PILES OF BONES TELL OF CRIME

Ghastly Find Supposed to Be Remains of Missing Kendall Family.

JAPANESE IS SUSPECTED

Partial Identification Made From Trinkets—Henry Yamuchi, Discharged Ranch Hand, Seen Leaving With Open Knife.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 4.—The bones of three human beings, supposed to be those of Enoch Kendall, his wife, Ura Kendall, and their son, Thomas A. Kendall, were found late yesterday on the Starbuck ranch, near Crospers, a well-known Summer resort north of Santa Rosa.

The Kendalls were last seen alive on July 22. The bones were found in two piles, located some distance apart. In one pile was found a metal ring of a breastpin, such as neighbors of the Kendalls say Mrs. Kendall wore. In the other pile, containing the remains of two bodies, were found a ring with the initials T. A. K., those of the missing son.

The first pile of bones was found by Assistant District Attorney George W. Hoyle; Sheriff J. K. Smith, of Sonoma County, and Court Reporter Herbert Whitson, who left for the place this morning to investigate the disappearance of the family, when they reached the ranch house, where the Kendalls had lived for the last two years they found everything inside absolutely in order. There were no signs of any struggle. On the dining-room table were the dishes, evidently set for a meal, with the food ready but untouched. In the pens at the barnyard they found the pigs starving.

Stove Reveals Crime.

Returning to the house a rigid search was begun, but nothing incriminating was found until the kitchen stove was opened.

When the stove was uncovered small fragments of bones were found among the ashes in the grate. The searchers then discovered a very light trail of cinders leading from the stove to the kitchen door and beyond. The trail led to a point some distance from the house, where the first pile of bones was found. It was in this pile, containing the remains of two humans, that the ring bearing the initials of the younger Kendall was found.

Late tonight a telephone message was received from Crospers telling of the discovery of the second pile and the rim of Mrs. Kendall's breastpin. When the bones found in the first pile were shown to Dr. J. W. Jeffe, of this city, tonight, he unhesitatingly pronounced them human bones, some of an aged and others of a younger person.

Japanese Ranch Hand Suspected.

Suspicion is strongly directed towards a Japanese named Henry Yamuchi, who was formerly employed either by the Starbucks or by the Kendalls. On Saturday, July 23, the day the Kendalls disappeared, Yamuchi and another Japanese were ordered off the ranch by the Kendalls. Monday, July 25, a man named Johnson, with two boys, visited a cabin on the Starbuck ranch, some distance from the ranch house. The door of the cabin was locked and one of the boys crawled through a window, quickly followed by the others. In a rear room of the cabin they found the window heavily draped. While they were standing in the rear room Yamuchi crawled out from under a couch with an open knife in his hand. He laughed, shut the knife and left the room with the remark that he was "going to town."

Mysterious Note Appears.

The younger Kendall was the last of the family seen alive. He visited Crospers on the morning of Saturday, July 23, and there wrote a letter which he addressed and mailed to a friend in San Francisco. When Hoyle and his party reached the ranch house today they found pinned to the door a note signed "J. E. Cross," and stating that the writer had called as per agreement, but found no one at home. The note was dated July 26, three days after the family disappeared.

The Kendalls formerly lived at Fruitvale. They rented the Starbuck ranch two years. About two months ago Mrs. Margaret Starbuck, who owns the ranch and who is the wife of a well-known Oakland architect, began a suit to oust the Kendalls on the ground that they had not fulfilled their contract. The suit was decided in favor of the Kendalls and Mrs. Starbuck then began an action to prevent the Kendalls from disposing of any personal property on the ranch. This suit the Kendalls also won. It was just after the last suit was decided, according to neighbors, that Yamuchi appeared at the ranch.

JAPANESE TELLS OF FIGHT

Light Thrown on Mystery by Owners of Ranch Used by Kendalls.

OAKLAND, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Margaret Starbuck, owner of the ranch on which the Kendalls were tenants, said tonight that the Japanese, Henry Yamuchi, against whom suspicion of the murder of the Kendalls has been directed, called at the Starbuck home Monday, July 25. Yamuchi said that he had a fight with the elder Kendall and his son and had whipped them both. Yamuchi then left and did not call at the Starbuck home again.

