AUTO KNOCKS DOWN MAN.—Automobile o. 3163 passed the corner of Sixth and ak streets at 9:30 o'clock Saturday Oak streets at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night at a high rate of speed and knocked down an aged man who was in the way. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morrison, of 348 Yamhill street, were also in the path of the machine and had a narrow escape from being run over. They reported the incident to Police Sergeant Goltz and told him that they would appear as withesses. They said the machine was crowded with all the riders it could hold. After knocking the old man could hold. After knecking the old man down it did not stop, but continued at increased speed. The victim was not much injured and his name was not learned by the officers. The automobile is registered as the property of W. L. Kelley, of 371½ East Burnside street.

DEAD" COUPLE MUCH ALIVE. Sam gers and wife, who conducted a con-tionery store in the burned Exposition fectionery store in the burned Exposition building and were reported to have lost their lives in the fire, are alive, well, and established in business at a new place. Seeing the report of their death in a local paper, a friend in this city communicated with a man named Jack, a former partner of Rogers' at Roseburg. Jack said he saw Rogers on Saturday and that he and his wife had opened a new store near the Good Samaritan Hospital. No conclusive evidence has yet been secured to show dence has yet been secured to show that more than two persons were burned to death in the big conflagration.

John Mathieson Coming Home.—John Mathieson and family, who have been touring through Germany and other portions of Europe for the past several months by auto, are now on the ocean bound for America. He wrote his friend Otto Kleemann a few days ago that he was finishing up his trip and that within three days would be on the return homeward. Mr. Mathieson sent a number of photographs of scenes and buildings familiar to Mr. Kleemann when he was a boy in the old country. Among these JOHN MATHIESON COMING HOME.-John boy in the old country. Among these pletures was one of Mr. Kleemann's old home which he left many years ago when he started for the United States.

CLUB WILL CONSIDER WATER QUESTION.

The Kenilworth Improvement Club will hold a meeting tonight in the Kenilworth Presbyterian Church to consider the water famine situation in that part of the city. R. D. Merchant, the president, said yesterday that a large number of the people on the highest grounds do not get water enough for any purpose and at times many people have no water at all. He says that there has not been any improvement so far, and that the conditions are almost intolerable. "The people down here," said Mr. Merchant,

WEARY OF LIFE, GIRL TAKES ACID.—
Weary of a life on the edge of the underworld, Ida Appel, a young woman, drank a large quantity of carbolic acid in her room at the Drexel Hotel, Second and Yamhill streets, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and died less than an hour later on the way to a hospital. The suicide was 24 years old. She was a foster-daughter of Samuel S. Appel, a real estate dealer, of SS Strong street, University Park, but had not lived at home for some time. She had made several previous attempts to take her life by the same method. There will be no inquest.

same method. There will be no inquest. New Mountain Trail. Built.—Frank Ewing, who is connected with the Southern Pacific work at the mouth of Fish Creek and the Clackamas River above Electrocka, says that a trail will soon be completed from the mouth of the North Fork of the Clackamas River to Roaring River. This trail is being built for the use of the men employed by the railroad company. Engineer Blockley, in charge, however, says that the trail is private and the public will not be allowed to use it, as there is great danger from blasting.

ger from blasting.

PEDDLER DRIVES INTO CROWD.—Determined to drive his horse on a trot through a crowd of pedestrians, Sam Donn, a peddler, disregarded the signals of Patrolman Leavens and was arrested. Even after the officer had stopped him he kept yelling for the crowd to get out of his way. The incident occurred at East Water and East Morrison streets Saturday evening.

CRIME IS ON INCREASE

SETTLEMENT WORKER BLAMES PARENTS OF TODAY.

That White-Slave Traffic Flourishes in Portland Is Charged-Courts and Churches Are Scored.

That delinquency in the home, in parents, in public officers, in the courts and the church is mainly responsible for the ruin of thousands of young men and young women, was the declaration of W. G. McLaren, of the Portland Commons Settlement, in his address yesterday in the Grand-Avenue Pres-yesterday in the Grand-Avenue Presbyterian Church of the Strangers.

