LATERALS COST MORE THAN ESTIMATED.—Laterals now being laid in the Brooklyn sewer district are all costing from 30 to 50 per cent more than the property owners were given to understand at the time the main conduits were laid. At that time it was estimated that the cost of the main tubes and laterals would be from $60 to $70 per lot, but the average cost is $100 and over. In some places the cost of laterals, as in Furer's Addition, runs up to $80 outside of the first assessment for the main tubes, but this was unsual. The high cost of these laterals is attributed to two reasons. It was decided to lay connecting pipes to the curb at all the lots so that the owner could connect at the curb instead of laying his pipe out to the lateral. This makes the cost much more for the laterals, but reduces the cost to the owners of connecting to the laterals. Another reason given for the increased cost of laterals is that all the pipe comes from the sewer trust. All the pipe laid so far is terra cotta and no cement pipe has been laid.

YOUTH UNREPENTANT IN COURT.—A muttered remark that Judge Bennett was prolonging his case to get more money out of it came near costing Raymond Swyney dear when he came up for sentence yesterday morning. The boy, who is only 18 years old, was arrested for a second offense. His father appeared to plead for him yesterday, but had a hard time persuading the court. "This young man shows no repentance," said Judge Bennett, "and it is only a question of time until he lands in the penitentiary. I am going to dismiss from my mind the insult he offered this court, and will release him out of consideration for the father and mother."

MOTHER-IN-LAW IS BEATEN.—G. Royal was so stimulated by intoxicants Thursday night that he felt equal to whipping his mother-in-law. He went to his home, at Sixth and Belmont streets, at 1 o'clock in the morning and gave the woman a beating. An hour later he came back and tried to finish the disciplining of his mother-in-law. Patrolman Pressey caught him and Royal put up a fight. He was subdued and taken to the police station. It was his third or fourth appearance in Police Court recently, on the last previous occasion the abused mother-in-law having interceded for him. Judge Bennett gave him 60 days.

GIRL SENT TO REFORMATORY.—Ninety days at the Home of the Good Shepherd was the sentence given yesterday to Mabel Gilfallen by Judge Bennett. The girl was arrested several days ago by Patrolmen Humphries and Montgomery, in company with Clifford Hall, a boy 19 years old. Hall was paroled in the custody of his father after a severe warning from the judge. The girl swooned in the courtroom when she heard Judge Bennett say that he would consider sending Hall to the penitentiary.

PAVEMENT TO BE LAID.—Hard-surface pavement will be laid on East Twenty-eighth street, between East Stark street, and the reinforced concrete bridge across Sullivan's Gulch will be laid at an estimated cost of $52,979. Bitulithic pavement will laid. It will be part of the hard-surface district now being improved between East Gilsan and East Burnside streets. Also north of Sullivan's Gulch, a hard-surface pavement will be put down to a connection with the concrete bridge.

LIQUOR SELLER DRAWS FINE.—A fine of $100 was imposed in Police Court yesterday upon C. Nardini for selling liquor without a license. Nardini, an Italian boarding-house keeper, was arrested several weeks ago, after several men had been seen going into his place and drinking. He was tried before a jury Thursday afternoon and found guilty. The case will probably be appealed.

WOOSTER'S for notions, 408 Wash. :

RETIRING PASTOR HONORED.—Rev. Owe Hagoes, who has resigned the pastorate of the Scandinavian Lutheran Church, East Tenth and East Grant streets, was honored Thursday night by the unannounced gathering of the congregation at the church and the presentation of a purse of $300 to the retiring pastor. Rev. Mr. Hagoes was taken by surprise, but was highly gratified at the substantial expression of the good will of the church. He will deliver his farewell sermons Sunday and leave Monday for Rugby, N. D. He has been pastor of the Portland Church nine years. Rev. Thomas Nelson, a prominent minister of Ridgemont, Ia., has been extended a call to the Portland church and has the offer under consideration. It is expected that he will accept. Rev. Mr. Nelson is considered the leading minister of the Scandinavian Lutheran Church, and the Portland congregation is anxious to secure him as pastor. Meanwhile, Rev. O. M. Holden will supply the pulpit temporarially.

OFFENDING DOG SENT AWAY.—Dr. Munger's dog tore the family wash from Mrs. Goodwin's clothesline and Mrs. Goodwin reported the incident to police headquarters. Patrolman Amundson was sent to 526 Borthwick street, the home of the complainant and made an investigation. Dr. Munger, who lives at 536 Borthwick street, said that he would send the dog to the country, where he would do no more mischief to the neighbors' clotheslines. Amundson reported that the case was just the latest development in a neighborhood feud of long standing. No arrests were made.

TWENTY-SECOND STREET STILL CLOSED.—East Twenty-second street south from Powell to the Southern Pacific carshops, which was ordered opened several months ago, is still closed and the gardeners have cultivated one-half the street. The west half was opened by the property owners on that side and the east half was condemned and ordered opened, but the fence is still there. However, a resolution will be introduced at the next meeting of the Council instructing the City Engineer to remove the fences and open the street.