It was on the same day, according to the advices from Santa Rosa that Yamuchi was discovered in the cabin by Johnson and the three boys. The day following, July 26, the same day also that Crosper visited the ranch and left the note pinned to the door, the Japanese was again seen on the ranch by Crosper, proprietor of the resort, where Young Kendall was last seen.

District Attorney Lee of Sonoma County is expected in Oakland tomorrow to make a full investigation of the Oakland end of the tragedy.

MANY FARMS IRRIGATED

Over 350 Places Receiving Water Under Klamath Project.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 3.—Under the Klamath irrigation project in Southern Oregon and Northern California, approximately 15,000 acres have been receiving water, the total number of farms irrigated being 350. The first crop of alfalfa has been cut. Unusually bad weather slightly reduced the yield, but the selling price of hay is about 25 per cent greater than last year.

The general agricultural and business conditions in the community have improved marvelously since the inauguration of the Government system. There seems to be in progress a gradual elimination of the old stock-raising element and the farmers are awakening to the value of irrigation and intensive cultivation. Last year it is estimated that the grain crop in the Klamath basin amounted to 1,000,000 bushels and good prices were obtained. Dry lands under cultivation at the time of preliminary surveys for the project, which were selling for $5 and $6 per acre, is at present selling at prices ranging from $50 to $100 per acre, exclusive of the water right charges.

Raw land which was scarcely salable when the project was taken up is now worth $25 to $40 per acre. It is expected that about 25,000 acres will be irrigated this year. There is unusual activity along building lines this season, and with the coming of the new railroad Klamath bids fair to become a thriving and prosperous community.

PRIMARY RESULTS SEEN

CROW, REGULAR, WINS BATTLE IN FOURTEENTH DISTRICT.

Ten Democratic Aspirants for Congress Are Assured of Their Nominations.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Missouri's ten Democratic Congressmen and at least two or three Republican members of the lower house were nominated at the primary election held Wednesday.

Reports received tonight from various parts of the Fourteenth District indicate the probable renomination of Congressman Charles A. Crow, regular, and a Cannon adherent. David W. Hill, insurgent Republican, who opposed Mr. Crow, admitted tonight that the returns seemed to show his defeat.

Representative Patrick F. Gill of the Eleventh district, St. Louis, is the victor by a small margin, according to the latest returns. His principal opponent is Daniel P. Meehan.

Of the 10 Democratic Representatives, six were renominated with no opposition. Booher, of the Fourth; Borland, of the Fifth, and Hamlin, of the Seventh, were obliged to contest for their nominations, but are said to have won easily.

Representative Bartholdt, of the Tenth District, St. Louis; Elvins, of the Thirteenth, and Murphy, of the Sixteenth, were the Republicans who had no opposition.

Supplementary returns give the following results from districts from which conclusive figures had not been received last night:

Fourth District, Charles F. Booher, Savannah (Dem.), incumbent; no Republican nominations.

Ninth District, Champ Clark, Bowling Green (Dem.), incumbent; Reuben F. Roy, New London (Rep.).

Eleventh District, Patrick F. Gill (Dem.), incumbent; T. E. Catlin, St. Louis (Rep.).

Twelfth District, Thomas E. Kinney, St. Louis (Dem.); L. C. Dyer, St. Louis (Rep.).

Thirteenth District, Walter Hensley, Farmington (Dem.); Politte Elvins, Elvins (Rep.), incumbent.

Fourteenth District, Joseph J. Russell, Charleston (Dem.).

Sixteenth District, T. L. Rubey, Lebanon (Dem.); Arthur P. Murphy (Rep.), incumbent.

CANNON HEARS ABOUT KANSAS

Speaker Observes That Primaries Were Held in Two Other States.

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Aug. 4.—Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, received today at Cannonball, a local Summer resort, news of the Kansas insurgent victory. When asked for comment, he replied:

"I have nothing to say until the complete returns are before me. However, I should like to remark that primaries were also held in Missouri and Oklahoma."

NAVY DIVER LOSES LIFE

Quest for Sunken Torpedo Proves Fatal to Gunner's Mate.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Aug. 4.—Thirty fathoms deep in the waters of Cape Cod Bay in search of a sunken torpedo, George William Fairey, a gunner's mate on the battleship Connecticut, lost his life Tuesday. The Connecticut was engaged in torpedo practice, when one of the missiles was lost and Fairey was sent out with a boat's crew and diving apparatus to recover it.