"Man's inhumanity to man makes countless numbers to mourn," said Mr. McLaren. "and if you of this congregation could see what I am brought into contact with daily you would appreciate what that means. Hundreds want to do better, but they cannot. Surrounded by luxury, men and women fail to learn about these unfortunate people who have fallen and forget about them.

"Through delinquency crime is on the

"Through delinquency crime is on the increase. Every day mothers call us up by telephone and ask us to look after their absent daughters. That is through the delinquency of mothers themselves. There are 1620 in the Oregon Insane Asylum, 455 in the penitentary and 175 boys in the reform school. office a corner cigar store was found to be a procurer station for young girls. They went to this store and then disappeared.

"The white slave traffic flourishes in Portland. Only recently we traced five young girls who came from homes in Arieta and Woodlawn. A beautiful young woman, cashier in a Portland store, formed acquaintance with a well-dressed, refined-appearing young man and the relations were encouraged by the parents. One day the girl disappeared, sending word that she was going to spend the night with a friend. The frantic parents called upon us to find her. After several days' searching we located her at the Twelve-Mile House on the Base Line road. At first the clerk said no such a person was there, but with the uncle of the girl we went there in an auto. The men in charge but with the uncle of the girl we went there in an auto. The men in charge declared there was no such a person there. I pulled the bell that hangs over the building, which calls in those on the grounds, and soon this lost daughter came. I told her that she was with a married man, and she wept hitter teams of removes. The white bitter tears of remorse. The white slave traffic goes on here in Portland and every daughter should have the watchful care of her parents at all times. There are the theaters and the lodging-houses, where girls are lured to their ruin. We need consecrated Christian men and women to help save these people."

REV. T. CARAHER ARRIVES

"By 1915 San Francisco will have been entirely rebuilt and in position to entertain the gathering. It ought to come there for the main reason that our city is an old Spanish possession, the paron saint being Saint Assisi, and our people are closely allied with the Spanish-speaking people of Central America. Tradition and race connection will weigh heavily on our side. I intend to urge the big men of the Hibernian convention to line up for San Francisco."

Threat of William Frank to End Life, Made Good.

BODY LIES IN CITY PARK

Discovery Is Made After Authorities, Acting on Letters Received Five Days Ago, Had Given Up Search for Remains.

Almost five days after William Frank wrote letters telling of his intention to kill himself in the City Park, his body, ravaged by exposure, was found yester Thousands of Sunday visitors wandered, oblivious, through the park, and the band played merrily while the Coroner's men were picking up the body only a short distance away.

Frank made careful preparations for his deed. He first spread newspapers on the ground and lay down upon them, resting his head in the fork of a bush, then placed the revolver to his right temple and fired.

The spot where the suicide was committed is secluded and covered with brush. It is on Parkside Hill, west of the park, and the delay in discovering the remains is due to the misdirections given by Frank in letters written the day before the suicide.

Stranger Makes Find.

Park Policeman Rufus Gibbs was going about his duties yesterday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, when a stranger who had been wandering on the hillside rushed up to him in great excitement and said that a man lay dead or asleep on the hill. The Coroner was notified.

The discovery of Frank's body came after the complete abandonment of the search for it and when the authorities were about convinced that the man had made but an idle threat.

In the pockets of the dead man were found $17.50 in money, a membership card in the Carpenters' Union, a check for $3.50 and the card of Vivian Markwood, the girl on account of whom, Frank is supposed to have killed himself. Park Policeman Rufus Gibbs was going

The first intimation of Frank's inten The tirst intimation of Frank's inten-tion to kill himself came last Wednes-day, when letters from him were re-ceived by his landlady, Mrs. E. W. Pa-get, 266 Twelfth street, by Miss Vivlan Markwood, 1006 Michigan avenue, by a member of the union to which Frank belonged, and by Coroner Ben Norden. Each of the letters said that the writer would commit suicide Tuesday night a the City Park. In his letter to Miss Markwood, Frank intimated that disap-pointment in his courtship of her was the motive. Miss Markwood explains the motive. Miss Markwood explains that he had been attentive to her for a year, but that she told him that he was too old, he being about 45 years of age and she about 19. She says that he seemed never to recover from this disappointment.

