LITTLE WANDERER RETURNED.—Wandering the streets with only his faithful dog for company, a boy, 2 years old, was picked up yesterday afternoon at the East Side railroad station by Patrolman J. J. Murphy. Now, children are Murphy's specialty, and he manages to get more human interest out of his work than any other officer on the force. The child was unable to give any account of himself and the officer had a white slephant on his hands for some time, until he chanced to meet Patrolman Leavens, who recognized the boy as belonging in the vicinity of Grand and Hawthorne avenues. Leavens took him in charge and restored him to his parents. A little later Murphy him to his parents. A little later Murphy found at East Morrison street and Grand avenue the little fellow's red wagon, which he had abandoned when fatigue got the better of him. Murphy left the vehicle at a "nickelodeon," to be called for by its truant owner. for by its truant owner.

MOUNT TABORITES MEET TONIGHT.—A mass meeting of the citizens of Mount Tabor has been called for tonight at the assembly hall of the Mount Tabor Sanitarium, East Sixtleth and Belmont streets, under the auspices of the Mount Tabor Improvement Association, to protest against the erection of a new wooden schoolhouse on the recently purchased site north of East Stark street, and ask that fireproof material be used. Resolu-tions were adopted by the association several weeks ago asking the Board of Education to erect a fireproof building, but these were ignored and plans for a frame schoolhouse were drawn.

Year in County Jail, Not Federal Prison, Jones' Fate.

CORRECTION TO BE MADE

Court of Appeals Anticipates Lawyer's Coup to Set at Liberty-Man Convicted of Land Frauds. Potter Will Be Pardoned.

Discovery by the United States Court of Appeals that the Federal tribunal for Oregon had erroneously sentenced Wil-lard N. Jones to serve a term of one year on McNeill's Island, instead of the County Jail, yesterday exposed the plans by which Attorney S. B. Huston intended that Jones should escape confinement. The laws of the United States classify crimes for which the punishment inflicted is more than one year as feloules, and is more than one year as felonies, and prescribes that the prisoner may be sent to the Federal prisons. For misdemeanors the punishment is one year or less, and the sentence shall be served in the County Jail.

Mr. Huston has appealed the "Jones-Fotter" case, but regardless of the decision rendered, he felt confident until yesterday that Jones would never see the cision rendered, he felt confident until yesterday that Jones would never see the inside of a prison on that charge of conspiracy. The lawyer intended to wait until the last court had passed on the merits of the case and then, if Jones lost, to free him on a writ of habeas corpus. Francis J. Heney prosecuted Jones and evidently overlooked the error made by Judge Hunt.

Assistant United States Attorney Evans vesterday served Mr. Huston with a no-will be requested.

Jones and Thad Potter were convicted Jones and Thad Potter were convicted of a conspiracy to defraud the United States in the entry of timber lands through the use of dummy applicants. Jones was also given a fine of $2000. Potter was found guilty and a similar sentence pronounced. It is probable that Potter will be allowed to escape, as Heney has promised to endeavor to have the court set aside the order because Potter never profited by his associations with Jones, and because of the state of Potter's health.

Potter is now living 'n the mountains back of White Salmon, Wash, and is said to be slowly dying. It is his ambition to be relieved of the verdict of the jury and court before he passes away.

Jones is also under sentence in the Blue Mountain conspiracy cases. He is now in the East, where he has been attempting to secure a pardon from the

NEW LAND QUESTION RAISED

Inquiry Before Patent Bar to Future Reversion, Lawyer Contends.

Contending that after fraud allegations have been investigated by the Department of the Interior, and when a patent is issued afterward by the Government, the United States is debarred thereafter from attacking and causing the reversion of a homestead, Attorney Lafferty yesterday presented an entirely new question for the determination of Judge Bean. The controversy is over the homestead filing made in Linn County by C. G. Whitney, the proprietor of a rooming-house at Tacoma. Whitney's family ran-the hotel while he established a rest-dence on the Linn County land. The facts became known, and when Whitner offered his commutation proof the special agents were ordered to investigate. All of the facts known at this time are as-serted to have been developed by the special agents in their examination. After two years had passed Attorney Lafferty filed a motion to secure patent because of lackes on the part of the Government, pleading his case under the provisions of the law of 1891, which allow the department two years to begin action in cases of this character. The Secretary ordered the patent issued, and several years later the Government began with the cases.

If there ever was a city or a time when optimism and prosperity went hand in hand, that city was Portland; that time now. We all thought Portland prosperous five years ago, four, three, two years ago, last year, and last month. Now we know that in those five years we have laid a foundation so sure, so stable, that Portland is as sure to be the New York of the Pacific as the sun is to shine, and five years from now we will be so far ahead of the other Coast cities that our Banner A cre Tracts will be one of the choicest parts of the city.
