

TAFT URGES LOEB TO BE CANDIDATE

Visitor Does Not Want to Be Governor.

NOMINATION LIKELY, IS TOLD

Collector Leaves Impression He Will Run, if Necessary.

GENERAL POLITICS TOPIC

President and Customs Officer Believe Tariff Commission and Big Appropriation for Work Will Strengthen Republicans.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 11.—William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York, frankly told President Taft today that he would rather remain at his post in the customs service than to run for governor of New York this fall.

The president as frankly told Mr. Loeb that the Republican nomination seemed to be coming his way and that it would take more than a fishing trip to the Rocky Mountains to stop it.

The ex-secretary to President Roosevelt left Beverly Hills tonight for New York, leaving the impression here that it became necessary for him to take the Republican nomination he would do so and make a whirlwind campaign. General Discussion Had.

The mention of the New York situation was incidental to a talk on general politics between the president and Mr. Loeb. They were together this morning, before the president went to the Myopia links for a game of golf with Henry C. Frick, who lives near here, and they lunched together at John Hays Hammond's cottage in Gloucester.

After the luncheon, the talk continued. Mr. Taft was anxious to hear something of the situation as viewed by someone outside the immediate administration circles.

Mr. Taft is not interfering in the New York situation in any way. He and Mr. Loeb are close friends and whenever Mr. Loeb's name has been mentioned to the president in connection with the New York governorship, he always has enthusiastically approved the suggestion.

Support Counted On. Mr. Loeb has known this for some time. He has known that as far as he could legitimately do so, the president would bring all his influence to his support in anything he might undertake.

Mr. Taft believes Mr. Loeb probably would attract support from more elements of the party than would any other man. Aside from the New York situation, the tariff came in for a share of consideration at today's conference.

Both the president and Mr. Loeb believe that the tariff commission and the big appropriation for its work have wonderfully strengthened the hands of the Republicans and offer a common ground on which the factions of the party can meet.

Taft Is Anxious. It is said, is anxious that Colonel Roosevelt should make a careful study of the new law before committing himself in any way. The colonel undoubtedly has the insurgent view of the tariff pretty well drilled into him by Senators Beveridge, Brewster, La Follette and the others who have been to Sagamore Hill.

NO ONE WANTS JAP AND WHITE WIFE

DOORS CLOSED TO AOKIS WHEN THEY TRY TO RENT HOUSE.

Driven From Place to Place, American Girl and Her Child Take Refuge in Japanese Home.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 11.—(Special.)—Gunjiro Aoki and his bride, who was Miss Gladys Emery, daughter of Rev. John A. Emery, of San Francisco, archdeacon of the Episcopal diocese of California, have felt in Los Angeles the same force of public sentiment against intermarriage of white girls with Japanese that has met them wherever their wanderings have taken them since their wedding.

Compelled to give up their cottage which they rented on East Twenty-eighth street, the Aokis have hunted in vain for a suitable dwelling which they could rent, both here and at the beaches, only to meet rebuffs. They are still in Los Angeles, and it is believed that Aoki has been driven to take his white wife and their child to the home of a Japanese friend.

Two weeks ago a residence was rented at 236 East Twenty-eighth street by Aoki, his wife and Mrs. Emery. The Aokis were happy for a day or two in their little home, until the owner discovered their identity. The owner declared that it was to protect her property interests that she was compelled to order them to vacate the premises.

They went to another agent who conducted for them a vain hunt for a dwelling place. Saturday they went to Venice, where, it is rumored, they were turned away from place after place. Yesterday they came back to Los Angeles, and it is supposed took refuge with friends.

FIGHT FOR MINES KILLS

Montana's Oldest Pioneer Dies of Hardship—Early Trail-Blazer.

BUTTE, Mont., July 11.—(Special.)—Benjamin Parker Mason, aged 101, the oldest pioneer in Montana, died this morning as a result of hardship endured in an effort to keep mining property from being wrested from him. To the last, the aged trail-blazer believed his property would yield him a fortune.

Mr. Mason was born near Kenwood, W. Va., January 27, 1810. He came West during the stampede to Central City, Colorado, in 1852, with a large train of emigrants. He participated in the work of the Montana Vigilantes who hanged Sheriff Plummer and his band of seven road agents. Mr. Mason was a Democrat and his death was the only one who cast their votes for General Jackson in his Presidential campaign.

KANSAS BABES PARALYZED

Files Communicate Disease by Infection of Nose and Throat.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 11.—Four cases of infantile paralysis have been found in one family near Speed, Phillips County, Kan. Two of the patients died. Dr. J. S. Crumline, secretary of the State Board of Health, returned here from Phillips County, where he investigated the cases.

"It has been determined that the disease is communicated by infection of the throat and nose, and that it does not travel by air," said Dr. Crumline today. "It seems that it is carried on food, and that files have a great deal to do with its dissemination. The Board of Health has ordered a strict quarantine of the Phillips County cases."

