Burman Is Hero of Three-Day Auto Meet, Winning Fifty and Ten-Mile Events.

HEARNE CAPTURES HELMET

Half-Century Race Furnishes Exciting Contest of Day, Chevrolet and Burmian Jumping Into Lead From First.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 1-Records went down in slashing motor races at the Indianapolis speedway today. Burman, driving a Marquette-Buick, was the hero of the opening events of the three days meet, which is to include the 200-mile Cobe cup race next Monday. He won the 50-mile and the ten-mile races for cars of 231-300 cubic inches piston displacement, and the 15-mile race for cars of 301-450 displacement, He clipped two minutes off the 50-mile record for cars of 231-300 displacement, going the distance in 40:03:07, and taking the honor away from Harroun, who held the previous record, 42:41:83. In the ten-mile, he pulled the record for cars of the same size from 8:16.08 down to 8:14.46.

Burman's team mate, L. Chevrolet, pressed him closely in the 50-mile race and beat him in the five-mile race for cars of 161-220 displacement. In this event, Chevrolet cut the record from 4:41.17 to 4:40.8.

$:41.17 to 4:40.8.

Burman was disappointed at losing the Indianapolis speedway helmet, which is worth $50 a week to the winner. Hearne, with a Benz, took it away from him in the ten-mile free-for-all event. Grant, driving the Alco car with which he won the last Vanderbilt cup race, easily led in the ten-mile event for the heavy machines of 500 displacement.

The afternoon of exciting contests

The afternoon of exciting contests for supremacy, unmarred by accidents, had a brilliant climax in the 50-mile At the start, Chevrolet and Burman jumped into the lead. They quick-ly drew away from the field. After five miles, Chevrolet was ahead, traveling at record-breaking speed. Har-roun (Marmon) was out early, because of engine trouble.

After ten miles, the race had resolved into a see-saw contest for first place between Chevrolet and Burman, Both forced their engines to the limit, and to the finish they kept from one minute to two minutes ahead of the best previous time in the class. With a sensational spurt, Burman pulled in front of Chevrolet in the home stretch and was the first over the wire. Pearce (Fal) finished third; Fox (Pope Hartford), fourth; and Heineman (Fal),

Y. W. C. A. HEARS ADDRESS BY MRS. LOLA G. BALDWIN.

Portland First City in United States to Conduct Department Under Municipal Conrol.

BREAKERS, Wash., July 1 .- (Special.) The subject of traveling and protective work among girls occupied the center of interest among the city delegations today at the Y. W. C. A. session here Portland is the ploneer city in the United States to inaugurate special protective work under municipal control, and through the courtesy of the police committee and the Chief of Police, Mrs. Lota G. Baldwin, the superintendent of municipal department of public safety for young women, was able to be present and to speak before the conference.

In her address she made the point that this is not a rescue, but a protective agency, and that it is the business of this department to deal with causes and not effects. For instance, the work proceeds on the theory that it should not be necessary to take young girls from the process of the the state of the process of the theory that it should not be necessary to take young girls from the process of the terror of the process of the be necessary to take young girls from lodging-houses, but that watch should be kept over the house and the landlord to see that his house should afford safety for them. The workers believe that causes which lead to evil should be removed and the persons connected with them should be brought under authority rather than waiting for a definite crime to be committed and warrant of arrest

During the time that this has been one of the department's under the city police system, 1173 girls have been cared for and 787 of these placed under the care list. In this time public opinion has become aroused to an extent that nine public dancehalls have been reduced Mrs. Baldwin concluded by saying that what Oregon needs is an industrial train-ing school for girls and a perfected parole

Mrs. Cavell, of Tacoma, where there is a department modeled after that of Port-iand, spoke of the experience there, and a paper sent from Dr. Mary B. Martin, of Seattle, was read. Mrs. Barnum, of Portland, also read a paper concerning the travelers and work which the Y. W. C. A. is doing at the station and docks.

WENDLER TREATED CRUELLY BY ASSAILANTS.

Compelled to Walk Three Miles, Victim Is Strangled With Wire After Assault.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo, July 1 .- Examination of the body of Miss Anna Wendler, aged 30, which was found in the Missouri River yesterday, showed that the woman was choked to death with a piece of wire clothesline. The wire was imbedded in the flesh of her neck and was thought first to be her watch chain, as her gold watch was attached to the end of it.

William Wendler, a brother, said that Anna had a watch chain and could no have been wearing a wire for that purpose.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict.

Masses for First Time Take Interest in Question of Government.

