His campaign was conducted in a dignified, straightforward way and his chances of receiving the nomination were of the brightest. I think everybedy who knew him will join with me in sayfinest and most honest men."

Frank Sim Bennett, Municipal Judge for the City of Portland, and assembly candidate for the nomination for County Judge, died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of his father-in-law, G. A. Taylor, 1150 Rodney avenue, of acute indigestion and diabetes.

Death came to the popular official most unexpectedly, the shock of the event being hardly realized last night at the home of the dead man, where his only child, a boy with golden, curly hair, raced gleefully to the door in answer to the bell, and whose tireless little feet hurried on missions of cheer to relatives of the dead, as the manly Jittle voice begged them not to cry.

Judge Bennett expired after four days' iliness. He was taken sick on Thursday of last week at noon and concluded to return to his home, which has been made at the Taylor residence since his marriage to the only daught. since his marriage to the only daughter of the Taylor farulty. Physicians were called in attendance, and while it was realized that Mr. Bennett was quite ill, it was believed that he would improve. He appeared to be of vig-orous mold and able to throw off the disease. A sinking spell attached the judge yesterday morning, and in spite of all the aid that medical science could give, he passed away.

Health Poor For Months.

Death appears to have been the culmination of a disease which has held Mr. Bennett in its grip for many months, but which he concealed from members of his family. He persisted that he was not ill, did not need phy-sicians and that he would wear it out. By that means Mr. Bennett prevented his family from realizing his serious condition, as well as the loyal friends who are associated with him in the political campaign.

After the audience had assembled the announcement of the death of the chief speaker was made and the meeting adjourned.

Judge Bennett Native Son.

Frank Sim Bennett was not only a native of Oregon but of Portland, and had carved his own niche in the his-tory of this state. Graduating from the public schools, he studied law un-der the direction of the late Judge Williams, and from that fountain head and later as a member of the firm of Williams, Wood & Linthicum, he absorbed many of those qualities which endeared him to his acquaintances, and which actuated him on the Police Court Hench when he made use of the well-known phrase: "I'm going to give you another chance, old man."

Born in Portland 35 years, two months and 21 days ago, Judge Bennett had served his city well, being a member of the Council for four years, and retiring from that position in 1988 to assume the office in Police Court, where the unfortunates of society and the scum of the underworld pass in daily procession. It is regarded as an indication of the clearsighted judgment of Judge Bennett that he seldom falled to sift the chaff from the wheat, and that few injustices appear among the hundreds of sentences he was called upon to impose during a Militia Record Prized.

Mr. Bennett was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the Woodmen of the World, but the honor which he prized most was the certificate of his retirement as a member of the Oregon National Guard, with the rank of Major, and the old saber which he wore while a member of the citizen soldlery. The latter was the sole ornament last night hanging above his desk in the library of his home. He went through the fishermen's strike of 1896 as a lieutenant of Company H, and later served as alde or the staff of General C. H. Boebe.

He married an Oregon girl in 1883, Miss Eva G. Taylor, of Doughas County. The father of Mr. Bennett was a ploneer of 1870, and the father of Mra Bennett was orn in this state.

Judge Bennett is survived by his vidow and one child, Graham Taylor Bennett aged 4 years; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bennett, father and mother; two W. Bennett, father and mother; two brothers, Will H. Bennett, bank examiner at Salem, Sim Bennett, employed in the First National Bank of Portland, and two sisters, Misses Helen and Grace, both employed as teachers in the Portland public schools. Funeral services will be held at 1 Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Taylor home. Dr. William Hirom Fonikes, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of which Judge Bennett was a member, will conduct the services, and interment will follow at Riverview Cerretery, under the auspices of the Massons.

Oregon Apples Contenders in Spokane's Show.

WINNERS GO TO CHICAGO

H. L. Moody Says Washington Is Bidding for Honors That Will Advertise Fruit - Growing Section Over Country.

"Should Oregon apples repeat their success of last year and capture the grand prize at the Spokane National Apple Show, they will be placed on view at the Chicago Land Show in November," said H. L. Moody, of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, who was in Portland yesterday

Washington is going to fair means to keep Oregon from win-ning this year, by exhibiting better ap-ples, if possible. But, at that, Oregon growers might surprise us. In any event, Oregon will share liberally in the benefits of the plan, for this state is bound to have many apples among the prize-winners.

Special Train to Carry Fruit. "The management of the Spokane show has arranged to have the blue ribbon exhibits taken to Chicago by special train. That they will attract great attention there is unquestioned. Show an Easterner our beautifully colored, perfectly formed and deliciously flavored apples and he is bound to sit up and take notice. When you consider the thousands of people of all classes who will throng the land show and see these apples, the benefits of such ad-vertising to the state can hardly be es-

"This opportunity should arouse Ore-gon apple-growers to make the fullest possible exhibits at the Spokane show, and I have no doubt that, encouraged by their success of last year, they will send a great showing of fruit."

