

ROADS MUST SHOW RESULTS OF CHANGE

Effect of New Rates to Be Put in Exact Figures Before Interstate Board.

INJUNCTION HEADED OFF

Three Months Delay Needed to Get Data Better Than Indefinite Delay Which Would Follow Court Proceedings.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 30.—There will be a conference at Chicago July 11, between the Interstate Commerce Commission and representatives of the railroads affected by yesterday's decision of the Spokane case and the Pacific Coast distributive rate cases, for the purpose of arranging for carrying out that part of the Commission's order requiring the railroads for a period of three months to furnish an accurate account showing the difference between receipts upon traffic actually moved under the present rates and what those receipts would have been on the traffic had the proposed reduced rates been in effect.

The Commission wants to ascertain before making an order whether its proposed reductions are reasonable, or whether they are so great as to deny the roads a fair return upon their investment. This can be ascertained after comparison of actual and theoretical rates for three months.

If it is found that the reductions suggested are too great, and likely to be overturned by the Commission, the Commission will modify its figures before directing that the reductions be put into effect, but on the other hand, if the reductions prove to be reasonable, as the Commission believes they will, an order will be issued on or about October 1 directing such reductions as outlined in yesterday's decision, namely, 20 per cent on all distributive rates from coast points, and various reductions running from 1 to 30 per cent on rates to Spokane.

RATE CHANGES ARE UPHOLD

Commerce Commission Approves New Classification in East.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Announcement was made by the Interstate Commerce Commission today that it would not suspend official classification No. 26, involving over 6000 items, which was filed to become effective July 1. This declaration to act is regarded as a victory for the railroads.

For nearly a month, the commission has been overhauled with protests against the proposed new classification of freight, many shippers seeming to entertain the idea that the rearrangement would result in largely increased rates.

The subject was considered carefully by the commission. In the 6000 items and ratings involved, there are only 23 changes, of which 23 are reductions and 20 advances. In a statement issued today the commission says:

"The principal increase is the carload minimum of horse vehicles from 30,000 to 11,000 pounds, and an advance in the classification of automobiles from first class to 110 per cent of first class, and the commission is not satisfied that these items should be suspended. This rule, however, will not prevent the delay of the hearing of any complaint which has been made or may be made against the reasonableness of these or other increases affected by the new classification."

Official classification territory includes all that part of the United States north of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers and east of the Mississippi River, it takes in the cities of St. Louis and Chicago.

Permission was granted by the Commission to the railroads operating out of Buffalo to advance their rates on flour and other wheat products, but only a hundred pounds to Eastern destinations.

Freights on lumber and forest products from Omaha to points in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska were reduced by the Commission. The reduction ranges from 1/2 cent to 4 cents a hundred pounds, the average being approximately a cent and a half a hundred pounds. The new rates were ordered to become effective on September 1 next.

STRANGERS TO BANFIELD

Did Not Say Men Shot at Near House Were Strangers.

In explaining the details of the disturbance at his home the night before, M. C. Banfield yesterday said that he had no idea regarding the identity of the men who were shot at by his friend as they approached his house with kindling wood.

"As to my having enemies among the strikers I do not know why there should be any," he said. "I am only trying to fulfill the duties of the office to which I was elected, namely, trying to uphold the principles of the 'open shop.'"

Mr. Banfield said that when the three men approached his house with the kindling wood a little before 12 o'clock Wednesday night, a friend of his saw them and called to them to stop. The men dropped their wood and turned to run, when Mr. Banfield's friend shot four times at them. It was noticed that one of them did not run as fast after the shooting as before, and that he cried aloud with apparent agony. The man who did the shooting ran around and met them later when they rolled down the side of Jefferson-street canyon to escape him.

Mr. Banfield was quoted in an evening paper yesterday as saying that he thought the men who approached his house were striking teamsters, but last night he emphatically denied having expressed such an opinion.

NORTH DAKOTA "STALWART" ASSURED OF RETURN TO CONGRESS.

SENATOR P. J. McCUMBER.

M'CUMBER IN LEAD

North Dakota Senator Wins Over Marshall, Insurgent.

7000 MAJORITY ASSURED

Johnson, "Stalwart" Candidate for Governor, Has Large Lead Over Opposing Candidate—Progressives Say Gronna is Nominated.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., June 30.—

(Special).—From primary election returns late tonight Senator Porter J. McCumber, "stalwart," has defeated Thomas F. Marshall, insurgent, for the nomination for United States Senator to succeed himself, while Congressman A. J. Gronna, insurgent, has defeated Judge Edward Engerud, "stalwart," for the short term in the United States Senate, created upon the death of Senator M. N. Johnson.

