

MEN CAPTURED AND HORSES RECOVERED

Long Chase Ends With Arrest of Hamilton and Ware, Alleged Thieves.

PRISONERS DENY CHARGES

Sheriffs of Southern Oregon Travel on Horseback, Train and Auto in Pursuit of Daring Duo, and Sixty Animals.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—After a 450-mile chase on horseback, automobile and passenger train, Sheriff Odell, of Malheur County, and Sheriff Richardson, of Harney County, captured this afternoon Ivan Ware and J. H. Hamilton, who are alleged to have stolen 50 head of horses from William Isaacs, of Sucker Creek, Malheur County, about a week ago.

When caught the men had 40 head of horses in a corral at Goshen. Both denied that they had stolen the animals, and asserted that they bought the horses for $100. They gave no account of those 20 head that the officers this evening found they had sold to farmers beyond Goshen. Both men had women companions. Ware denied that the woman was his wife, but she maintained that she was. The women were allowed to go.

Odell Sleeps Once in Week.

Sheriff Odell began the chase last Friday, since which time he has slept only one night. He and Mr. Isaacs rode to Burns in an automobile, where they broke down. Here Sheriff O. K. Richardson joined them, and in his automobile they followed the thieves to Crescent Lake. They were told they could not make the Cascades in their machine, and turned back, running to Klamath Falls, where they boarded the passenger for Weed, Cal., and arrived at Albany early this morning.

307 Miles Covered in Two Days.

This rough automobile trip of 307 miles they made in two days. They expected to get their men about Sweet Home, but early this morning they learned they were in Lane County, so they secured an automobile and, accompanied by Sheriff Smith, of Linn, came to Eugene.

MALHEUR FAIR ASSURED

Ontario Commercial Club Disposes of $2000 of Stock for Buildings.

ONTARIO, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—To complete the permanent buildings on the grounds of the Malheur County Fair Association, the Ontario Commercial Club yesterday held a "roundup" and succeeded in disposing of nearly $2000 worth of stock in the corporation.

The cost of the buildings erected aggregates $2000 and the success of the fair is assured. From all parts of Malheur County reports are coming in that there will be a large attendance and reservations for stables show that the livestock department will be crowded.

The track is completed, is being used by horsemen everyday and is pronounced fine. Everything will be in readiness for the opening day, September 27. Special trains will bring delegations from Vale and arrangements have been made for an Idaho day, with a band from New Plymouth.

Aside from the exhibits and races, a cowboy tournament will be a feature and a street program will be given every night with illuminations.

SALMON PRICES FIXED

Five Canneries on Lower Columbia Will Operate This Fall.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Columbia River salmon packers, including the contractors, men and all the canners, whose plants are to operate this fall, was held this morning and the prices to be paid for raw fish during the season, which will open at noon on next Saturday, were fixed as follows: Silverides, 3 cents per pound; steelheads and fall salmon, 4 cents per pound; white tail, 10 cents each; dog-salmon, 5 cents each.

Five canneries on the lower river will operate this fall. They are the Union Fishermen's Co-operators; Hansen-Cutting; McGowan; Eureka and Megler plants. Practically all the cold-storage firms will also be in the market.

Several of the canneries, grounds and traps will be operated and the indications are that more than the usual number of gillnetters will be at work, as the prices fixed are such that fairly good wages can undoubtedly be made.

GIRL 16 WEDS MAN 40

Farmer's Daughter Elopes to Spend Honeymoon on Timber Claim.

DAYTON, Wash., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Following her home ties to become the bride of a man 24 years older than she, pretty 16-year-old Bertha Christwell has gone to live with her husband on a timber claim near American Falls, Idaho, after a sensational elopement. She is a daughter of N. R. Christwell, a pioneer farmer, living six miles east of Dayton.

When the parents objected to her marriage to J. E. Turner, said to be past 40, she rode to Dayton with Turner and took a train for her future home, stopping long enough at Pendleton, Or., to be married. Word reached the parents in time to effect today and they have decided not to disturb the couple. Turner has been working near the Christwell ranch as farm hand. He recently acquired a timber claim in Idaho.

CANDIDATES FILE IN MARION

County Ticket Completed Shows but Two Democratic Candidates.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The county ticket was completed this afternoon and the final filing received for candidates in Marion County. Only two Democratic candidates have appeared for county offices, each of these being in the race for State Senator.

In several of the offices there is no contest, and it is probable the bitterest county fight will be about the legislative candidates and the office of County Clerk. R. D. Allen, present incumbent, is running on an anti-assembly platform against Max Gehlar, who received the recommendation of the county assembly. The race for County Recorder also promises to be an interesting one, there being three candidates from all many parts of the county in the field. Following is the county ticket, all being Republicans, except where otherwise indicated: State Senator—John A. Carson, Salem; Dr. J. N. Smith, Salem; Hal D. Patton, Salem; Alonzo Gesner, Salem; all Republicans. Theodore B. Bretano, St. Paul; W. S. Mott, Salem; C. L. Dick, Salem, all Democrats. Representatives—A. C. Libbey, Jefferson; Joseph G. Fontaine, Jefferson; Charles Abrams, Salem; George W. Johnson, Salem; L. T. Reynolds, Salem; Sherman Swank, Aumsville; W. A. Fishburn, Silverton; Frank E. Osburn, Astoria; S. A. Hedges, Salem; A. G. Steelhammer, Silverton. County Clerk—Max Gehlar, Salem; R. D. Allen, Silverton. County Recorder—Allen H. Will, Aurora; A. Eugene Aif Rance, Salem; A. E. Adkins, Scotts Mills. Sheriff—Harry P. Minto, Salem. Treasurer—G. W. Mott, Salem. Surveyor—Byron B. Gerrick, Jr., Salem. County Commissioner—W. H. Goulet, Woodburn. Coroner—A. M. Clough, Salem.