On his way to the bottom he signalled "O. K." There was a pause for a moment when he reached bottom, and then a faint signal of danger. Comrades pulled the diver to the surface. Hastily opening the armor, they found Fairey unconscious, but still breathing. All efforts to resuscitate him failed.

MORGAN RELIEVES POOL

Purchase of 50,000 Shares of Chesapeake & Ohio Admitted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—It became known today that another big speculative pool has been eased of heavier holdings than it could carry. Friends of Edwin Hawley will be quoted in the New York World tomorrow as admitting that a syndicate of bankers, said to be headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., have taken over 50,000 shares of Chesapeake & Ohio stock, bought by them since the Pennsylvania Railroad and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. parted with their interest.

Mr. Hawley's control, however, is said to remain intact.

Chairman Bayard Says "No Personalities Will Be Allowed" at St. Paul Meet.

NOTABLES ON PROGRAMME

President Has Not Announced Subject of Address—Leaders on Both Sides, Including Roosevelt, Are to Attend.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4.—Following the receipt yesterday of a telegram announcing President Taft's acceptance of an invitation to speak at the conservation congress to be held in St. Paul next month Bayard N. Baker, of this city, who will preside over the congress, last night announced the list of those in addition to the President who will speak at the same time, saying, "No personalities will be allowed."

President Taft will speak on the opening day of the congress, September 5. The subject of his remarks is withheld. The same is true of what Colonel Roosevelt will say in the address which he will make September 6.

Colonel Roosevelt will be followed closely by Gifford Pinchot. Others scheduled to make addresses are: Mr. Pinchot's successor in office, Henry S. Graves; United States Senator Dolliver, of Iowa; James R. Garfield, J. J. Pardee, ex-Governor of California; Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Judge B. B. Lindsey, of Denver and others.

AVIATOR BREAKS BONES

DR. WALDEN'S FIRST EXPERIMENT WITH FLYER FAILS.

Disregarding Warnings, He Ascends, Then Falls 50 Feet and Is Taken Up Unconscious.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Dr. H. Walden, an amateur aviator, was seriously injured Wednesday at Garden City, L. I., while testing a new monoplane. Walden had been encircling the aviation field half an hour, when something went wrong with the craft and it dropped 50 feet to the ground.

The physician was unconscious and was taken to a hospital. Surgeons found his collar bone, left arm, right wrist, left leg and right ankle broken.

Dr. Walden, who is a member of the Aeronautical Society, has taken a strong interest in aviation and has been an almost daily visitor to the aviation field here. About a month ago he brought his monoplane here and began tuning it up for flight.

Experienced aviators told him it was not properly designed and warned him he would get hurt if he attempted to fly, but he insisted he would fly safely.

BOURNE MEN CANDIDATES

Three Advocates of Statement No. 1 Run for Legislature.

Three additional aspirants for legislative honors stepped into the anti-assembly lineup yesterday and will run as advocates of Statement No. 1. The three are James M. Ambrose, James Cole and James J. Flynn and each desires to be a representative from Multnomah County. It is understood that they have the good wishes of the Bourne lieutenants, who are watching the legislative lineup with the greatest possible care.

Other Statement No. 1 aspirants are expected to develop during the week, as the anti-assembly element is anxious to get a full field before the end of the week. So far as the Bourne lieutenants are concerned the legislative ticket forms the most important part of the ticket, especially State Senator, as the State Senator selected this year will hold over until 1913, when Senator Bourne's fate may have to be determined anew. The same rule applies to joint Senator.

20-MILE RADIUS IS DRY

License for Underwood, Opposite Hood River, Is Refused.

UNDERWOOD, Wash., Aug. 4.—(Special.) — The saloon here will close August 12. This has been the only saloon the past few years within a radius of 20 miles, drawing patronage from Hood River across the Columbia in Oregon, and the White Salmon Valley in Washington. A petition from a majority of the voters living adjacent to Underwood was presented to the commissioners of Skamania County, asserting that the resort was a public nuisance and that liquor was being sold to Indians and minors. The proprietors say this was only a subterfuge to close the house. However, license was denied.

Hood River will vote on the question of permitting saloons at the general election in November. Should the license question fail to carry at Hood River it is reported that another saloon will open on this side of the river.

