Montezuma, Cortez, Maximilian and Other Prominent Figures Are Carefully Portrayed - 1200 Marchers Are in Line.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15,-Mexico brushed up on its history today, witnessing a pageant which pictured in chronological order notable events from the days of the Aztecs down to the establishment of the present Republic. The parade, in which 1200 persons participated, passed through the square in front of the National Palace and there was reviewed by President Diaz, diplomats and special ambassadors to the centennial celebration. Careful attention had been given to the costuming of the different periods represented

Bradley, the financial backer of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's North Pole expedition, was on his way to Etah to secure the much-talked-of records and instruments which Cook said he left at that Eskimo settlement in the north-east of Greenland. The captain of the schooner thinks that Cook is with Bradley, but gives no reason.

The Hanse Egede, which is the vessel on which the explorer traveled to civilization, fell in with a yacht at Godhaven, a Danish settlement on the south coast of Disco Island, Greenland, and in the course of exchanges between the masters learned that Bradley was aboard the other craft. The polar hunt promoter admitted his idenbetween the masters learned that the ley was aboard the other craft. The polar hunt promoter admitted his identity, and explained that he was bound for Etah to recover whatever had been left there by Dr. Cook. He refused however, to either deny or confirm the report that he was accompanied by the

The government vessel also brings the information that two missionaries who are working among the Eskimos, who accompanied Cook on this expedition, say that these Eskimos insist that the doctor reached the North Pole, as he claims, prior to its discovery by Commander Peary.

Action of Mayor Looked For.

Todays' communication was not un expected, as it had been freely rumored that the Mayor was on the point of taking charge of the situation. In his letter to the Commissioners, Mayor Mc-Carthy declared that he was convinced that the police of this city are extending protection to criminals, while they are withholding it from persons en-titled to it. He declared that the city is over run with pickpockets and buncomen, who are presuming on the proven in-effeciency of the detective department. The communication stated that the lawlessness of the dancehall keepers, in the so-called uptown restricted district has become so pronounced that it may be necessary to close all of these resorts.

In conclusion the Mayor recommended to the Commission that it take such action as might be necessary to re-store the department to a condition of efficiency.

Mayor and Chief of Police Confer. The Mayor was closeted with Chief of Police Martin for the greater part of the day, and when the Police Com-mission was called to order, it was rumored that the Chief's resignation would be received by it.
