NEW RULING LIKELY

Appeal Court May Reverse "28-Hour" Stock Law.

TERMINAL CASE IS HEARD

Federal Judges Indicate They Will Not Hold All Railroads Handling Related Stock Shipments Guilty of Violating This Law.
Indicating by inquiries from the bench that the United States Court of Appeals is inclined to the belief that the Northern Pacific Terminal Company did not become a party to a violation of the "28-hour" stock shipment law when it accepted a related shipment of horses from the North Bank road, Judges William B. Gilbert, William W. Morrow and Erskine M. Ross yesterday probably foreshadowed a decision that will overturn the practice of making every railroad participating in the handling of related stock shipments guilty of a violation of the Federal law.
As pointed out by the attorneys for the Department of Justice, the law provides that no railroad shall keep live animals in transit for more than 28 hours without unloading for feed and water.
The stock in question was loaded at Plymouth, Wash., May 12, 1909, and delivered to the Northern Pacific Terminal Company on the morning of May 14, and 35 minutes thereafter the switch-

North Bank Pleads Guilty.

Under the reading of the law, the Department of Justice instructed United States District Attorney McCourt to bring suit against both roads as parties to the violation of the act. The North Bank pleaded guilty and paid a fine, but the Terminal Company fought the case on the ground that it was not a party to keeping the stock in that act without food and water contrary to the provisions of the law.
In presenting the case of the Government, District Attorney McCourt called attention to the provisions of the law making the entraining of the animals for more than 28 hours the offense and declaring all participants in that act to be guilty. He drew a hypothetical case of a car of horses that had been on the North Bank road 27 hours and then delivered to the Terminal Company, which did not set the car for unloading until after 28 hours had expired, and inquired what then would be the ruling of the court as to the responsibility for the violation of the act. Another question raised by the United States Attorney related to the responsibility in the case three railroads handled a car of horses, each one keeping the car in its custody for 10 or more hours.
Oregon courts have consistently held that all railroads handling stock that has been entrained more than 28 hours become parties to a violation of the Federal statute.
Yesterday the judges of the Court of Appeals filed the District Attorney with questions which indicated that they were not in sympathy with that position. Many stockowners in the city are awaiting the action of the court with much interest.
C. A. Dolph appeared for the railroad company.
M'Leod Case Is Heard.
In the afternoon the appeal of G. B. McLeod, owner of three timber claims in Douglas County, was argued. C. W. Pulton appearing for the appellant. The case is a relic of the days of Puter, McKinley and Marie L. Ware. Pulton located the lands, signed the names of James E. Warwick and others of the papers and later had Miss Ware ex-

40 BABIES ON SHOW

Infant Chinese Take Prizes at Pure Food Exposition.

12 PRIZES ARE PRESENTED

Manager Tremp, Finding Six Cups Not Enough for Yellow Tots, He Sends Out to Have Prize Supply Doubled.
Probably the first Chinese baby show ever given in Portland was held yesterday afternoon at the Pure Food Show. Thirty Chinese mothers, attired in their finest silks, with their black, glossy hair held in place by the most showy ornaments, were there with about 40 babies ranging in age from 1 month to 4 years. A most interesting and pretty picture the little youngsters of the Flowery Kingdom made. Some wore elaborate little garments of embroidered silk which no doubt represented quite a sum of money. Their queer little caps were dazzling with their many spangles, gold trimming and other elaborate ornaments.
It was originally planned to present six silver cups to six of the prettiest babies exhibited, but there were so many that were attractive in their elaborate garbs, that Manager Tremp sent out for six more silver cups, making in all 12 prizes given. However, none of the little Celestials went away without a present. Some of the older children enjoyed ice cream cones given them by Mr. Tremp. Among those who received the prizes

2000 Women Attend.

On account of it being Tag day in the afternoon, which proved so popular last week, there were many women present, the attendance of housewives numbering about 2000.

COLONIST RATES.

We All Want Perfect Health.
Mrs. Jacob Wilmet, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few weeks ago I got some of Foley Kidney Pills and decided to give them a fair trial. I found they gave me great relief, so continued for some time, till now I am again in perfect health." Sold by all druggists.

2000 Women Attend.

On account of it being Tag day in the afternoon, which proved so popular last week, there were many women present, the attendance of housewives numbering about 2000.
Last night's programme even exceeded in quality and variety those of last week. Members of the Chamber of Commerce and live wires took possession of the exposition, and Manager Chapman, of the Commercial Club, was kept busy piloting the visitors around the hall.
As many of the members of the Chamber of Commerce have exhibits at the show, these were entertained at different booths.
Lee Gow with his Chinese orchestra made a good impression on the audience, his numbers being unique.
A feature of the evening was Hop Lee, the singer, who is known as the "Chinese Caruso." The Oriental rendered several songs in his native tongue, and gave some good impersonations.
Another good feature of the evening programme was the globe rolling and contortion act by Mile. Zyma. The nimble woman wears some pretty gowns and gives some good turns.
There was also another overall contest and the usual pie-eating race, which afforded considerable amusement for the visitors.
Miss Katherine Dismore gave some appropriate and pleasing vocal selections, and there was an entirely new and entertaining musical programme by Rosebrook's orchestra.
Another Baby Show Today.
This afternoon there will be another baby show, when it is expected there will be several hundred little ones on exhibition. Six silver cups will be given to three of the fattest and three of the prettiest babies present.
Tonight will be Elks' night, when last night's programme will be repeated, with a few added features.
The Chinese band, Mile. Zyma, the Chinese singer and Miss Dismore will continue to entertain every night this week.
Yesterday was a good opening day for the second week of the show. There was large attendance both in the afternoon feel grateful to the people of Portland for the success it has enjoyed."
