Not satisfied with the treatment acorded him by the Portland fans, a number of whom were clamoring for his release while on the last Southern trip because he suffered a couple of defeats in a row, Bill Steen asked to be sent against the Vernon team and demonstrated yesterday that he is not a "has-been.

Aided by good support on behalf of his teammates, he blanked Happy Hogan's Vernon Brewers by the score of 2 to 0. Steen was complete master of the sit-uation at all stages of the game and allowed the Vernonites only three singles, none of which started anything more than a flash in the pan. Only two men got to second base all throughout the game and nobody got beyond that station.

Real Live Game Played.

On the day previous both teams were inclined to loaf in the field and showed practically no life after the first inning, but there was quite a contrast with yesterday's contest, for all the boys were up on their toes and playing the game every minute, Portland espehaving lots of ginger in their

After the first inning, when the local boys won the game by scoring two runs on two hits and some clever base-running by Rapps, Brackenridge, who usually "has it on" Portland, got into some pretty bad/holes, but at the last moment pulled out by a comfortable margin and blanked the Beaver players. While the sim one's offerings were not garnered for a large total of hits, a number of those that were gotten were for extra bases. All of the Portland players hit the ball bard but usually into the hands of some waiting

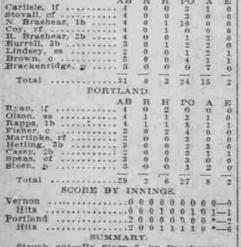

Vernon player. Buddy Ryan caught the Vernon bat-tery asleep in the third inning and laid down a pretty bunt in front of the plate. Brown, who did the receiving honors, was so surprised that he heaved the sphere too high for "Kitty" Brashear to get and Ryan continued on to second, winning by a pretty slide. It was a clever piay. Ryan displayed more life yesterday than at any time days. He hit a pretty double into to third on an error by Shortstop Lind-sey, but was left there because Rapps

Portland Busy in First.

McCredie's men assalled the offerings of Brackenridge in the very first inning and won the game just as they did on the day before. Ryan was an easy out, but Olson, the second man placed a pretty bit into deep center field, on which he galloped around to third before the Vernon fielders could recover the ball. Rapps proved the pinch-hitter by neatly hitting a single to right field on which Olson cored the first run. Rapps promptly stole second and isher walked. Martinke hit a long

JOHNSON AND COTTON BOXING.

Ex-Portlander Sees Big Fellow and Says He Will Win.

Reno Is Fight Mad and Hundreds of Additional "Lunatics" Swarming in From All Directions. Accommodations Scarce.

DAY IN RENO REVIEWED.

RENO, Nev., June 30 .- (Special.)-Both fighters have finished with hard training. Jeffries goes fishing, but does absolutely no boxing. Jack Johnson goes on road in the morning and in the afternoon boxes for the benefit of the moving pictures. He announces his weight at 209 pounds and says he will do no more hard exercising and will look carefully after his hands.

Joe Woodman visits the Johnson camp and after he refuses to leave premises, is ordered away by Johnson.

The colored champion issues a defi to Tommy Burns to come out to his quarters and fight ten rounds. John. son promises to stop the Canadian inside of the limit or forfeit $10,000. Charlle White arrives from the East and accepts the position of second referee. Tex Rickard insists that he will go into the ring next Monday as the main referee.

Dewitt Van Court writes a story in which he speaks of Jeffries' excellent chances of winning the fight. Betting is growing heavier. John-son has announced his intention of wagering $5000 on his own chances of winning. Dick Abrams, presumably acting for Jeffries, will bet

BY JACK GRANT. RENO, Nev., June 30 .- (Special.)-Reno is fight mad, and the town can't be blamed. There are hundreds of visitors in the little sagebrush city, and hundreds more arriving on every train. I got in this morning and found it hard work to get accommodations. But I was soon located and had a chance this afternoon to visit Jeffries at his camp, and to have a talk with him, even though he was not doing any work.

All along I have figured that Jeffries is a cinch to win this fight, and now that I have looked him over and talked to people, there is no reason why I should change my mind. He appears to me to be in grand shape. I think he is far better than when he last fought Bob Fitzsimmons, and that is saying deal. So far as I have been able to see, he has answered in the affirmative the question of whether he can come back.

Jeffries Greeting Pleasant.

Jeffries was playing cards when I visited him. He greeted me pleasantly enough, and we had quite a talk. I didn't stay very long, however, for you all know how little he likes to talk. Then I had talks with Joe Choynski, Bob Arbstrong and Roger Cornell. It is my belief that Jeffries is doing a lot of early morning work that the newspaper men do not know anything about. I talked par-ticularly with Armstrong. He tells me St. Paul 5. Second game: St. Paul 5, that Jeffries is wonderfully strong, and Toledo 5: called in ninth. that his condition couldn't be improved

The big fellow is not worrying over the fight, which is the best sign to me. He is taking everything as a matter of course. Having finished his training, he is now prepared to wait until Monday afternoon. Then he will do his work, and the people of America will have no reason to be ashamed of him.

