

OFFICIAL ROSTER OF FIGHT GIVEN

All Men Who Will Play Part in Pugilistic Drama on Ground, Save One.

RENO AROUSED BY RUMORS

Dozens of False Reports About Two Fighters, About Referee, About Everybody. Keep War Correspondents in Hot Water.

RENO, July 1.—With the appointment today of the timekeeper and the announcement of the circle of officials for the fourth of July battle between Jeffries and Johnson, upon which rests the undisputed heavy-weight championship of the world, was completed. The officials are: Tex Rickard, of Nevada, referee; Charles White, of New York, alternate referee; George F. Harting, of San Francisco, timekeeper; Billy Jordan, of San Francisco, announced; "Tim" Sullivan, of New York, stakeholder; Tom Corbett, of San Francisco, betting commissioner.

"I Will Referee," Says Rickard. "I am the referee," he reiterated. "And I am going to do the refereeing. Here—" Rickard reached into his pocket and produced a roll of bills. "Here, just bet that $500 for me that I referee the fight. That's how I feel about it."

Of the fight officials named above, all but Jordan are on the ground. Harting and Sullivan arrived today. "I have $50,000 of the purse money now in my hands," said Sullivan, "and the rest will be turned over to me tomorrow."

Rickard was at the depot to meet Sullivan. After a brief conference, the pair climbed into an automobile and set out for Jeffries' camp. Five members of Sullivan's party accompanied them.

When the machine drew up at Jeff's cottage, the fighter came forward. "Hello, Tim," he said, extending his hand.

"Hello, Jeff," replied Sullivan. "I wish you all kinds of luck, boy."

Johnson is visited. After a few moments of talk with the big man, Rickard and Sullivan whirled over the dusty road to Johnson's quarters. They arrived just after the champion returned from his afternoon road work. The greeting between Sullivan and Johnson was cordial and after an interchange of remarks, the two officials hastened back to the city.

Reno was much perturbed today by rumors. They were flying everywhere, rumors about Jeffries, rumors about Johnson, rumors about the referee, rumors about the referee job, rumors about everything and everybody directly or indirectly connected with the fight.

Drivers ready for races. In spite of all this hard luck, he was sufficiently recovered at 5 o'clock to play a game of cards and draw-bridge.

Fast time promised in two-day harness races. With the day of the races drawing near the horses of the Riverside Driving Club, which will run at the Portland Fair and Livestock Association's track—the old Portland Country Club's place near Rose City Park—are rapidly rounding into racing form. These lean, sleek, well-groomed racers have been sent through their paces over an Eastern syndicate.

White champion as camera gets him at Reno. Rickard said later in the day that the matter had been adjusted. The lawyers said that it had not. They admitted, however, that it was liable to be settled at an moment. The weary numerous conferences at the lawyers' offices during the day and Rickard did not appear worried in the least, so it is supposed that it was all settled to his satisfaction or would be at any moment.

Langford hurries out. About 5 o'clock it became known that Langford had come in from the camp to his hotel, secured a large and suspicious-looking grip, which resulted in suggestions of collecting boxing gloves, and hastened back to Moana. Every thing was on the jump out at the camp again. As soon as they got back, they wished they had stayed there, and started out again.

led, from the East, rolled in. Tim stated that the stakeholder took the spotlight among the arrivals, but Frank O'Leary, the wrestler, and a host of lesser lights came in for a share of public attention. Even old Sol took an interest and he gazed at the cosmopolitan throng so curiously that many called for liquid help, and ran for a waiter.

An odd sight was presented along the main thoroughfare of the city when the evening shades allowed the visitors to get out on the sidewalks and circulate again. In front of the hotels the passageways were solidly blocked with men talking fight. Across the street, from the door of a poolroom, a hoarse voice barked orders of wagers through a megaphone.

Gambler's Bark at Crowd. "Who wants 10 to 6 1/2? Take a chance, boys. It's going on inside now. They're betting real money. Ten to six and a half. Who wants it?"

Late tonight, when the day's arrivals had taken their seats in the headquarters and compared notes, the betting aspect of the situation began to live up. Tom Corbett, the betting commissioner, received $5000 from his brother Jim to place on Jeffries and later in the night, received $10,000 from a New Yorker to wager at $5000 or better against Johnson. The only other $10,000 bet thus far recorded was made by Andy Craig, of Chicago, some weeks ago.

Jack's Sulte Has Furse. The trainers, rubbers and other camp attendants out at Johnson's headquarters tonight raised a purse said to be $5000 which they were offering at 6 to 10. Up to a late hour the money had not been placed.

John Bush, of Ely, came in with $3500 which he placed against $5000, taking the Johnson end. Johnson refused tonight to permit his manager to toss for corners. At least that was the excuse made by Tom Flannagan when Sam Berger, from the Vaughtin-street diamond, asked him to try the ring ahead of time. Berger wanted to toss tonight, but Flannagan insisted that they wait until the men enter the ring and then toss in accordance with the time-worn custom in ring battles.

