

POINDEXSTER CASE AROUSES LEADERS

Possibility of His Getting Democratic Assistance Is Opposed.

COTTERILL IS PROTESTING

Republicans Say That If Candidate for Senator Is Indorsed Through Help of Other Side, Legislators Need Not Vote for Him.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 25.—(Special.)—The possibility that Miles Poindester, insurgent candidate for Senator, will receive Democratic support at the September primary has aroused the opposition of leaders of both parties. Republicans have gone so far as to say that if the insurgent secures indorsement through Democratic votes, the legislators will not feel bound to vote for him. A notable instance is the attitude of Senator Arvid Rydstrom, of Pierce, who has declared emphatically that no insurgent could get his support, no matter how the indorsement as a Republican might be obtained. Democrats are taking the same ground. When George E. Cotterill, of Seattle, filed as a Democrat for the Senatorial indorsement, he issued an address to members of his party throughout the state. Cotterill has heretofore defined his politics as adherence to the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy and Lincoln Republicanism. At the same time, he is unalterably opposed to any member of the Democratic party calling for a Republican ballot at the primary in order to vote for Poindester.

He insists that unless Democrats file for legislative nominations, and Democrats call for Democratic ballots and nominate the primary, there can be no possibility of success. Full opposition to the Republicans. He states the case thus:

Cotterill Makes Protest.

"We would have no names on the official ballot in most of the legislative districts than two methods of putting names on the official ballot would be practicable either for Democrats or for Republicans who would desire Poindester's vote. Regular Republican nominees for the Legislature, openly rejecting and repudiating Poindester's nomination, would be elected in November. In order to engage in a "loaded-dice" Republican primary in September."

Advocates of direct legislation have been hurling darts at Governor M. E. Hay, on account of expressions used by him in a recent speech at Tacoma. Christopher W. Horr, executive secretary of the Direct Legislation League of the state, takes exception to the following utterance of the Governor:

"There are those who now advocate a return to the methods of barbarism—they would have us, who are in the midst of highly organized civilization, attempt to govern our people by a method that met the needs of a simple, pastoral and barbaric age."

Mr. Horr criticizes the nomination of Supreme Court Judge in a campaign as a betrayal of the people's interests, and declares that direct legislation is the most important question before the state today. Paul H. Johnson, secretary for Representative in the Forty-Seventh District, goes further, saying that "once we fix the matter so that no Legislature can be organized in the way of special favors, then bribery of legislators will cease."

Humphries Makes Denial.

Judge John E. Humphries corroborates Senator John L. Wilson's denial candidates had been $100,000, whereby Humphries was to quit Senatorial politics and try for the Supreme Court. Judge Humphries declares that at no time have he and Johnson had any conversation, directly or indirectly, about the Senatorial race or the Supreme Court judgeship.

Senator S. Jefferson now making a tour of the northwestern counties in the interest of the Burke Senatorial campaign. He will visit Snohomish, Skagit, Whatcom, Jefferson and Pierce counties. Jefferson has elected a delegation to the Tacoma convention to be held August 2, which, it is said, will recognize both S. Jefferson and Burke factions without discrimination. The county is likely to oppose Poindester on account of the trend toward Pinchot conservation. Both S. Jefferson and the adjoining county of Clallam have since victims of forest reserves ever since President Cleveland's order setting aside the major portion of the territory as a National forest.

State Senator I. B. Knickerbocker, who is a candidate for re-election in the Thirtieth District, announced his plans in his platform. The first is economy in legislative appropriations, and the second is his intention to the minimum of ill-considered and freak legislation.

Freak Legislation Opposed.

"If I am re-elected," says Senator Knickerbocker, "I intend to introduce a bill submitting to the people a constitutional amendment which will prohibit the introduction of bills except appropriation bills for the maintenance of existing state institutions, sessions, and prohibiting the introduction of bills for the maintenance of existing state institutions after the first 40 days of the session."

Such an amendment, he contends, would reduce the number of bills and give more time for their consideration. "If any one in the legislature would be accomplished by going any further," says Senator Knickerbocker, "and inserting a provision that all bills must originate in the House."

