

LEWIS MAKES TOUR CAREY PROJECTS

Further Steps to Be Taken Toward Reviving Columbia Southern Plans.

TRIP IS COMPREHENSIVE

In Warner Valley 100,000 Acres Are to Be Reclaimed—Questions of Water Supply to Receive Careful Attention.

SALEM, Or., June 30.—(Special.)—State Engineer Lewis will leave tomorrow to make a complete examination of various projects which are being developed under the Carey act. He will be accompanied as far as Bend by Attorney-General A. M. Crawford. At Bend further steps will be taken toward reviving the old Columbia Southern project. From there the State Engineer will go south to examine the work of the Deschutes Land Company project, which includes 20,000 acres. He will then leave to make an examination of the Paisley project of 12,000 acres.

Probably the most important work which he will do on the trip will be in Warner Valley, in Lake County, on the California line. A project, including 100,000 acres, will be developed there. It is now only in its tentative stage, but the State Engineer is of the opinion there is sufficient water there to handle the entire project and that the scheme is feasible. The land is 75 miles east of Lakeview, is practically all level scrubland and is capable of producing practically any kind of a crop. The Hill interests have given a definite promise to construct a line into this project within the next two years.

The State Engineer will go east to the Idaho line for the purpose of examining the Jordan Valley project of 60,000 acres, then to Vale to look into the Harper Basin project of 10,000 acres, and then to Baker City, where he will devote some time to three projects in that vicinity, Eagle Valley, 20,000 acres; Pine Valley, 10,000 acres, and Lower Powder River Valley, 60,000 acres.

Plans, specifications and estimates for this last project have been filed with the office of the Engineer and show an estimated cost of $50,000 for development work. The State Engineer will look into the question of water supply on this project prior to awarding the final contract.

POWDER MILL BLOWN UP

Third Explosion in Dupont Plant Kills Three Men.

TACOMA, Wash., June 30.—The third serious explosion at the Dupont Powder plant at Tacoma, Wash., occurred this morning when three men were killed and the main building of the plant was badly damaged.

The dead: Thomas Blake, aged 32, foreman of Waukesha, Wis. George Sirouse, St. Paul, Minn. Edward Smith, New Orleans.

At 7:14 o'clock this morning, shortly after the mills had started for the day, the explosion occurred, blowing the gelatin-mixing house No. 1 to pieces and starting a reverberation that carried the news of the accident to Tacoma, a distance of 10 miles. Windows were broken in houses in the suburbs between the city and the little factory town.

Immediately after the accident, Superintendent Harrington closed the outer gates of the plant and barred all comers. It was learned, however, that the explosion had resulted in great damage to the main mill, which in the two preceding accidents of the past few months had been undamaged. The machinery was wrecked, it is reported.

The mixing house is a small frame building, a temporary structure erected following the accident in which two men were killed in March. It is supposed that the same conditions obtained about the explosion as resulted in the March explosion, the victims being the only occupants of the wrecked structure and none living long enough to tell of it. In fact, two of the men were blown to atoms, a remarkable feature of the accident being that Blake, while terribly mutilated and stripped of all clothing, could be identified. Blake's mother lives in Waukesha, Wis.

MARSHAL FIGHTS ROBBERS

Three Men Shot When Interrupted at Work in Hood River.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 30.—A pitched battle in which about 15 shots were fired occurred here early Wednesday morning between Night Marshal Henry Hickox and a trio of unknown men, who were interrupted trying to enter the hardware store of D. McDonald and who escaped in a boat on the Columbia River after exchanging shots with the officer. Hickox was making his regular rounds when he saw two men run from the door of the McDonald store about 2:30 in the morning. He called to the men to halt and when they failed to comply he gave chase, following them to the river below the depot, about three blocks away. There he saw a third man waiting with a small boat and as he gained on the fleeing men they turned and opened fire. He returned their shots and believes that he may have hit one of the men as he seemed to be helped into the boat by the other two.

