NEW LAKE WILL SHORTEN ROUTE.—The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company is laying double tracks on Sandy boulevard between East Twentieth and Burnside streets. This will shorten the route for those City cars which are now running over the Burnside street bridge. This change will leave the cars which run to the car barns at East Couch street and to the depot on the Morrison street bridge from this district.

OLSON DENIES SPEEDING ALTO.—Adolph Olson, of Deep River, Washington, is mystified by a report which has been made by the Portland newspapers that he was wanted for speeding his automobile in this city on July 18. In a letter to Chief of Police Cox he says that he has not used the car since July 4 and has been out of the city most of the time since then. He says he carries the key to the garage and that the car shows no indication of having been used. He says that he will be on hand whenever he is wanted. The complaint was made by Patrolman Ennis, who took the number of the car. It is supposed that the number has gained access to Olson's garage and taken the car out in his absence.

SEVENTH WARD LEAGUE MEETS.—At the meeting of the Seventh Ward Improvement League tomorrow night at the hall at the corner of Powell and Milwaukee streets, the matter of opening and improving streets extending to the site of the Reed Institute will be considered. Reports from the street committee on opening of several important streets will be made at this meeting. Also the water committee will make a full report, when the league will take some further action. The erection of a new bridge across the Willamette River at Ellsworth street will be considered. It will be the most important midsummer meeting for the league and all members and others interested are urged to attend.

MINISTERS TO CLIMB MOUNT HOOD.—Rev. Clarence True Wilson, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, will leave for Portland tomorrow night with a party of ministers headed by Rev. Fletcher Homan, president of Willamette University, who will be one of the party. Rev. Mr. Wilson climbed Mount Hood last year, although climbing Mount Hood last year, although climbing Mount Hood last year.

BARTENDER AND WOMEN FINED.—Joe Postill, bartender at a grill room which was raided at First and Madison streets a few nights ago, was fined $50 in Police court yesterday for selling liquor without a license. It was shown that the place was run with no attempt to serve meals and that women of doubtful character frequented it. Two of the women caught in the raid were fined $25. Monroe Bolch, who for the third time was caught selling liquor contrary to law last Sunday, was fined $200. He gave notice of appeal.

Same hours, same telephone numbers.

W. Wood, 185 Emerson street West. He has been absent from Portland for 13 years. Captain Wood was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by his cousin, Mrs. Clara McCormick, of Riverdale.

Hofer, of Salem have been completed, and that there will be no more appointments. Their last discussions were held in towns in Southern Oregon last week.

AUTO SPEEDER FIGHTS CASE.—Will Edwards was driving his automobile at the rate of 40 miles an hour when arrested by Patrolman Sims yesterday. He admitted the charge and was fined $20. Ira Hickenger was arrested by Patrolman Lyon and paid a like amount. L. H. Tarpley, an attorney, defended himself in a speeding charge placed against him by Sims and put up a hard fight. The officer declared that Tarpley was going 34 miles an hour by the speedometer on his motorcycle. Tarpley said that the speed was about 14 miles and attacked the veracity of the prosecuting witness. The case went over until August 16, when Tarpley will endeavor to show by others of his party that Sims is in the wrong.

DOG CAUSE OF TRAGEDY.—The principle of law that every dog is entitled to one bite was given expression by Judge Bennett yesterday when he dismissed the charges against a South Portland resident accused of keeping a vicious dog. The complaint was made by Theodore Knudsen, who said that his body was bitten seven times by the dog. It was shown, however, that children played with the dog and that his master should be presumed to have no knowledge that he was vicious. Judge Bennett warned him to beware of the dog in the future he would be presumed to know and would be held accountable if the dog attacked anyone again.

MISREPRESENTATION ENDS IN ROCKFELLER.—Advertising to secure employment-seeking positions on railroads when he had no commission to do so and no positions to deliver, brought Fred J. Murray before the Police Court yesterday and was fined for his being sentenced to 30 days on the rockpile for vagrancy. Murray had an office in the Alby building. For 25 he was promised to coach the applicant for the examination. A striking seaman was one of those who paid for Murray's assistance and he reported the matter to the police. He said that a large number of others had placed themselves in Murray's hands.

HART TO BE CANDIDATE.—Daniel V. Hart, a real estate dealer, living at 79 Dawson street, filed with County Clerk Fields yesterday his declaration of intention to run for County Commissioner at the coming primary election. He says he is a Republican, that he will perform his duties in accordance with the oath he has taken to "strive for better roads throughout the county, with due regard for the taxpayers and with equal distribution of the emoluments of office." On completion of his name to the clerk he was given after his name the words: "Courteous and attentive to all; partial to none."