Local Democracy is in high feather on account of the visit of ex-Governor Folk, of Missouri, who is making a lecture tour of the Northwest, addressing the people on "The Debt, Address Today," in furtherance of his campaign for the Presidency in 1912. The arrangements for his reception in Seattle have been in the hands of party leaders, conspicuous among whom is Charles G. Helfert, candidate for Congress from the First District.

Democrats Are Interested.

Other Democrats who are stimulated to renewed interest are F. C. Leonard, ex-Mayor W. H. Moore, George Murphy, George F. Cotterill, D. Thomas Dales, G. A. C. Rochester, H. C. Bohls, Alfred Battle, John S. Jurey, M. M. Godman, A. A. Booth and O. T. Erickson, President Leonard, of the King County Democratic Club, says the party will have a complete legislative and county ticket at the September primary.

Charles H. Phillips, city detective, aspires to the Republican nomination for Sheriff of King County. He is making his campaign on a pledge to suppress gambling, which he says has been permitted to run wide open in various parts of the county during the past two years.

The Public Welfare League continues to agitate the question of the recall of Mayor H. C. Hall, on account of alleged failure to enforce the laws against vice.

PIONEER REAL ESTATE MAN, EX-SHERIFF HERE, RETIRES.

He was the first County Clerk of Stevens County after statehood, and in 1882 was elected to the Upper House of the Territorial Legislature, receiving all but six of the votes cast in Stevens County, which then included the territory now embraced in Stevens, Ferry, Okanogan and Chelan counties.

WICKERSHAM AND NAGEL LEAVE FOR ALASKA TO SMOOTH OUT SITUATION.

RETURN NEXT SEPTEMBER

Though They Do Not Admit It, Trip Is Thought to Be at Request of President—Nagel Gives Praise to Payne Tariff.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 24.—(Special.)—On their way to Alaska, where it is understood they are going at the request of President Taft to investigate and straighten political conditions in that territory, United States Attorney-General Wickersham and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel arrived here this morning from the East and took up quarters at once on the steamer Albatross on which they sail tomorrow morning.

Included in the party were Private Secretary to Mr. Nagel, H. A. Stevens; Dr. W. E. Fiechel and J. S. Lionberger, St. Louis, and Charles Coulridge, Boston, the last two being nephews of Mr. Nagel. Although Secretary Nagel, speaking for Wickersham, who felt indisposed, would not admit it and steered around the subject, it is intimated that the Alaskan political situation needs smoothing out at once in order that the party leaders can give their attention to fighting the growing insurgency movement in many of the states.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY FORETOLD.

Nagel prophesied, however, a Republican victory at the Fall elections; praised the Payne tariff bill as the country's best revenue producer and urged the merchants of British Columbia and the States to study the industrial conditions in Latin-America in order that they might profit from the opening of the Panama Canal.

The Secretary also had a few words of high praise to bestow upon the growing importance of Canada in the progress of the world and upon Vancouver's progress as a world and port of call.

Attorney-General Wickersham and Secretary Nagel expect to be gone until September. Their itinerary will include all the principal points on the Alaska Coast as far north as Kodiak Island. At Skagway, Cordova, Valdez and Seward they will stop for a few days, but none of them will consume more than two days' time. Attorney-General Wickersham said that they would make the time make the trip over the Valdez trail to Fairbanks.

PORTLAND WILL BE VISITED.

Attorney-General Wickersham declined to be drawn into any sort of discussion concerning the tariff. "We are not interested in looking large nowadays and we wish to be familiar with the country and its resources," was all he would say.

He is on List With 30 Republicans in Clark County, Washington.

UNRULY MERCHANT FIGHTS

Wife Sees Husband Beaten for Interfering With Officer.

NEWPORT, Or., July 24.—(Special.)—Howard Bush, a merchant of Summit, Or., was beaten into submission in the presence of his wife and 1500 persons today by City Marshal M. B. Grant, a brother of Sheriff Grant, of Polk County. Grant arrested Bush for interfering with him while performing his duty in direct witness the arrival of the Sunday excursionists from the Valley. Grant was clearing a way through the crowd of 1500 persons, who came on the ferryboat Newport, to get from the dock to the street.

