Vean Gregg, the left-handed pitching where of the Pacific Coast League, oc-cupied the hilltop for the Beavers in the opening game of the final home-stand resterday, and the attenuated strikeout demon held the Vernen contingent virtually helpless for nine frames, shutting them out by the score

The big left-hander, despite the fact that he has been worked about as often as ever Fielder Jones called upon Big Ed Walsh in the halcyon days of the Chicago White Sox, was all to the good, and barring a slight stretch of wildness in the seventh, when Vernon got the in the seventh, when Vernon got the first two men up on the paths through hases on balls, Gregg was never in the slightest danger. The three hits chalked against him were widely scattered, and one of them. Carlisle's, was decidedly scratchy. Back of the big southpaw was the perfect fielding of the Beaver brigade, and in the face of such gilt-edged playing and fielding, there was absolutely no chance for the Hooligan band to get into the running. Gregg was as much of a puzzle as is a contrary girl to her swaln. to her swain.

While decorating Gregg with all honors due, some of the apple fritters must be heaved in the direction of Ivan Olson, the blue-eyed baby doll who cavorts about the shirtfield patch for the coming champions, for "Dearle" Ivan spanked out a couple of most timely wallops when two men were in the cooler, and each time he scored Buddy Ryan, who was also some demon hitter.

Between Ivan Oison, Buddy Ryan and the shining pitching light, Gregg, there was not much to the engagement, for the aforementioned trio corralled about all the limelight that was allowed to permeate between the clouds and threat-ening rain in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets. Olson and Ryan not only distinguished themselves their batting, but they also scored handleap by brilliant work in the field.

Jack Raleigh, also a southpaw, endeavored to coax a victory to the Villagers' standard, but Jack was unfortunate in being pitted against Gregg when the lat-ter was adorned with his whitewashing uniform, and was also unlucky in having four of the seven hits he allowed bunched on him at timely intervals. Pertland's first run was collected in the third chapter. Tommy Murray and Vean Gregg had been defily disposed of by Raielgh, when Buddy Ryan joited the Hooligan twirier by beating out an in-field tap which caught both Burrell and the pitcher napping. Buddy then stole account and Ivan Olson appeared in the the pitcher napping. Buddy then stole second, and Ivan Olson appeared in the de of hero, with a single to left on hich Ryan dashed across the register

All then went well for Mr. Raleigh All then went well for Mr. Raleigh until the eighth stanza arrived, and once more the Vernon twirler got Tommy Murray and Gregg out of the way. Then eame the versatile Mr. Ryan, who soaked one on the piccole which sent the spheroid caroming off the center garden wall, and, white Carlisle was chasing it about in its wild perambulations, Buddy dove into third base by a handsome margin, it was then up to Olsan once more, and It was then up to Olson once more, and again Ole made good, and this time with a corking two-base smash which came near earning him fifty bones, so close did the ball come to hitting the buil. This plunk tailled Eyan for the second and final run of the engagement. Three fast double-plays, two by Lindsay and Norman Brashear, and the other from Olson to Rapps to Sheeban served to liven up the matinee. The fair-sized crowd seemed to eatch the 3 o'clock starting idea all right, for only a few fans came in late.

Eugene Krapp is due to pitch for Port-land today, but as he has a sore arm, McCredie may send either Garrett or Bloomfield against the Villagers. Hogan will probably send Boy Willett against Portland. The score of yesterday's game is as follows: VERNON League Will Not Consent to Coast Terms.

2 PORTLAND CLUBS, PLAN

Owner of Local Pacific Coast League Team Not Optimistic About Expansion Which Takes in More Clubs in the Northwest.

BY W. J. PETRAIN. Portland is to have continuous base call again next year. At least such was the religion he professes. intimated by Representative McCredie, who returned to Porsland yesterday after having attended the meeting of the directors of the Pacific Coast League at San Francisco last Friday, and his remarks virtually mean that there will be no expansion on the part of the Pa-cific Coast League, but that this organ-ization will consent to permit the Northwestern League to place a club in Portland, as was the case in 1909.

Representative McCredie said that Ed Walters, president of the Oakland club, and Henry Berry, owner of the Los Angeles club, were coming north in a week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as week or so to look over the situation as well relative to the expansion idea, but sloth of them are opposed to the four clubs in the North idea, and McCredie will not listen to any five South and and three North propositions, such as is advocated by the California magnates.

Berry Balks Expansion.

