Submarine Bonita Rams Craft While Members of Crew Are Swimming.

VESSEL RUN ON TO BEACH

Gunboat Castine Badly Damaged Off Massachusetts Coast During Manuevers—No One Injured. Accident Is Unavoidable.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., July 11.—The gunboat Castine, flagship of the submarine flotilla, which was rammed by the submarine Bonita during the manuevers today, was beached to prevent her sinking. No one on board was injured. Two of the plates of the Castine were loosened. Parts of her boiler compartments are flooded, but the bulkheads are said to be holding firm.

The accident occurred during a mimic attack on the Castine by the submarine, the Bonita apparently miscalculating the distance and striking the gunboat with considerable force.

The men on both boats felt the impact and some were momentarily stunned, but no one was injured. The Bonita escaped with the slight denting of a portion of her armor and the loss of a small section of her railing.

As soon as it was seen how badly the Castine was damaged, she was beached on beach near North Truro. She will be thoroughly examined tomorrow and preparations will be made for repairing the damage.

The officers of the ships in collision will not discuss the accident. The so-called "attack" on the Castine was unexpected. Several members of the crew were in swimming when the Bonita suddenly rose beneath the gunboat and as she came up, scraped her whole length across the bottom of the Castine.

Water poured into the lower engine-room and the dynamo-room compartments of the Castine, flooding them and threatening to extinguish the fires. The doors of the water-tight compartments were closed and the Castine started full speed for shore. She reached the beach under her own steam and rested easily in shallow water. All the crew remained on board.

The Castine carried 80 men, commanded by Lieutenant Ralph A. Koch. The Bonita was under command of Ensign Brona Danenhofen and carried a crew of 18 men. The Castine is the tender for the third submarine division, made up of the submarines Bonita, Grayling, Narwhal, Snapper, Stingray and Tarpon.

The division commander is Lieutenant Donald C. Bingham.

The boats came here some time ago from Charleston to engage in submarine manuevers, the exact nature of which is kept an official secret.

At the time of the accident today not a submarine was in sight, and it was supposed that they were all out in the bay. The others did not return until two or three hours after the Bonita had struck the Castine.

The Castine was built in Bath, Me., and was launched in 1902. She is a twin screw, schooner rigged, steel vessel of 1177 tons displacement.

RIVER STEAMER SINKS

Blazing Mississippi Craft Lands Passengers, Then Goes Down.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The river steamer Cape Girardeau struck a snag and sank to the bottom of the Mississippi River early today at Turkey Island, 50 miles south of here. Ninety passengers were aboard and all were taken ashore safely.

The boat was returning from Commerce, Mo. Many of the passengers were women and children. They were asleep when the boat hit an obstruction. The alarm was given by William H. Leythe. The passengers crowded on the decks, and a number of the crew jumped overboard and were taken to shore. Later they were brought to St. Louis by train.

The Cape Girardeau was built in Gary, Ind., in 1899. She was 250 feet long and carried a crew of 45. The boat is owned by the Eagle Packet Company, of St. Louis.

Pilots John Scott and John Street, as soon as the boat hit the snag, headed the prow toward shore. The boat sank close to the bank of the river soon after the passengers left. One side was submerged.

The passengers walked from the boat on the gangplank.

On leaving, May 11, the steamboat City of Seattle struck a snag and went to the bottom of the river 15 miles below St. Louis. Twelve persons were drowned by the sinking of the boat.

WAGON SLOW TO RESPOND

Youth Suffers Agony While Awaiting Arrival of Ambulance.

H. Roberts, a young man employed as a dishwasher at the Rose City Restaurant, on North Sixth street, was suddenly attacked by an unknown maldy yesterday afternoon and taken to the police station.

The boy was unconscious at the time and it was at first thought that he was a victim of the heat. He revived after a time, in acute agony, and said that he suffered from an enlarged spleen.

An ambulance was called, but half an hour passed and it did not arrive. A second call brought the ambulance in a few minutes, when the driver said that he had received the call only a few minutes before.

Meanwhile, Roberts lay at the prison, groaning with pain, while only ineffective relief could be given him by the sympathetic officers. It is said by police officers that responses to ambulance calls have been extremely unsatisfactory in many cases of late.

BALLOT RECOUNT GRANTED

Dalzell Gains 7 Votes, Making His Plurality 204.

PITTSBURG, July 11.—The County Commissioners today granted the petition of Dr. R. J. Black for a recount of the ballots in the primary election of June 4, for the Thirtieth Congressional District, when Dr. Black opposed Congressman John Dalzell for the nomination.

The Commissioners had opened eight boxes two weeks ago before they were stopped by a court injunction. This injunction recently was modified and the petition asking that all the boxes be opened was filed.

The recounting began shortly after noon today. It is expected the work will be completed tomorrow. In the counting today, Dalzell gained 7 votes, making his plurality 204 instead of 197.

OPERATOR GETS BLAME

CONFLICTING ORDERS CAUSE OF BAD OHIO WRECK.

When Dispatcher Sees Mistake, He Rushes Dispatch to "Bust," But Too Late, He Confesses.

HAMILTON, O., July 11.—That conflicting orders giving two trains the right of way caused the wreck of July 4 at Middletown was admitted at the Coroner's inquest here today by Albert J. Smith, train dispatcher for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad at Dayton, O.

After trainmen and operators had told Coroner Burnett of the orders they had received that day and that official declared his belief that Smith was to blame for the 21 deaths, the latter took the stand.