CLOTHIER FIRES STORE

Calves' Bladders, Soaking in 50 Gallons of Oil, Found by Firemen.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 11.—Twenty-five calves' bladders, saturated with coal oil, were found by firemen in the second-hand clothing store of Albert Greenbaum on Second avenue South, in which a fire broke out last night, and Greenbaum was arrested today on a warrant charging arson. The fire was extinguished after $3000 damage had been done.

Fifty gallons of oil had been strewn about the store, the firemen say. One hundred men were sleeping in a lodging-house above the store, and if the fire had not been conquered, there must have been heavy loss of life.

W. L. CAPPS CAN'T AGREE, STEPS OUT

Resignation Accepted Promptly.

SECRETARY MEYER IS SILENT

Head of Construction Bureau Opposes New Policies.

30 YEARS' SERVICE IS SEEN

Bureau Chief Who Gives Up Position Is Entitled to Rank of Rear-Admiral by Virtue of Long Service in Office.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Washington Lee Capps, captain in the regular Naval establishment and Rear-Admiral by virtue of the fact that for nearly seven years he has been head of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, today tendered his resignation to take effect October 1. It has been accepted.

Neither Secretary Meyer nor Admiral Capps tonight would discuss the Admiral's sudden determination to retire from the service. Admiral Capps, before a Congressional court last winter, bitterly opposed the plans of Secretary Meyer for a reorganization of the Navy Department.

Capp Opposes New Policy.

In a formal statement issued tonight by the Navy Department, the situation growing out of the difference of opinion between the Secretary and the Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, was set forth as follows: "This action on the part of Chief Constructor Capps was prompted by the fact that he does not find himself, as stated in his application, in entire accord with certain details of the reorganization policy of the President and Mr. Meyer. Under these circumstances, Mr. Meyer deemed it for the best interests of the naval service to recommend that Mr. Capps' resignation be accepted and that he then be transferred to other duties."

New Position to Be Found.

Mr. Capps, it is said, will be assigned appropriate duty in accordance with his rank and experience. The chief constructor will have completed on October 1, 30 years of service in the Navy and thus be entitled to retirement with the rank of Rear-Admiral. In the mean time he will probably be sent on a tour of inspection to the West Coast or to the Philippines to compete the record of inspection work which he previously has done in that direction.

MAN HIT BY BALL IN COMA 20 HOURS

PORTLAND MAN HURT AT ABERDEEN IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Doctors Say Second Baseman of Montezano Team, Still in Stupor, Has Chance of Recovery.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 11.—(Special.)—Otto Moore, second baseman on the Montezano team in the Washington State League, who was struck on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Fletcher Harold Cross, of the Aberdeen team, during the Aberdeen-Montezano game here yesterday, is still unconscious and grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

Moore has been unconscious for more than 20 hours, the accident occurring at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Attending physicians say that the chances are all for the young man's recovery, but they say that his condition is serious. The accident occurred during the early part of the game. Moore, who was at bat, tried to dodge a swift ball hurled by Cross. But the ball, which was thrown at great speed and for a curve, was misjudged by Moore, and "broke" wrong, Moore stepping right into its path instead of out of the way of it. Moore's home is in Portland.

The sale of ice in Portland has been 100 per cent above normal during the last two days, while the consumption of ice cream and cooling drinks increased as the mercury rose in the little tub, till the amount is next to being incalculable. The official thermometer in the United States Weather Observatory yesterday registered a maximum of 90 degrees, seven degrees lower than Sunday, but the difference was hardly discernible because of a higher humidity than the day previous. The humidity Sunday was 26 per cent, while the barometer registered 34 per cent yesterday. There were 15 hours and 30 minutes of sunshine allotted for yesterday and the sun did not lose one second of the time. Ice Men, Only, Are Happy.

Collins witted just the same as they did Sunday and there were more of them, because it was a day of business and men did not have the opportunity to lounge around in imaginary cool places as on Sunday.

About the only individuals who did not mind the weather were the ice men. They smiled, mopped their brows the same as other people, but for them, the drops of perspiration resembled a shower of nuggets.

Ice tags dangled from windows and fluttering around veranda posts were like flags of distress beckoning the ice man for help. Deliveries were irregular because the demand was so great that the equipments of the ice companies were taxed far beyond their capacity.

From sunrise until 9 and 10 o'clock at night the ice man was busy. The business houses, hotels and restaurants were served first, then the residences. Telephone bells in the offices of the companies jingled all day, impatient customers demanded double quantities of ice. The ice companies (concluded on Page 2).

GULF COAST FEELS MOSQUITO SCOURGE

INSECTS DRIVE GAME TO LOWLANDS, KILL CATTLE.

