CANDIDATES'ACTS ABE UNDER INQUIRY

Violations of Corrupt Practices Act to Be Investigated by Grand Jury.

PROMISES ARE UNLAWFUL

One Office-Seeker Who Has Made Appointive Slate Conditional on Election Now Finds Himself in Scrious Situation.

Candidates must walk the straight and narrow path of political righteous. ness this year if they expect to escape resecution under the corrupt practices act. Several complaints of irregular conduct on the part of county and district candidates have already reached the District Attorney's office and it is probable that grand jury in-vestigations will ensue. The names of those complained of are withheld, pending investigation.

On account of the numerous provion account of the numerous provi-sions of the comparatively new law, there is likelihood of wholesale tree-passing. In fact, many infractions have already occurred, so it is known. And inasmuch as igorance cannot be pleaded as an excuse for violating any law, it is pointed out by Deputy Dis-trict Attorney Fitzgerald that candidates would do well to post themselves

Promises of Office Unlawful.

One of the most common of the vio lations relates to promises of appoint-ments. At least one candidate for a minor county office has been telling about town who he would have for this place and that if elected. Working with him is an aspirant for the same office who drew off to accept a deputyehip. The peace of mind of that particular candidate should not be en hanced when he glances through sec-tion 19, which says:
"No person shall, in order to aid or promote his nomination or election, directly or indirectly, himself or through any other person, promise to appoint another person or promise to secure or aid in securing the appointment, nomnation or election of another person to any public or private position or employment, or to any position of hour, trust or emolument, except that he may publicly announce or define what is his choice or purpose in relation to any election in which he may be called to take part."

Friends Cannot Spend Money.

Another provision that has been overlooked in many instances is that requiring candidates to exhibit their campaign thunder to one another fore causing its appearance in the state pamphlet.

The provision enforcing economy t dates are aware that their friends cannot spend money for them. The law provides that strict account must be kept by all persons and committees handling more than $50 for political purposes. No candidate is permitted to dispense a sum greater than 15 per cent of one year's compensation from the office to which he aspires. An temized statement of all expenditures must be presented to the County Clerk or Secretary of State within 15 days after election. Another important provision is that which protects candidates from all nanner of solicitors, religi ical, charitable, social or other, although the law, of course, is directed against candidates. Under section 24 no candidate for office must subscribe to any of these funds and the law nets

No person shall demand, solicit, ask "No person shall demand, solicit, ask or flyvite any candidate to subscribe to the support of any club or organ-ization, to buy tickets to any enter-tainment or ball or to subscribe for space in any book, programme, periodical or publication; if any candidate shall make any such payment or con-tribution with apparent hope or intent to influence the result of said election shall be guilty of a corrupt prac-

Minor Restrictions Numerous.

No corporation is permitted to con-tribute in any way to the welfare of a candidate. Nor are corporations, re-legious organizations or other organ-izations permitted to influence em-ployes or members. No candidate must place a wager on the probable outcome in his district. No candidate must treat, pass out cigars, or offer cash or presents in order to influence votes. Innumerable minor restrictions are placed on candidates. In short, in order to live up to and meet all the requirements, the candidate must lead a severely chastened life. As for the District Attorney, he must investigate any and all complaints made to him of irregularities. The law says on this point: "If any District Attorney shall fall or refuse to perform any duty imposed upon him by this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeaner and upon conviction thereof shall forfeit his office. It shall be the duty of the District Attorney, under conditions. penalty of forfeiture of office, to proscute any and all persons guilty of any violation of the provisions of this act, the penalty of which is fine or imprisor both, or removal from of-of Candidate. Fording, candidate for County central committeeman, has filed with County Clerk Fields his declaration of intention. He declares himself "For Re-sublican assemblies, participated in by Republicans only."

"If I am elected," he says, "I will, during my term of office, do all I can for a harmonious Republican organization, by assembly or otherwise; I shall in no way meddle with nominations of any opposing party and make no agreement or compromise with them that might tend to prevent honest party registration."

FATHER KELLEY NOT RUNNING

Priest Appeals to Police Against Forced Candidacy for Congress. To prevent persons unknown from plac-ing his name on the primary ballet for the nomination as representative in Congress, Father M. J. Kelley, a Catholic priest, living at the Hotel Eaton, appealed to the police yesterday.

The clergyman said that he knew of five petitions which were in circulation, hearing his name, as "the Christian candidate" for the nomination. One of them, said, was being handed around by Father Kelley declared that he was no candidate, had no aspirations in rection and had never authorized any one to circulate a petition for lim. He does not know who did inspire the move of who the persons are who are in charge of the petitions. He inclined to the belief that the thing is done in an

The police officials do not know of any statute which forbids such an act, but instructions were given by Chief of Police Cox that officers shall keep on the watch for the circulators and inform headquarters who they are if found.

POLITICAL BREVITIES

There is still a small rumpus in the Bourne camp over the legislative slate. Friends of Seneca Fouts are insisting that he be recognized in place of W. J. Clemens. However, while the belligerly happens that the two Senators have been especially invited to attend the smoker to be given on that date by the Spanish-American War veterans. Mr. Bowerman is a member of the camp

Mr. Bowerman has an elophant on his hands in the acting Governorship. With his campaign for Governor now demanding his time and energies, he says, he is unable to let go. There is no provision for anyone to succeed him should he retire, so he must continue in the harness until Governor Benson's condition permits his return to work.