ONLY IMPROPER SCALES CONFESSED.—L. H. Kayser wishes it said that he did not plead guilty in Police Court to selling short-weight ice. He confessed to running a wagon not properly provided with scales. Inspector Buchtel told the court that the ice delivered from the wagon was short in weight, but Mr. Kayser says that that was the fault of the driver. He entered a plea of guilty in order that the driver should not be interruped in his day's work.

BRIDGEWORKER ARRESTED.—Peter W. Klinsich, a bridgeworker employed on the new O. R. & N. Railroad bridge, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Day and Hyde, charged with stealing a watch from F. Barber, a fellow-laborer. The timepiece was taken from Barber's pocket while he was at work on the bridge, several weeks ago. The case was reported to the detectives yesterday and the watch was found in Klinsich's room.

NEW BRIDGE ADVOCATED

SOUTH EAST SIDE FAVORS ELLSWORTH-STREET TERMINAL.

Conference With South Portland Boosters' Club Proposed--Permanent Water System Urged.

A project to erect a new high bridge for South Portland and the South East Side was launched at the meeting of the Brooklyn Improvement Association Thursday night. The association took steps to give definite form to the agitation that has been carried on for the past year by the appointment of a campaign committee to confer with other organizations and with the South Portland Boosters' Club. The association voted unanimously in favor of making Ellsworth street on the East Side the landing, to avoid the obstacles interposed by the Inman-Poulsen Company, which threatens to fight the project if the approach should pass through the company's property or ship docks. Ellsworth street also will clear all cartracks.

Division street had been suggested by the South Portland Boosters' Club, but it was considered unsuited. Ellsworth is a short street, and the association decided that it would be necessary to extend it into Powell street and to make Powell street 60 feet wide to East Twenty-first. To make this extension it will be necessary to condemn some property between Ellsworth and Powell streets, but assurances were given that this could be accomplished easily. A. L. Barbur, City Auditor, in speaking of the project said:

"The main object now is to get the construction of this bridge authorized and the streets leading to the approach can be arranged for afterwards. I think that the City Council will give the people an opportunity to vote on the question at the next election and we shall not need to resort to an initiative petition to get to vote on it."

A. L. Barbur, J. H. Hovedgaard, Erman H. Wandall, M. O. Ballard and G. Krause were appointed a special committee to attend the next meeting of the South Portland Boosters' Club and arrange for a campaign agitation for the bridge. L. S. Daue, the president, will act with the committee.

It was the sentiment of the meeting that if another bridge is built it should be high enough to enable all craft except sea-going vessels to pass under without opening the draw, and it was thought that the landings selected will permit this.

The association unanimously indorsed the plan proposed by the Seventh Ward Improvement League to put down a complete system of water pipes through the district that will supply water for the next 10 years and the policy of laying temporary reinforcing mains was condemned.

L. S. Daue said that the present policy of the Water Committee was not to consider the growth of the city but to provide for actual present needs without regard for future growth, a policy which he declared would have to be abandoned. Mr. Barbur declared that it would be economy to prepare a complete system of mains and then assess the entire district benefitted.

"The present plan to lay a reinforcing main to Holgate street and connect with the main in Milwaukie street for the relief of Sellwood," said Mr. Barbur, "will not meet the conditions. For the payment for this main all the territory to the Willamette River from East Twenty-sixth street and Sellwood will be assessed. The cost per lot will be small but there will still be large territory unsupplied. I believe the right way is to put in a complete system of water mains and assess all the territory to pay for the mains. The policy of forming a little arbitrary district and making the people pay is wrong. Let us have all the mains laid at once to answer for the future and make one assessment."

A special committee was appointed to confer with the clubs about insisting upon a complete system of water mains for the South East Side.

CHORUS GIRLS WIN

Armstrong Company to Remain for Mahr Benefit.

MANAGER AVOIDS STRIKE

Pretty Members of Musical Troupe Just Won't Go to Vancouver, So Conference Is Held and New Plans Made.

Edward Armstrong, manager of the Armstrong Musical Comedy Company, averted a strike of his pretty chorus girls yesterday by consenting to cancel their engagement at Vancouver, B. C., which was scheduled to have begun next Monday, and allow them to remain here for the Miss Mahr benefit.

Long before Miss Mahr met with her unfortunate accident plans had been made for the Armstrong company playing in Vancouver, B. C., to change with the company here, next Monday. The "paper" is out and the press agents in Portland and Vancouver have said a lot of things about "new faces."

What the chorus girls thought of the change on the eve of the big benefit none of them disclosed until yesterday, when Armstrong said something about starting for Vancouver immediately after the last performance Sunday night. Pretty mouths puckered and one girl stamped her little foot and said:

"I won't go."

"Nor I," echoed the chorus.

"We're not going till after Marjorie's benefit," volunteered the leader, "so there, now."

Armstrong Calls Conference.