"We were rushed with trains that day," he said. "I sent the Big Four passenger on from Dayton to Cincinnati, then after it started I figured I could save time in getting the freight to Dayton, so I tried to send an order to Carlisle to have the Big Four stop at Post Town and let the freight pass."

REST OVER, WORK BEGINS

Ex-President Drawn Into Thicket of Fight in New York Politics May Be Forced to Lead New "Progressive" Faction.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 11.—Theodore Roosevelt's four days of rest are over. Tomorrow he will turn from wood-chopping, haymaking and tennis playing to dip into practical politics once more.

In the morning he will go to his office in New York Governor Hughes will motor to Sagamore Hill tomorrow, arriving about 6:30 P. M., as the guest of Mr. Roosevelt. Colonel Roosevelt played tennis for a time today and denied himself to callers.

Tomorrow's conference with Governor Hughes is to be concerned primarily with New York State politics with particular reference to the formulation of a plan for enacting direct nomination legislation. It has been pointed out that the enactment of the Cobb direct nominations bill will be a task worthy of the prowess of the ex-President.

Since Colonel Roosevelt has thrown himself into the thick of the fight, and since Governor Hughes has shown no intention of relinquishing his place on the Supreme Court bench to run for re-election, the deduction is made that, with the Governor out of it, the Colonel will be compelled to conduct the fight that he has made his own, by becoming in person the active leader of the so-called progressive Republicans of the state.

It is regarded as probable that no formal statement will be issued as to the inward character of tomorrow's conference. Whatever passes between the two men, it is assumed that out of the meeting will be born a definite policy.

An appeal for help was made to Colonel Roosevelt by John Nelson of Richmond Hill, L. I., who was injured while at work on the Panama canal. Nelson was in the hospital several weeks and upon being discharged, he said, was informed that he would not be taken back. So he returned to his home and this morning came to Oyster Bay to lay the case before Colonel Roosevelt and ask his help in getting back his place.

The Colonel was too busy to hear his whole story and asked Nelson to call tomorrow at his editorial offices in New York.

The Colonel has received many similar appeals for help. Several months ago Nelson appealed to President Taft.

NO APPOINTMENT IS MADE

Roosevelt Says He Will Not Confer With Loeb About Governorship.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Theodore Roosevelt and William Loeb, Jr., have no appointment for a conference on the gubernatorial situation, nor have Mr. Loeb been present at the appointments for such a conference. Colonel Roosevelt, at Sagamore Hill, tonight, declined to comment on the probability of Mr. Loeb's being a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

"I have nothing to say," he said when questioned. "And I have no appointment to see Mr. Loeb in the near future. We had luncheon together last Wednesday."

BOARD MEETS THIS MONTH

Army Engineers to Take Up Work on Irrigation Projects.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—General William Marshall, retired, formerly chief engineer of the Army, who recently was appointed consulting engineer of the Secretary of the Interior for the Reclamation Service, has returned to Washington after a brief vacation.

The board of five Army engineers appointed by authority of Congress to advise the President in the expenditure of the $20,000,000 issue of certificates of indebtedness will meet here this month. At the meeting plans for the prosecution of irrigation work will be formulated. Dr. Newell, of the Reclamation Service, called on General Marshall today, but declined to discuss the work, that they did not go deeply into the situation.

General Marshall believed, in view of the President's desire to expedite the work, that the board would divide into two or more parties and operate in assigned districts.

PASADENA, Cal., July 11.—Dr. James Ward of San Francisco, president of the American Institute of Homeopathy, today delivered the opening address to 300 delegates at the annual convention which began its sessions here.

He announced that the first year of the institute as an incorporated body was eminently satisfactory. He recommended the appointment of a general field secretary, who would give his entire time to promoting the interests of homeopathy; also that voting members of the institute should be residents of the United States and Canada only; that homeopathy colleges should go after larger endowments.

He suggested many minor changes in the by-laws and that life insurance should be given special attention by homeopathic physicians.

FIVE BIDS ARE RECEIVED

Contract for Vale Water and Sewer Systems to Be Let Soon.

VALE, Or., July 11.—(Special.)—Bonds were voted several weeks ago for water and sewerage for Vale. The bonds voted are for $75,000. This week, a meeting of the people was called at the Court House to discuss the system. Several contractors were here to bid on the system. The matter of a gravity system was discouraged on account of the cost, it being estimated to exceed $100,000 for water and sewerage combined. A pumping plant reduces the cost to about $50,000. Friday, bids were received and opened as follows: Hardin Construction Company, $65,732; McQuatters, $67,318; Pirost & Vialsky, $68,285; American Light and Water Company, $63,490; T. S. Shepperd,

Peace Judge and the Justice of the Peace told him to swear out a warrant, which he did not do. The following morning, he went to the train and as Toney was attempting to board it tried to arrest him. Hoffman alleged today that he believed that he had power to arrest Toney. One shot was fired. There is a dispute as to whether the bullet struck Toney or Toney struck his hand on glass.

A peculiar circumstance in connection with the matter comes from the fact that these different contracting firms had their men here the afternoon of July 7, to be on hand to bid the day following. Besides them, the bonding concern was represented by an agent and the city engineer was present. Those assembled decided that there was nothing against receiving bids in the charter and were in favor of letting the concerns present go ahead and bid.

He attempted to secure Toney's arrest one night, but the Police Judge and the Justice of the Peace told him to swear out a warrant, which he did not do. The following morning, he went to the train and as Toney was attempting to board it tried to arrest him. Hoffman alleged today that he believed that he had power to arrest Toney. One shot was fired.
