pay in pro rata to its land sales. The money is to be expended for the benefit of such projects as the boards of Army Engineers select and approve, and it is evidenced by the advance made by the Senators from the states where land sales cannot be expected to furnish reclamation funds, that the purpose of the bond issue was to aid such states at the expense of Oregon and others equally deserving.

The Klamath project will be ultimately completed at an additional cost of $4,000,000, while it is believed that the money will soon be available for the finishing of the Umatilla, which is estimated to require not to exceed $200,000. Those funds will become available from the division of the funds arising from the sale of the public lands in each state. The new bond law does not interfere with that feature of the old law. The new law does, however, do away with the clause which provided that a majority of the funds received from the sale of lands in Oregon should be expended in that state. The clause providing that such funds as were utilized in other states should be repaid to Oregon within ten years has been repealed. Washington, Idaho, Montana, and other arid states owe Oregon more than $5,000,000, which should have been repaid before 1912.

There now appears to be no way by which that money may be recovered to reclamation projects in Oregon. Representative Ellis hoped that the President would see that the money was repaid from the $20,000,000 bond issue, or at least that the states which are indebted to Oregon would be cut short in their allotments and the amount added to that which Oregon had a right to expect.

The Reclamation Service at Washington has approved the extension of the Umatilla project to a total cost of $3,500,000 to complete. It is considered to be a better plan than the original project. The attitude of Secretary Ballou, however, regarding the idea that the bond fund will aid in the construction, if the Umatilla extension is completed, it will come along slowly, as the funds are to be repaid from the sale of public lands in Oregon. After five years a portion of the funds secured from the sale of lands in Oregon will be set aside for the redemption of the bonds in which the state does not appear to share.

CHARLTON'S FATE WAITS

AMERICA AND ITALY FAIL TO REACH TERMS.

European Nation Declines to Reciprocate If Slayer Is Given Over to It for Trial.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Porter Charlton's case now awaits the result of exchanges between the State Department at Washington and the Italian government. His counsel today, in asking that his formal arraignment be postponed, promised that no effort would be made under habeas corpus laws or other proceedings to take the prisoner out of the hands of the New Jersey authorities pending the adjourned arraignment, which, after some argument, was set for July 8.

Meanwhile it is expected that the international aspects of the case will have adjusted themselves, and a decision will be reached as to whether Charlton shall be delivered to the Italian authorities on extradition proceedings. Copies of the Italian evidence of the crime are in the hands of Gustavo di Rosa, the Italian Consular representative in New York. It was said also before the proceedings opened before Judge Blair in Jersey City that the New Jersey authorities had a copy of a dispatch sent by the Marquis Paoli di Monteleone, Charge des Affaires at the Italian Embassy in Washington, to Secretary of State Knox on the day of Charlton's arrest, requesting the young man's extradition. In reply, the Marquis was stated to have received a note from Secretary Knox, in which it was intimated that if Charlton were given up Italy would hereafter be expected to consent to the extradition of Italians who commit crimes in America and flee to Italy.

The further exchanges reported in this connection were said to have resulted in a declaration on the part of the Italian government to commit itself to any such proposition, on the ground that an Italian provision of a treaty between the United States provided that no Italian charged with a crime should be tried outside his own country. It was stated to have made no reply to the State Department's rejoinder that an international law should take precedence over a national law.

CORK LEG KEY TRAGER

KLAMATH FALLS ALLEGED BANK FORGER CAUGHT.

Chase for Thaddeus E. York, Wanted in Oregon, Washington and Illinois, Now Ended.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 28.—Thaddeus E. York, who was arrested here yesterday by detectives who had traced him all over the country through a key to the knee joint of his cork leg, is said to be the most energetic bank forger of a decade. York was taken as he stepped from the gang bank of the steamship President, from San Francisco. In addition to the charge on which he was arrested that of defrauding the J. G. Klamath Falls, Or., bank out of $500 by forged drafts, he is accused by the detectives of having worked a Chicago bank for $400, in Bellingham, Wash., bank for $300 and a Seattle bank for $228, all within the past year.

The method followed in such cases is said to have been the same. York would deposit with the bank selected as his victim forged drafts on the First National Bank of Lexington, Ky., gradually draw out the greater part of the amount and leave.

In Seattle, he charged, York worked under the name of M. W. Sutherland. Other of his aliases are given by the detectives as N. M. Sutherland, John W. Lee, arrested that of defrauding for $500 in Washington, Wash., by $200 in Oregon in the name of Edward Pushey, and $100 in Hampton.

