

CRIPPEN MAKES FULL CONFESSION

Miss Leneve, He Says, Had No Hand in Slaying of Belle Elmore.

DEW OBTAINS ADMISSION

Prisoner Admits Killing Wife, but Says He Is No Murderer—Mistake Was Made in Hiding Body. Stenographer Knew Nothing.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—(Special)—The Daily Chronicle's Quebec correspondent cables the following account of Dr. Hawley Crippen's confession, which he made Monday in the presence of Inspector Dew and three other police officers. Crippen said: "It is quite true that I did kill my wife; but it was a mistake that I made in trying to hide it. We should not have done this. I meant it for the best, though. I will say nothing of my wife's death until I return to England. Then I shall prove that I killed my wife. I am not a murderer. I make this confession in order to free Miss Leneve from suspicion. She, poor girl, knew absolutely nothing of my wife's disappearance, except what I have told here."

Tourists Get Glimpse of Crippen.

The big gray stone jail where Crippen is confined has become the foremost of Quebec's many points of interest. The "sawing machine" trolley cars stop nearby so that the tourists who throng the city in summer may have a chance to gaze into the window of the corridor where the alleged wife-slayer takes his exercise. Several persons saw him today and once he looked out of the window and nodded and smiled.

Miss Leneve continues to spend her time quietly in the prison infirmary and is said to be improving in health.

Death Followed Operation.

Belle Elmore's death, it is now asserted from evidence discovered, was the result of an illegal operation, probably performed by Dr. Crippen himself. An instrument said to have been used in the fatal operation will be produced at the coroner's inquest, which was adjourned until August 15. This instrument, which is the alleged murder weapon, is a small, curved, pointed knife, which was found in the cell of the Crippen Hilldrop Crescent home, was taken to the coroner's office and dissected remains of Mrs. Crippen, were also concealed and sprinkled with quicklime to destroy them.

Evidence Is Destroyed.

The police now assume that after Mrs. Crippen died her husband cut up her body in a way that only one who has studied anatomy and performed autopsies could do. The flesh in one place and possibly burned the bones, no trace of the bones having been found. Crippen's object in thus disposing of his wife's corpse, the Scotland Yard authorities say, was to destroy the evidence of an illegal operation for which he was liable to a severe penalty. However, after the fact that this theory is correct is made more probable because after an exhaustive investigation the police have not been able to discover any really adequate motive for the murder. Moreover, it is recalled there were grounds for suspicion that Crippen's first wife's death was caused by an identical operation.

CRIPPEN'S ASSISTANT TALKS

Friends in London Secure Counsel for Both Prisoners.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Several important facts bearing on the Belle Elmore murder case came to light today. William Long, a former assistant of Dr. Crippen, who as a witness at the inquest over the fragments of a human body found in the cellar of the Crippen Hilldrop Crescent home, was talked to freely by the authorities.

For a long time Long withheld important facts now in the possession of the prosecutor. It was Long who, on the day that Crippen and his companion disappeared, purchased the suit of boy's clothing in which Miss Leneve was attired when arrested.

The family and other friends of Miss Leneve became active in her behalf today and engaged a provincial solicitor to look after her interests. Arthur Newton, a London solicitor, this afternoon confirmed the press dispatches from Quebec that he had undertaken the defense of Crippen. Newton said he had been approached by friends of the prisoner and had called to the latter asking if he desired him to take up the case. Newton declined to reveal the names of the friends.

Mrs. Crippen's Sister to Testify.

NEWPORT, E. I., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Robert Mills, a half-sister of the late Belle Elmore, said here today that she had decided not to go to Quebec and see Dr. Hawley Crippen and Miss Leneve. Instead, on the request of the Scotland Yard officials, she has decided to sail for England during the early part of September, in order that she may be present and give testimony at the trial of Dr. Crippen.

sat down, all eyes were turned to where his new voice was heard. Calhoun was standing with his right hand lifted. "May it please Your Honor," he repeated, "I have been educated to have respect for the courts. I have sat in your court under circumstances that would have tried the patience of any American. I have sought, sir, to give you that respect, and yet in terms of strength, their protest against injustice. "Mr. Calhoun—" interrupted the court. "There is a time—pardon me, Your Honor—but there is a time when every man has a right to be heard."

Ex-District Attorney Rylington was the next speaker, but his remarks were almost drowned in the applause from the courtroom which followed the words of Calhoun. Rylington said he had been hearing for six months that the people were to be afforded an opportunity to answer accusations, and he wanted to know if the court would name a day when such a hearing could be held.

