GENERALSHIP OF CAMPAIGN GREAT

Triumph of Poindexter Shows Much Skill and Sagacity at Game of Politics.

R. R. WILSON GETS CREDIT

Every Move on Part of Insurgent Nominee for Senator From Wash-Ington Was Timed Nicely and Manager Is Praised.

SEATTLE, Wash, Sept. 15-(Spc cial.)-With complete county returns coming in from all over the state lead of Miles Poindexter for United States Senator mounts upware steadily and the chances for William E. Humphrey, for Congress, grow steadily slimmer.

The Poindexter campaign is regarded by politiciana generally as the most remarkable of the insurgent victories in the country. As an organization, the Poindexter forces never have beer equalled in this state.

There were more than 2000 active workers, covering every city, hamlet and crossroads, who worked without pay and for that reason more enthusiastic. Aside from the men recoggent in the state was a missionary to convert his neighbor. Late returns indicate that the missionaries were mor than ordinarily successful, Politicians Bow to Poindexter.

That the Poindexter fight was skillfully handled the politicians a: willing to concede. Few mistakes were made and the insurgent wave swept steadily upward until it reached its highest point on primary day.
The man who managed the fight for Poindexter in Washington is Rufus R.
Wilson, journalist, author and political reformer.
Last October, Rufus R. Wilson came

cal reformer.

Last October, Rufus R. Wilson came from Washington, D. C., and organized the Progressive Republican League at Spokane. Its purpose was to inderse the candidacy of Miles Poindexter for Representative in Congress. During the early days of the league it was not becaming the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league it was not became the control of the league in th early days of the league it was not belleved possible to elect Poindexter United States Senator.

However, after more than 50 newspapers in the Third Congressional District had failen into line for Poindexter, the Progressive League became ambitious and indorsed Mr. Poindexter for Senator.

Wilson Always on the Job.

While Congressman Poindexter was in-

While Congressman Poindexter was insurging against Uncle Joe Cannon at Washington Rufus R. Wilson was on the job in this state, seeing that his candidate was kept prominently before the public. He outlined the work and enlisted a great company of wolunteers.

The Progressive League wanted Poindexter to leave his seat at Washington and to come back to this state early last Spring. On the surface it appeared that insurgency was languishing, and the Poindexter men wanted to see a little more ginger in the fight. This plan was opposed by Rufus R. Wilson, who contended that a whirlwind finish would be not only more effective but less expensive, and as the Poindexter committee had little money this was important. Subsequent events proved that Mr. se had little money this was important. Subsequent events proved that Mr. Wilson's judgment was rightly correct. The campaign seemed timed exactly right to reap the best results.

Result Surprises Insurgents.

The number of insurgent votes was a surprise to the most enthusiastic Poin-dexter man. The Poindexter campaign in King County was in the hands of Tom Murphine, a roung lawyer and a former student of the University of Washington. He was given full charge of the fight here and he also made

While the Spokane League was clamoring for Pointexter to come home last Spring, the insurgent Congressman was quietly filling his trunk with campaign enterial. He got himself talked about material. He got nimbell talked about in the newspapers and when Theodore Roosevelt came home it was easy saling. Poindexter held a conference with Roosevelt and while there are different versions of what was said at that conference, politicians believe that the insurgent received encouragement Speeches by Colonel Roosevelt during the progress of the fight had the effect of convincing voters that the ex-President was in sympathy with the ipsurg-

It is a matter of curlosity to know how much the Burke campuign has cost, as it is believed Judge Burke conducted the most expensive campaign known in state politics of Weichington.

The race for Representative in Congress between William E. Humphrey and Thomas P. Revelle is now a question of percentage. Humphrey has a substantial lead over Revelle on first-choice votes and late returns indicate that he has received a little more than 40 per cent of the total vote cast for Representative. If the missing returns do not show a de cided change of form for Humphrey, be will win and the contest will be decided without recourse to second-choice votes.

Revelle Leads in King County.

The total vote in King County for Congressman gives Revelle a lead over Humphrey of $78. However, in the northern counties Humphrey has more than made up this discrepancy and the ques-tion of leadership on first-choice votes is

In Kings County Humphrey lacks 506 voice of laving the necessary 40 per cent, but he has votes to spare in Snohomish, Skagit and Whatcom counties. The indications are that Reveile has carried San Juan County.

Food Show in the Armory tonight, as was originally announced.
It was only after considerable per-suasion on the part of the management of the show that the couple consented teets of curiosity. Because the ceremony would unite a white girl to a Chinaman, much comment was rife among those who have been interested in the exposition, and last night the announcement was made that the marriage would not take place.

Expansion Into Eight-Club League Will Also Be Considered at San Francisco.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 15-(Special.)-Trained to the minute and with his fighting togs in trim Henry Berry left for San Francisco tonight for the gasembling of the Coast League mo-guis in that city Saturday, when questions of paramount importance to this organization will be discussed. "The expansion of the Coast League into an eight-club affair by the admis-sion of Seattle and Tacoma or some other city and the installation of the double umpire system are two impor-tant questions which are down for de-bate," said Berry before starting. "My attitude on the double umpire system is well known. I am the author of the agitation for the double system in this league and intend to see it through. I will endeavor to induce the other directors to fall in line for the double system next season as it is hardly likely that the league will inthe double system at this stage of the race.