The three men got away on the river and the local officers believe them to be the same crowd that cracked a safe at Mosier and escaped on the river last week after exchanging shots with citizens of the village.

VIENNA FRUIT FOURRES

Dainty, delicate, delicious, different. A gift box of Vienna Fruit Confections is marked with individuality. Imported from Europe exclusively by Sig. Sichel & Co., 22 Third, or branches at Third and Washington and Wells-Fargo bldg.

Deep River Wins 6-to-2 Game.

SKAMOKAWA, Wash., June 30.—(Special.)—In a pitchers' battle, in which neither side scored for six innings, Deep River defeated Skamokawa of the Skamokawa diamond, by a score of 6 to 2. The features of the game were the pitching of Short and the battery work of Gardner and LaFoutie.

WORLD'S MOST SENSATIONAL GRAIN TRADER RETIRES, WORTH AT LEAST $10,000,000.

JAMES A. PATTEN.

CHICAGO, June 30.—(Special.)—James A. Patten, the most widely-known grain trader in Chicago or the world since the days of B. P. Hutchinson, retires from business today. The only statement he would make for publication was this:

"I have had a long siege in the grain business; have had more than my share of the load to carry, yet I am glad I have been through with it all, and am ready to quit."

The big speculative dealer, who has made his mark in wheat, corn, oats and cotton in the last 20 years and is still mixed up in the most important cotton deal in New York from which he promises to emerge successfully, passed the morning of his last day of business sitting in front of the big quotation board watching the course of the market.

Those who know "Jim" Patten best say he goes out of business worth $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. Mr. Patten, himself, modestly states that he thinks those figures are too high.

AUTOS OFF TOMORROW

RUN TO TILLAMOOK BY PORTLANDERS IS ATTRACTIVE.

Score or More Cars Will Leave City for Coast—Many Will Take Guests With Them.

All arrangements for the Portland Automobile Club run to Tillamook on July 2 have been made, and 25 machines will leave Portland early Saturday morning.

The 25 cars will run a quarter of a mile apart, with W. J. Clemens leading, and it is expected that with the cars outside the club that make the trip will increase the length of the procession to 10 miles.

It was impossible to accommodate all the members of the club who wished to go, owing to the limited quarters at Bayocean, and over 100 were disappointed. The new hotel at Bayocean has not been completed and can accommodate only a limited number.

The following will make the trip: W. J. Clemens, with guests, Mrs. W. J. Lyons, E. Irving Foster, with guests, E. H. West, L. E. Trent, Arthur Hendrick, E. H. Wenne, with guests, E. B. Cole, Dr. J. H. Westerbeke, with guests, E. B. McNaughton, J. H. McClung, Harold Rice, Olin Jeffrey, with guests, Mrs. O. Jeffrey, Dr. M. C. Holbrook, Mrs. Dr. Holbrook, Miss Francis Jeffrey, Howard F. Gaylor, Dr. J. J. Powers, with guests, Mrs. J. J. Powers, with guests, Mrs. W. R. Roseman, Mordimer Fouch, with guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jaeger, with guests, Mrs. J. P. Jaeger, Lloyd Jaeger, Mrs. I. N. Lippman, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Friedlander, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Warren, B. E. Fluke and family; Ira Powers, with guests, Mrs. Ira Powers, with guests, Mrs. O. Kittenbach; B. F. Hart, with guests, Mrs. B. F. Hart, M. B. Rowland, Mr. Rowland, H. A. Spier, with Mrs. Spier and Mr. and Mrs. A. Speer; Tom West, with Mrs. George Hylan and family; George E. Waggener and family; Captain M. A. Hackett, with Mrs. M. A. Hackett; Belle Hackett, Margaret Hackett, Ellen McCurdy, Clifford Dundee, chauffeur.

TAFT GREET'S ROOSEVELT

(Continued From First Page.) Mrs. Roosevelt about this," said the Colonel.