Judge Lawlor, abruptly left the bench during Rylington's remarks and traversed the whole length of the courtroom on his way to his chambers in the front of the building. The witness continued. Everybody stood up and there was loud laughter, criticism, applause and inquiries as to whether court had adjourned, or whether Judge Lawlor intended to return to the bench. The court remained absent until the turmoil had spent itself. He was met at the door by Pickert, who, in response to a request that he return to his place, declared to the judge that he would return providing he was given an opportunity to speak.

Resuming his position on the bench, Judge Lawlor appeared in regard to the punishment of the three attorneys. He gave them till Monday to plead and he adjourned the Calhoun case until August 29.

WOMEN ARE FEARED

Success of Spanish Policy Is Doubted by Dominguez.

CLERGY TOO INFLUENTIAL

Field Marshal Supports Canalejas, but Thinks Opinions of Weaker Sex, Dominated by Church, Will Carry Too Great Weight.

MADRID, Aug. 3.—Field Marshal Lopez Dominguez, who is an ex-president of the Senate and ex-Premier, in an interview today, said he would support Premier Canalejas in his struggle for religious reforms, but he doubted the success of the movement on account of the immense power of the clergy and their influence over the women, who, he declared, are completely under the domination of their confessors.

The openness with which Premier Canalejas is conducting the campaign, said the Field Marshal, "is one of the best features of the situation. He wants Spain and the world to know what he is doing. If he succeeds he will have rendered an immense service to Spain."

The agitation of the Roman Catholics in Northern Spain, who are in great part siding with the Vatican, is steadily assuming larger proportions. The organizers of the proposed manifestation at San Sebastian against the Cabinet of Premier Canalejas and its policy toward the Vatican, declare that demonstration will take place in spite of the refusal of the authorities to grant permission for it. They expect 100,000 churchmen to visit the Summer capital and participate in the demonstration before the King's Palace, August 7.

The demonstration was prohibited, however, and the representation of tradesmen that the manifestation might easily develop into great disorder.

ALFONSO'S APPROVAL DOUBTED

Vatican Cannot Believe King or People Favor Premier's Policy.

ROME, Aug. 3.—The note which Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, is preparing in answer to the Premier Canalejas will be submitted to the congregation of extraordinary affairs. The contents of the note will be kept secret.

The Giornale d'Italia publishes an interview with Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who describes Premier Canalejas as a "terrible man," adding that it is impossible that King Alfonso approve his anti-clerical policy.

Cardinal Vannutelli goes on to point out that the King is a fervent Catholic by sentiment and tradition, but that he is too young to grapple with the situation and must be seriously embarrassed.

He adds that the Spanish people themselves disapprove of the policy of the Premier, as shown by the attitude of the people of Bilbao and other important places.

COACH COMES WITH BRIDE

George H. Schildmiller, of Eugene, Weds Massachusetts Girl.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 3.—George H. (Dutch) Schildmiller, now of Eugene, Or., who will coach the University of Oregon Agricultural College football team this fall, has been downed by Dan Cupid. "Dutch" started westward today with a bride, who was Miss Lila May Jenkins of Winthrop, Mass.

Schildmiller's marriage came as a surprise to his friends here and at Dartmouth College where he won his laurels in football and baseball. He was Walter Camp's choice for one of the positions on the all-American eleven in 1908, and it was in a gridiron scrimmage that Miss Jenkins first saw him and felt the first prick of Dan Cupid's dart.

CLERK DISCLOSES PLOT OF CHINESE

Wholesale Entries by Fraud Made Possible by Substituting Photographs.

RICH MERCHANT ARRESTED

Office of United States District Clerk in Northern California Involved in Charges of Immigrant Inspector.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—By the arrest late today of Jew Loy Sing, a wealthy merchant, Immigration Inspector Richard A. Taylor asserts that he has disclosed a method whereby hundreds of Chinese have obtained fraudulent entry to this country.

According to Taylor, the clerk's office of the United States District Court for the northern district of California is badly involved by the disclosures. He said that the arrest of Jew was brought about by a confession of a youthful deputy in the clerk's office.

Practice Is Widespread.

Jew Loy Sing is especially accused of altering and changing a public document by substituting the photograph of an unknown Chinese for that of Gee Jung Kee in the court record of a habeas corpus proceeding which had resulted in the admission of Kee to this country.

The Chinese who posed as Gee Jung Kee with the latter's habeas corpus papers succeeded in securing the entry of three Chinese as his sons and was preparing to have three more pseudo sons and one daughter permitted to land when the plot was uncovered. He then disappeared, but Jew, who is said to have employed him, was caught.

Prospective Profits Large.

Inspector Taylor estimated that the two Chinese expected to make $10,000 from the use of the substituted papers, as the pretended Gee's adopted family would have paid that sum to land here, and more were planning to come when admission was denied to the three sons and one daughter.

A minimum rate for men for the use of papers was $50 each and that for women, who could be sold, was $300.