Lumbermen Forced to Abandon Swamps—Dwellers in Summer Resorts Flee to Cities.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 11.—(Special.)—An unprecedented mosquito scourge has fallen on the Gulf coast country of Louisiana and Mississippi and the ravenous pests are driving hands from the fields and wild deer and other game from the swamps and woods into the open lands. Out in the rice belt yesterday herds of deer were seen to come from the woods and seek refuge in the open rice fields. Sawmills in the Calcasieu country have been forced to suspend and business has suffered because the woodmen and men in the swamps are unable to get out the timber on account of the mosquitoes. Stock is being killed in the low prairies bordering on the Gulf by the hordes of mosquitoes. They get into the nostrils of the animals and choke them.

Fashionable summer resorts on the Mississippi Sound are suffering because of the mosquito pests. Hundreds have returned to New Orleans to remain until the scourge abates. They are unable to find any comfort outside of the screened houses.

TREATY PUBLISHED JULY 13

Russo-Jap Agreement Given U. S. to Be Confidential Until Then.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Through the Japanese and Russian embassies here, the State Department today presented with the text of the Manchurian treaty signed on July 4 by Mr. Iswolski, Minister of Foreign Affairs, for Russia, and by Baron Montono, Ambassador to St. Petersburg, for Japan. The department was requested to regard the treaty as confidential until July 13, when it will be published throughout the world.

Much interest has been manifested in the treaty, particularly in the United States, principally as to its bearing on the Far-Eastern policies. This policy looks to commercial equality in Manchuria and for the neutralization of railways there. The department will give the treaty careful scrutiny with a view to seeing that American interests in the Far East are not militated against.

DR. HALL IS FOR SPANKING

President of Clark University Tells How to Rear Children.

GREELEY, Colo., July 11.—American children are not sufficiently spanked, declared Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., in an address here today. "I do not believe in too much flogging, but it should not be abolished," he asserted. "Americans protect their children too much and it makes them precocious and disrespectful. A little spanking now and then reinforces the moral purpose of the child."

The doctor defended laughing "until one falls from the chair and rolls under the table," getting angry, crying and dancing.

SPIES WATCH AT CHURCH

Prominent Divorcee's Marriage to Ralph Thomas Followed by Sensational Developments—Addison Mizner Made Guardian.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—Helen and Dorothy Gould, children of Frank J. Gould and Helen Kelly Gould, who was married to Ralph Thomas today, were taken away from their nurse and Addison Mizner appointed their special guardian for the day by the mother soon after the wedding.

They were taken in charge by private detectives in the employ of Miss Helen Miller Gould, to whose custody the children were to have been committed late this afternoon by an understanding between the parents. Before the wedding ceremony Miss Helen Gould's detectives were conspicuous about the church. They were at the time believed to be the agents of Frank Jay Gould.

After the ceremony, when the wedding guests were departing, the woman who seemed to be governess and Addison Mizner helped the two children into a taxicab and started away from the house. The detectives, after a hurried consultation, pushed one of their number into a touring car and set chase to the taxicab. They overhauled it several blocks from the house and one of the detectives waved a paper at the taxicab chauffeur. He pulled up and the children were transferred to the touring car, which went at rapid speed to Miss Helen Gould's home at Fifth avenue and Forty-seventh street. There they were transferred to a closed car belonging to Miss Gould and started uptown. It was said they were bound for Miss Helen Gould's home at Tarrytown. When Mrs. Helen Gould Kelly Thomas was informed over the telephone what had occurred she became very much excited and said:

"The detectives of Miss Gould have been watching me and my children for a week. They have followed us everywhere. The children were to have been turned over to Miss Gould this evening. I cannot understand such actions as these people have been guilty of."

Mrs. Eugene Kelly, grandmother of the children, was waiting for them at the Hotel Gotham when she was informed that they had been taken to Miss Gould's home by detectives. She said: "There is only one man in the world who would be guilty of such an outrage. There is only one man in the world who would be capable of such a seizure of children and your Frank Gould. If he has done this thing he shall pay for it, and pay dearly."

SUFFRAGE ISSUE IN HOUSE

Commons Will Take Vote After Debate of Two Days.

LONDON, July 11.—The first formal judgment to be passed by the House of Commons on the question of conferring the parliamentary franchise upon women is to be taken up tomorrow evening. The bill introduced by David James Shackleton, labor member for Lancashire, was brought up this afternoon, when Mr. Shackleton moved its second reading. Women already possess a municipal voice in England and about 1,000,000 would receive the parliamentary franchise if the bill passed, but the chances that the Government will concede time during the present session for a third reading are small. The debate will continue two days and a vote will be taken tomorrow evening.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 11.—(Special.)—Because more than half of the jurors subpoenaed for the July term of Superior Court have hay down, and desire to get it in, Judge McMaster excused four of them for one week. One juror said, "I am thankful I haven't any hay down, but I have a sawmill and you know the man looks after one's business so well as the man himself." He was excused.
