Milkman Insists on Arrest.—John Strelber, a milk dealer living at West Portland, insisted upon being arrested and giving $50 bail yesterday at the constable's office, and much persuasion was necessary on the part of Constable Wagner to convince him that no charges had been placed against him. He left the office grumbling and still insisting that he had a right to give bail if he wanted to. Strelber has a neighbor named Schneider, whose cow committed depredations on Strelber's property. Strelber impounded the cow, whereupon Schneider, it is alleged, came at him with a loaded ahotgun and threatened to have him arrested for the theft of the cow. Conrested for the theft of the cow. Con-vinced that his neighbor would keep his word, Streiber came to the city to give ball, and was disgruntled to find that he was not wanted. FACTORY ROW CONTINUES.—J. C. and J. N. Windsor, officers of the Campbell Automatic Gas Burner Company, accused by L. C. Hammer, one of the principal stockholders of the company, of carrying concealed weapons, were discharged in Police Court yesterday morning, the complaining witness falling to appear. Jerry had fixed the sentence at the time of his last appearance, as the consequence to follow his possible arrest fagin. He was reminded of the arrangement by Judge Bennett, who consented to split it in two and give him is days. The practice of and give him 15 days. The practice of allowing prisoners to fix the penalty for their next offense is often followed by Judge Bennett, and the prisoner is almost invariably stricken dumb when reminded of his self-imposed sentence.

RICH CHINESE IN TROUBLE-Lee Foo, a wealthy Chinese of Fourth street North, and alleged to be concerned in a gamling-house, resented the presence of Pa-olman Humphries in front of his place I business Wednesday night and hurled busive language at him, the officer says. This was repeated several times and at ast Humphries took Poo into custody on a charge of disorderly conduct. His hearing went over until today. Lee Foo was in Police Court a few days ago as the complaining witness against Louis Jones, a negro whom he accused of trying to sell an imitation diamond.