Armstrong scratched his head as he viewed the array of bright costumes and determined faces, and incidentally noted that Mrs. Armstrong was on the side of the strikers. He retreated and motioned to Dillon, the Irishman, and King, the Jew, to follow him into the office for consultation. The trio put their heads together to devise means to undo the work of the press agents.

"What are we going to do about it?" grinned Armstrong.

"Never tell a woman what to do?" cautioned Dillon.

"I'll leave it to you," said King.

"It would be a shame to take the girls away," said Armstrong. Then he went back of the scenes. He met his wife's gaze and his knees knocked together.

"You win," said Armstrong, with a wave of the hand.

Then he hastened to pack his grip and took the first train for Vancouver to straighten out matters there, so the chorus to which Miss Mahr belonged, could stay in Portland for the benefit.

The chorus girls have obtained permission to sell tickets at the baseball park again Sunday afternoon before the game.

Among the many letters received by Miss Mahr yesterday was one from Charles A. Runyon, inclosing $5. The letter read:

"Here is a slight token of my appreciation of a hopeful spirit. The world takes off its hat to a cheerful loser, and humanity always comes to the rescue. That you may remain long in the land is my sincere wish."

Mrs. James McI. Wood, one of the society patronesses of the benefit, yesterday turned over a check for $100, donated by the heirs of the Weinhard estate, given through Mrs. Henry Weinhard.

Lipman, Wolfe & Co. donated $25.

Visiting Ball Team Donates.

Captain Ernest Mohler, of the San Francisco baseball club, last night turned over to the sporting editor of The Oregonian $15 as the contribution of the members of the San Francisco team to be devoted to the benefit fund being raised for Miss Marjorie Mahr.

The Seal leader was apprised of the campaign for raising funds for the unfortunate young actress Friday night, and immediately mentioned the affair to Nick Williams and Harry Sutor, two of his teammates, and the boys immediately suggested that every man on the team chip in for the relief of the girl. Without the slightest hesitancy each man on the visiting club put in his share, and, in turning over the money, Captain Mohler said: "I'm only sorry it is not $1500. It is in a good cause and helps a deserving young lady."

The fund up to date is as follows:

SHOW Y. M. C. A.'S GROWTH

Annual Publication Reflects Progress of Portland Association.

Expansion of the Portland Young Men's Christian Association is reflected by the annual publication, a handsome 32-page booklet, just issued. This booklet sets forth the work of all departments of the association, in each of which new features are included. The publication is handsomely illustrated with pictures of classes in the educational department, gymnasium and swimming scenes, religious meetings and other association activities. One of the features is a cartoon illustrating the Y. M. C. A.'s welcome to young men who are strangers in Portland.

The present scope of the association's work is reflected by the following summary printed on the first page of the booklet:

Three thousand, two hundred and seventy-two members.

The largest school for young men in the state (1000 different students).

The largest athletic organization west of Chicago, over 1300 men and boys participating.

A Bible school with over 1000 students.

A building where 267 men live.

A boys' organization of 600 members.

From 50 to 100 classes, meetings and gatherings take place each week day during the busy season.

But more than all the above, the association is a religious, educational and altruistic center to oppose all that is evil and stand for all that is good in the city.

Pioneer Woman Dies at Albany.

ALBANY, Or., July 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Phoebe M. Althouse, resident of Albany continuously for 56 years, died today at her home in this city at the age of 80 years. Born in New York, she married in 1854 and came to Oregon that year by way of the Isthmus of Panama, residing in Albany ever since. She was a member and one of the organizers of the Congregational Church in this city. Her husband died in 1888. She is survived by four children: Mrs. H. F. Merrill and Misses Mary, Anna and Katherine Althouse, all of Albany.

"Good Wine Needs No Bush"

In this little space, on three days of each week—Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, we have been telling the readers of The Oregonian something about Banner Acres. We have been trying to educate you, to convince you beyond a peradventure, that Banner Acres is the best acreage buy on the Portland market. We might have done this by using pages and half pages in the daily papers, and "loading" the property from ten to twenty dollars an acre to pay for such advertising. But we are selling Banner Acres at a cost of less than TWO DOLLARS PER ACRE for advertising expense, for the very reason that to see the land is to buy—if you are seeking acreage for a home or an investment. Our prices are $160 to $160 per acre, and there is no such other bargain in this market.

WHEAT IS HEADING WELL

Umatilla's Crop Will Equal Last Year's, Growers Believe.

Thomas Thompson, an extensive wheat-grower of Umatilla County, has been in the city this week from Pendleton. Mr. Thompson said yesterday that this season's wheat crop for Umatilla County had been underestimated and that he believed that the output would be fully as large as it was last year. The total crop of the county will be about 5,900,000 bushels.

Mr. Thompson said that there was less straw this year than usual and for that reason the farmers earlier in the season believed that the crop would fall short. However, the grain headed well and the kernels are plump, there being but little shrinkage. The crop, as a whole, will be of first-grade, said Mr. Thompson.
