

KING GEORGE NOW FOLLOWING FATHER

Personal Contact With People Seen to Solidify Throne's Influence.

BUSINESS MEN LIKE RULER

Palace Offices Run Nowdays With Latest American Labor-Saving Devices—Gossips Wondering Where Churchill Has Gone.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—King George plans to pass state visits to five or three of his realm every year. The late King did a good deal of that, and though King George may not be a genius, he can see through a brick wall as far as his realm is concerned, and is so wise enough that the personal contact of his father with the people solidified the influence of the throne. He is so wise that he has no chance for a revival of the republicanism that was a growing feature of political England under his father's name.

Business Men Like King George.

With business men the King is becoming extremely popular, for he is becoming a man who they can appreciate. His palaces have offices run nowadays with the latest American labor-saving appliances. His last reforms have been in connection with the messages that pass between London and the court wherever he may be. For long enough now the postoffice and telegraph systems have been fully adequate to handle all these, but because precedent had ordained that a costly service of special messengers should be maintained, hardly any attention was made in the time of Queen Victoria or King Edward. In consequence, King's messengers traveled long journeys to deliver dispatches. King George has altered all that. He is content to rely on the postoffice for the prompt and regular transmission of the necessarily urgent messages. He has retained the Buckingham Palace, Marlborough House and the court in Scotland.

Preparations On for Coronation.

Already the people and their wives are preparing their plans for the coronation next June. Such is the demand for ermine, miniver and other furs for their robes that the prices are mounting up to new heights. Velvet has been used to a large extent, but Queen Mary is all for home industries, so British velvet makers will soon be working hard to supply the needed material.

Even the Liberal papers in London are finding fault with Home Secretary Winston Churchill for his sticking in Asia Minor instead of staying at home in these critical times.

Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey has planned his speech in attendance on the King at Balmoral, and that fact has started the persistent story that Winston went away purposely to avoid contact with the king.

It is a cute fellow and probably has a few other reasons for his absence from England just now.

KING GOOD SPORTSMAN

ENGLISH MONARCH LIKES TO MAKE FANCY SHOTS.

Queen Mary Gives Up Visit to Relatives and May Take Cruise on Baltic.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—King George has enjoyed the opening days of the shooting season in Scotland as much as any of his royal neighbors.

At this spot, at any rate, he is comfortably at home and he intends to maintain the shooting amenities of the Royal demesne quite up to previous standards. In this matter King George's attitude is one of personal interest, to a degree in which this could not be said of his patronage of the turf. He takes a particular pride in maintaining the accuracy of his aim as a shot, and derives a keen receptive interest from the study of the method and the analysis of his results. He is inclined to fancy shots, and some of his achievements in this respect are forming the material of much talk in sporting circles.

The grouse shooting on the Balmoral and Ballochbuie demesne is of comparative unimportance, but it is raked out by the tenacity of the King.

King George has a preference for stalking rather than driving in the deer forests, and more attention is being given to deer-stalking expeditions, in which he will be accompanied by the Prince of Wales, who is his personal companion in a fuller sense than in previous years.

Even the incursion of politicians to confer on the eternal question of what to do with the Lords has failed to dull the ardor of the monarch in Scotland.

Not all the conversation has been of politics, however. It is practically settled that the Prince of Wales is to give the order of the month in Scotland.

able of exerting, will result in its claim being endorsed.

Although informal invitations have reached King George from several crowned heads in Continental countries, home affairs will keep him engrossed for the next few months, so his presence is to pay no state visit to the European courts until the fall of next year. It is also regarded in the court entourage as a desirable thing that King George will not make any Continental sojourn prior to his coronation.

The visit to relatives of her own which Queen Mary has contemplated during the Spring has been abandoned altogether, and there is no foundation for the suggestion that she may proceed early on a holiday to her own account early in the new year. There is reason to anticipate that the King and Queen will spend a few weeks in the early fall, in course of which they will have the opportunity of visiting several capitals and courts under formal conditions.

SERENADE STARTS WAR

CHICAGO SEGBUR TORN BY RESTS OF YOUNG FOLKS.

Citizen Says His Property Was Destroyed—Doesn't Know How to Take Joke, Is Retort.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Hinsdale has a town feud that reached the explosive stage yesterday afternoon when it resulted in being routed out of their beds at 4 A. M. on warrants sworn out by Arthur B. Wright, an attorney with Chicago office, 217 La Salle street.

The boys who were captured in the latest hostile move are William E. Hildebrand, Charles J. Smith, Harold H. Halverscheid, Edward H. Blodgett and Robert Halverscheid, all of Hinsdale.

Marshaled by a policeman who served the warrants, the young men were taken to Wheaton, where they were released on bonds of $1000 each by Magistrate Kerrick. Trial was set for next Wednesday.

A malicious attempt to destroy property was the charge made by Mr. Wright.

Mr. Wright based his accusation upon an outbreak last Fourth of July night, when fifteen or twenty boys gathered in front of his house, armed with firecrackers and dynamite.

Some of the boys were arrested, but others were thrown on the porch, against the house and windows, while a few were tossed upon the roof, though without setting it on fire.

According to Mr. Hadley, his client has been the victim of organized youthfulness for years, dating from the evening when a crowd of boys rolled a large boarder upon the Wright porch.

Revolving in hand, Mr. Wright ran out and fired a shot into the air.

Thereupon the Hinsdale boys—and some of the girls too—declared war.

Miss Hazel Hall, daughter of George H. Hall, owner of the Hinsdale estate, is the wife of a young man who is engaged to a young girl.

"It's all Mr. Wright's fault," she said. "He doesn't know how to take a joke, and he's made everybody out here and I'm sure he will make a fool of himself."

Miss Hall's father said that Wright hurt the daughter of Thomas R. Weddell one night last April because she put "hecklers" on his window.

ing to meet the rate. The state makes a profit of $100 on each man employed in the textile works, and with the opening of a proposed farm implement plant the net profit to the state will run up to $200000 a year.

This is a good showing, and particularly gratifying to the thrifty Minnesota farmers, who devised a scheme which lowered their taxes, lowered the cost of the binding twine, and the price of great quantities of twine from becoming victims of a fixed trust price, introduced the humane practice of giving employment to prisoners, and made a profit over the entire cost of their keep.

Ban on Flammelette Gowns.

Indianapolis, News.

A great many persons have learned by experience that flammelette is a highly inflammable material, and the British physicians should call the attention of mothers to this danger, and the British fire prevention committee has already taken action in the matter. The committee recommends in a recent report that flammable materials should be worked in the salvage of the material.
