ARIDLANDSTO FURNISHED POWER

Central Washington and Columbia River Districts to Be Given Aid.

Electricity Saves Big Expense; Is to Play Important Part in Irrigation Plans of Pacific Power & Light Company.

Encouragement and aid in the irrigation of approximately 1,000,000 hores of land in the Columbia River basin on both sides of the river between The Dalles. Oregon, and Priest Rapids, in Washington, are to be important features of the operations of the Pacific Power & Light Company, directors and officers of which have just completed a four of that district accompanied by prominent Eastern bankers and financiers.

S.Z. Mitchell, president of the Electric Bond & Share Company of New York City, and chairman of the board of directors of the Pacific Power & Light Company, talked enthusiastically of the possibilities for development of the arid acctions of Oregon and Washington by the installation of water pumping plants, operated by electric power.

"We shall do all we can to encourage the Installation of pumping plants, we work city."

"We shall do all we can to encourage the installation of pumping plants throughout the territory served by our transmission lines," said Mr. Mitchell yesterday. "Irrigation by means of pumping plants which lift the water from the territory served by I wells is now in the Northwest, but I wenture to may that in the past year for every new sure of land that has been reclaimed in California by the ditch method, ten new acres have been watered by pumping plants.

Money Saved by Electricity.

In our visit in the Yakima Valley "In our visit in the Yakima Valley we saw, for example, a ditch constructed at great expense for a distance of 30 miles winding its way among the rocks and fills before delivering the water to tillable land. By means of pumping plants operated by electric power the water can be lifted from wells or from the Columbia River at a fraction of the initial expenditure on such a ditch and the maintenance charges and cost of electric current would be far less than the interest on the investment in and cost of maintaining the ditch.

"If a man has a well on his land, $500 will install a pumping plant adequate to water 50 or 60 acres. The Columbia River and its tributaries, such as the Snake and Yakima, offer a never-fall-ing supply of water that may be pumped to an acreage of vast extent. We have purchased the power plant at The Dalles and will devote our energies to induce the reclaiming of lands in the Columbia River basin by this mean from The Dalles to Priest Rapids. have never attempter to make an accurate estimate of the acreage in that portion of the Columbia River basin that can thus be watered. I should say that the area, including that in the valleys of the Snake. Yakima and other tributaries, now capable only of growing jackrabbits and horned toads, is close to 1,000,000 acres. No richer sell is to be found anywhere. The climatic conditions are right and all the land heeds is water to make it produce wonderful coops.

Power Lights Farmers' Homes

"Similar land now under trigation in the Yakima Valley is selling for $5000 per aere. Some of this land is producing $1000 g year in gross revenue and I know of other lands there that are yielding $500 per acre net revenue. On some of these lands are to be found farmers' homes of the type of the residences on Portland Heights, lighted by electricity and having every convenience that the

'Not only will electric power be used for driving the pumping plants but it will be devoted to driving dairy ma-chinery, alfalfa grinders, in cooking and in operating home refrigerator plants. The warrath for egg incubators is even now supplied by electricity.
"The Northwest is now attracting more attention from Eastern investors than any other section and the interest is particularly strong in Oregon because of the railroad development that is under way. I believe that during the next five years Oregon will have a greater new growth and advancement than any other state in the Union. Mr. Steele and Mr. Baker, the New York bankers who accompanied James J. Hill to Oregon last May after looking over the country went home delighted with its prospects. In my opinion no better opportunities are offered to men for making new homes and laying up a competence than in the semi-arid sections of Oregon and Wash-ington that are coming under irrigation." Mr. Mitchell also said that the transmission line, now being constructed to connect the Walla Walls and Yakima systems, would be completed in about 9 days. The company has under considera-tion the building of a transmission line to connect the Eakima system with that of the Washington Water Power Company at Spokane with the view of obtain-ing lighting current at times when the power of its own system is devoted to pumping. Enlargements of the water-power plants at Walla Walla and on the Nachez are under way and options have been taken on a number of other power sites which will be developed as fast as they are needed.

Company Has Big Holdings.

Mr. Mitchell is a former resident of Portland, having come to this city in 1886. He was at one time manager of the General Electric Company and had a prominent part in the electrification of the early street railways, including the Washington-street line, and the building of other roads in this vicinity. The Paeffe Power & Light Company has its per-manent headquarters in Portland. It is the owner of the Portland Gas & Coke Company, and public utility properties at The Dalles, Milton, Freewater, Walla Walla, Pasco, North Yakima, Lewiston, Malia, Passec, North Yakima, Lewiston, Idaho, Pendleton and other points.

The party that arrived in Portland yesterday was met at Pendleton last Wednesday night by Guy W. Talbot, president of the Pacific Power & Light Company, and an invited number of Oregon and Washington bankers and men of prominence. The combined party went by special train from Pendleton to Milton and thence over the company's electric rallway to Walla Walla after visiting the hydro plant eight miles from Milton. Pasco was visited after Walla Walla and on last Sunday the party went by steamer up the Columbia River to Priest Rapids. North Yakima and the Nachez power #### HOUSE IS FULL OF TROUBLE Whole Fernan Family and Parrot Taken to Police Court.