Frank asked that a brother living a Kallspel, Mont., be notified of his death. He said that he himself was a native of Winona, Minn., and had relatives there. The brother has been communicated with by the Coroner.

DR. C. A. DUNIWAY HERE

Visits Relatives.

Dr. C. A. Duniway, president of the University of Montana, arrived in the city yesterday after an absence in the East of several weeks and will re-main a few days to visit relatives and renew acquaintances of his boyhood days. Dr. Duniway attended the ses-sions of the National Educational Association meeting, which was held at Boston, Mass., from July 2 to July 8. Dr. Duniway said the sessions were highly interesting and were attended by prominent educators from all parts of the United States. The work of the departmental sessions, however, proved the most interesting to Mr. Duniway as special subjects were treated that conform to his ideas of educational methods. Considerable emphasis in the departmental sessions was given in vocational training as applied in the secondary schools, he said. In secondary education the plea was made that the high schools of the country should be freed from the dominating influences of the colleges, and that methods should be adopted that especially meet the needs of the schools of each locality. ## NAVY SAFE FROM ABOVE

COMMANDER BLUE SEES LITTLE MENACE IN AEROPLANE.

Submarine Real Present Danger, but Means of Defense Are Perfected as Airship Is Developed.

Commander Victor Blue, of the gun-Commander Victor Blue, of the gun-boat Yorktown, which is lying in the Willamette River, near the Ainsworth dock, does not have much faith in the aeroplanes as a fighting machine. "What we must watch out for are the submarines," said Commander Blue, and not the airships. A dirigible bal-iloon as a fighting machine is out of the question, because it is big bungle-some, and a target that could not be missed, while the aeroplane is a new invention and cannot carry enough exmissed, while the aeroplane is a new invention and cannot carry enough explosives to de damage to a warship, even if it should succeed in dropping a shell on deck. When we have aeroplanes that will carry tonnage, then the navy might be in danger. The aeroplane of today cannot carry explosives enough to sink a warship, and it will be many years before they will attain that perfection.

"While you are talking about what

While you are talking about what an airship might do, you must remem-ber what the warship might do. A screen target, 20 by 30 feet, is hit by 60 per cent of shots fired by vessels going at full speed. The rapid-fire guns going at full speed. The rapid-fire guns on board a warship could be trained with deadly effect upon an aeroplane and the air would be so full of shells that nothing could live.

"What worries us now is the submarine and it will continue to worry the Navy for many years to come. The submarine is a dangerous vessel. It can sneak up on a warship when an aeroplane could not.

"Again, while you talk of aeroplanes.

aeropiane could not.

"Again, while you talk of aeroplanes, it should be remembered that guns and means of defense will be perfected as the airship is developed, and I have no doubt that, by the time the aeroplane becomes a menace to the Navy, there will be ample means of defense. These will be ample means of defense. These discussions should be considered from all sides, and when you analyze the efficiency of the aeroplane as a fighting machine, it doesn't amount to much, at present, at least."

THE EXPENDITURE OF $1,000,000.00

$1,000,000.00 was expended by The Portland Commercial Club and other Oregon communities in the past three years in direct advertising for the purpose of inviting immigration to Oregon.

It Certainly Is Sound Logic that after the immigrant has been educated to believe what we tell him and he becomes part of Oregon's Commonwealth we should give his product preference over the product of other states. That keeps money in Oregon and helps in upbuilding a Greater

The Men Who Are Loyal to the Best Interests of Oregon Always Give "Oregon Made" Preference Over the Outside

Life insurance premiums take more than $2,000,000.00 out of Oregon every year. A portion of this is returned in payment of death losses and dividends, but more than $14,000,000.00 life insurance money from Oregon is now held in trust by outside companies. Some of this is loaned out in Oregon, but when interest on the loans is paid it goes to enrich Wall Street at the expense of Oregonians.