CANDIDATES ARE FEW

EXAMINATION FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIP IS NEAR

Oregon Students Not Attracted by Chance of Free Course at English University.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Candidates from Oregon for the Rhodes scholarship examinations should present themselves for examination at the University of Oregon on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25 and 26. The examinations are held simultaneously all over the United States, the questions being sent out under sealed cover from Oxford, not being opened until the dates of the examinations. This year there promises to be a scarcity of applicants, McMinnville College and Pacific University each expects to have but one candidate. Albany College and Willamette University will have none. No word has yet been heard from Dallas College, Pacific College and the State Agricultural College at Corvallis, as to whether they will present any candidates. The University of Oregon will probably have three or more candidates. The papers, after the examinations are over, are all sent back to Oxford University. The University of Oregon is not a candidate of last year, is also "passed" or "failed to pass," and returned to the state committee. These state committees, usually composed of the leading college presidents, then select the most promising candidate, and he is awarded the scholarship. The scholarship carries $500 per year for three years. Many peculiar customs prevail at Oxford. One, which must be strictly followed, is for each student to have a valet. This valet, called a "fellow," does the work of a servant in keeping the student's room in order, serving his meals and attending to his clothes. A student is not allowed to save any money out of his allowance, but usually manages enough to take a continental trip each year. The University of Oregon has one scholar at Oxford now, Wistar Johnson, '07, son of the late President Johnson, of the university. Cecil Lyons, the successful candidate of last year, is also from the University of Oregon, and will start soon for England to begin his course. Students this year in Oregon intending to take the examinations should send in their names to the president of the university.

LEGISLATIVE AID ASKED

NORTHERN PACIFIC SAYS RUSTON BLOCKS IMPROVEMENT.

Building of Point Defiance Line Is Prevented by Town Council, Asserts Attorney.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Firing of the methods of the City Council of Ruston, which town is said to be blocking the building of the Point Defiance line, the out of Tacoma, the Northern Pacific Railroad will take the question before the Legislature this winter and endeavor to have a bill passed that will permit the necessary construction work. "We have done everything within our power to get legal authority to begin this work and have found our efforts futile," said Attorney George H. Reid, division counsel for the railroad. "Certain interests in Ruston have been attempting to hold us up, asking that we build a tunnel through the hill for a wagon road, and the town council, undertaking that could be imagined. We have made frequent appointments with the members of the Town Council, but they have not kept them."

Thomas Cooper, assistant to the president, A. R. Cook, division engineer, and myself personally took up the question with the Council, but without avail. As we cannot get the tunnel franchise, it is probable that we will go before the Legislature this winter and ask for legislation to build a tunnel through the hill. Ruston is a suburb of Tacoma, located at the Tacoma smelter.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—About 60 persons were present today at the opening of the county organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which was held in the First Methodist Church. ALBANY, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Prominent Oregon horticulturists have been secured to act as judges of the fruit exhibits at the big British Columbia Fair to be held at New Westminster, B. C. E. C. Roberts, of Lebanon, ex-County Fruit Inspector of Linn County, and E. C. Armstrong, of Salem, County Fruit Inspector of Marion County, will make the awards. This fair will begin October 4.

Roselair Dies Telling Wives Not to Attack Husbands.

INNOCENCE IS DECLARED

Condemned Man Reiterates That Wife's Death Was Result of Accident—Harrell Will Be Executed Today.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Advising all wives not to attack their husbands, John D. Roselair, the Hillsboro wife-murderer, talked nearly 15 minutes on the scaffold today before the drop fell. Roselair was dead in 3 1/2 minutes.

Roselair talked incessantly all morning. As he was led from the cell he continued to talk. "It has never before been allowed me to speak in public," said Roselair, as he stood on the scaffold, "and it is hard for me to say anything here. But I am very, very sorry. I have not deserved this, and I could go down on my knees with tears in my eyes." Here his voice broke and he started to sob, but, gaining control of himself, he added: "God says, 'Your thoughts are not my thoughts,' and God knows whether I am innocent or guilty. 'I wish to advise wives against attacking their husbands. If the woman I killed were here now she would advise the same thing. I did not strike at her when she threw a pan of milk on me, but I struck at the pan and accidentally hit her. A woman should never attack a man. It is all wrong, and this woman was the cause of her own accidental death. There was no murder committed." He repeated the last sentence several times.

Father Francis, of Grants Pass, was present, and will also be confessor for Isaac N. Harrell when he is executed tomorrow afternoon.

With Sheriff Hancock of Washington County came a party of 16 men from Hillsboro and vicinity to witness the Roselair execution. P. M. Cory and William Barker, of Lakeview, are here to witness the execution of Harrell tomorrow, and saw Roselair hanged today. Cory is a brother-in-law of Wal-