Henry Berry is the man who is balking the equal distribution of the clubs in an expanded league, for he refuses to consider the abandonment of the Vernon club, which would be necesasry were McCredie's idea to be followed. In this Berry is seconded by Walters, be-cause the latter wants more games for Oakland, and he is going to have a hard time getting them, with the league lined up as it is at present, with-out considering expansion. Happicus Hogan, manager and part owner of the Vernon club, is also strongly arrayed against expansion, for he says he is entitled to $30,000 for his franchise in the event his club is cast out of the league, as would be necessary in the event the league took n four Northern clubs.

The Northwestern League at present comprises but four clubs, and in order to merge with the Pacific Coast League It will require a majority of those clubs voting to disband in order to af-fillate with another organization. Therefore, if the Pacific Coast League thinks to take in but two clubs from that circuit, it virtually expects the two other Northwestern clubs to vote themselves out of a league—a prepos-terous idea. But the Pacific Coast League has enjoyed preposterous ideas for a long time, and that is not unusual where Ewing, Berry and Walters and that ilk are concerned.

The Northwestern League is known to be dissatisfied with a four-club circuit, and would gladly welcome Portland back into the fold, yet the almost Quarrie, Vancouver's "kid" pitcher, held Tacoma until the ninth, when a walk and three singles gave the Tigers the only run of the game. Better the construction of the return of the Northwestwalk and three singles gave the Tigers the only run of the game. Bert Hall pitched air-tight ball and allowed but they can successfully compete three hits. Score: R. H. E. | R. H. E. | here, providing Portland is represented by a baseball club and not by a joke aggregation, such as McCredie was forced to put in the field last year.

How the club is to secure good players is a problem that will have to be worked out later on, and it will not only be necessary to equip a second Portland team, but it will also be in-cumbent upon the Northwestern officlais to install a club in some other Northwestern city, either at Aberdeen or Bellingham.
When asked about his views on the expansion question, formed since the meeting of the Pacific Coast League directors last Friday, Representative Mc Credie said: "Personally I don't think there wil be any expansion on the part of the Pacific Coast League, though Walters and Berry are coming North to look the situation over. They will un-doubtedly insist upon five clubs in the South and three North, which is not in accord with my idea at all, and I do not think it will be favored by the Northwestern League magnates, for it will require three clubs in that circuit in the college. Trainer Hayward has to vote the league's disbandment in announced that the English game of order to enter the Coast League fold.

"Two Northwestern clubs might be able to disband that circuit, but I doubt it, and Berry and Waiters might doubt it, and Berry and Walters might as well save themselves the trip. It would not surprise me to see the Northwestern League represented in Portland again next year, and this city given continuous baseball, as was in vogue last year, for I think that will be the outcome of the present situa-

Representative McCredie would not say whether or not he would finance a second club in Portland, while his nephew, Walter McCredie, positively asserted that he would have nothing to do with such a club. However, whether or not the McCredies are interested in the second club matters but little, as the Northwestern League would probably stand ready to back uch a venture in the event that the

such a venture in the event that the idea is consummated.

Happicus Hogan, manager and part owner of the Vernon club, also doubts that the Pacific Coast League will expand. "I don't see how the league can do it," said Hogan yesterday. "The Northwestern League will want three clubs in the Coast organization, and that would mean the dropping of one of our present cities, and Vernon would probably get the ax if such ocwould probably get the ax if such oc-curred. However, if I am moved out of this league, I will want $30,000 for my bit, and you cannot make that any too strong. I have one of the best propositions in the league, and have drawn better in Los Angeles than even has the Los Angeles club itself. You not they won't kick me out without paying for it."

Representative McCredie said that the question of establishing the dou-ble-umpire system went over to the annual meeting, which means that the league will worry along with the four indicator handlers now in service.

CIRCUIT JUDGES

State Committee Urges Claims of Kavanaugh, Beach and Cleland.

There is no opposition to the nomination of the Circuit Judges recommended McCredie Thinks Northwestern by the assembly except in Multnomah County. There are candidates opposing the nomination of John P. Kavanaugh, john B. Cleland and J. V. Beach.

KAVANAUGH.

Judge Kavanaugh was appointed Judge on the resignation of Judge Bronaugh. He has been elected City Attorney by the people and has demonstrated his ability in the conduct of this uportant office. He is upright, capable and well qualified.

