

GAME AND SERIES WON BY BEAVERS

Five-to-Two Score Sends Senators Home Losers of Six Games Along in Row.

RYAN DOES 2 FAST STUNTS

Seaton Starts Badly but Settles Down to Good Pitching, While Hunt Starts Well but Aeroplanes in Sixth Inning.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE Yesterday's Results. Portland 5, Sacramento 2. Vernon 7-1, Oakland 1-2. Los Angeles, 1-1, San Fran. 0-2. Standing of the Clubs.

Helpless before the offerings of Big Ben Hunt for five innings, an experienced pitcher, the first two men up in the sixth, McCredie's speedy Beaver hand then began a swarming rally which netted three runs off the Sacramento twirler, and turned a defeat in the sixth straight victory of the week. The score was 5 to 2. This is the second time this season that Portland has cleaned up a series on the Sacramento Club.

Tommy Seaton was selected by McCredie to pitch, and when Tommy got bumped or three hard clouts and two runs in the first spasm, those of the bugs who were faint-hearted and had visions of the sixth straight game going the other way, his immediate removal. However, Seaton was a serene puzzle to the visitors during the rest of the matinee.

Hunt kept pitching as though he meant to get the first no hit game of the Pacific Coast League season until the sixth, and then he had disposed of Rapps and Casey before he was made the victim of a bombardment. Tommy Sheehan bounced one to Jimmy Shinn, who obligingly fumbled long enough for Sheehan to catch Speas laced one over second which was flagged by Burns, but the batter was safe. Then came Ort, who took a healthy swing at one of Hunt's choicest, and before Perry and Helster could recover it from its repose in the far corner of the lot, Ort was safely unscathed on third. Burns, whose toss was wide to Van Buren, and Ryan performed the same feat as did Olson last Saturday by scoring on second.

Then came a slight, when Portland collected the fifth run, which was all in the scoring line. The score: SACRAMENTO. HARNESS HORSES WHICH ARE WORKING OUT AT THE COUNTRY CLUB RACE TRACK.

BIG FAIR PLANNED

Attractive Programme Is Arranged for Roseburg Show.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY

Both Harness and Running Races Will Be Given, With Large Purses Up—Dates Are Postponed to September 27-October 1.

Great preparations are being made at Roseburg for the holding of a big agricultural show September 27 to October 1. At first it was planned to hold the event September 20-24, out in deference to the county fair at Eugene, about the same time, the Second Southern Oregon District Agricultural Society, which is holding the Roseburg fair, postponed its dates.

There will be general horticultural and agricultural exhibits. Fine poultry, fat pigs and well-fed steers will all be on show. In addition there will be full lines of machinery and demonstrations of methods of up-to-date farming. Four thousand dollars will be offered in special prizes alone.

Races Are Scheduled. There will be harness and running races. In the former, the rules of the American Trotting Association will be followed, while in the running races the rules of the California Jockey Club. The entrance fee to all races is 5 per cent of the amount of the purse in each instance. Nominations, giving full particulars of the entry and its rider or driver should be sent to the secretary of the Agricultural Society.

Programme Is Given. The following is the speed programme, with the dates of each race and the purses offered: WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21. 2:30 trot, 3 in 5..... $ 300 2 in 3..... 250 2:25 pac, 2 in 3..... 250 Five-eighths mile dash for saddle ponies, ridden by ladies; $25 to owner, $25 to rider..... 50

REMARKABLE IS BALL BATTLE Seaton and Hunt Pitch 111 Balls in Same Number of Innings. Tommy Seaton and Big Ben Hunt had a remarkable battle in the ball game yesterday afternoon, for each man pitched the same number of balls during eight innings. Hunt used 111 thrown balls during the eight innings he worked against Portland, and Seaton disposed of

WAKEFIELD AND BAKER ARE POUNDED

Out of Box in Morning Game, Though Latter Improves Later.

RAYMOND, Wash., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Poor excuses for ball playing was the order from start to finish at the Raymond grounds today. In the morning Raymond won 16 to 8. Wakefield and Baker were both pounded out of the box by the opposing batsmen. In the afternoon, Baker was in fine form and whitewashed Montessano 7 to 0. The first four Raymond batsmen stacked up against McGraw for a total of 3 runs and Guyn went in to relieve. With all kinds of errors behind him, Guyn quit in the sixth and Wakefield tried out. Wakefield was hit liberally and Moore and Wakefield changed positions during the last half of the eighth. Seeing that the game was lost Montessano made a burlesque of the game, Wakefield catching with a tin can tied to him, while Winters, the last man up, batted with a broom.

HORSEMEN ON HAND

Veteran Trainers and Drivers See Track.

FESTIVAL WEEK COMING

Big Trotting Event, With $10,000 Stakes, Will Prove Card of Meet With Some of Most Prominent Horses in Northwest.

Taking advantage of the fine afternoon number of Portland horsemen drove to the track of the Portland Fair and Livestock Association at Rose City Park yesterday and inspected the stables as well as the track. Dick Wilson, the veteran trainer, was on hand, though he refrained from working out the various horses in his charge, being content simply to exercise them in the paddock.

Staline is the best bet of the Alley stable, though he has a pet in Roseburg Boy, a 2-year-old pacer entered in the $500 "baby stake." Roseburg Boy will have strong competition in Mrs. A. R. Shreve's Ruby Light, and W. L. Whitmore's Jean Reid. The latter has shown remarkable form of late, for Saturday she was sent the mile in 2:26 1-8, which is considered a remarkable showing for a colt.

