Call for Ald Finds All Soldiers at American Lake.

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 9.-A message

MISSOULA. Mont., Aug. 9.—A message calling for two companies of troops to aid in checking a number of new fires that have broken out in the Clearwater forests was received at the local forestry headquarters today. The appeal came from District Forester Greeley, who telegraphed from Orofino, Ida., that conditions in that district were growing more and more serious each day.

Associate Forester Silenx, who is stationed here, after communicating this afternoon with both Fort Missoula and Fort Harrison, learned that it is practically impossible to secure the required number of men equipped for the field, as the majority of the troops from both places at present are at American Lake, Wash., attending the annual maneuvers. At Fort Harrison only 17 men were available and at Fort Missoula those who could be spared from the 36 remaining at the post were not sufficiently equipped with pack outfits to make the hard journey into the remote Clearwater districts.

It has been suggested, however, that a company of soldiers at American Lake be summoned here at once for duty in the forests.

Meanwhile, the Forest Service is getting together two crews of 50 men each BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 2.-(Special.)-Agnes Kollner, a pretty saleswoman em ployed by the Max Hirshfield Clothing House, was arrested on the charge of stealing $40 from the cash drawer. The money was found on the young woman when searched at the police station.

Miss Köllner was employed only Sat-urday morning and as she was pretty and appeared to understand the business, was placed in the silk department. She obtained the money while both Hirsh-field and the cashier were watching her, after being told by the latter that she could exchange an old $5 gold piece for a new one, in order to oblige a customer. The woman excited Hirshfield's susticious however, and he ordered the dclous, however, and he ordered the arhier to balance the cash, and when his was done it was found $40 was missing.

Hirshfield detained the woman until Detective Woods' arrival. She at first denied the offense, but later broke down and confessed. The money was found in a fold of her skirt. She told the police that she had just come from Portland in company with her brother, It is believed that poverty actuated the crime, as only 50 cents was found in her purse. Hirshfield refused to prosecute the woman, as she said she was anxious to join her brother, who is on his way to Salt Lake City.