Piguratively, the fur is apt to fly bate on the assembly comes off as planned next Saturday night at the Armory with Dan J. Malarkey on the anti side and Walter L. Tooze on the pro line. In the elements of excite-ment, the verbal clash should cutdo a mediaeval tilt.

Charles W. Fulton has returned from an automobile spin to Southern Oregon. He met many people on his trip and talked politics a good deal. He reports that the assembly sentiment is general among party men and that there is a feeling that the party should be cemented this year by election of the entire assembly ticket.

Judge M. C. George, E. V. Littlefield, Ralph W. Hoyt and J. N. Hart met in-formally with Acting Governor Bowerman yesterday and talked over the po-litical situation. Each gave his rea-sons for believing that the assemo-y would win, the consensus of opinion being that the party is weary of chicanery and Bourneism and is going to pull together this year.

J. D. Stevens added his name yesterday to the list of those who would be Joint Senator from Multnomah, Clack-amas and Columbia counties. Stevens is anti-assembly as well as anti-anti-assembly. He is out for public owner-ship of monopolies, equal suffrage, no gambling in life's necessities and "anti-Eldredge block legislation." Stevens is a Socialist orator. He says he will put up a brisk fight. Dr. I. M. Davis, one of the anti-as-sembly candidates for Representative not on the Bourne slate, thought the assembly side wanted him very much last night. Someone, who said he was Mayor Simon, telephoned him an offer of 1500 votes if he would change to the assembly side. Later he telephoned Mayor Simon regarding the subject and naturally the Mayer didn't know what he was talking about. The candidate then became aware of the fact that someone had been jesting him. E. Henry Wemme, the distinguished aviator, is being talked of as a possible anti-assembly candidate for the place in the State Senate made vacant by the resignation of John B. Coffey, who is planning to become the next County Clerk.

WILSON AROUSES ANGER

HOME RULE ASSOCIATION IN-CENSED AT PREACHER.

Members Deny That Their Initiative Bills Are Like Reddy Document, as Clergyman Implies.

Recent addresses by Rev. Clarence True Wilson, in the "Oregon Dry" cam-paign, in which he has termed initiative bills No. 328 and 329, fathered by the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association, as a resorrection of the Reddy bill, have greatly incensed members of the association. They resent the implication. To make sure that there is no claw in either measure, the association flaw in either measure, the association had its legal advisers to go carefully over the bills again and sacertain if there were any loopholes that could be taken advantage of by an "obnoxious element," which the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association says it will fight as bitterly as state-wide prohibition The attorneys reported that the bills are clear in all their provisions and that by no comparison can they be construed even to resemble the Reddy bill. "The assertion by Dr. Wilson that the Home Rule bills are nothing more than the old Reddy bill is absurd and ridicu-lous," said H. C. McAllister, general manager of the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association yesterday, "and would not be dignified with a denial were it not for the fact that a few men, who have not the time to look up such matters, might be misled and vote against our measure under the belief that it is the old Reddy bill. The ridiculousness of Dr. Wilson's assertions is apparent when you read the names of prominent business men, who are foremost in the Greater Oregon Home Rule movement. These same men fought the Reddy bill and it was through their influence and our measure that the bill was killed. "The Reddy Bill, so-called, attempted to confer upon municipalities the exclusive power to license or prohibit theaters, race-tracks, poolrooms, bowling alleys, billiard-halls and the sale of liquors,' and was criticised by The Ore gonian, January 28, 1908, on the ground that if adopted, it would divest Sheriffs and District Attorneys of the power to enforce the criminal laws of the state, and permit municipal authorities to run a town wide open. The Reddy bill omitted the clause 'that city charters must be subject to the constitution and criminal laws of the state. There was a natural fear that the bill attempted to promine or license saloons according to vote within the respective limits of such cities. It includes the provison that city charters must be subject to the constitution and criminal laws of the state, as demanded by The Oregonian. It does not divest Sheriffs and District Attorneys of the power to enforce the criminal laws of the state. force the criminal laws of the state

It does not, in any manner, touch upon the question of gambling, race-tracks "Dr. Clarence True Wilson's state-ment that if the Home Rule bill carries, any city could authorize the sale of liquer to minors and women, and on Sunday, etc., is absolutely untrue. Ev-erybody knows, and he knows, that any criminal law of the state could be enforced by the state authorities. "Dr. Wilson knows, as any intelligent voter knows, that the clause in the Home Rule bill providing that city elections shall be subject to the local option law protects each and every pre-cinet in the city against the saloon; that residential districts maintain and perpetuate their right to vote the saloon out if they so desire.

"The business interests of Oregon have combined through this association. in good faith, to attempt a reasonable solution of a vexed question. The names of the men at the head of this organization are a sufficient guarantee to the people at large of the earnestness and sincerity of this movement. Those op-posing it are entitled to their opinions, but they have no right to make deliberate misstatements to gain their