Frequenter of Resorts Imprisoned.

Drawing a knife and advancing upon Patrolman Montgomery when placed under arrest Friday night, H. L. Raymond, a frequenter of North End resorts, was prevailed upon to drop the weapon and surrender when Montgomery drew his revolver and levelled it upon his man. Raymond and a companion giving the name, Lena Burse, were arrested as vagrants after the officer had learned that they had plotted to relieve Marion A. Gage of his money. Montgomery found Gage and the woman together in a room at the Grand Central Hotel. Raymond was out after a bucket of beer. The officer waited about 20 minutes and when Raymond returned, placed him under arrest. Raymond drew the knife and started for Montgomery, but was promptly covered by a revolver. Raymond and the woman were given 15 days' imprisonment each by Judge Bennett yesterday.

MRS TOM THUMB ACTIVE

THOUGH 80 YEARS OLD, MIDGET WIFE IS ACTIVE AND ALERT.

Just Home From 59th Trip Across Atlantic, She Is Busy on Her Autobiography.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Traveling has kept the Countess M. Lavinia Magri girlish, according to that tiny 80-year-old lady, better known as the midget wife of General Tom Thumb, who made Phineas T. Barnum famous.

Few perhaps are aware that the "smallest woman on earth" is alive, well and prosperous at her home, in Middleboro, Mass. Her dictum on traveling ought to go, for she returned early this month on her 59th trans-Atlantic trip.

Her latest triumphal circuit of Europe was similar in many ways to her world-famed tours of a generation ago, when she was feted by nobility.

She is quoted by a friend, who saw her at her delightful home in the picturesque little town of Middleboro, as saying:

"Seven months in Paris and six in London, with a four-weeks' trip to Italy, is what we have accomplished. American clothes and American dressmakers I like best, with laces and such fol-de-rols. American products are plenty good enough for me.

"I am finishing my biography this Summer and I am looking forward to its publication with a great deal of pride, for it is all my own handiwork. Then I am always glad to have visitors and expect to entertain much during the coming season.

"I have had the time of my life autoing in Paris and London, but as much as I care for the sport, I much prefer horses and carriage driving for recreation. I am quite a sailor, and enjoyed the ocean trips. I have been across the water fifty-nine times, but I expect to take many more trips. Traveling does not fatigue me. I love the excitement and bustle of active life. It keeps me young in body and soul."

The countess has not a gray hair in her brown locks and her eyes are as bright and as expressive as they were when she first went before the public.

About suffrage she shakes her head in a dubious way. She feels there are many life vocations women can take up where they will not attract as much attention or create so much disturbance as in politics. She believes that women should have equal privileges with men, if they so desire, but does not think they should want to vote.

Yesterday marked the hottest day in Muskogee this season, the thermometer reaching 106.

All heat records were broken yesterday at Lawton, when the mercury reached 112 in the shade. Last night a sand and dust storm was raging.

The principal feature of the campaign was Governor Patterson's pardoning of Duncan B. Cooper.

Mrs. Altman and Mrs. Hayhurst will read papers on subjects pertaining to the home. The Grange hall is on the Section Line road one mile east of the end of the Hawthorne-avenue carline. The programme and bread contest will be held in the afternoon. There will be no degree work during the day.

BOY IS CHAINED TO TUBS

PARENTS FORCED TO HOUSE HIM, TREAT HIM LIKE DOG.

He Sleeps Under Washtubs and Feeds on Crusts—Sister Also Is Chained for Playing on Streets.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—When Children's Society Agent Leggett called at No. 32 Stanton street yesterday morning to see Rosario Nichitto, 10 years old, who was paroled by Justice Hoyt on May 22, he was met by Mrs. Lemonata Nichitto, the mother of the boy.

"Where is Rosario?" asked Leggett.

"Here he is," the woman answered as she hauled a heavy chain that was fastened to the washtubs in the kitchen. At the other end of the chain was the boy, padlocked by his ankle.

Leggett took the child to the Children's Court before Justice Wyatt. The record of the case shows that the lad was found homeless on the street on May 19. He said then that he had been driven from home by his parents, but he was paroled later in their custody.

When Justice Wyatt heard Leggett's story this morning he asked the boy whether he had had anything to eat and how long he had been chained up.