ROCKFELLER GETS VAGRANTS.—"I dragged this man two blocks by the hair of his head to turn him over to the police," said a big Irishman yesterday in Police Court, giving testimony against Nick Webster, an alleged vagrant. The man who did the dragging said the vagrant had stolen mailbags from him. The arresting officer said that Webster had been thrown out of the "bottle house" on Burnside street, and they "had a had lot." He continued, "when they get thrown out of there, Webster and Ed Erick, his companion, were given 30 days each on the rockpile."

MORE THAN 10,000 REGISTER.—Registration of voters in Multnomah County went over the 10,000 mark yesterday, the total when the books closed for the day at 6 o'clock, being 10,400. The figures are: Republicans, 14,190; Democrats, 252; miscellaneous, 182. At this time two years ago there were 15,642 names on the books. Yesterday's registration was 434, of which 22 were Republicans, 72 Democrats and 34 miscellaneous. On the whole, two years ago 32 voters signed the books.

PROGRAMME IS INTERESTING.—An interesting programme has been prepared by the Portland Ad Club for its luncheon at the Oregon Club this afternoon. The feature will be an address on "Training for Special Brands," by C. C. Colt, president of the Union Meat Company. Arthur Hill will read some of the papers and lecture on "Advertising" and other numbers of interest will be introduced. The affair will be attended by a number of invited guests.

NEW THEATER SURE

Assurance Given That Klaw & Erlanger Will Build.

DEKUM PROPERTY IS SITE

John M. Gearin Is Authority for Information—New Building Will Have Entrance at Morrison and Fourteenth Streets.

By August 1, 1911, Portland will have another new theater ready for occupancy. Klaw & Erlanger are to build here and the Sweeney Investment Company is to construct the building. This will be a fireproof structure and will stand on the west end of the old Dekum homestead property, which is the block bounded by Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and Morrison and Yamhill streets. The theater will extend 85 feet on Morrison street, 60 feet on Fourteenth street, and 85 feet on Yamhill street. The entrance will be on Morrison.

John M. Gearin, ex-United States Senator, is authority for this information, which he gained through a perusal of the lease under which Klaw & Erlanger will occupy the property.

Charles Sweeney has owned the Dekum property since 1905. He has done nothing in the way of improvements, and the place stands just as it was when the Dekum family lived there. On the east end of the block is the two-story frame home, which was built in 1813, and on the west end, where the theater will stand, is a barn.

Tenants Not Notified. Rountree & Diamond have been Mr. Sweeney's agents since 1904. They have covered the 18,000 square foot area of the theater. "We collected the rent for August as usual from this property this morning," said N. W. Rountree, "no construction cannot begin for two or three days at least. Mr. Sweeney has not ordered the property vacated."

News of the lease of this property to Klaw & Erlanger was sent to The Oregonian in a telegram from Marc Klaw June 23. The message contained the bare announcement of the lease and since then there has been much speculation as to whether the theatrical people would really build a theater.

As to what will be built on the other end of the block nothing has yet been announced. There will be a space 115x20 feet left and the logical use for this is a hotel, say real estate men. When Mr. Sweeney was in Portland last he talked of building a hotel on this block, before he leased it to the Klaw & Erlanger syndicate, but later it was given out he had abandoned this plan.

STREETCAR MEN LIBERAL. Make Large Donation to Marjorie Mab Fund.

The Brotherhood of Streetcar men yesterday turned in their donation of $185.55 to the Miss Marjorie Mab fund, although he established pretty conclusively that Egan had the money a short time before. Egan could remember nothing of his misadventure yesterday in court and was given ten days at the rockpile.

PIECE OF BUILDING FELS MAX. While passing by the old "panorama" building at Fourth and Ankeny streets yesterday afternoon, Dr. Brown, 120 Third street, was struck on the hip by a piece of masonry which fell from the wall. The foreman of the wrecking crew is tearing down it, it is being called "the old panorama" building at Fourth and Ankeny streets yesterday afternoon. A. A. Hoffman Goes to Prison. VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—A. A. Hoffman, convicted of assault in the second degree, July 11, was sentenced to from six months to ten years at hard labor in the penitentiary at Walla Walla, by Judge McMaster. Hoffman's case has created much interest because of his attorney's petitioning the court to have Hoffman examined for his sanity. Physicians held that he was not insane.

MONTGOMERY DOCK ENDANGERED.—An abandoned engine-room, adjoining the Montgomery dock and formerly used as a powerhouse, was partially destroyed by fire at 2:45 yesterday. The damage was small and the fire was placed under control before the dock was greatly endangered.

CHINESE LOTTERIES NET $300.—Robert Larson, 348 Grand street, told Judge Bennett yesterday that he had won $600 in Chinese lotteries, advancing that as an excuse for having lottery tickets in his possession. He was fined $20 on a charge of drunkenness and $10 for possessing the tickets.