A man, two women, two bables and a parrot in its cage were the load with which Driver Gruber backed the patrol wagen up to the curb at police headquarters yesterday morning. Those present were D. J. Fernan, a teamster, and his wife, their two children, Miss Mabel LeMason and Polly, a protege of Miss LeMason's. The last named is the defendant in a charge of assault and battery brought by Fernan, while Fernan himself is accused by his own wife threatening to kill her friend, Miss

"How old are you?" asked Sergeant Riley, when he booked the woman.
"Twenty-one," she replied.
"What!" cried Riley. Well might he exclaim, for the face and figure were those of an ancient woman and the voice was high and quavering. The woman adhered to her statement, how ever, and was supported by her friend, Mrs. Fernan, who declared that the woman was a victim of the San Francisco earthquake, having suffered an injury to the spine, which caused her aged appearance.

The troubles of the Fernans came to The troubles of the Fernans came to the notice of the police Tuesday night, when Patrolman Trout reported that he had been called to quell a family riot on Glisan street, near Eleventh. Trout learned that Fernan had been away for some weeks and had returned to find Miss LeMason established with his wife in their home. He obligated his wife in their home. He objected and was locked out by the women. Fernan appealed to the police, was assured that he had a right to break into his own home, and did do, whereupon he says he was attacked by Miss LeMason, and he retaliated in kind. A tack-hammer was used in settling the dispute. Trout left peace behind him, but the trouble broke out again at the station yesterday morning and the counter-charges were filed. The case will be tried this morning

CHAMBER STARTS FIRE RELIEF FUND

Children of Stricken Families Are in Dire Need of Warm Clothing.

FIRMS DONATE SUPPLIES

It Is Expected That $5000 Will Be Raised Among People of Portland for Sufferers From Fires in the Pacific Northwest.

CHILDREN NEED CLOTHING.

Pully 200 children of the families made destitute by the forest fires are in need of wearing apparel. The weather has turned chilly and children are reported to be suffering from the lack of proper clothing.

The people of Portland are requested to send their contributions this morning to the People's Insti-tute, Fourth and Burnside streets. Miss Valentina Prichard, of the People's Institute, urges that action be taken immediately, as relief must be given the children without delay.

To relieve the condition of the fire sufferers in Oregon and Washington, especially in the district north and east of Vancouver, the Portland Chamber of Commerce has started a relief fund and hopes to raise $5000 among the people of Portland. As the organization for the campaign has not been fully effect-ed, no contributions were handed in yesterday. F. C. Knapp, president of the Chamber, said last night that committees would be appointed this morn-ing and that a canvass of the business districts would be started at once.

That the stricken families are in dire straits was communicated to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Fully 60 families in the Yacolt district are penniless and without homes or shelter. Of the 240 children of these families, only about 40 have so far been provided for Through the efforts of the People's In-stitute supplies of food, clothing and cooking utensils have been hurried to the families in want, but many of the sufferers have not as yet been reached. Clothing for at least 200 children is urgently needed.

Victims Deserve Help.

"If the people of Portland step to realize the situation of the fire suffer-ers, I think that we will be able to raise all the money necessary in one day," said Mr. Knapp last night.
Mr. Knapp said that he had received reports from Idaho towns that hundreds of families are in great distress. dreds of families are in great distress, and he believed that some help should be given the stricken people of that state. Relief funds will be distributed among the destitute families in the vicinity of Portland first, and if an appeal is made to the people of Portland to render aid to the Idaho sufferers, Mr. Knapp hoped that some action would also be taken in their behalf. Up to last night Mr. Knapp had received no call for aid from the residents of the Crater Lake district.

HOMESTEADERS GET TIMBER

Those Living on Public Land Can Sell Burned Trees.

By recent instructions issued by the Commissioner of the General Land Of-fice to Louis L. Sharp, Chief of the First Field Division, the homesteaders upon public lands within the burned areas of Oregon, Washington, and Northern Ida-ho, who are occupying land in good faith, will be permitted to out, remove and sell the timber on the claims which has been killed by the forest fires.

The Commissioner concurs in the opin ion of the chief of the field division that to of the chief of the held division that it will be to the best interests of the pub-lic and the settlers in the localities af-fected, if the cutting and removal of the timber killed by the fires would be permitted, and directs that investigation be made of each application for mits. The only restriction is that good faith must be apparent and no attempt under color of title to denude the land of the timber for sale and speculation, and then abandon it.

Petitions Are Referred.

The Council referred to the judiciary committee the petitions of St. Johns, Lents and a portion of territory west of Fulton Park, for consideration and report. There is slight doubt as to whethere the petitions have sufficient signatures of registered voters to entitle them to a place on the ballot of each respective community, so that the residents of these places may vote on the annexation question. If they have not enough signatures, there is ample time to secure enough, and each of the places will very likely have the priv-ilege they seek of deciding the subject for themselves.

City Enginer Morris submitted his es-timate on the proposed high bridge across the Willamette River from Diacross the Willamette River from Di-vision to Sherman street, placing the cost at $1,850,000. This bridge is to be paid for by a bond issue, if it carries. The people of the southern districts on both sides of the river are favoring it and will make it an issue in the June election.