Chicago Wants 1911 Congress.

Mr. Moody came to Portland as the epresentative of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce to line up Oregon dele-gates to the National Irrigation Con-gress, which will meet in Pueblo, Colo., September 26, to aid Chicago in getting the 1911 meeting. Spokane has pledged its aid to Chicago, and the Coast cities will probably act as a unit. Following a conference with Manager Chapman, of the Commercial Club promotion com-mittee, Mr. Moody announced that the local delegation to the Irrigation Con-gress will be asked to support Chicago for the next session By placing Spokane apples at the land show, Chicago evens up the score between the two cities. It is felt by the Commercial Club that if the next Irrigation Congress is given to Chicago, San Francisco will have a chance of securing the congress

Belcarra Sinks in 65 Fathoms in Jervis Inlet-Passengers and Crew of Vessel Are Saved.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 19.-Mistakng a light on the shore for a light on a landing float, the small steamer Belcarra, Captain J. E. Fulton, ewned by the Sechelt Steamship Company, dashed on the rocks at Dempsey's Camp, Agamemnon Channel, Jervis Inlet, early Saturday morning and is now a total loss in 65 fathoms of water. The crew and a dozen passengers got off in eafety, but all hope of saving the vessel has been abandoned.

The Belcarra was on her way north and put in for Dempsey's Camp in thick and foggy weather. Usually a light is placed on the float, but for some rea-son this had been shifted to the shore.

son this had been shifted to the shore. Captain Fulton feeling his way through the fog. picked up the light and naturally supposed it was the float.

The Belcarra drove on the rocks, staving a big hole forward. The passengers were hastily got ashore and then a cable with 30 fathoms was run out. The hole in the bow was so hig that the captain did not feel like taking a chance at backing her off. Unfortunately the vessel's stern was affoat and as the tide dropped she as-sumed a steep angle, the cable snapped and the steamer slid off into deep water. The Belcarra was valued at $20,000.

ITALIANS TO CELEBRATE

Local Colony Will Observe Anniversary of Unification of Italy.

To commemorate the entrance of the Italian troops under Victor Emmanuel into Rome, which event marked the unification of Italy, members of the local Italian colony will tomorrow hold a picule at Rohse's Park, near Fulton. The arrangements for the day include a parade at 2:20 o'clock, in which mem-bers of the Guiseppe Mazaini, and bers of the Guiseppe Mazaini, and Cristoforo Colombo societies will par-

Italian Consul Candiani and Secretary Mario Montrezza, and several city officials will also be in line. The parade will be led by Ruzzi's Band. The route of the parade will be from Drew Hall on Second street, south to Yam-hill; Yambill to Third, north on Third to Oak; west on Oak to Fifth; South on Fifth to Washington; west on Washington to Twelfth; south to Morrison; East on Morrison to Fourth; south on Fourth to Madison; east on Madison to First; south on First to Sherman. Special cars will be provided for those participating in the parade to convey them to Robse's Park, where exercises will be held, followed by a plenic. The celebration is under the auspices of the Society M. S. Barsagiteri. Consul Candiani will act as Honorary President. Joseph S. Morak will serve as president of the day.

Veterans Favor Assembly Ticket.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—J. W. Pratt, one of the well-known Civil War veterans in this section, has issued a signed communication in which he says that the veterans of this county will give their almost unanimous sup-port to Waliace McCamant, candidate for Supreme Court, and to the entire assembly ticket.

Willamette Universty Expects Increased Attendance.

SEPTEMBER 27 IS OPENING

President Homan Expects Soon to Re Able to Announce Substantial Endowment - New Members Have Been Added to Faculty.

SALEM. Or., Sept. 19 .- (Special.)-With the outlook never before so good, the majority of the departments in Willamette University will open Tuesday, September 21. The schools to open that day includes the College of Liberal Arts, School of Oratory, School of Music Acad-emy and School of Theology. On Octo-ber 3 the School of Medicine and the Varsity Growing Rapidly.

Willamette is growing rapidly and increased facilities in sciences and the other departments have caused a much wider demand among prospective students. The fact that the large state libraries are situated directly opposite the school has also made a distinctly favorable impression. Last year there were 390 students registered and a substantial increase is expected over that number.

In that ca-pacity he accomplished some remarkable work along the line of building up the finances of the institution and it is be-lieved he will do remarkable work for Willamette University.

Cash Basis Is Proposed.

Willamette for the past two years has made an effort to be on a cash basis and pay its bills monthly and has succeeded. There is a fine outlook for the endowment and President Homan states that in a few months there may be announcements made which will be of considerable interest to those who have been watching the career of this historic