Additional stables are arriving at the track every day or so, but the association has provided plenty of stable room. This feature is of especial benefit to the owners of large stables, for it is not often that they can come to a track where so ample accommodations are to be found as at the Portland track.

Spokane 2; Vancouver 0. SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 14.—Bonner pitched great ham today, shutting out Vancouver 2 to 0. Bob Brown's men got only two hits off the Clarkson, Wash., phenom. Smith was hit freely. Score: Morning game—R.H.E. R.H.E. Chehalis..... 8 5 Aberdeen..... 1 6 Batteries—Krause and Taylor; Mann and Hunt. Afternoon game—R.H.E. R.H.E. Chehalis..... 3 2 Aberdeen..... 3 8 4 Batteries—Callahan and Taylor; Boyle, Boettiger and Hunt.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—By winning both games today at Aberdeen in the State League, Chehalis maintains first place by a good margin. Yesterday's victory placed her in this position. Both games today were easily won by the locals, the afternoon contest being a slaughter. Martin's work at short and Fulton's at first were features of today's contest. Boyler did fairly good work until the seventh in the afternoon game, when he went to pieces, being relieved by Boettiger. The score: Morning game—R.H.E. R.H.E. Chehalis..... 8 5 Aberdeen..... 1 6 Batteries—Krause and Taylor; Mann and Hunt. Afternoon game—R.H.E. R.H.E. Chehalis..... 3 2 Aberdeen..... 3 8 4 Batteries—Callahan and Taylor; Boyle, Boettiger and Hunt.

FIGHTERS DE ANNO GET MUCH MONEY

Big Receipts at Reno Cause Pugilists to Ask for Larger Purses.

WEIGHT SCALE PUZZLING

New Classification With the Lightweight Limit at 136 Pounds Is Suggested by Corbett—Gossip of the Boxers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—These record-breaking receipts at Reno indirectly are causing the majority of boxing promoters to spend a great many sleepless nights, and for a while, until things settle down to normal conditions again, the ordinary promoter will have to secure a letter of introduction if he is anxious to talk business with the average "pork and bean scraper."

Not one of the boxing boys would think of talking in less than thousands these days, and such well advertised experts as Ad Wolgast and Packey McFarland will consider nothing less than $100,000 for a short bout of six or ten rounds. The few promoters who were brave enough to talk 20 rounds to these boys were informed that an offer of $20,000 might be given consideration.

Certainly times have changed in the boxing game, and where some of the greatest fighters we have ever had were glad of the opportunity to box on a percentage basis, the up-to-date pugilist wants his money guaranteed, and a big chunk of it, too. Well, they are entitled to all they can get and I wish all of them the best of luck, but a little consideration for the promoters would not be out of place.

It is doubtful if Ad Wolgast and Packey can be brought together at that. Wolgast probably will insist on 133 pound ringside and I do not think that McFarland will agree to make this weight. He would not do it for Battling Nelson, as he said it would leave him in too weak a condition, and Ad's surly is every bit as tough as the Battler.

The champion, on the other hand, has no trouble in making 133, and probably a few pounds lighter, so as he won the championship at the lightweight limit, he surely will not be in favor of risking his title in a contest with Nelson, a competent mechanical, as McFarland, when he is forced to give away weight. A few pounds make considerable difference with the little fellows.

It would not be a bad idea if some of the leading lights in the boxing game would get together and establish a new scale of weights. Under present conditions a few pounds bar many a good man out of the class to which he really belongs. As for example, McFarland's case. For that matter, we have had a sliding scale in the lightweight division at the ocean.

When Gans won the title from Frank Erne the weight was 136. Although Joe was the champion, in order to get the title from Nelson he was forced to make 125 pounds, and he lost the title at this weight. Wolgast won from Nelson at the same notch and will insist on all challengers for the championship doing the same. An international scale of weights would fill the bill. In England the lightweight limit is 135 pounds.

My suggestions for a new scale of weights to cover the principal classes, would be as follows: Featherweight, from 122 to 130; lightweight, 131 to 136; welterweight, 137 to 148, and middleweight, 149 to 158. Any man above 158 and below 170, a light heavyweight. These figures are my idea of what would be about right and are offered as a suggestion to the experts of both England and America. And while on the subject of weights, let us take the case of poor Joe Gans, who has just died of consumption in Baltimore. When Gans met Nelson at the coming Fall and Winter months, he is expected to preside, the pictures are on exhibition in seven or eight theaters. The attendance is made up of both men and women, and the so-called "immortality" of the pictures has not done any damage up to date.

London and the Burns-Langford match has been scheduled for the latter part of September and that he has secured one of the largest halls in London in which to hold the contest. He says further that the result of the late championship contest was no surprise to the English fight fans and that Johnson was a hot favorite in the betting.

Another new vaudeville attraction looms up on the horizon like a black cloud in the person of Sam Langford, who took up the running at a local theater where Johnson left off. Sam has Bob Armstrong for a sparring partner and seems to be every bit as popular as "Little Arthur" was before him. There is talk around town that Johnson and Langford have come to an agreement to fight in England some time in the coming Winter and that Hugh McIntosh has secured the match.