Ex-President, Then Governor, Signed Bill Granting Privileges to New York Transportation Company, Says Witness.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.-The books, private accounts and youthers of Louis F. Goodsell, former State Senator from Orange County, and those of H. S. Beardsley, secretary-treasurer of the New York State Railway Association, with which Senator Goodsell had business dealloss. are no longer in existence.

They were wanted by the Merritt legislative committee, but both Goodsell and Beardsley testified yesterday they had destroyed them. The books, private accounts and vouchers of Louis F. Bedell, formerly Assemblyman from Grange County, are no longer in existence. Mr. Bedell testified at a previous hearing of the committee that they had been destroyed in the Hotel Gramertin fire.

Testimony Creates Sensation.

The cumulative effect of the testimony of Messrs. Goodsell and Beards-ley produced a sensation. Mr. Good-sell caused another milder one, when, in defending his bill granting sweep-ing privileges to the New York Trans-portation Company, he noted that Colonel Roosevelt, then Governor, had

In Valedictory Address He Urges Further Improvement.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15 .- Governor Hughes, honor guest at the State Fair, yesterday delivered his valedictory address to the people of New York state. He retires as Governor next month to become a member of the United States Supreme Court.

In his address the Governor urged the President to foster the great public mprovements now under way.

The Governor's declaration, "I strongly believe in the concentration of administration responsibility," evoked hearty applause.

Of especial interest was his final word on the subject of direct primary.

"As for the most part our records as: "As for the most part our people act through political parties," he said, "it is of the highest importance to their true liberty that action within the parties should be free, and both with respect to candidates the selection of party managers should be based upon he direct vote of the party members."

"FLASH ROLL" IS UTILIZED

Stranger Gains Confidence of Local fer Saloonist, Who Accommodates Friend by Allowing Him Access to Savings.

By one of the cleverest awindling games to come before the notice of the police in months George Daviolos, who conducts a saloon at Fifth and Burnconducts a saloon at first and Burn-side streets, was euchered out of $1680 by two debonair chaps Wednesday, Davi-olos attributes his loss to his gener-osity and the considence placed in a new-found friend who passed under the name John Ferran, who claimed French heritage.

French heritage.
For the past several weeks Ferran made Daviolo's saloen his headquarters and in some manner learned the fact that the saloenist had recently secreted $1600 in a safety deposit vault in the Bank of California in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Yesterday Ferran brought a friend, a man well advanced in years, to Davi-olo's place of business and introduced him to the proprietor as being an Alas-kan miner who had $2400 in greenback in his possession which he desired to temporarily secrete in a safe place. In a bland manner Ferran suggested that the saloonist permit the money to be placed in his safety deposit box. The intier acquiesced and the three hied themselves to the bank, where a "flash-roll," consisting of two greenbacks of small denominations, covering a wad of newspaper, was deposited in the box by the aged stranger. Apparently con-tented with the favor extended to him the elder of the two sharks suggested that the three retire to a nearby buf-fet. While standing at the bar a few

While Ferran engaged his victim in a conversation at the bar his pal slipped into the vault and by means of the loaned key pilfered the box of Daviolos' $1500. Both succeeded in getting away without exciting the suppletors of their without exciting the suspicions of their victim, who did not discover his loss until he visited the bank vaults in search of the man with the key. He found the "flash roll" utilized by the crooks to deceive him. This he turned over to the police with a meager de-scription of the pair.

Detective Sergeants Day and Hyde, who have been assigned to the case, have been unable to locate the swin-diers. They are believed to have fled from the city soon after the crime was perpetrated.

CIVIC COUNCIL COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH OFFICIALS.

School Inspection Will Be Asked for Buildings Declared To Be Unsafe for Children

If Portland is going to forge ahead and continue to attract people, here to live, the water supply must be enlarged as soon as possible in order that every part of the city can have satisfactory service, was the keynote of the meet-ing of the Civic Council of Portland, held last night. Bull Run water has been one of the chief factors in the rapid growth of Portland, argued the speakers, and now the lack of a sufficient supply of this fas-famed water is the cause of complaint by a large part of the citizens, especially those residing on the East Side.

"We must have something done to improve the water system in Portland," declared Emerson L. Mills Frank Motter, E. F. Moldenhauer and others spoke similarly and de-clared that the water question had reached a crisis and made an appeal to the city authorities for speedy action. A committee, composed of President Haak, Emerson L. Mills, E. F. Moldenauer, S. E. Latourette, J. W. Campbell and W. T. Gardner will confer with the city officials.

It was decided to have an inspection made of the Jefferson High School, which has been declared by some to be unsafe. A committee was appointed to confer with the School Board. It consists of F. W. Jobelman, of