When Grant approached Bush he insisted that he step back. Bush refused and struck Grant on the nose with his fist, following the blow up with kicks and punches. Grant, who was surrounded to the ground on his back. Then Bush threw himself on the officer and continued to thump him. Deputy Marshal Watters, who was in the crowd, saw that Bush struck three times on his head with a loaded pipe, cutting his scalp severely. Bush was subdued by this time and Grant took the offender, followed by his wife, to jail, where Dr. Carter sewed up the wounds. Later Bush was released on $100 cash bail to appear before the Justice of the Peace Monday morning.

DRAW 260 FEET IN LENGTH

Albany Has Longest Wooden Span In Whole World.

ALBANY, Or., July 24.—(Special.)—Work has begun on the construction of a new draw span in the big Corvallis & Eastern Railroad bridge, spanning the Willamette River at this city. A draw 260 feet long will be built, replacing one of similar length and a new pivot pier constructed beneath it. This pier will be 22 feet in diameter at the top and 34 feet in diameter at the bed of the river. This 260-foot draw is the longest wooden draw span in the world. The railroad men say there is no other draw in existence so long as this one which is not constructed of steel. For many years the local bridge has held the record for the next longest wooden draw span, which was 240 feet in length, was on a wagon bridge in California, which has recently been replaced with steel. The new steel bridge has by far the longest swinging wooden span on earth.

CHAUTAQUA IS ENDED

ATTENDANCE ON LAST DAY AT GLADSTONE BREAKS RECORD.

Dr. Fletcher Homan, President of Willamette University, Delivers Final Sermon.

CHAUTAQUA GROUNDS, Gladstone Park, July 24.—(Special.)—With other record Sunday attendance, the 17th annual session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly came to a close tonight with a sermon by Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of the Willamette University. The features of this afternoon's programme was a sacred concert, under the direction of Irving M. Glen, of the University of Oregon, who has had charge of the music during the session. The solos by Mr. Glen were especially pleasing.

Dr. D. F. Fox, a noted Congregational divine of Pasadena, Cal., presided at this afternoon's sermon. He is one of the finest historical lecturers ever heard on the Chautauqua platform here. Day after day the Chautauqua school, under the direction of State Superintendent R. R. Steele, occupied the morning hours in the auditorium. The attractiveness of Gladstone Park as a camping place was evidenced this session as never before. Every tent was secured prior to the opening of the assembly and the resources of the Chautauqua management were taxed to the utmost to provide accommodations for the campers, who came not only from all parts of Oregon, one family coming from far away Prineville, in Crook County. The arrangements for the session were in every way successful, and the accommodations provided by the Y. W. C. A. delicatessen and the stores on the grounds made the life of the campers truly ideal.

The 17th annual session has been one of the most successful in the history of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua. The programmes have been entertaining and instructive throughout and the Chautauqua officials are gratified at the annual attendance, which insured the financial success of the session.

APPLE IS APPETITE-WINNER

Schoolteacher Sinks Fortune to Make Fortune.

DAYTON, Wash., July 24.—(Special.)—Appetites often destroy fortunes, but seldom make them. Yet, to an insatiable lover of good, mellow, Washington Professor J. L. Dumas, ex-president of the Washington Horticultural Society, who recently sold a Pomona apple orchard, three million worth of apples for $120,000. After he had profited himself $120,000 from the sale of apples grown on the tract, over his success, Professor Dumas, who is a native of Washington, came through his appetite, when he said: "While I was teaching school in the Hawaiian Islands in the early 90's, I frequently had a craving for apples such as I had often eaten in the Northwest before I went to Honolulu. I often searched through markets of the tropical city, but the best apples could find were always dimmutive, shrivelled, flavorless specimens. They sold for as high as five cents apiece. This led me to think that surely there was not enough apples grown to supply the world's demand, and so I returned to Dayton for $3000, which represented my earnings from a few years of school teaching. My appetite was really my making."

Alaska's Development Surprise to New York Banker.

CORDOVA, Alaska, July 24.—Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, and a party of his Eastern friends arrived from Skagway yesterday on the steam yacht Ramona. Mr. Schiff and his party were the guests, while here, of the officials of the Copper River & Northwestern Railway. The entire party boarded a special train and made the run to the end of the line at Mile 104. A stop was made at Miles Glacier, where the Eastern visitors got out and inspected the new million-dollar steel bridge which was recently completed over the Copper River.
