Accountable. Shooting Reported.—A shooting, said by victim to be accidental called Patrolman Martine to the rooming-house conducted by "Mother" Olsey, SM, North Second street, Saturday night, where the officer found P. E. Billings, a former bartender, suffering from a flesh wound in his leg. Billings said that he was loading his revolver when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking his leg. A woman who was present and who is said to be Billings wife, disputed his statement and alleged that Billings had attempted to shoot himself in the head, but missed it and struck the leg instead. Billings told Martine that be and the woman were going to leave town yesterday morning.

No arrests were made.

Delinquent Assessments for Be Bounet.—Arrangements are boing made to buy up the delinquent assessment claims after September 1, after which date the assessments for the widening of Villa avenue to Si feet between East Sixtieth and Meridan streets, become delinquent. The object is to clear the opening of the street of all obstructions as soon after September 1 as possible. As long as any of the assessments are unpaid the street cannot be opened. However, those who permit assessments to become delinquent will have to pay 10 per cent additional to the original cost, and hence all will save money by keeping out of the delinquent class, besides facilitating the early opening of this street.

atronner Hunr av Fall.—Falling is feet yesterday morning, Attorney Frank Motter narrowly escaped death. He sustained fractures of two ribs, and a number of contusions on the face and head. The injuries will confine Mr. Motter to his bed for probably two weeks. Mr. Motter was crouched on the roof of the perch in front of his residence at East Twenty-ninth and Bast Flanders streets, engaged in trimming a rose bush. His footing was none too secure and suddenly gave way. In falling, Mr. Motter partially turned in the air, landing on partially turned in the air, landing on his head and shoulders. Dr. W. R. Nettie Curtis, who fell to the street from a balcony on the fourth story of the Buell apartments, Fourteenth and the Buell apartments, Fourteenth and Salmon streets, early Saturday morning, was still alive at St. Vincent's Hospital at an early hour this morning and the physicians in charge of her case say that she still has a chance of recovery. Captain of Detectives Moore yesterday called into his office W. A. Kastner, in whose apartment the girl was quartered at the time of her fall, and subjected him to a close questioning rejected him to a close questioning re-garding the case. Kastner was taken in custody. He had not succeeded in securing ball last night. W. S. Neeld, who shares the apartment with Kast-ner, was also arrested and held as a witness in the case.

From the statements of all concerned,
Captain Moore is satisfied that the girl

Kastner admitted that he had taken the girl to his apartments and allowed the inference to arise that she was his wife. It is upon this admission that his arrest is based. Kastner said that the Curtis girl was in the habit of frequenting cafes. On the night of the accident she had been out until 1 o'clock and returned escorted by an acquaintance of Kastner's who left her, he says, at the door. This man was also called in by Captain Moore and substantiated Kastner's statement. "I don't believe' in this gabble of tongues by people who think they have the Holy Ghost, which nobody can understand, for the people have been hoodwinked. The Christian filled with the holy spirit speaks so all can understand him. There never was a time when the world was so hungry for the old-time religion—for the return of the pentacostal power. The power is needed. The Holy Spirit has always been hore, but the church needs the powar. I fear that if half the church membership were to die there would be no loss of spiritual power. Some church members have been holding checks on the bank of heaven for the past 40 years and have never had them cashed. Of course, pentacost can be repeated.

Finally, two of the girls who happened to be looking at it at the same time, emitted terrifying shrieks and mounted the table. Several of the other girls, thinking something spooky had happened, also screamed and two of them fainted. The whole office by this time was in great commotion and the manager rushed in, seeking the cause of the trouble.

Breathlessly, the girls told him that something was alive in the blue laundry bag and as they all riveted their eyes to it something inside did move.

Bravely, as a soldier charges the mouths of belching cannons, the manager lifted the bag, pulied open the puckering strings and emptied the contents on the marking table.

A large blue animal, with hair raised on its back, spitting flercoly, leaped from the table as a dozen girls screamed in terror. It was a big Maitese cat. Nervously, the girls went to work and when they lifted up a pillow slip a kitten roiled out and mewed.

Several little boys, who had been attracted to the front of the laundry by the screams of the frightened girls, assured them that they knew where the owner of the blue maitese cat lived. Two of the girls, with the kitten in one of their aprons, and piloted by three small boys, started out for the home of the kitten, to return it to the owner.