"My father chained me up three days ago," answered the youngster. "I did not have anything to eat in that time except a crust or two that my mother threw to me."

"Where do you sleep?" asked the Justice.

"Under the washtubs where the officer found me."

The boy has two younger sisters, Angelina and Concetta, and he said that Concetta was also chained up at one time because she played on the street.

Leggett said that the boy's mother seemed to be glad to get rid of him.

The boy attends Public School No. 20, at Rivington and Forsythe streets. His record, found in his pocket, shows that he is good in conduct and lessons, but his attendance has been poor.

Justice Wyatt remanded the child to the Children's Society until the parents can be summoned to court. The father's name is Pietro. He is said to be a blacksmith.

MAZAMAS REACH EUGENE

Start for Three Sisters to Be Made Early This Morning.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The main body of Mazamas, numbering about 30, arrived at Eugene at 2 P. M., went to the Smede and retired early, to get started on their trip to the Three Sisters peaks by 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. Additional members arrived on the night trains, which, with those who will go from Eugene, will make between 40 and 50 in the party.

Instead of going to O'Brien's by automobile, as the Eugene Commercial Club had planned, the party determined this afternoon to take hacks, wagons and buggies clear through from Eugene to McKenzie bridge, from where the party will walk to its permanent camp in the Three Sisters region.

The plan will be to reach Blue River by tomorrow night. It might be possibe to reach McKenzie bridge with the party, but the wagon containing camp luggage cannot get farther than Blue River.

ASSISTANT HAS HARD JOB

Railroad Presidents Have Helpers Do Detail Work.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—New York Central created the position of assistant to the president last week by the election of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and only recently the directors of the Baltimore & Ohio appointed an assistant to President Willard. The office is by no means new to other railroads. For years the president of the Pennsylvania has had two assistants, one at Philadelphia and one at Pittsburg. President Mellen, of the New Haven, has an assistant; so has President Earling, of the St. Paul, and B. F. Yoakum, of the 'Frisco, and L. F. Loree, of the Delaware & Hudson, and Milton H. Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville, and J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central.

A railroad president is held responsible by his directors for the actions of the legal, operating, purchasing, freight, passenger and construction departments. In brief, he has general supervision over all the business transacted by his company. The office of assistant enables the president to get rid of much detail work which must be passed upon by somebody in authority. On most roads the office of assistant to the president is looked upon as a responsible position. In no instance, however, is the assistant given the power to say "yes" or "no." His business is to get the mass of detail work which finds its way to the president's office in such shape that the chief can pass final judgment with the least possible expenditure of time and energy.

COLONEL GREAT BORROWER

Cooke Accused of Raising Money on All Sides in Alaska.

SEATTLE, Aug. 4.—The court-martial that is trying Colonel George F. Cooke, U. S. A., retired, of San Francisco, charged with neglect of duty and also with misconduct in borrowing money from enlisted men and civilians, reassembled at Fort Lawton today and Dr. J. F. Hall of Chicago, formerly post surgeon of Fort Gibbon, Alaska, testified.

The trip to Alaska, from which the court has just returned, consumed several weeks and only one witness was examined, Joe Anicich, a roadhouse keeper of Tanana, near Fort Gibbon, who testified that Colonel Cooke borrowed more than $700 from him, giving notes which were never paid. The notes were offered in evidence.

AN END TO SKIN TROUBLES

Action of Poslam Is Rapid—Easy to Prove What It Will Do.

"To think," says Mr. L. J. Cooper, North Haven, Conn., "that I have been trying everything (to cure eczema) for fifteen years, and now poslam has done it. The first application stopped all the itching."

When a remedy is available like poslam, which in all skin troubles stops itching and accomplishes cures so rapidly and readily, there is really no reason why such affections should be allowed to go unchecked, particularly as no one is asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining and trying one of the free trial packages. This will be sent by mail to any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

While primarily intended for the treatment of eczema, acne, tetter, barber's and all other forms of itch, etc., poslam promptly cures all the lesser skin affections, such as pimples, blotches, fever blisters, red noses, inflamed skin, rash, herpes, sunburn, clears the complexion and keeps the skin in healthy condition.

A special 50-cent package of poslam is prepared for minor uses, and this, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is for sale by all druggists, particularly the Owl Drug Co.