Judge Kavanaugh has been attacked on account of his religion by his antiassembly opponent in a circular letter sent broadcast over Multnomah County. This attack has been publicly rebuked in the press. It should rally to Judge Kavanaugh's support all who believe in religious liberty and all who are op-posed to scurrilous politics. There is room in the Republican party for men of all manner of religious persuasion, but we hope the time will never come when a man can be beaten for a Republican nomination by an attack on

J. V. Beach is one of the leaders of the Portland bar. He is able, upright and well-grounded in the law, largely endowed with common sense and blessed with poise and a judicial cast of mind. His acceptance of a position on the bench will involve a large financial sacrifice.

Judge Cleland has been the object of a most intemperate and unjust attack. He was appointed to the bench early in 1898 by Governor Lord and was elected by the people with little opposition in June, 1898, and again in 1994. He is a man of conscience, character and mature judgment. He is never and mature judgment. afraid to decide a case in accordan with its merits. The quality of his dudi-ctal work has improved with his judicial experience and he is now the peer of any Oregon Judge of a court of orig-inal jurisdiction. The younger members of the Bar, as a rule, are his sup-porters. Judge Cleland has been recom-mended by the Lawyers' assembly and by practically the unanimous voice of the representative assembly of the Republican party in addition to an extensive petition of his fellow citi-zens under the provisions of the Direct Primary Law. By a self-selected op-penent for the judgeship, he has been vociferously attacked as a corporation judge. A corporation is entitled to a square deal and should prevail when it is in the right like any other litigant. But the records will show that since January 1, 1905, Judge Cleland has sat in 98 contested law cases to which corporations were parties. Sixty-six of these cases were jury cases and non-suits were granted in just eleven of the sixty-six; there is nothing to show that the Court was in error even in these eleven cases; but in fifty-five out of sixty-six cases the Court passed the matters in issue on to the juries. In thirty-two cases to which corpora-tions were parties juries were waived by both sides. In fourteen of these cases the judgment was for the cor-poration and eighteen against it. Judge Cleiand has been specifically charged with partiality to the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company. The records show that he has sat in seventeen cases to which this corpora-tion was a party since January 1, 1908. One of these cases was tried without a jury and judgment was rendered against the corporation. In one case a non-sult was rendered and in fifteen the cause was submitted to the jury, six verdicts being against the Company and nine in its favor. John B. Cieland is a just and upright Judge.

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, M. C. George, Chairman. E. V. Littlefield, Secretary.

Not a single candidate now before the people for nomination on any ticket, can truthfully say that he is not the prodresponsible for him may be small, it many instances consisting of but half a dozen friends and admirers, but, nevertheless, every one is an assemblyite. Great is the claim of demagogues that assemblies are unholy affairs.

We have nowhere read or heard of his endorsement of assemblies under the Direct Primary Law. For once, Senator Chamberlain was as sound as a gold standard dollar in endorsing assemblies for bringing out candidates. Democrats think it good politics in Oregon not to hold assemblies now, but Demagogical campaigning for support in their ambitions to represent the people of Multnomah County in the egislature is promising all things to all men. To the man with property is pretending the safeguarding of his interests. To the ne'er-do-well it is the promise of free everything at pub-lic expense. To the workingman it is a promise of legislation which will give him the control of his employer's business and unlimited indemnity in case of accident, even caused by his own care-leasness. To the Socialist and general malcontent, the inducement for support s an offer to deprive capital of its rights and divide up its holdings among the disciples of the doctrine of stripping, through loose and easy taxation the industrious and thrifty of thei accumulations and incidental abolish ment of private ownership. A cheap lawyer's plan is to force his employment by corporations by threat of un favorable legislation, expecting to wi whatever the turn of the political card provided he secures a seat in the legis lature.

Since Oregon became a state, no cleaner, brighter, more substantial or representative men were ever selected as candidates for legislative positions than those named at the general Republican assembly. They are worthy the respect and support of every man in Multnomah County.

Senator Bourne says that if the assembly recommended candidates are endorsed by the people at the Republi can primaries that he will vote fo Democrats. Evidently, he is a great believer in the voice of the people at the primaries. When he pulled through at the Republican primaries by only a small plurality, he was very ardent for the rule of the people.

that candidates be commended to you in open assembly by representatives of party duly chosen at precinct meetings, at which all members of the party were invited to participate, or that secret conferences to be held in back rooms or private offices and candidates placed on your ballet solely by private per tions? Do you prefer the work do openly and above-board, or by means of underhand and subterranean meth-ods? In other words do you favor a general assembly representing every-body, or a small one representing in-dividual, self-seeking ambitions?
