Result of Census Sets New Task for Congress in Revising Membership.

SOME STATES MAY LOSE

Reduction in Number of Representatives From Several States Will Be No New Departure-Virginia Had 23, Now Only 9.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 .- One of the the questions with which the approachremion of Congress will be called upon to grapple will be to determine when the next apportionment of members of the House of Representatives under the recent census shall be made While it is not actually required by the Constitution, that instrument implies that a reapportionment shall follow each decennial enumeration of the peo-ple, and accordingly a redistribution of scats in the House membership has taken place hitherto soon after the con-usion of each census. The first apportionment made by the Constitution (treef provided for one member to every 20,000 inhabitants, with the result that at its first session the House contained only 55 members. The census of 1799 resulted in an increase to 105 with 32,000 as the basis of representation. From that time forth with one exception the increase both in representation and ratio has been with one exception the increase both in representation and ratio has been steady, as follows: 1800, 141 members, with a ratio of 33,000; 1810, 181 mem-bers and ratio of 45,000; 1830, 213 mem-bers and ratio of 47,700; 1840, 223 mem-bers and ratio of 93,423, 1840, 243 mem-bers and ratio of 93,423, 1840, 243 mem-bers and ratio of 93,423, 1840, 243 members and ratio of 93.423; 1880, 243 members and ratio of 127,381; 1870, 252 members and ratio of 131,426; 1830, 325 members and ratio of 171,301; 1890, 356 members and ratio of 173,301; 1900, 386 members and ratio of 193,187.

The old leaders of the House are anxious to keep the size of the House down and few of them will admit the rossibility of an enjargement to beyond possibility of an enlargement to beyon pe or 410 at the utmost. The question of the disfranchisemen of the negro vote in the Southern states will receive attention in connection with the question of apportionment. The House is even now on record in favor of an inquiry into this subject.

LONDON, Sept. 19 .- Something of what Ethel Clare Leneve felt as she awaited the fulfillment of Dr. Hawley Crippen's ise to make her his wife, was re venied at today's session of the inquest into the death of Belle Elmore for the murder of whom the doctor and his typist are jointly charged. In her distress Miss Leneve confided in her landing, Mrs. Jackson, and the story that the latter told on the witness stand rivaled the most sensational evidence introduced at the preliminary trial. Mrs. Jackson said that the accused girl gave up the room which she had occupied at the home of the witness on March 12, explaining that she was leaving to be married to Dr

Crippen.
Until the first week in February, Miss. Leneve had slept regularly at Mrs. Jack-son's. After that she stopped at the nome only occasionally. She said she some only occasionally. She said she spent the other nights at the home of friends. # MAN SHOT FEELS

In Letter to Sister, Mayor Describes His Thoughts and Sensations.

ENTIRELY BLIND FOR TIME

Terrible Metallic Roaring in His Head First Impresion - Death Had No Terrors-Mayor Bitter at Yellow Journals

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 .- How it feels NEW YORK. Sept. 19.—How it feels to be shot in the neck and the thoughts that pass through the mind of a man sorely wounded are told by Mayor William J. Gaynor in a letter to his sister. Miss Mary E. Gaynor, of Utica, N. Y., which is printed this afternoon in the Evening Post.

The first Impression that came to him as he was shot on the deck of the steamhip Wilhelm der Grosse, the Mayor says, was of a terrible metallic Mayor says, was of a control of the moment to burst it open, and for the moment he was struck entirely blind. When he became conscious that he was shot the became conscious that he was shot the became the same that the was shot the was shot that the was shot that the was shot the was shot that the was shot the was shot that the was shot he was struck entirely he was shot and choking, he tried to swallow the blood in his throat so that those around him would not see it.

Though believing at first, until he found that he could breathe through his nose, that he would strangle to death, he kept thinking all the time what was best to do. Mayor Gaynor wrote:

"I was standing on the deck talking with Commissioners Thompson, Lederle and Edwards, Corporation Counsel Watson, my secretary, Mr. Robert Adamson, and several friends who had Adamson, and several friends who had come aboard to see me off. Mr. Montt, President of Chile, and Mrs. Montt had just passed by and I had spoken a few words with them.

Metallic Roar Sickens.

"Mr. Adamson pointed out that the ship was dressed with flags for me.
but I said I did not think it could be for me. I heard a terrible metallic roar in my head. It filled my head, which seemed as though it would burst open. It swelled to the highest pitch and then fell and then rose again and was meanwhile entirely sightless, "I do not think I fell, for when became conscious I was on my feet suppose they saved me from falling, and they were supporting me. My sight gradually returned so that after a and they were supporting me. My sight gradually returned so that after a I while I could see the deck and the outlines of the crowd around me. I became conscious that I was choking. The blood was coming from my mouth and I tried all I could to swallow it so those around me would not see it. But I found I could not swallow and knew my throat was hurt. It seemed as though it were dislocated. I struggled to breathe through my mouth gled to breathe through my mouth, but could not and thought I was dying of strangulation. I kept thinking all the time the best thing to do."

Death Not Feared.

"I was not a bit afraid to die it nat was God's will of me. I said to that was God's will of me. I said to myself. 'Just as well now as a few years from now.' No one who contem-plates the immensity of Almighty God and of his universe and his works and realizes what an atom he is in it all though it were true that he is to be dissolved forever into the infinity of matter and mind from which he came. "In some way I happened to close my mouth tight and found I could breathe perfectly through my nose. I then believed I could keep from smothering. I kept choking and my mouth kept opening to cast out the blood.

"Though the thing had not entered my head that morning, I was not surprised when I realized that I was shot. I had had a feeling for some weeks that I might be assaulted on account of the accommons threats I was getting the anonymous threats I was getting by mail. I had not received so many nor so regularly since I was opposing the ring corruptions and the McKane conditions in Brooklyn and Gravesend when I was a young man." Mayor Gaynor, in the letter, scored ertain newspapers for the manner in which they had attacked him, saying:

Yellow Journals Scored.

Such journalism is, of course, in absolute defiance of the criminal law, and it did enter my mind publicly to call on the grand juries and the District Attorney to protect me from it, but I was weak and feared people would say I was thin-skinned. But the time is at hand when these journalistic scoundrels have got to stop or get out, and I am ready now to do my share to that end. They are absolutely without souls. If decent people would refuse to look at such newspapers, the thing would right itself at once. The journalism of New York has been dragged to the low est depth of degradation. The grossest railleries and libels, instead of honest statements and fair discussion, have gone on unchecked. One cannot help sympathizing with the decent papers."