I am going to visit Johnson tomorrow and then I hope to be able to tell the readers of The Oregonian something about how the black man sizes up. "Tex" Rickard tells me that there will be a great crowd on hand. He has a seating capacity of 18,000 and he expects to fill the arena so that it will be jammed up to the doors. I look for something like $300,000 in the house. Jack Fay and Dr. Loomis are among the Portland people here.

Heavy Training Ends Because Advisers of Two Big Fighters Do Not Want Them to Take Any Chances With Their Hands.

BY HARRY B. SMITH.

RENO, Nev., June 30.—(Special.)—

Jack Johnson had an extremely busy day of it at Rick's quarters. First of all he paid his respects to one The Burns, and told the press that "Mistah" Burns could come out to his quarters any day before the fight and win any day before the right and win $10,000 by merely sticking ten rounds. Then he assisted in the chucking off the premises of Joe Woodman, who as manager of one Samuel Langford, of Boston, has incurred the enmity of the colored champion.

After these two affairs the Texan succumbed to the moving picture fever and posed in every possible attitude, all the way from driving a pacer to feeding the chickens. This work of taking moving pictures of Johnson is as much unlike the process of doing the same thing with Jeffries as the Governor of Nevada is unlike some other Governors we have met.

Jeff Hates Pictures.

Jeffries abhors it, while, to use the vernacular of the street, "John Arthur eats it up." The dusky champion could not get enough of the picture scheme, and he drove around in circles until there was no more film left. But the crowning climax was after the lunch hour, when Johnson was shooting some craps on the porch, just for amusement. Hearing of the incident, the picture men planted their machines in the thick of the scenery.

"Better hurry up with that ma-chine," hollered one of the interested crowd, "or Johnson will have all the money and there won't be any more So they hurried and they will have the opportunity of producing one Jack Johnson coaxing "the bones" to be good to him.

Burns Incident Biting. The arraignment of Thomas Burns ex-heavyweight champion of the world by grace of the ability of this same Johnson in a little affair they had over in Australia, was as artistic and biting as the author could make it. What Johnson lacked in sarcasm to put his recent opponent on the grid-die, he made up in the venom which accompanied his denunciation. John-I am no trainer, I want to say that you can bank on it that he is in shape. I had him bend over to see if there was any extra fat on him, but there is not a bit."

Woodman Affair Next.

save for the fact that Johnson personally superintended the removal of Woodman, the incident would have beeen barren of interest.

there were few of the crowd who were aware that Woodman had been re-quested to leave. When Johnson heard that Woodman was on the premises, he sent down word by members of his staff that the handler of Sam Langford was not desired at the training quarters.

"Im here on moving picture business," replied Woodman. "Then, there ain't going to be no moving pictures," said Jack. "I've asked you once before to go, and now will you please vacate? You know what exists between you and I."

"All right, kid," said Woodman, with a smile, "I'll leave right away," which was an end to the Johnson-Woodman incident, unless it happens that there is a reconciliation brought about by some clever press agent.

Picture Story Interests. The story of the taking of the moving The story of the taking of the moving pictures is a story in itself, and a part and parcel of the training-camp life. There was picture work in the foremoon and more in the afternoon, so that, if everything taken of Johnson is shown on the screen, there will be sufficient for all to gaze at.

The boxing has been finished in both camps, according to announcement made late this afternoon from the various headquarters. As a matter of fact, boxing and all heavy work was practically concluded yesterday. Jeffries did absolutely nothing today of mo-ment, while the Johnson exercising was chiefly for the sake of the picture men.

No Chance With Hands Taken.

- It is not so much that the fighters are unwilling to take further training, but rather that their advisers are opposed to their taking any chances with their hands with the fight barely four days off. Instead of boxing, which might temporarily injure either man, there will be the steady ground to keep the pugilistic athletes in

So far as an outward examination of the men goes, there is little to be desired in the way of improvement. The improve-ment in Jeffries' condition has won over to him many supporters who were doubting Thomases at the outset; men who were unable to believe that he could get in any sort of shape.

At the same time, there are shrewd judges of form who shake their heads and declare there are points about the physical condition of Jeffries, notably the short breaths that he occasionally takes during his work, that they do not

Crowd of 60,000 Sees Contest Between Varsity Eights, in Which Crimson Wins Decisive Victory by Finished Work.

NEW LONDON, June 30.-The setting sun could not tinge the waters of the Thames tonight with a deeper crimson than they had been dyed by the victories of three Harvard crews. On the broad four-mile stretch between this city and Gales Ferry, Harvard met Yale today in their 44th annual rowing regatta.

Five lengths was Harvard's margin of three lengths in the freshman eight and four lengths in the varsity four. The freshman four-oared race, won by Yale Wednesday, was the one sweet drop in Yale's bitter cup of defeat.