Majorities are still an uncertain quantity, but it appears that Gronna has received the highest vote and will lead Engerud by from 8000 to 12,000 votes. McCumber is accorded a majority of from 4000 to 7000, and it may even be less than that.

Gronna, for the short term, seems to have carried every county in the state, with only a few exceptions, where Engerud was blessed with a wide professional acquaintance.

For Congress, L. B. Hanna, of Cass, "stalwart," has been renominated, and will be the high man in the six-handed race. H. T. Heigerson, insurgent, is fighting with B. C. Skulason, running independent, for second place.

Returns from the gubernatorial situation are coming in slowly, but indicate that C. H. Johnson, of Ward County, has defeated B. A. Buchanan, of Statesman County, by a big majority.

AMERICAN 'RUSH' IMPRESSES JAPS

New York More Inspiring Than London, as Seen in Oriental Eyes.

BIG SHOW DISAPPOINTS

Japan-British Exhibition Does Not Call Forth Praise From Leader of Touring Party—Displays Better Even on Tokio's Streets.

LONDON, June 30.—(Special).—Here are some interesting comparisons and observations by a keen Japanese observer, just on his way to England, after a long trip through the United States. Motosaku Teuchiya is one of the foremost Japanese students of world-wide social and political questions. He is conducting a party of 57 prominent business men of his country round the world.

Teuchiya, a diplomatic and close-mouthed, as becomes a gentleman from the Land of the Rising Sun. Thus he was wary on all questions wherein there was a hint of comparison with England, but by dint of pressure he was drawn into discussion of the countries between which.

"We all liked the United States," he said. "I think what impressed us most was, not the hustle and bustle, but the size and immense scale of everything. Especially was that true of New York, where the big buildings were a real surprise to us, despite the fact that we had been prepared for them, in a measure."

London Trade on Quiet.

"The grand scale upon which everything is conceived in New York had the effect of enabling our party to believe that more business is done in the American metropolises than in London. Perhaps it is not so—perhaps statistics will not bear us out—but I am telling you the impression it made upon us. London is more like our large cities of Japan, where business is done quietly. That is difficult to say. We liked the American method and probably will apply many of the 'tricks of trade' which we learned there when we return to Japan."

"I will tell you something about which we know a great deal. The hotels in the United States are far superior to the hotels in England. Especially is this true of the hygienic arrangements. In most of the hotels we were stopped in the United States, each member of our party had a bath attached to his room. Such a convenience is almost impossible here, except in a few establishments.

"The hotels we have one advantage over the American, however. They are much quieter. No matter how noisy the street was in London, there is a restful atmosphere about it that is very desirable. In the American hotels, no matter where you go, there is a clamor and hurry that is almost as bad as the street. It expresses my idea when I say that in the English hotels you feel at home; in the American you cannot."

American "Rush" Impresses.

"Although the top-speed with which the business of life is carried on in the Japanese cities. At some hours of the day in our large cities not a single person is to be seen in the principal streets. Imagine coming from such surroundings to San Francisco, Portland, Chicago and New York. The latter city impressed us by its size much more than London. London is spread out over an immense amount of territory, which has been divided into when we are accustomed in Japan. For instance, Tokio is spread out in the same way. New York, by its big bridges and its buildings, its very rush and the concentration of hundreds of thousands of people within a small area during the business hours, compelled our attention and astonishment."

Comment on newspaper work in Japan, compared with American conditions, was then under way.

"The press of Japan has been greatly influenced by that of the United States," he said. "I believe a reaction has set in and that the next few years will see a return to more sober standards. Already there are signs of this."

The party of which Teuchiya is the pilot came to London to see the Japan-British Exhibition at Shepherd's Bush, which has been the talk of the day in Japan. He does not hesitate to declare that he and his friends are intensely disappointed by the poor showing made by the British exhibits.

The track, which was built last year and has seen only two meets, is pronounced by the visiting horsemen as one of the best in the state and is in excellent condition. It has been well taken care of and is just now open to be ridden. On it good time can be made and all the horsemen are enthusiastic over what they believe will be the best race meet ever held in Lane County.

The meeting will conclude with an especially strong programme on the Fourth of July.
