

102 ARE PLEDGED FOR PARTY CHOICE

Of Legislative Candidates in Washington, Only 16 Are Unrestrained.

HOLDOVERS ARE IN DOUBT

Several Republican State Senators Have Said Pledge of Two Years Ago Is Not Binding—This Was Before Primary Election.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—

Out of 118 candidates for places in the next Legislature, the Republicans of the State of Washington have nominated only 16 who are not pledged to support for the United States Senate the one who received the highest number of votes in their party ticket in the primary election.

Of the unpledged candidates 14 are aspirants for membership in the lower house and two are seeking election to the Senate. In the Senate, however, are 28 holdovers, all or nearly all of whom signed the statutory pledge two years ago. Some of these, however, before the primary election declared that they would not vote for Miles Polinder if he received the party endorsement. Polinder received a majority in votes over all the opposing candidates, and in view of the overwhelming landslide in his favor, the attitude of a number of the holdovers who have been looked upon as indisposed to acknowledge Polinder's Republicanism is now uncertain. At the very outside, however, it is practically certain that not more than a dozen of the holdovers would refuse to vote for the Spokane candidate.

Holdovers May Not Be Bound.

There is therefore a possibility that 25 Republicans will not consider themselves bound to vote for Polinder. If the Democratic strength in the Legislature is not increased, however, that is not the case. The opposition to Polinder's election, even with the aid of the Democrats, would be wholly ineffective. The Democrats in the Legislature of 1908 numbered only nine. There are 138 members all told, and 70 will be a sufficient number to choose a United States Senator. In the anti-Polinder men could hope to do is either to deadlock the contest or elect a Democrat, and these two alternatives will be possible only if a sufficient number of the Democrats elect a sufficient number of members to give the unpledged Republican contingent the balance of power.

Small Interest Is Taken.

Most of the newspapers of the state lost interest in primary returns after they had covered reports on United States Senators and Congressmen, but it has been extremely difficult to make up a list of the Republican legislative nominees. There are 56 legislative Representatives in Washington from which 26 Representatives are chosen, who with the 42 Senators compose the 138 members of the Legislature.

At the last session there were six Democrats in the House, Lester P. Edge, of Spokane; Hugh C. Todd, of Whitman; W. T. Anderson, of Franklin; E. L. Farnsworth, of O. W. Stone, of Lincoln, and W. J. Hall, of Ferry. Of these, Todd, Farnsworth and Stone are known to have been renominated and possibly some of the others, although so little attention was paid to the Democratic vote in the primaries it will probably require the official canvass to determine the nominees.

FRESHMEN LISTED FIRST DAY, 287

University of Oregon Expects Total Registration This Year of 800.

FACULTY MEMBERS ADDED

Professor Arthur Collier, of Harvard, Will Fill Chair of Geology. Women Will Be Given Training for Athletic Directors.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—

The State University today opened its doors to incoming students and from all indications it is entering upon the most prosperous year within its history. The first of the registration days was set aside for the first-year students and a total of 287 actually all of these are freshmen and an unusually large proportion of them is from Portland and Multnomah County. Students will continue to register throughout the week, as many are late returning.

A. R. Tiffany, registrar, predicts that the registration this year will reach 800, which will eclipse all previous records. Several additions have been made to the university faculty. Professor Arthur Collier, of Harvard, who has been connected for many years with the United States Geological Survey, has been chosen to fill the chair of geology, which has been vacant since the death of Dr. Thomas Condon.

MUCH PROGRESS IS MADE

Many Improvements Made at Burdoin Heights on Columbia.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—

Burdoin Heights, overlooking the village of White Salmon, is progressing. Besides building a mile of logging road, the Swan-Hamann Lumber Co. is building a flume from the mill to Catherine Creek, a distance of three miles. The company will float its products down the stream to the North Bank Railroad at a point six miles east of White Salmon.

The mill has recently installed an electric lighting plant. Will Bates is setting up a wireless station, and with specially contrived batteries. Bates Bros. are blowing up powder-loaded stumps in the clearings. Mills & Sheldon have eight teams at work grubbing 40 acres, and S. R. Glavin will soon start a donkey engine to grubbing his 150-acre patch.

BURGLARS RANSACK MANSE

Silverware Belonging to Church Is Overlooked by Thieves.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—

While Rev. H. S. Templeton was preaching about the fortunes and misfortunes of a splendid boy in the Presbyterian Church, burglars entered the manse next door and ransacked it. They secured a gold watch, a diamond ring, a diamond bracelet, and jewelry from the room of Carl H. Mann, principal of the Harney School.

The burglars overlooked Mrs. Templeton's watch and considerable money, five dozen silver knives and forks belonging to the church and some jewelry. This is the third minister's residence to be robbed while he was preaching within a few weeks.

The "Great South Bend Malleable"

on the Terms of $1 Down, $1 Weekly

It's the range that the world's stove experts acknowledge to be the best made—the strongest—built on honor through and through of truest steel and malleable iron and riveted together by hand—making it air-tight. It will last a life time. Saves repairs, saves the woman-who-cooks, saves time and labor, and is most economical. It is finished so that it needs no polishing—is easily kept clean. Burns coal or wood. A perfect baker, with ideal draft. Plenty hot water always.

The Supreme, Crown, Regal and Capital Steel Ranges Also Offered on the Terms of $1 Down, $1 Weekly

These four are the most modern types of steel ranges made—built to meet the demand for medium-priced and less expensive ranges. Investigation as to their merits will prove that they are the best in material, in workmanship, design and finish, together with many special constructive features. We offer them to intending range purchasers with the assurance that they are the best that can be bought anywhere for the money. We'll gladly show you their many distinctive features.

Any Heating Stove in Our Line on the Terms—$1 Down, $1 Weekly

The Moore's "Gem" "Hot Blast" Heaters

The most modern type of heating-stove construction—a stove that burns wood or coal equally well—body of boiler steel, reinforced with cast iron. Handsomely designed and very richly ornamented with nickel. Full mica door. Most economical and efficient. Four sizes—priced from $25 up.

'Substitute Oak' Heaters

Another type of heating stove that burns coal or wood equally well and is economical. Has castiron firepot, with shaker grate and both upper and lower draft, which means perfect regulation of fire. Attractively designed and nickel. Four sizes in the "Substitute Oak"—priced from $7.50 up.

The Moore's Firekeeper

The best and heaviest airtight Heater made—double seamed like a water pail and double lined—absolutely airtight. Pouch draft has slide draft and trap underneath, which permits ashes and dust to be removed easily and without falling on floor. Handsomely designed and rich in-nicked finish. Three sizes—priced from $11.50 up.

Colonial Heaters

Are combination wood and coal stoves—a type that is very popular. Has large front feed door with mica front, which adds a touch of cheeriness to the room. Made in four sizes. Priced from $16.00 up.

Other Airtight Heaters from $2.25 up