"Jimmy" Sloan, of the Secret Service, who climbed precipices, swam icy creeks and ran foot races with Mr. Roosevelt for seven years, also came in for a hearty greeting. "Jimmy" helped the Colonel through the crowds of official information as to how he used to do in the old days, and was the last person to get a final handshake and word of parting.

Beverly Keeps Watch.

Beverly was on the outlook for the distinguished visitor all day, but no official information as to the call was to be had at the executive office until the last minute.

For a long time there was doubt as to whether Mr. Roosevelt would come by road or by water, and the President's yacht Sylph was ready to be placed at his disposal. Toward 1 o'clock word came that the Colonel, owing to a press of time, had finally decided in favor of the auto and would start from Senator Lodge's home at 2:45 P. M.

His way to Beverly led through parts of Lynn, Swampscott and Salem and in each of these places the Colonel was quickly recognized and cheered. He and Senator Lodge rode in a closed car, but the crowds could see him through the window and he was compelled constantly to lift his hat in recognition of greetings. At the entrance of the Taft grounds a crowd of 100 or more persons had gathered. The secret service lines, usually drawn about the Taft cottage alone, were extended today to the entrance to the entire Burgess Point section, fully a quarter of a mile away. There everyone was stopped and turned back. Several women calling to pay their respects to Mrs. Taft were turned back with the rest.

President Taft was sitting in the library, going over the mail with Assistant Secretary Foster, when he heard the "hook, bang" of the Lodge automobile pile out in front. He dropped everything and hurried to the porch. Colonel Roosevelt was out of the machine in a moment and as the two men in their arms unconsciously went toward each other and their hands rested upon each other's shoulders.

It was some time before the embrace was interrupted. Then President Taft warmly greeted Senator Lodge. Secretary Norton joined the party and Assistant Secretary Foster also was included in the circle. Soon the President and the President drew apart, while the others looked on their tete-a-tete with smiling interest.

"What of politics entered into the conversation, what words of reminiscence what exchange of experiences during the last 16 months, no one on the veranda other than the two friends themselves knew."

There were so many points of laughter, so many snags upon the back, so much of cordiality, that it was apparent that there had been no suggestion of a conflict of views.

MUSICAL TABLEAUX SHOWN

Society Attends cBenefit for People's Institute in Force.

Society turned out en masse last night to witness the "Tableaux Vivants" given at the Masonic Temple for the benefit of the People's Institute. Between the first and second parts, C. E. S. Wood gave a short humorous talk about the institute, telling of its usefulness. He urged the audience to contribute to this worthy charity. Three little girls of the institute gave shadow pictures of how they could cook and wash. A trio of small boys gave exhibitions of baseball and bowling.

The first tableau represented Salome (Miss Rhoda Palling) kneeling after her dance before Herod's (James F. Ewing) throne. Miss Lillian O'Brien was an Egyptian waiting maid. Preceding this, Dom Zan sang the aria from "Herodiade."

The next was the flirtation scene between Carmen (Miss Anita Burns) and Don Jose (Jordan Zan). The "Carmen" aria was sung by Mrs. George Barton French. This was followed by the waltzing scene from the second act of "Madam Butterfly." The music was played by Waldemar Lind and the characters were taken by Mrs. Ralph Matson and Miss Clementine Hirsch.

"Dieu Theure Halle" from "Tannhauser" was sung by Mrs. Rose Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The waltz song from the opera was given by Mrs. French. This was followed by an elaborate reproduction of the aria "upon which the Jongleur de Notre Dame" (Master Teddy Wilcox) rests after tumbling for the Virgin, pictured by Miss Frances Wilson. The curtain next rose upon Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett as Brunhilde and the fire music from "Die Walkure" was sung by Mrs. Ethel Heller Weinstein. Mrs. Bacher before Miss Helen Barber appeared as Elizabeth. The café scene from "La Boheme," with Miss Margery Hoffman as Mimì, Miss Evelyn Wilson as Mimi and Kenneth Beebe, Irving Webster, Lester Hodson, Kurt Koehler and Richard Jones as the Bohemians was the largest group shown. The w