Fans May Be Used. "You know," said Flannagan after the conference with Berger, "we may use electric fans in the ring. It is not decided yet. We think it possible that the other fellows may put in some apparatus that we don't know about and we are not taking any chances."

Late tonight there was a squabble between Tex Rickard and the contractors who built the arena. There has been a difference of opinion between the supervising contractors and the local builders before and this is said to have extended to Rickard tonight. Rickard was refused admittance until the battle ground is turned over to him on July 3. It being feared that he might put up signs that the local men did not wish to have placed.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT DATES SET

Y. M. C. A. Players Will Compete for Championship Honors. Arrangements have been completed to hold the championship tennis tournament of the Young Men's Christian Association July 5 to 10 on the Y. M. C. A. courts at Tenth and Columbia streets. The tournament will be for the championship in both singles and doubles and will be open to all members of the association. Entries are being received by P. H. Wyman, manager of the Y. M. C. A. Tennis Club.

Several valuable prizes will be offered. First prize in the singles will be a valuable gold medal donated by E. D. Inman. An $8 tennis racket will be the second prize, and it is probable a trophy will also be hung up for third honors. Valuable prizes are also to be given in the doubles.

The Y. M. C. A. has several very fast tennis players. It is expected that there will be at least eight strong teams in the doubles and that entries in the singles will number about 20. The Y. M. C. A. players are anxious to test their skill against tennis experts of Irvington and Multnomah clubs, and matches probably will be arranged after the association tournament is concluded.

Fairgrounds Interest. Not only did the large crowd witness a ball game, such as it was, but it saw the razing of part of the old Lewis and Clark Fair buildings. The Machinery building, which stood on the north of the field, was being torn down and the fans saw half of the whole building collapse. For a while it was a matter of conjecture whether the old shell had fallen or was torn down. The latter proved the case, however. Many of the fans were more interested in the fair grounds than in the game. Two innings of good ball playing were more than the players could stand for in a row. Then it was that Tom Seaton took on a wild streak and one hit, coupled with a bad boot by the umpire and three passes in succession chased two tallies over the rubber. Tom was not allowed to finish the inning and was chased in favor of Garrett, who disposed of the side and got along that rate for three innings, when he met his fate.

Brown Is Hit. The Texan hit Brown, or at least the umpire thought so, then he made a wild throw, letting in one tally. A single, a double and Hettling's boot put over the other three scores. In the last inning Garrett forgot to put his foot on the bag to receive Ort's toss of Stovall's dinky grounder. Two outs put the runner on third, from which post he scored by pilfering home under the very eyes of Garrett and Fisher. Garrett threw it about two yards wide of the plate and Stovall slid in with the last run without any hindrance from the opponents. The official score follows:

Tom Seaton Suffers Explosion in Third, Garrett Performs Wretchedly and Their Teammates Do Little but Heckle.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE. Yesterday's Results. Vernon 7, Portland 1. Los Angeles & Sacramento 4, Oakland & San Francisco 0. Standing of the Clubs.

Portland advocates of a safe and sane Fourth were given an awfully rude jolt yesterday afternoon on the Vaughtin-street diamond when the team under contract to Manager McCredie gave a wonderful pyrotechnical exhibition. It was supposed to be baseball and for the benefit of the fair ones, it being ladies' day. Anyway, the Brewers from the village of Vernon, under the leadership of one Hapless Hogan, trimmed Portland to a nicey, score 7 to 1.

Without any presentation speech, any banquet, or any untimely exhortation to the villagers, the big Tom Seaton presented the contest to the villagers in the third inning, when the big fellow forced in two runs, which would have been plenty for the brewers, but to make it more sure the Vernonties gathered in five more tallies.

Willitt Does Good Work. While Tom Seaton and Jesse Garrett, who relieved him in the third inning, were presenting the visiting players with walks, hits and white the Portland defense was booting and throwing the ball all over the lot. Roy Willett, incidentally a Portland discolor of last Spring, had the Beavers eating out of his hand. The ex-Portlanders allowed the local boys but three hits and not more than one in any one inning. One of these hits was made by Martinke, a Vernon cast-off, who plays the right garden for Manager McCredie.

Sulkiness on the part of some of the Portlanders gave dubious exhilaration to the pastime. Olson was the chief offender. His conduct proved to be contagious, for his manager, Walter McCredie, was plastered with a five dollar fine by the "Ump" and was also chased off the coaching line. It was all on account of a decision at first base, which could have been made the other way, so close was it. The umpire did seem a little off on balls and strikes.

Fairgrounds Interest. Not only did the large crowd witness a ball game, such as it was, but it saw the razing of part of the old Lewis and Clark Fair buildings.