York was formerly a telegraph operator for the Northern Pacific Railroad at Oakesdale, Wash. The detectives who made the arrest say he took $100 in cash and $5 express money order blanks from the office. These blanks, the detectives say, were filled in and cashed to the extent of about $10,000.

The detectives believe that York has hidden most of the money, as he has spent no large sums and only $100 was found among the possessions of his office in Oregon is already on the way to Seattle with the necessary requisition papers and it is probable that York will be taken to Klamath Falls tomorrow.

UNITED STATES ASKED TO STEP IN

Petition Presented to Estrada Asking for Nicaraguan Intervention.

WORD IS SENT BY CONSUL

Nothing Is Said About Court-Martial of W. P. Pittman and Report First Received Is Thought to Be a Mistake.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Intervention in the Nicaraguan situation came to the fore again today, when American Consul Moffatt, at Bluefields, telegraphed the State Department that a petition with 60 signatures had been presented to General Estrada asking that the United States intervene. The department has heard nothing from General Estrada himself.

The suggestion that the United States intervene is taken as a counter move to offset the undesirable impression due to result from the refusal of General Estrada to accept the proposal of the Carazo Court of Justice to have the warfare ended by mediation. The dispatch from Consul Moffatt said nothing about the court-martial of William P. Pittman, the American engineer held by the Madriz forces as a prisoner of war. The presence of the Consul on this point has led the State Department to the conclusion that the report of Pittman's court-martial was premature.

Senor Corea, representative of the Madriz government in this city, today received two dispatches from Madriz, one denying many of the reported victories of the Estrada forces and the other telling of the anti-American manifestations and the determination of his government to keep them from resulting in harm to Americans.

CAIRO STUDENT HANGED

Premier's Slayer, Whom Roosevelt Denounced, Pays Penalty.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 28.—Ibrahim Wardani, the assassin of Boutros Pasha Ghall, the Egyptian Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, was hanged today. Wardani was an Egyptian student and a member of the Nationalist party. On February 20 last he shot the Premier as the latter was leaving the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. His victim died the following day. At his trial the murderer said his motive was to avenge various acts of the government which the Nationalists attributed to Boutros Pasha Ghall personally.

During his visit here, Theodore Roosevelt addressed the students of the University of Cairo and in the course of his remarks roundly denounced the assassin, saying that those who condoned the act stood on the pinnacle of evil and infamy. Subsequently many of the students affiliated with the political opposition to British rule in Egypt gathered before Mr. Roosevelt's hotel and made a mild demonstration of dissent from the sentiments expressed by the ex-President.

TAFT AUTO VICTIM ALIVE

President's Son Gives Up Trip Pending Outcome of Accident.

BEVERLY, Mass., June 28.—Because of the serious condition of Michael Thisthwaite, the Italian workman who was injured by one of President Taft's automobiles yesterday, Robert A. Taft, the President's elder son, will not go to New London for the Yale-Harvard boat-race Thursday. The injured man was reported to have passed a comfortable night, with improved chances of recovery, but is still in a dangerous condition. The case is in charge of Dr. J. S. Minter, of Boston, who came here yesterday at the earnest solicitation of the President. Robert Taft keeps closely informed of Thisthwaite's condition, acting for President Taft, went to the hospital this afternoon to learn whether Thisthwaite has any relatives either in this or in his own land.

Robert Taft, accompanied by the two friends who were in the automobile yesterday when the accident happened, motored over to Manchester today, where they played tennis on the courts of the Essex Country Club.

BINGEN GETS BOX FACTORY

Washington Town Forms Stock Company to Build Factory.

BINGEN, Wash., June 28.—(Special.)—On Monday evening a few Bingen citizens met and organized a stock company with a capitalization of $25,000, for the purpose of manufacturing an industrial plant for Bingen. The first thing decided on is a box factory, and as there is immediate need of such an institution, a preliminary subscription list named for a factory meeting brought forth $1000 for immediate use.

On Tuesday morning an order was placed with a local mill for 1500 feet of lumber for the building and work on it will be well under way by the end of the week. It is the intention later on to put on machinery for sand and door manufacture, in fact, one of the stockholders already owns a large part of the necessary machinery. A meeting will be held in a few days to perfect the organization.

Six Missourians from the Ozark Mountain region are in New York today, ready to start tomorrow on a tour of New England to tell the people of that section what Governor Folk has done and to organize Folk sentiment in each town they visit.
