QUEER STORY TOLD

H. M. Lambert Says Another Shot Wife and Him.

INSANE OR CLEVER GAME?

Attitude of Man Seen Fatally to Shoot Wife and Seek Own Life Puzzles' Officials-Coroner's Jury Accuses Husband.

That Grace Allen Lambert came to her death by gunshot wounds inflicted by her husband, Harvey M. Lambert, and that the wounds were inflicted with mur-derous intent, was the verdict of a Coroner's jury which investigated yesterday afternoon the shooting of Mrs. Lambert at Woodlawn last Saturday. Lambert, the husband, who fired three shots into the body of his wife, narrowly escaped missing their child, whom she was carrying in her arms, and then at-tempted to kill himself by firing the gun directly over his heart, lies at St. Vin-cent's Hospital, convalescing and he stands an excellent chance of recovering.

Deputy District Attorney Garland went to the hospital yesterday to secure a statement from the alleged murderer. He found Lambert breathing with difficulty and weak from the loss of blood, but hopeful of his ultimate recovery.

Lambert told a queer story to the District Attorney. He persisted in denying all recoillection of the shooting and declared that he had been shot by Archie Travis, whom he blames for his estrangement from his wife. Lambert says that he went to Woodlawn with his wife. that he went to Woodlawn with his wife Saturday, with the view of getting her to come back and live with him. He to come back and live with him. He remembers hearing A. J. Turpin, whom they went to see, say "Bring those children over here," and the next thing he remembers is waking up in bed in the hespital. Even then, he says, he did not know that he was shot until so informed by the decitor. by the doctor.

Lambert knows that his wife is dead, and thinks that Travis shot her also. He admits having a revolver with him at Woodlawn, but does not explain why he woodlawn, our does not explain why he carried it. When Garland went to see him the first thing he asked was, "Are you a detective?" Later he inquired if Travis had been arrested and seemed surprised that such was not the case.

The fact that Lambert shot his wife is extablished by two direct avenuity asset.

established by two direct eye-witnesses and circumstantially by a large number of others. Whether Lambert's mind is affected, as indicated by his rambling statements, or whether he is playing a clever game with an eye to the jury that may try him for his origins the suffection. may try him for his crime, the authori-ties are at a loss to decide. The police watch over him continues and will be kept up until the prisoner's condition takes a decided turn one way or the

An information charging murder in the first degree was filed in Municipal Court yesterday and hearing on it will be con-tinued from day to day until Lambert's arraignment is possible or unnecessary.

ARGUMENTS ARE RECEIVED

Additional Day Granted, Because of Holiday.

SALEM, Or., July 5 .- (Special.)-Although time for filing affirmative argu-ments closed Monday night, Chief Clerk Corey of the Secretary of State's office decided that arguments received by mail today in favor of bills would be allowed to go in the pamphlet, inasmuch as yes terday was a legal holiday and the local Postoffice was closed. Consequently the affirmative argument of Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway for woman's suffrage, the argument for Deschutes County and the argument in favor of the Rogue River fisheries bill were accepted.

The initiative petition for the fisheries bill was also received today. The prin-cipal object of the proposed measure is to defeat the old Hume fishing right for stream. Rogue River people declare that the fishing right is detrimental to the best interests of their locality and assert that it is the cause of their losing many thousands of dollars annually.