MUCH HOPE FOR FUTURE

President Diaz' Next Term Will Be Devoted to Moulding Republic Into Great Nation-Education Is Factor.

MEXICO CITY, July 1 .- During the next six-year term of President Porfirio Diaz, Mexico will, in the opinion of her statesmen and publicists, make greater progress than in any like period in the history of the republic. They are reading in the popular agitation of the last two years a good rather than a bad omen. It is a sign, they believe, that the masses of Mexico are taking an individual in terest as never before in the affairs of

It has been largely on account of general ignorance and a lack of popular in-terest in government that Mexico hitherterest in government that Mexico hitherto has been a republic only in name. The agitation against the party in power, radical as it has been, is taken now to mean that the middle and lower classes are really begining to do a little thinking on their own account. One of the tasks of the next six years will be to direct popular thought along conservative lines and to create a national spirit which has been sadly deficient.

It is not so long ago that there were

It is not so long ago that there were tariff barriers between the states of the republic. Sonora on the north and Yucatan on the south had not so much in common as the states of the American republic and the provinces of Canada. Even neighboring states had none of the sentiment of sisterhood supposed to obtain in a federated republic.

Free Trade Unites States.

Thanks to the services of Senor Jose L. Limantour, Minister of Pinance, and other progressive statesmen, the tariff barriers have been razed. The freer trade between the states has brought them closer together, created a bond of sympathy and enforced the idea that the good of one state should be the good of good of one state should be the good of all in a republic.

There is still some distance to go before the national esprit will be what the administration hopes to make it. The process of amalgamation has been slow for many reasons, chiefly the want of education and the existence of so much poverty. Local schools are slowly but surely remedying the first misfortune. Poverty has been attacked by President Diaz, Vice-President Corral, Senor Landa, Governor of the federal district, and Olegario Molina, Minister of Fomento.

Leaders of the opposition parties, instead of dwelling on the need of education to equip the masses for the duties of citizenship guaranteed by the Constitution, have made demands that involve an advanced type of paternalism and other demands that ism and other demands that are radi-cally Socialistic. Their chief error is, according to students of Mexican affairs, that they have not sufficiently considred the status and character of the people with whom the Government has to deal. The background of Maxhas to deal. The background of Mexican history is one of revolution and warfare, save for the last third of a Policy of Restraint Necessary.

President Diaz has had to go against a stubborn racial trait. The ingrained habit of insurrection against constituted authority, developed by genera-tions of intermittent warfare, is not shaken off or educated away This being true, it was necessary to pursue a policy of popular restraint and of a gradual clothing of Mexican citizenship with its Constitutional priv-leges.

"We have adopted a patriarchal policy in the actual administration of the Na-tion's affairs," said General Bernardo Reyes in a speech two years ago, "guiding and restraining popular tendencies with full faith that an enforced peace would allow education, industry and commerce to develop elements of stability and unity in a naturally intelligent and afectionate people.

"We have been harsh sometimes to the point of cruelty, but it was all necessary to the peace and progress of the Na-tion. It was better that a little blood be shed that much blood might be spared. President Diaz has achieved the merel social evolution of Mexico. He now has in hand the second part—the political evolution. The nation is complete. It is now necessary to complete the republic.

American Farmers Wanted.

Among the enterprises in hand to Among the enterprises in hand to better the condition of the masses is an irrigation project in the Nazas River region, around Torreon. By the expedi-ture of a few millions of pesos it is be-lieved a district will be created capable of producing an immensely profitable crop of cotton. Experimental stations bebeing established throughout the country for a practical study of soil possibilities and adaptations. The govpossistifices and adaptations. The government will encourage the immigration of farmers from the United States and elsewhere by admitting their household goods and farming utensils propriated 30,000,000 pesos to be used free of duty. The government has apas subsidies to those who irrigate lands. lands.

Diaz Is Still Vigorous.

Between the United States and the Mexcan republic the trade tie is growing steadlly stronger. In the fiscal year 1906-9 Mexico imported from the United States goods to the value of $21,000,000, compared with $66,000,000 worth of materials imported from all other countries. In the same year the United States imported rfom Mexico $172,000,000 worth of goods as against $58,000,000 worth taken by all other nations.

Although 80 years old next September,

President Diaz is still strong and vigor-ous for the task before him. The next six years, if he live so long as that, he will devote to the finishing touches of his mission. He hopes he may not go to his grave with the pathos of failure written into his last thoughts—the fail-ure to realize his dream for the destiny
